Pittsfield High Leads Berkshire Ski Meet

By LEE GOERLACH

Coach Rudy Benedetti's Pittsfield High ski team, with a commanding lead in cross country and second place in slalom, was the top team yesterday at the end of the first day of the Berkshire interscholastic ski meet at the State Forest.

Lenox School 2nd

Pittsfield ended the day with 186.149 points. Lenox School was second with 174.053, and Drury third with 172.591. Eleven teams were entered.

Collin Garstang of PHS won the cross-country, more than a minute ahead of his nearest rival. Garstang covered the course in 14 minutes, 04.8 seconds. Grant Bowry of Darrow was second with 15.25.

Four of the top nine places were taken by Pittsfield in the cross-country. Peter Robbie of Pittsfield was third; David Whitney of Drury, fourth; Gene Marsten of Pittsfield, fifth; Bruce Bona, Drury, sixth; Paul Leake, Darrow, seventh; Clayton Harrington, Mount Greylock Regional, eighth; and Walter Dickie of Pittsfield, ninth.

Only a few seconds separated these boys. The times ranged from Robbie's 15.30.4 to Dickie's 16.04.4.

Butler Wins Slalom

Kingswood School won the slalom, led by Ted Butler, who topped the field with three seconds to spare over Pittsfield's Marsten. Butler's time was 62.2, Gene's 65.2, for their two runs. W.H. Burling and W.W. Wylde of Kingswood, took the third and fourth spots in that order and Pittsfield's Dickie tied for fifth with Bruce Brogdan and Jeff Guglieno of Westfield.

Pittsfield started out so badly in the slalom that members of the team were saying, "Coach is so discouraged he has gone home." He hadn't, of course.

Garstang fell on his first run, and ended up in 13th place in the two-run event. It wasn't until Marsten came in second that things started looking up for Pittsfield.

Patty Johnston of PHS, skiing on equal terms with the boys, placed 20th in the field of 52. This is Patty's first year of competition.

Today's events include the downhill this morning at 10 on the Shadow Trail and jumping this afternoon at 1.

Drury is expected to sweep the jumping today. The Steele brothers, Richard and Dennis, have been consistent winners for their school, followed closely by their teammate Robert Boyer. Seventeen-year-old Richard won last year's jumping competition. His 16-year-old brother, Dennis, was second. Boyer won the 1961 jumping competition and Richard was second. This is the younger Steele's second year of jumping.

PHS, Garstang Triumph For 3rd Time in Row

By LEE GOERLACH

Coach Rudy Benedetti's Pittsfield High team won the Berkshire interscholastc ski meet Saturday for the third successive year with Collin Garstang again named skimeister. It also was three in a row for Garstang.

The surprise of the two-day meet at the Pittsfield State Forest was a spectacular 75-foot jump by Garstang in the final event. Garstang placed second in the jumping to Drury's ace Richard Steele. He had won both the cross-country and the downhill and was 13th in the slalom. Pittsfield won both the cross-country and downhill and was second in the slalom and jumping.

Drury Is Second

Pittsfield ended the four-event meet with 370.957 points, edging out second-place Drury of North Adams by little more than 10 points. Lenox School, which ended Friday's competition in second place, finished third, with 338.825.

Pittsfield had a 16-point lead over Drury after the third event, the downhill Saturday morning. Pittsfield won the event with four men in the top 10 of the field of 47.

Garstang finished first in the downhill, 3.4 seconds ahead of Ted Butler of Kingswood of West Hartford, Conn. Garstang's time was 61.8 and Butler's 64.4. Walter Dickie of Pittsfield finished a close third in 65.4. Gene Marsten took the seventh spot for Pittsfield and Billy Martin the 10th.

Drury's William Bryce was 4th in the downhill, Bob Boyer 6th, Richard Steele 11th and his brother Dennis 14th, collecting enough points to bring Drury up to second place in the standings.

Garstang Surprises

Drury won the jumping, but not by the expected substantial margin. Drury's Steele brothers, Richard and Robert, and Drury's Bob Boyer have been taking the top three spots in the jumping events. However, Garstang put in an amazing performance and placed a close second to Richard, relegating Dennis to third. Clayton Harrington of Mount Greylock Regional, further upset the applecart by placing fourth. Boyer, who won the event in 1961, was down in fifth place.

Pittsfield had three men in the top 10 of the 31-man field. Walter Dickie, who was in top form both days of the meet, placed second and Peter Robbie, 10th. Drury took 92.844 points in the jumping to Pittsfield's 86.489, cutting Pittsfield's lead, but leaving them as the top team of the meet.

Garstang's performance in the jumping was amazing because it is his poorest event. The crowd of spectators watching in Saturday afternoon's hail and rain, gasped when Garstang, the first man off the platform, jumped a record 75 feet on his first run. His second run was a less spectacular 72 feet.

Richard matched Garstang's distance on his second run. His jumps were 73 and 75 feet. Style as well as distance is used in the scoring. Richard earned 139.6, Garstang 138.2. Dennis scored 132.9; Harrington 125.9 and Boyer 125.7. William Brownlee of Lenox was a close sixth with 125.2. Lenox earned 80.544 and third place in the jumping.

Darlene Shave of the Pittsfield High girls' team, competing on equal terms with the boys, was 24th in the downhill. Her teammate, Patti Johnston, was 32. It is Darlene's second year of competition, the first for Patti. Winthrop Gutmann Sr. is their coach.

Three-Time Berkshire Skimeister Collin Garstang Also Has Been Outstanding in Five Other Sports

By LEE GOERLACH

Sixteen-year-old Collin Garstang, the first racer to earn the coveted Berkshire interscholastic skimeister award three years in a row since Verne Goodwin finished a three-year sweep in 1949, hasn't confined his trophy-winning to skiing.

Besides 19 trophies and a plaque for skiing, Collin has city skating meet trophies for 1956, 1958, 1959 and 1960 and archery trophies for 1955 and 1956.

Versatile Collin, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Garstang, 135 Ridge Ave., also plays golf and baseball and water skis. He was a Little Leaguer for four years and on the Babe Ruth all-star baseball team that played in the 1961 state finals in Fitchburg. A senior at Pittsfield High School, he is captain of th[illegible] and president of the [illegible]ted Stude[illegible]s' Fund.

Collin's decisive wins in the cross-country and downhill surprised nobody. His fall in the slalom and his 13th place finish in the event, were disappointments and upset conscientious Collin. He felt he had let the team down. "I'm the first guy down and I goof," he said. He knew that Pittsfield needed a sizable cushion of points against Drury's jumping power.

His mother says that the fall in the slalom was probably responsible for the record 75-foot jump he made in the final event. "He really extended himself," she said. "He normally is a little leery of the jumping, but he wanted to make up for the slalom."

He Also Studies Hard

A modest, unassuming fellow, Collin is respected and admired by both his teachers and classmates. He works hard at his skiing and his school work with very little time left over for social activities during the winter. If he isn't skiing, he's studying. "Occasionally I go to a dance, but I don't have much time for going out," Collin said.

Ski equipment is expensive. Collin pays for half of his, earning money as caddy at the Country Club of Pittsfield summers. Top golfers consider him such a "terrific" caddy that he is in great demand during tournament play.

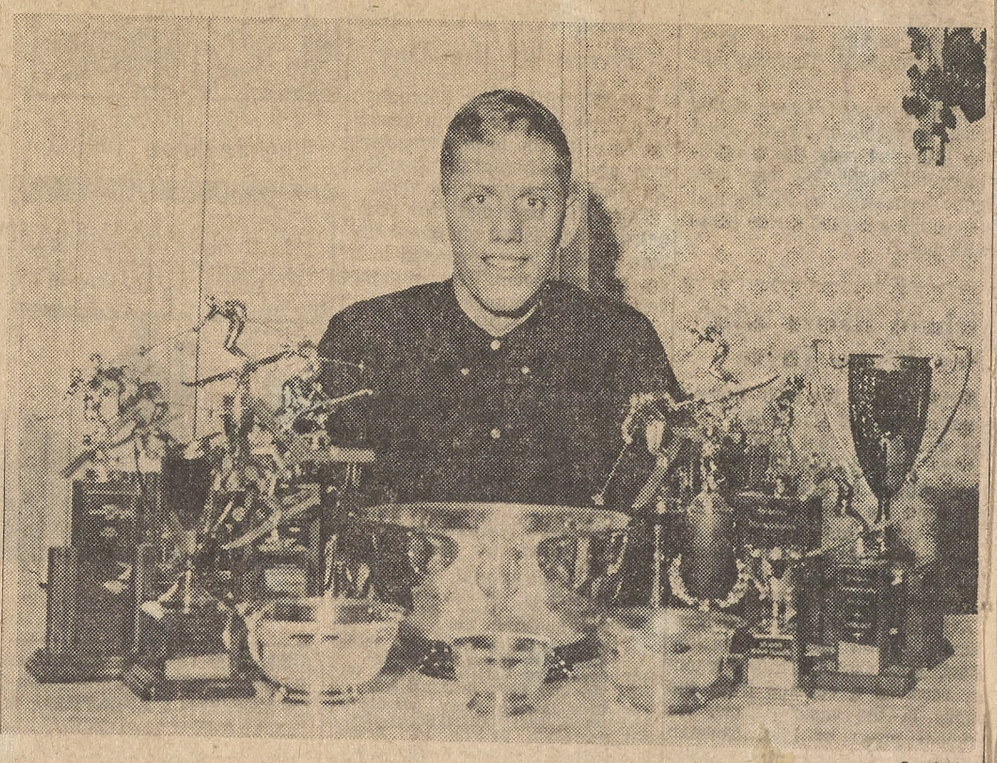

The ski season for Collin starts in late September when he works out with Coach Rudy Benedetti of the high school team and also wit John Howe of the Mount Greylock Ski Club junior skiers. Coach Benedetti has the team playing soccer and running weekdays. Howe keeps his group in condition by running with them up and down the Thunderbolt on Mt. Greylock weekends.

Headed for College

Collin will be graduating in June and hopes to go to college. His best subjects are mathematics and science. He has applied to the Universities of Colorado, New Hampshire and Massachusetts. He would like to enter some phase of engineering.

His young brother, Jimmy, 14, who tied for skimeister honors with Charley Goodrich in the recent city ski meet, will be going into high school next year. "We get rid of one Garstang and we get another," a member of one of the opposing teams said Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Garstang ski and take the boys to the out-of-town meets. They are heading for Franconia, N.H., this weekend. They will ski for fun Saturday, and Collin will compete in the United States Eastern qualifying races Sunday.

Goerlach

SKIMEISTER Collin Garstang has collected 19 trophies and a plaque on his way to becoming top man for the Pittsfield High ski team for three years. He also has four trophies earned in city skating meets and two from city archery competition.

Winter Carnival Was Success Financially

The 1962-63 winter carnival was more successful financially than the one the year before, it was announced last night at the annual banquet of the Park Department's winter sports committee.

Approximately 40 persons attended the event held at Eastover in Lenox. Ernest M. Manns was chairman and master of ceremonies.

According to reports given by Carl Peaslee, chairman of the committee, and Mrs. Ida Fosty, treasurer, the annual button sale realized $3,378, of which $2,050 was netted for committee use, compared to $1,815 in 1961.

The winter sports equipment sale last November netted $1,200 for the committee out of the total $6,788 made by the sale of about 1,922 articles. The committee netted $950 the year before.

$500 to Boys' Club

Mr. Peaslee noted that during the season $500 had been donated to the Boys' Club in keeping with the committee's pledge of $2,200. This brought total committee donations to the fund to $1,700.

Also during the winter, $[illegible] was distributed to local ski[illegible]n d skaters who took part i[illegible]ing competitions as represen[illegible]s of the city, Mr. Peaslee s[illegible]

Of the 16 scheduled carnival events, three had to be canceled, the ice trials, the snow sculpture in Park Square and a promotional event.

Mr. Peaslee thanked the committee chairmen and the Department of Parks and Recreation for their efforts during the year.

The chairman also noted that during the first meeting of the committee last May plans were made to sponsor a contestant in the soap box derby and to enter a float in the July 4 parade. The soap box contestant went on to take part in the finals in Akron, Ohio; the parade float won second prize.

Parks Supt. Vincent J. Hebert also spoke briefly at the banquet. He thanked the members of the winter sports staff for doging "an exceptional job," and expressed gratitude on behalf of the Park Commission.

Officers for the 1963-64 season were introduced. They are Mr. Manns, chairman; William F. Plouffe, first vice chairman; Max Sauter, second vice chairman; Miss Jacqueline LeSage, secretary, and Mrs. Fosty, treasurer.

FCC Network Controls Asked by Church Unit

NEW YORK — Stronger controls over networks on radio and television by the federal government were urged by the National Council of Churches over the weekend.

The council's general board refused to be swayed by protests from the broadcasting industry and voted to ask the Federal Communications Commission to oversee networks under the licensing powers that now apply to individual stations. It cited the current programming pattern as placing overemphasis on "entertaining and diverting" and not enough on education.

Networks have "substantial control over much that is broadcast by individual stations" and should therefore "be held accountable for broadcasting in the public interest," said the board.

Delay Spurned

The National Association of Broadcasters, in a statement written before the board's action, said that "any delay in the broadcast of a program because of objections to its content would be a form of censorship."

The broadcasters' statement said that "the broadcaster is responsible for the programs he presents, but he is not responsible for the programs he cannot present."

Dr. Everett C. Parker, director of the National Council's office of communication, said that the broadcasters' statement "is a clear indication that they are not willing to accept responsibility for the programs they present."

Spring Is Here! Call the AAA!

Winter Sports Group Completes Pledge To Boys' Club

5/5/63

The Pittsfield winter sports committee of the Department of Parks and Recreation made its final payment on a pledge of $2,200 to the Pittsfield Boys' Club building fund last week. Ernest M. Manns, 120 Benedict Road, chairman of the committee, presented a $500 check to Fred S. Fahey, superintendent of the club.

On behalf of the club directors, Mr. Fahey expressed his thanks for the check and noted that this pledge was in addition to many personal pledges made by members of the committee. He also gave particular thanks to William S. Litty, 89 Noblehurst Ave., chairman of the committee, 1960-61; Carl L. Peaslee, 59 Calumet St., chairman, 1961-62, 1962-63; and to Vincent J. Ski Lessons Attract 240

Two hundred and forty signed up for the adult night ski lessons at information sessions Monday and Tuesday at the Springside House. The classes are held each year at Bousquet's, sponsored by the Department of Parks and Recreation and directed by Court McDermott, head of Bousquet's Ski School.

An instructional film was shown and McDermott gave talks and answered questions on procedures, technique and equipment. Because of the size of the crowd and small quarters, the film had to be shown four times.

Adults unable to make either session may register by calling the Park Department today through Dec. 27.

SEASON'S FIRST SNOWFALL wasn't enough to cover the grass, but it was sufficient to give these children a chance to work out on sleds and flying saucers on Clapp Park yesterday. Subfreezing temperatures and previous rain gave the snow a substantial base. Saturday's rain and high winds preceding the snow knocked down tree limbs, blew in windows and cut electrical service in some areas. More snow is expected tonight.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. — Some 300 crack speed skaters from Northeastern United States and Canada, including more than 20 prospects for the 1964 Olympics, are expected to compete in the annual Eastern States speed skating championships in Saratoga Springs for the 31st time Saturday and Sunday, Jan. 12 and 13.

"We expect every leading U.S. Olympic prospect from the Northeast to be entered," according to Eugene P. Lynch and Robert W. Walton, veteran Saratoga speed skating devotees, who again head up the committee on arrangements.

Three Olympic candidates, Kenneth LeBel of Lake Placid, N.Y., Robert Fenn of Flushing, N.Y., and Miss Gail Purdy of Saratoga Springs, are among the early entrants.

LeBel, two-time national indoor champion and five-time winner of the North American indoor championship, and Fenn, victor in the national outdoor five-mile race at St. Paul, Minn., last year, are entered in the senior men's division. Fenn is defending senior champion.

Miss Purdy will be senior women's defending champion. She won four other senior women's championships last year, including the New York State outdoor at Westport, N.Y., and the International Silver Skates at Lake George, N.Y.

Another notable early entrant is Saratoga's 14-year-old Mickey Green, collector of many juvenile girls' championships last year.

Entry blanks have gone to skaters in nine states and two Canadian provinces.

The meet is sponsored by Saratoga Springs Chamber of Commerce, the Saratoga Winter Club, the Eastern States committee, the local Board of Education, Northern New York Skating Association and the Amateur Skating Union of the United States.

JEANNE ASHWORTH, the 24-year old Eastern Massachusetts girl, who has won the national women's speed skating championship, is remembered as a competitor at major ice events here.

She won her first championship medal in North American competition for juveniles in Pittsfield way back in 1950. She was 11 at the time.

The North American meet has been held here twice. The next time was in 1954. By then, Jeanne was a junior. She was a strong contender, but divisional honors went to Mary Novak of Chicago. Jeanne was second in the 220, third in the 880 and second in the 440.

o—o

PITTSFIELD'S Mary Lou Bromback defeated Jeanne here in 1956 in the intermediate division of the Berkshire Hills championship meet. Miss Ashworth was runner-up in the 220, 440, 880 and three-quarter miles. Miss Bromback won all of those races.

In 1957, Miss Ashworth became a senior and a consistent winner for the first time. She won the divisional title in the Berkshire Hils event by finishing first in the 220 and 880.

Jeanne has left for Japan and the world speed skating championships scheduled for Sunday and Monday. The competition will take place in Karuizawa, three miles out of Tokyo.

She almost didn't take the trip to Japan. The Amateur Athletic Union didn't have the money to finance American speed skaters, and so what else is new? However, thanks to two sports-minded organizations in her home region she made it. The Lowell Sun and H. P. Hood and Sons paid for her trip. The Japanese government had promised some financial aid. She met members of the Japanese team last winter in Sweden, and they invited her to the world event.

ACCORDING TO reports from Boston, Jeanne will be in Japan for a week and a half. When she returns, she will spend a short time in her home town of Wilmington. Then she will go to Lake Placid, N.Y., where she has set up residence to train for the 1964 Olympics.

She was America's outstanding skater at the 1960 Olympics at Squaw Valley. She was the only United States contestant of either sex to win any kind of a medal. She received a bronze one for third place.

In the Olympics, she had the satisfaction of defeating two Russian girls.

Long-range analysis of the world meet at Japan is that her chief challenger for the title will be another Russian, Inga Voronina.

o—o

JEANNE IS a comparative mite. She stands only 5 feet, 1 inch. She spends hours every day at practice.

She was in Sweden all of last winter, and most of her time was spent in training on European style skating. That's the kind that is used in the Olympics. American speed skaters race against each other. Europeans compete against time.

Jeanne is so dedicated to her sport, she gave up her teaching job at a private school in Natick. She won't go back to teaching until after the 1964 Olympics. She said recently she couldn't train properly in her spare time.

JEANNE WON'T be the only ex-Berkshire Hills contestant in Japan. Among the American male entrants is Arnold Uhrlass Jr.

Arnold always did well here. In 1954, he was outstanding in the long North American meet races. In 1956, he won the 880, the 3-mile and the 5-mile here. He also was selected as an Olympic alternate that year.

In 1957, he won the 440 and the 3-mile in this city. Last year, he compiled his best record here. He took firsts in the 220, 880, the 1-mile and the 5-mile.

o—o

CHARLEY PACUNAS, the 1959 Holy Cross College varsity football captain, who lived here for a year, has been promoted by the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company from Pittsfield to Boston.

Charley will be missed by the coaches and players on the Pittsfield Paladins' football team. He served capably as end coach last fall. End was his position at the Cross.

His Pittsfield address was 124 Appleton Ave. Charley is a native of Baltimore, Md.

o—o

THE LATEST name we hear in the guessing sweepstakes on the Yale head football coaching vacancy is that of Jim Ostendarp of Amherst. Jim was an assistant at Bucknell, Williams and Cornell before he was named to the No. 1 job at Amherst.

We also understand that Hal Lahar of Colgate is receiving serious consideration for the post.

A choice probably will be made within the next fortnight.

o—o

ARTHUR MANN, the biographer of Branch Rickey, died recently in New York at the age of 61. His book on Rickey was published in 1957. It probably is the most authoritative work ever written on the famed baseball executive, who still is active in the sport at the age of 80 as an adviser to the St. Louis Cardinals. Mann, a gifted free lance writer, was close to Rickey for many years.

Mann spent several summers near Berlin, N.Y., and did most of his shopping in Pittsfield.

o—o

JAKE HAERTL, the former Deerfield Academy and Dartmouth College hockey star, has joined the faculty of Vermont Academy at Saxtons River, Vt. Jake's mother is the former Eileen MacCartney of Pittsfield. The family residence is Midland, Mich.

Jake is coaching the academy's junior varsity hockey team, and teaching history and general science.

He twice was named to the All-Ivy League hockey squad. At Deerfield, he was a football teammate of Chris Gilson of Pittsfield.

Jake is a nephew of Mrs. D. Paul Sweeney, Mrs. John Retallick, and Mrs. Stephen Terpak, all of Pittsfield, and Mrs. I.S. Plotzky of Dalton.

City Skate Meet Lacking Entrants As Deadline Nears

Entries in next Wednesday's city speed-skating championships are lagging far behind expectations, a park department official said last night.

Very few entry blanks have been submitted to the department, Jim Farry, chairman of the event, told The Eagle. Any division in which there are not at least four entries will not be held, Farry said.

At present, six divisions are scheduled for men and boys and six for ladies and girls. Two races are scheduled in each division, making a card of 24 races if entries are numerous.

The meet is scheduled for Wednesday night at 7 at the Common. Entries will be accepted until 6:30, but Farry said he would prefer that entrants sign up as early as possible.

The queen contestant selling the most tickets will be given a special gift by the winter sports committee. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stiles, ticket chairmen, said tickets will be sold at the door the night of the ball.

Snow Sculpture Contest Judges Are Announced

Judges were announced today for the snow sculpture contest for Pittsfield school students in Grades 7 to 12 from 3 to 6 Thursday afternoon, weather permitting, at the Allendale Shopping Center. The contest is being sponsored by the shopping center in cooperation with the Winter Sports Committee.

Goodrich, Garstang Best In Carnival Ski Meet

By LEE GOERLACH

Defending champion Charles M. Goodrich Jr. shared skeimeister honors with his best friend, James C. Garstang Jr., in the city ski meet at the Pittsfield State Forest Saturday. Taking decisive firsts in both the downhill and slalom events in their own class, each boy piled up 200 points. The meet is part of the annual Winter Carnival.

Record Field

The downhill was run in the morning on the Shadow Trail. The slalom took place in the afternoon on the open slope. A record field of 105 registered for the event, 29 more than last year.

Goodrich, skiing in the 14-16 age group, ran the tricky old Shadow Trail in 70.4 seconds, 5.8 seconds faster than second place Kevin Brennan. Brennan's time was 76.2. In the slalom, Charley negotiated the well-set course in 40.4 seconds, a full 8.2 seconds faster than second-place Alan Briskin. Briskin's time was 48.6. Briskin and Brennan traded places in the downhill and slalom. Briskin was third in the downhill and Brenna tnhird in the slalom.

Garstang, in the 12-23 age group, ran the downhill in 71.6 with Jimmy Hollister second in 73.4. In the slalom, Garstang finished more than nine seconds ahead of second-place Dale Stetson. Garstang's time was 36.4, Stetson's a flat 46. Brian Sissleman took third place in the downhill in this bracket and John Rowlan Jr., third in the slalom.

Garstang's older brother, Pittsfield High ski star Collin Garstang, set what may be the fastest time ever made in a downhill on the Shadow Trail. He streaked down the course in 60.8 seconds, nearly 10 seconds faster than the time set by Goodrich. The fastest time on the same trail in last year's meet, 76 seconds, was made by Clayton Harrington of Mount Greylock Regional School.

Not in Slalom

As the high school boys ran last, Collin knew that both his brother and young Goodrich had made excellent runs. "I just had to run the course fast," he commented after the race. Collin didn't compete in the slalom as he had to run a cross-country race for Pittsfield High against Barrow in the afternoon.

Teddy Bonnivier topped the high school division with a second in the downhill and a first in the slalom. High-school age boys are ineligible to compete for skimeister honors in the city meet.

Gene Marsten took the third spot in the downhill for high school boys. Ed Sloper was second in the slalom, just .2 of a second behind Bonnivier. Teddy's younger brother, Chris, was third.

Deborah England took the honors in the 11-years-and-under division for girls. She was second in the downhill and first in the slalom. Goodrich's younger brother, Tracey, took the title for boys in this division with a third in the downhill and first in the slalom. Bonnie Briskin won the girls' downhill in this division and Amy Kaufmann was third. Carol Gregory was second in the downhill and Carol Vandergrift, third. Marck Busch won the downhill for boys and R. M. O'Connell was second. Dan Gregory was second and Mark Busch, third, in the boys' slalom.

Little Lisa Gregory won the divisional honors in the 12-13-age girls' group, with a second in the downhill and first in the slalom. Joyce Martin, one of Pittsfield's most promising girl racers, won the downhill three seconds ahead of Lisa, despite a fall. Joyce lost her footing, sat down and bounced up again, with very little loss of time. Joyce negotiated the course in 81.8, Lisa in 84.8. Joyce lost precious time again in the slalom when she caught her ski pole tip in her binding and paused to untangle it. Lisa finished 8.6 seconds ahead of Joyce in this event. Sallie Allison tied for second with Lisa in the downhill and Melanie Simo was third. Priscilla Dorman took third in the slalom.

Pamela Marsten was the winner in the 14-15-year age group for girls. She was second in the downhill and first in the slalom. Pat Johnson, a recent recruit to the racing field, made the best time of the day for girls in winning the downhill in this age group. Her time was 79 seconds, which was faster than that made by most of the boys. Judy Clogett was third in the downhill and second in the slalom in this group and Darleen Shaver was third in the slalom.

Winter Carnival Button Sales Drive Extended

The deadline for selling carnival buttons has been extended five days until Monday at 5.

So far, the 11 carnival queen contestants are about 8,000 buttons under the goal of 20,000. The original deadline was today.

The winter sports committee thinks that four carnival events scheduled for this weekend will give the contestants a chance to sell more buttons.

The city ski meet at Pittsfield State Forest and the carnival square dance at the Jewish Community Center will be held Saturday. The ice-fishing derby at Pontoosuc Lake and the sled races at Clapp Park will be held Sunday.

The winter sports committee will meet tonight at 8 at Springside House. Chairmen of various winter events will give their reports.

Eight Girls Enter Finals in Queen Contest

Eight of 11 contestants have passed the first hurdle in the winter queen contest, which will be decided Friday night during the Winter Carnival Ball at the Wendell Hotel.

The 11 contestants sold 13,513 queen buttons, the queen's committee of the Winter Carnival Committee announced today. The eight girls who will go on to the next step in the contest sold more than the required 1,200 buttons.

A total of $3,378 was collected during the sale. This is $356 more than was taken in last year when 12,087 buttons were sold. The money will be used by the Pittsfield Winter Sports Committee to finance the winter carnival and promote winter sports in Berkshire County.

The eight successful queen contestants are the Misses Jacqueline LaSage of 11 McAllister St., Gloria Sheehan of 934 West Housatonic St., Maaja Sildoja of 97 Berkley St., Marcis Kelly of Lee, Rose Mary Stockley of 11 Paul Ave., Lucille Gauthier of 168 Linden St., Judith Hoffman of 285 Linden St. and Loralee Carr of Dalton.

The girl who sold most buttons will be the queen's lady-in-waiting if she is not queen herself.

Three out-of-town judges will select the queen at 9 p.m. Friday at the hotel. Their decision will be based on a candidate's poise, appearance, personality, expression and over-all knowledge of the winter carnival. The girls will be questioned on carnival material by an out-of-town interviewer.

1,245 Skaters Open City Rinks

A total of 1,245 skaters took to the ice at four city rinks for the first skating weekend of the season.

The Department of Parks and Recreation has opened rinks at the Common, Osceola, Clapp and Springside. There will be skating today from 1 to 5 and 6:30 to 9.

The sliding area at Clapp Park is not in good shape yet, the Parks Department said, because of poor snow cover in some areas.

Outdoor Skating At Springside; Others May Open

Outdoor skating in Pittsfield officially started last night with the opening of the rink at Springside Park. The rink will be open today from 3:30 to 5 and 6:30 to 9.

Work has been proceeding on the Common and at Osceola Park, which are being flooded today in the hope of weekend skating there, and Clapp Park is also being readied. Plowing has been done at Deming and West Memorial in preparation for later flooding. It is hoped that all rinks will be ready for use during the school vacation, Vincent J. Hebert, superintendent of the Parks and Recreation Department, said this morning.

He checked snow conditions at Osceola and Clapp Park this morning, he said, but there is not enough snow to begin operation of the ski tows this weekend. The tows are being prepared, however, and he hopes they too will be in operation before the end of vacation.

THE FRIDAY CROWD also included Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fitzpatrick of Stockbridge. Jack said that more than 70 youngsters have signed up for the Stockbridge ski program which this year is being sponsored by the Youth Development Committee of the town under similar arrangement with Bousquet's as that of the Pittsfield Park Department program. Youngsters receive lessons for 50 cents. Given on Saturday morning, the lessons are under the direction of Court McDermott. The regular ski school staff members do the teaching.

Jack started the program by himself last year with 25 youngsters participating. Parents do the chauffeuring. "I never have a transportation problem," he said. "More parents volunteer to drive than I need every week."

Registration Is Set for Ski Classes

Registration for the children's advanced ski classes, sponsored by the Park Department at Bousquet's, will be tomorrow afternoon from 4:15 to 5 at Springside House. Court McDermott and John Marchesi, of Bousquet's and the Park Dept., respetively, will supervise.

This is the second of the season's children's ski classes, and is designed for advanced skiers only. Tomorrow's will be the only registration, and the class will be limited to 100. A registration fee of 50 cents will be collected for the series of five lessons. The first class will be Saturday morning at 8:45.

Those who took the first series this year will not be eligible. Telephone registrations will not be accepted.

10 Supervisors Needed for City Skating Rinks

Approximately 10 more supervisors are needed for city skating rinks, the Department of Parks and Recreation said today.

Supervisors work at the rinks after school, evenings and on weekends. The pay is $1 an hour.

Application forms are available at Springside House, 874 North St., or at the Administrative Services office in City Hall annex.

A MAN WHO requests that his name not be used writes that he would like to see a skating rink provided at the Crane Playground. He seems to make a strong case. The closest public skating for youngsters in the Crane School and Allendale districts is at Springside Park, a considerable distance.

He says, "In my efforts of the past few years to get a skating rink in the Crane School playground area, I have had no success from the park superintendent or the councilman from our ward. These youngsters are being sadly neglected as compared with other sections of the city. The taxes residents of this section pay should entitle them to more recreation for these young people than they get.

"I also believe it is the proper time now to plan for buildings to be erected for this purpose in the section and in all sections of the city. If we do not furnish our children with recreational facilities, we will not need the parking lots which seem to receive preference over their health and happiness."

The new series is limited to 100 entrants, and if the earlier pupils were allowed to continue, there would be no room for new entrants, recreation supervisor John Marchesi said. The department's policy, he explained, is to make skiing instruction available to as many youngsters as possible.

Rinks Likely If Fund Okayed, Commission Says

The Park Commission informed the City Council today that each of two skating rinks would cost $650 to construct. If the money is appropriated, the commission "would be pleased to construct" rinks at Williams School playground and at the Wahconah Park parking lot.

The commission also stated that it was arranging a meeting with School Supt. James P. Reynolds to discuss a fence around Crane School playground.

New Record Is Set On Mt Greylock

Wintertime Trip Takes Lee Man Just 60 Minutes

ADAMS — Fred R. LaGrant of Lee is the new snowmobile champion of Mt. Greylock with a record time of 57 minutes up and down the mountain in his Ski Doo. James Kelly was second in the Sunday races with a time of 63 minutes.

The previous record for the round trip up and down the state's highest peak over rough, unplowed snow was 60 minutes, set last week by Albert Bachand of Williamstown, who offered a trophy for anyone who could beat his record. The trophy, now held by LaGrant, will be on the line again for another race next Sunday.

About 300 turned out at yesterday's race to watch the start and finish at Bernard's farm. A parking problem developed because of the large number.

Other entrants in the race were Marvel Walsh and Leon Mongue of Hinsdale, David Jandran, Cheshire and Gordon Leeman and Harold Pillman of Lee.

Attendance Down 6,000 At Rinks

Skiing Gains Reported by Supt. Hebert

Unpredictable Berkshire weather was responsible for drop of 6,000 in attendance at city skating rinks this season, the Department of Parks and Recreation said today.

The 1962-63 outdoor winter sports program officially ended Sunday with the closing of the Common and Clapp Park because of poor ice conditions.

But about 1,000 more children used the ski tows at Clapp and Osceola, and the department's ski instruction program, with an increase of 1,500 in attendance, was "exceptionally successful," Parks Supt. Vincent J. Hebert said.

Crews Hampered

The park maintenance crews were hampered this season in their ice-making operations by extremely poor weather conditions, Mr. Hebert said.

He cited figures from a temperature chart at the Department of Public Works, which was kept for 72 days from Dec. 16 through Feb. 24.

Thirty-three days of this period Mr. Hebert said, showed temperatures rose higher than 25 degrees, and on 21 of these days it was higher than 32 degrees.

Good ice-making conditions exist when the temperature is 25 degrees or lower and there is no snow or high wind. Conditions are excellent when the mercury is zero or below.

During the 72-day period covered by the unofficial charts, there were 12 days when ice-making conditions could be listed in the excellent category.

The sharp drop in the skating attendance figure is mainly attributed to the fact that poor weather forced closings on five Sundays (usually the biggest skating day) and during the school vacation period last month, Mr. Hebert said.

The six city skating areas in Pittsfield are at the Common, Clapp, Osceola, Deming, Springside and West Memorial.

The ski tow at Osceola, currently closed, will be in operation soon for as long as weather permits.

Snow Totals 76.2 Inches; More Due, Says Weatherman

There seems to be no danger of Berkshire County running out of snow for at least the next week The U.S. Weather Station has indicated more snow in the offing tonight with more to come on Thursday and Saturday.

Tonight's storm is part of a fast-moving frontal system that is sweeping in from the Central plains states. It is moving so rapidly it probably won't leave more than an inch of new snow. What the subsequent storms have in store in difficulty to determine at this point.

The 5½ inches of snow that fell over the weekend brought the total snowfall for the winter up to 76.2 inches which is still a long way away from the modern winter record of 122 inches set during the 1955-56 season.

Deepest Accumulation

However, the 23 inches of snow presently on the ground represents the deepest accumulation since they began keeping records at the Pittsfield Airport in 1944. Chief Meteorologist George J. Bulgarelli explained that persistent subnormal temperatures have held the snow covering at a fairly constant level. Normally the sun is high enough in the north at this time of year to eat through the ground snow. Mr. Bulgarelli cited the 13 degrees below zero Saturday morning as a good example of why the snow cover is remaining intact.

The combination snow and cold weather is causing problems for motorists in the Pittsfield area. The icy crust along the sides of the roads has narrowed the street down to a point where most side streets will accommodate no more than one car at a time.

Most of the main roads are clear. However, virtually all side streets are coated with ice and driving is hazardous. Homeowners have also been plagued with the snow and ice accumulation on sidewalks.

The city and state highway departments were out in full force during the night pushing aside the remnants of the weekend storm. By early morning the main thoroughfares had been cleared and sanded so there were no problems on these roads.

Mr. Bulgarelli said the area can't look for much relief for the balance of this week. The temperature is expected to remain on the cold side until Thursday, at least.

City's Yule Decorations Bring Criticism, Praise

This year's Christmas decorations in the city, which depart from the traditional display, have evoked conflicting opinions.

Many people miss the strings of colored lights that in the past spanned North and South streets while others feel the new display is more imaginative and in better taste.

This year several hundred natural Christmas trees illuminated with strings of bright white lights have been attached to street light standards along North and South streets and in city owned parking lots.

The trees are five feet tall and are attached to the standards by a bracket some 15-feet above the street.

The decorating program was jointly carried out by the Western Massachusetts Electric Co. which has electrified each light standard, and the Downtown Association which purchased the decorations and the city which bought the brackets for securing the trees to the standards. The city's Department of Public Works has installed the brackets and attached the trees to the poles.

Purnell Asks for Color

Councilman-at-Large George A. Purnell Jr. speaking for those who are critical of this year's display, siad the common complaint is that there is no color to the display. Purnell has been quoted as saying, "When the merchants used to come before the Council for money for decorations, it was 'for the children' and I wonder what the children will think about nothing but white lights for Christmas decorations."

David Kay, speaking for a sponsor, the Downtown Association, said that a lighting expert of the electric company suggested the bright, white bulbs gested the bright, white bulbs because colored bulbs would fade or wash out from the glare of the powerful mercury vapor lamps un utility poles. Bright bulbs would show up better, the expert explained.

He added that it was on the basis of this recommendation that the strings of white bulbs were bought. Kay said this year's decoration were an "experiment" because many members of the Downtown Association felt the traditional display was "old-fashioned."

One reservation, he said, was that perhaps the trees are too small. Next year, Kay said, it is possible larger evergreens will be used. He said he has had critical calls about the new decorations, but he added that many persons have told him they consider the decorations a refreshing change.

Miss Farry Sweeps In Berkshire Skating

Pittsfield Girl Wins Divisional Title and Takes 19th Trophy; McCarthy Men's Champion

JOANNE FARRY

By ED TOOLE

PITTSFIELD — Final card of the 18th Berkshire Hills Outdoor Speedskating Championships was staged at the Common Rink yesterday only after a big task was accomplished by the Park and Recreation Department crew as it cleared the six-lap track of better than a foot of snow that had blanketed the Berkshires in the early morning hours. And despite the biting cold and winds that at times baffled the racers, some fine events climaxed the two-day Winter Carnival meet.

Has 19 Trophies

Especially exciting for Shire City folks was the fact that young Joanne Farry made a sweep of the Pee Wee Girls Division. Thus, the Berkshire charmer added the 19th trophy to her growing collection of skating hardware.

The senior men's 440 was a bell-ringer. Ray Blum was a pacesetter until the backstretch, where Ron Linn forged ahead. However, divisional titlist Bob McCarthy made his bid on the final turn, and came down to the line neck and neck with Blum. At the last second, Mac pulled victory out of the fire.

Thus the colorbearer of the Grand Street Boys Skating Club of Queens, N. Y., took the senior men's division crown.

Darlene Sechanic of Jersey City made sure of the senior women's tiara by taking four of the five events in her class. This worthy competitor glided unpressed to win the 440.

Racing Savvy

Skating well and displaying racing savvy in the 440, Pittsfield's Patti Smith made her bid for runner-up honors to pass Dot Laudenback of Maspeth, N. Y., and speed in right on the heels of Miss Sechanic. In the three-quarter mile, Miss Smith added another second.

As always, the five-miler was something to behold notwithstanding the winds that in bursts sent blinding snow across the track. After 29 turns, Dick Ring of Wilmington, Mass., edged ahead of Blum on the final turn and flashed over the finish line to just edge the former Olympic competitor. Right on the heels of Blum in third spot was Linn.

FLASHING BLADES — Veteran racer Ed Mitchell of Schenectady celebrated his 70th birthday by keeping his record intact, having competed in every one of the Berkshire Hills meets. . . .There was a real human interest story behind those two nuns who were lustily cheering the young skaters at the final turn. . . .One of them was none other than Sister Mary Howard of the Sisters of St. Joseph from Watervliet, N. Y. . . .The former Joanne Harrington of Syracuse, she was a speedskating stylist before she entered the religious order. . . .This week end she was here to cheer her brother and sister—Chuckie and Eileen. . . .Sister Mary Howard may be recalled by Shire City folks as one of the top entrants in the first North American Outdoor Championships held at Pittsfield.

By JOHN PHILLIPS

Seven-year-old Joanne Farry of the Pittsfield Parks and Recreation Department Speed Skating Club, won her seventh divisional trophy of the season yesterday afternoon by completing a two-day sweep of peewee girl competition in the Berkshire Hills speed skating meet on the Common rink. By beating Lynn Kirkland of Arlington by 20 yards in the 110-yard race, Miss Farry registered her first divisional win in the Hills meet, and the trophy was the 19th of her career.

Dave Pfeil, a 13-year-old juvenile boy skater from Buffalo, N.Y., won his events Saturday and yesterday, and was voted the meet's outstanding skater. He was awarded The Berkshire Eagle trophy by Pittsfield Winter Carnival Queen Maaja Sildoja. Pfeil's wins were in the 220 (:21.4) and in the 440 (:44.2).

Patti Smith, a senior women's division entrant, was the only other Pittsfield skater to place in yesterday's competition. Miss Smith finished second to Darlene Sechanic of Jersey City, N.J., in the 440-yard and three-quarter-mile events. She had taken a second in the 220 and thirds in the 880 and mile races Saturday. Bob Gage, a midget boy skater from North Adams, placed second in Saturday's 220.

Miss Farry won Saturday's 220 in :29.4 and yesterday's 110 in :18.1. She will be 8 years old a week from today, and will move up to the special midget girls' division.

Dick Ring of Wilmington came on in the last half of the final lap of the senior men's five-mile finale to nose out Ray Blum of Absecon, N.J., and won the Exchange Club trophy, presented by Francis Douglas. Ring's time was 18:05, an excellent clocking considering the weather conditions. The rink was whipped by increasingly strong winds, and the cold and whirling snow kept the spectator count under 100.

City, Bishop Weldon Seek Jointly Needed Land Swap

Mayor Haughey has submitted for City Council approval an order whereby the city and the Roman Catholic bishop of Springfield will exchange about five acres of land in the Coolidge Playground area near the end of Columbus Avenue extension.

The order calls for the conveyance of a parcel of land, 560 feet by 440 feet, to the church. In exchange the bishop will deed the city a strip of land that is 121 feet wide, 1,800 feet long. The strip would give the city a right of way from Coolidge Playground to Valentine Road.

Need Access

Atty Andrew T. Campoli, who is representing Bishop Christopher J. Weldon, said the church wants the land for a better access to the proposed St. Mark's elementary school. And he understands that Vincent J. Hebert, superintendent of parks and recreation, is anxious to get a right-of-way to Valentine Road, thereby making Coolidge Playgrund more accessible.

Actually, the Roman Catholic bishop does not yet have title to land which borders on Valentine Road, but it is understood that the Petricca Construction Co. is ready to deed a 1,200-foot strip to the church, which, in turn, would transfer it to the city.

Atty. Campoli said he undersands that a proposed extension of Columbus Avenue westerly to Valentine Road is not a consideration in this exchange. For some time there has been talk that such an extension has been in the planning stage.

The lawyer said that the land which the city would deed to the church has never been officially made a part of Coolidge Playground even though it is contiguous to the city recreational facility on the south. The land was acquired in 1941 from the Agricultural National Bank, but was never formally incorporated as park land. If it were, a special act of the legislature would have to be passed before the city could deed park land over to a private party.

Tomorrow night's City Council agenda includes another proposed swap of land. In exchange for a strip of land on Williams Street, contiguous to the grounds of the South Junior High School, the city is deeding a strip of similar area to Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Blake and Mr. and Mrs. Newell L. Blake.

Registration for the Park Department's swim instruction program closed Friday with a total of about 350 children registered for the three sessions.

Though this figure is below that of previous years, department officials hope that more parents will avail themselves of the opportunity of having their children learn how to swim when other registration periods are provided throughout the summer. Classes are filled for the first session beginning on Monday but there are still numerous openings in the two sessions, beginning on July 15 and Aug. 5, which are to follow. Registration periods for these final sessions will be announced in the near future.

Classes for beginners will be given at Onota Lake and those for beginners through senior lifesavers at Pontoosuc.

Council Tables Land Swap

8/14/63

A mayoral order for the swapping of land between the city and the Roman Catholic bishop of Springfield was tabled last night at the request of Atty. Andrew T. Campoli, representing the church.

A last-minute plan to improve the swap, which needs working out, fostered the tabling idea, Campoli said.

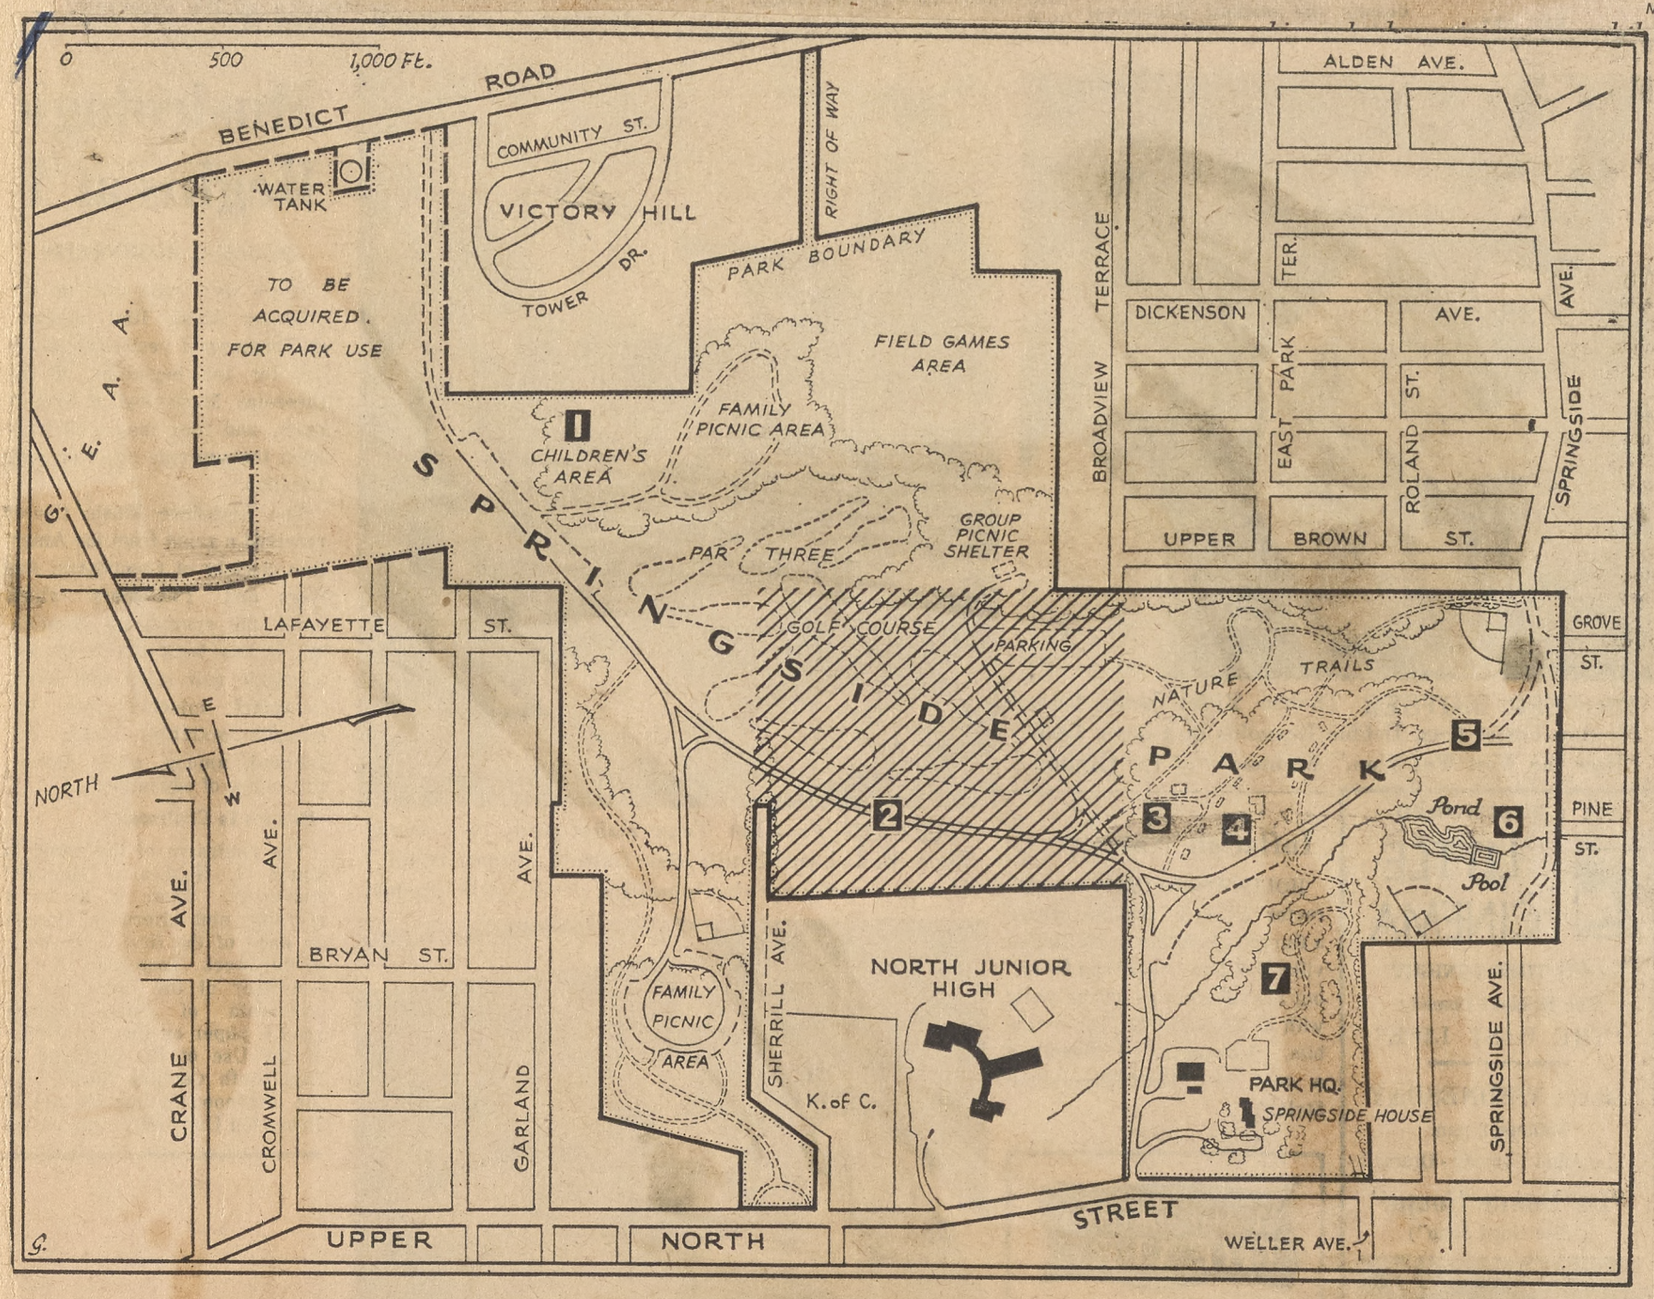

The land exchange would permit the church to build a $1.25 million school and convent at St. Mark's Church off West Street near Coolidge Hill playground. It would also give the city access to the playground from Valentine Road.

Maurice Callahan & Sons have been granted a local and state permit to erect a double-panel sign atop the Bland Electric building at 70 Columbus Avenue. The Council granted the permit last night. Councilmen Butler, Brown, St. Peter and Greenberg opposed the move.

The billboard will replace one attached to the building demolished for the new municipal parking lot, an attorney for the firm said.

DEVELOPMENT PLAN FOR SPRINGSIDE PARK would be seriously hampered by the construction of a new high school on the site proposed by the High School Commission, according to the Park Commission and other park defenders. Included in the development plan are: (1) A children's area adjacent to Victory Hill housing development with wading pool, softball diamond and active play area; (2) Completion of the park road northeast to Benedict Road, with spurs to developed areas; (3) A day camp near the zoo and three miles of nature trails; (4) A zoo, including a series of pits for native animals, a monkey island and a deer park. Also, a nature museum provided with a workshop; (5) A park road through from the North Street entrance to Springside Avenue; (6) A 60-foot shallow pool near Springside Pond for wading and redesign of the pond to enable skating and fishing (this project has been completed); (7) Expansion of existing gardens and an arboretum. Also, the plans call for construction of a golf course.

Mayor, McNeil Confer On Proposed High School

Mayor Dillon and Planning Director F. McNeil met for more than half an hour today to exchange views on the proposal that a new 1,250 - pupil high school be built.

After the meeting Dillon said he still had not reached any definite conclusions about the recommendations made last week by the High School Commission.

Questions Cost

The mayor did express concern at the estimated $3.25 million cost of the new school.

He noted that earlier the capital Outlay committee had recommended the construction of a 1,000-pupil school to cost $1.9 million.

Dillon said it is possible that, before he makes any specific recommendations to the City Council, he can be "convinced" that the $3.2 million cost is a reasonable one.

Howevev, he added that he is "hopeful" that this figure can be pared down.

It is expected that Dillon will present his recommendations for resolving the city's school needs at the August Council meeting.

Would Work With Quinn

In a related development, Dillon said today that he will "work with" School Committee Chairman John J. Quinn to reduce the 1965 School Department budget.

Quinn said Friday that he aims to cut the $5-million-plus budget by some 20 per cent.

Dillon, commenting on the Quinn statement, said that he would work with and "vote" with" Quinn to realize any "legitimate savings" in school expenditures.

The mayor is a voting member of the School Committee.

Legal Opinion To Be Asked On School Play Areas Issue

City Solicitor Edwin E. Reder will be asked early next week to give his opinion about who should maintain playgrounds and outdoor athletic facilities on School Department properties.

This was one of two tangible results coming out of a sometimes jovial meeting last night. The session included members of the School Committee, the Park Commission, Mayor Dillion, and Buildings Supt. Donald E. Farr.

The other result is that Mr. Farr will hire a private contractor to line the Crosby Junior High tennis courts for $150. The four courts have been unlined since the school was built.

School Committee Chairman John J. Quinn, who was picked to request the legal opinion, said he would send a letter to Reder either Monday or Tuesday.

Three Questions

The letter will ask the following three questions:

—Which department (school, parks, or public buildings), if any, is legally responsible for the maintenance of school recreation and athletic grounds?

—If one department handles all of the ground maintenance work, and does work which directly benefits another department, can it bill that department for the services rendered?

—Does the responsibility of maintenance change during the summer months, when school grounds are often used for Park Department activities?

For years the Park Department had done the bulk of maintenance on school playgrounds, but because of budget slashes and growing park maintenance needs, the idea no longer is feasible.

Farr States Position

Building Supt. Farr expressed his belief that he is responsible only for maintenance of school buildings, not school grounds. He said he has taken care of some work on school fields, but the expenditures have cost the city work in other areas.

Although everyone present agreed that a legal opinion should be secured, two solutions to the basic problems were offered.

School Committeeman James R. Clary said that the School Department should be responsible for all ground maintenance on school property. The School Department has the necessary equipment, and the necessary labor could be obtained from the force of custodians, he said. Under this plan, the necessary money would be budgeted by the School Committee.

Park Commissioner Dr. Robert J. Kirvin thought it would be more economical to have all playground maintenance under one department, presumably either parks or buildings. Kirvin felt that one department with the equipment and the know-how would be more efficient. The necessary money for all playground and field maintenance would then be budgeted by that department.

Edwin R. Grady Jr., supervisor of physical education in the junior high schools, said labor costs for school playground maintenance for three months in the fall and three months in the spring would be about $3,000.

Harubin Called Meeting

Edward S. Harubin, chairman of the School Committee's subcommittee on physical education and athletics called the meeting after problems of maintenance had been brought up at Monday's School Committee meeting.

Harubin's subcommittee and the Park Commission had discussed these problems in a closed meeting on May 25. The minutes of that meeting were released by the Park Commission last night.

At first, the gathering was going to use School Department equipment and Building and Park departments personnel to paint the lines on the Crosby tennis courts. However, after the meeting, it was discovered that the private contractor could do it for considerably less money.

Russo Suggests Meeting With Mayor, PHS Panel

Park Commission Chairman Louis J. Russo said today he would be glad to meet with the mayor and members of the High School Commission to discuss site possibilities for a proposed new 1,250-student high school.

At the same time, Russo vigorously reasserted the Park Commission's position against taking property from Springside Park.

In an 89-page report submitted to Mayor Dillon last week, the High School Commission recommended that the new school be built on a 36-acre tract in Springside Park, just east of North Junior High.

Special Meeting

Russo made his comments at a special luncheon meeting at the Brass Rail Restaurant, where commission members met with F. Elwood Allen, the park consultant who in 1945 drew up a citywide park plan for Pittsfield and in 1957 drew up a $380,000 plan for the development of Springside Park.

Russo said today he is "quite concerned about the (proposed) 36-acre grab" in the middle of the 135-acre park.

Park Supt. Vincent J. Hebert said that the Park Commission and other Park Department personnel could not in good conscience approve of a high school in Springside Park. "We are the trustees and conservators of public lands," he said.

Park Split

Allen said the proposed site is in the middle of a proposed nine-hole, par-3 golf course. The site, adjacent to the North Junior High property, would split Springside Park into two unattached areas.

"It would be a tragedy to destroy a beautiful park," Allen said.

Park Department officials agree that little of Allen's 10-year plan for the park has been completed. "If Springside Park was developed according to plan," Allen said, "they wouldn't dare suggest putting the school there."

Allen was critical of the city's reluctance to appropriate funds for the improvement of park facilities. He said the proposed golf course at Springside would "more than pay for itself."

Hebert and Allen said that, if the City Council follows through with the ideas of purchasing several acres to the northeast of the park, now owned by Eagle Realty Trust, the golf course could be a regulation 18 holes.

In its report, the commission recommended the Springside site because the members believed it to be an accessible, economical and desirable location.

Whose Responsibility?

Football and Tennis Needs Recognized but That's All

The needs for lines on the tennis courts at Crosby Junior High and for reconditioning the football practice field behind Pittsfield High are recognized by the School Committee and other city officials. However, so far, no one has volunteered to do the jobs.

School Committeeman Frank M. Pupo last night expressed dismay that the four tennis courts at Crosby have not yet been lined. He said children are using the courts to rally, but cannot play actual games of tennis.

Edward S. Harubin, chairman of the athletics subcommittee, said he would take the responsibility of seeing that the job gets done.

Up To Parks Dept?

Chairman John J. Quinn said the School Department has the equipment to do the marking. However, he added that in the summer the courts are the responsibility of the Park Department, and perhaps that department should take care of the marking.

Other members said that the tennis courts were part of the general contract for the building of Crosby. They contended that since the buildings and grounds have not yet been accepted, the responsibility for putting down the lines rests with the Crosby Building Commission.

Vincent J. Hebert, superintendent of parks and recreation, said today he would cooperate in any way possible to help get the courts lined. However, he emphasized that it is not the Park Department's responsibility to line the courts.

He said the Park Department has a standing agreement to use school facilities in the summer time.

Whose Job?

The reconditioning of the football practice field is considered important by coach Joseph Gleason, but again, there is a question as to who should do the job.

Late last fall, Gleason informed School Supt. Reynolds that the job was necessary, and Reynolds reportedly turned the request over to Building Supt. Donald E. Farr, who is responsible for the maintenance of school buildings and grounds.

Hebert said the Parks Department provides some maintenance for the field as a service to the School Department, but added that his department is not prepared or obligated to make a major capital outlay for improving the field.

Gleason said today the practice field was first used in 1955. From that time, the field has not been fertilized or improved in any way, he said.

Dust Problem Serious

The field takes a beating from year to year, Gleason said and now during practice sessions it yields clouds of dust which are considered unhealthy for the athletes.

The dust also is bad for equipment and could cost considerable money in the long run, Gleason said.

The coach added that the team might have to practice on another site for a year to allow the field to be thoroughly reconditioned.

Dillon Seeks Discussion On Park Land for School

Mayor Dillon today called for a "round-table discussion" of city officials to straighten out a dispute about whether park land should be used as a site for a new high school.

He said he would sit down "fairly soon" with the High School Commission and the Park Commission to work out the dispute.

The High School Commission, in a report issued last week, recommended that a new 1,250-student high school be built on a 36-acre tract in Springside Park, just east of North Junior High.

Park Commission officials immediately expressed alarm at the suggestion and said they were opposed to the city taking any park land for school use.

Dillon said today he would not back either commission. "I'm not for it (taking park land) or against it," he said.

"I respect the thinking of the Park Commission," he continued, "but also land is needed to build a high school."

He said: "We ought to work together. The best way is to have a round-table discussion."

Because some members of the High School Commission are out of town, such a meeting will not be held this week, Dillon indicated.

However, he repeated that he would send to the August Council meeting his personal recommendation for solving the city's school needs.

He is on record as being dismayed at the high cost of the solution proposed by the High School Commission. The commission has estimated its proposed new school would cost $3.25 million.

Institute Set in June For Playground Leaders

The second All-Commonwealth Playground Leaders' Training Institute will be held at the University of Massachusetts starting June 20.

John C. Marchesi and Miss Carolyn Zoia, recreation leaders for the Department of Parks and Recreation here, are members of the institute committee.

Among those lecturing during the three-day program will be Parks Supt. Vincent J. Hebert. He will lead the session on "The Job of the Playground Director."

Three Sponsors

The primary aim of the institute is to train the first-year playground leader in the skills, techniques and fundamentals of playground programing. There will be advanced sessions for the more experienced leaders.

The program is sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Service, the Massachusetts Recreation Society and the Department of Recreation at the U. of M.

The number of leaders that cities and towns may send is not restricted. Additional information may be obtained from Mr. Marchesi or Miss Zoia or by writing the Department of Recreation at the university.

The cost of the institute is $15.25 per person, including meals on campus, supervised housing in university dormitories and registration fees. It does not include transportation and meals en route.

Last year's session, the first to be held in the state, was attended by more than 200. More than 600 future playground leaders, supervisors and directors are expected to take part this year.

'Grand Scale' Development Of Springside Park Urged

Development of Springside Park should be done on a "grand scale" so that the long-range program could be completed in the next two years, Parks Supt. Vincent J. Hebert said today in his annual report.

The 17-page report, complete with graphs, was submitted this morning to Mayor Raymond L. Haughey.

Supt. Hebert recommended the "re-evaluation of piece-meal type construction of Springside Park now being followed as compared to a concentrated grand-scale approach to the construction of the entire park, as outlined in the $1,500 long-range development plan already in existence, in order that it might become a reality in the next two years."

Will 'Drive By'

Mr. Hebert noted that Pittsfield will "continue to drive by" the park until traffic is allowed through on well-constructed parkways and until funds are made available for construction of either a nine-hole golf course or a children's zoo.

The golf course and zoo were two of the many projects designed for the 135-acre park in a master plan prepared in 1957 by F. Elwood Allen, a recreation planner.

"Until this park is opened for use," Mr. Hebert said, "Pittsfield residents and their children and their children's children will continue to hear of Springside Park as a place where firemen go to fight grass fires instead of a place of beauty, a place of recreation and a place to enjoy planned recreational activities on well-maintained and supervised recreation areas."

Victory Hill Eyed

Mr. Hebert noted the fact that the Park Commission already has expressed interest in the possible acquisition of the Victory Hill property to enlarge Springside Park.

Mr. Hebert recommended also the acquisition of any other property adjoining the park to insure more space for further development.

In other sections of the annual report, the superintendent also noted:

Extensive repairs were made during 1962 to the wading pool at Springside. Williams playground opened for its first year. A chain-link fence was erected around Dewey Avenue playground and 500 yards of loam was used to surface it.

Revenue for the year showed a decrease of about $200 from 1961, most of it attributed to the decrease in Sunday attendance at the beaches because of poor weather.

Attendance Up

Attendance in general showed a marked increase over the previous year, with Wahconah Park activities attracting 67,000.

During the year, Mr. Hebert said, an attempt was made by the Park Commission to publicize the need for a new park and athletic field in the southeast section of the city. Mr. Hebert prepared a report on the growth of the area and the present and future needs there.

Mr. Hebert thanked his "dedicated staff" and ambitious volunteers, especially the winter sports committee.

Reynolds Tees Off On Golfers Using School Grounds

School Supt. James P. Reynolds today teed off on golfers using school grounds as driving ranges and chipping greens.

The superintendent warned that it is absolutely forbidden to practice golf on school grounds because of the danger to children. Reynolds also mentioned that several school windows have been broken from stray golf shots in the past.

Reynolds, an ardent golfer himself, said that teen-agers and some adults have been noticed practicing at North and South Junior High Schools. He said that children were playing baseball and riding bikes in the area at the same time; and that is why golf practice there is dangerous.

Playgrounds' 21-Nation Parade Is Watched by Crowd of 15,000

By FRANCIS D. MONTEROSSO

Twenty-one nations became united in a spirit of friendliness last night as 15,000 parents and children lined the parade route to witness "A Parade of Nations," theme for the 18th annual Mardi Gras Parade, sponsored by the city's Department of Parks and Recreation.

The gala event was led by the 1963 king and queen from West Memorial Playground, Bonnie McCabe and Shaun Keegan. The young monarchs rode in an open convertible as did the 20 other royal couples.

Each playground prepared a float through the efforts of the children, parents and park directors which depicted the life, customs, dress and famous landmarks of foreign lands.

Seven Categories

Prizes were awarded in seven categories with Allen Heights taking the nod for the first-place position in the "most descriptive" category. Root was second with Greece as the country illustrated. Third place position went to Highland for their float showing the life of Arabia.

Osceola's float on Holland was judged "most beautiful," while Dewey playground came in second and Wilson third.

"Most imaginative" float was made by Springside with Ireland as the theme; the youngsters made a shamrock five feet in circumference and placed a rainbow at the end.

Second place went to Clapp with Spain as the nation portrayed. Deming came in third.

West Memorial concept of Mexico gave it the first place title in the "most spectacular" division. Coolidge came in second while the Common took third.

Williams Scores

Williams Playground was thought to have the most artistic float in the lineup. The youngsters from the playground did the life and customs of China. Allendale depicted the life of Japan and came in second, while Abby Lodge was third, with Italy. The Congo, constructed by the youngsters of Crane Playground, was judged "most humorous," with Lebanon in the second place spot. Waconah placed third.

The spirit of the youngsters of Lakewood Playground was put to a sharp test last night when the playground's truck was unable to make it to the area. The children, however, were determined to enter the parade, and enter they did. They carried a 30-foot Viking ship the whole parade route and fell exhausted at Wahconah Park.

This determination helped them win the "Most unusual float" in the parade. Second place went to Pontoosuc and third to Pitt Playground.

Parade marshal was Gustaf Pilblad, who was assisted by Samuel Quadrozzi, Louis Russo, Fuad Nassif, Joseph Harrison, Marcel Peltier, Joseph Pelletier, Robert Rivard, Thomas Maloney and Leo Nesbit.

1,500 at Park

Approximately 1,500 spectators and 4 of the parade's 7 drum corps attended the drum corps exhibition at Wahconah Park immediately following the parade. The exhibition was for the benefit of the 1964 Citizens Scholarship Foundation. Drum corps participating in the show were the Monarches, Cavaliers, Imperials and Sky Hawks.

Judges for the floats were Dr. Russell Knowles, Mrs. Silvo Conte, Mrs. Russell Bousquet, Henry Hovland, and J. Walter Kearsey.

John L. Rice, Eagle staff artist, donated the animal heads worn by the marshals. National Guardmen provided radio communication throughout the parade.

Numerals and prize ribbons will be awarded the parade winners at Awards Day, Aug. 22, the last day of the playground season.

The Candy Apple

Before the Mardi gras parade got going Tuesday evening, Debby Casey, 8, of Oak Street, Dalton, ate a candy apple. It was a sticky operation, as these pictures suggest, but Debby proved equal to the toothsome trial. She was one of 15,000 persons who came to the annual Pittsfield Park Department spectacular. By the time the big parade began, her candy apple was only a tasty memory.

BOYS ON ROOF of A&P supermarket had a good vantage point to see the Mardi gras parade, but two of them fell while getting down. One was slightly injured.

DANCING GIRLS in harem scene on float entered by Lebanon Playground appear to please young sheik at lower right. The Mardi gras theme this year was "A Parade of Nations," with each playground's float depicting a country.

No Changes in LL Rules, President McDonald Says

There'll be no changes in Little League rules during the 1963 season. This was reported today by Francis McDonald, Pittsfield city president, who returned Frday after attending the annual national convention in New York City. He was accompanied by John Marchesi, city secretary.

McDonald disclosed that three proposals for major changes were rejected unanimously.

These would have increased the number of 12-year-olds on 15-player rosters from 7 to 9 or 10; would have lengthened the distance between the bases from 60 to 75 feet and between the mound and home plate from 46 to 53 feet; and would have changed the strike zone. Little League will not use the professional baseball area from the knees to the top of the shoulders. The zone will continue to be from the top of the knees to the arm pits.

Ted Williams, an adviser to Little League, attended one of the panel discussions. Jim Farley gave the keynote address. Francis Cardinal Spellman pronounced invocation. Atty. William Shea, after whom New York City's new municipal stadium has been named, was honorary chairman.

A Little Dirt

To the Editor of THE EAGLE:—

The East Little League opens another season at Allendale this year. As in other years we are faced with a holey and waterlogged field. I feel at this time a poem might be appropriate:

Oh, for the want of a little dirt,
Some Little Leaguer might get hurt.
Dirt is expensive people will say
But they had dirt there and they took it away.

There goes your son rounding second base
But he trips in a hole and falls on his face.
The ump calls "Out" and the parents sneer,
It isn't Johnny's fault the hole is here.

No, it's your fault the hole is there,
It's your city that should make the repair,
Yes, for the want of a little dirt
Your Little Leaguer might get hurt.

Outhit 12 to 4, Dunkin' Donuts capitalized on long-ball hitting yesterday to edge Pittsfield Electric Shop 4-3 in the East League. Jim DiNicola was two for four with a double and Jim Wilk connected for a homer.

For the losers, Ryan was four for four, Lusignan went three for three, and Bing Miller and Frank Wilk had two singles apiece.

In the West League, Tommy Williams' three-run homer in the sixth inning gave Gull Oil & Coal a 10-7 victory over the Eagles. Williams, who struck out eight, was the winning pitcher.

East Minor LL Slates Workout

Candidates for the East Minor Little Baseball League will meet Monday night at 6 at Allendale Field. In the event of rain, the drill will be held at the same time and place Tuesday evening.

Aspirants should be from 8 to 11 years of age. All those who failed to make the East League automatically will qualify for placement.

ELL Minor Loop Slates Practice Tomorrow Night

The next practice for the East Little Baseball League minor league has been slated for tomorrow night at 6 on the field in the rear of Allendale School. In the event of rain the drill will take place Saturday afternoon at 2 at the same site.

About 36 boys have come out for the league so far and more are expected. East League officials feel that enough boys are interested to form a four-team circuit.

Little League Candy Sale Set For Tomorrow

The Pittsfield Little Baseball League's annual candy sale will be tomorrow from 11 a.m., to 3 p.m. During those hours, uniformed players will conduct a house-to-house canvass.

Francis McDonald, president of the league, said this is the organization's fund-raising project. Approximately $1400 was realized last year.

"Pittsfield people alway have been generous," he said last night. "We hope they will buy candy in as great volume as they have for the last several years."

Little League Program Opens Here Tomorrow

Pittsfield's Little League will open its 14th consecutive season tomorrow afternoon with four doubleheaders, all starting at 1.

The West League openers will see Goyette's facing Gull Oil and the Eagles opposing the Civitans at Clapp Park. In the South League, City Savings will meet Crescent Creamery and the Elks will play Magner's Drug Store at Deming Field.

North League Games

North League games will pit Pittsfield Co-op Bank against the Fire Department and Zayre's against Colt Insurance at Wahconah Field. And in the East League, Pittsfield Electric Shop will be matched against McDonald's and the Moldmasters will tackle Besse-Clarke at Brown Street Field.

The East League games at Brown Street Field represent a hasty change in scheduling caused by the annual flushing of water mains by the Public Works Department. According to Angelo DiNicola, president of the league, Allendale Field, where the games were originally scheduled, is under four inches of water.

Official opening day ceremonies will take place at Clapp Park at the West League icebreaker. A color guard composed of Boys' Club Cavaliers will raise the flag and Mayor Raymond Haughey will throw out the first ball to Pat Cioffi, vice president of the league. Players, coaches and sponsors will be introduced to the fans at the exercises.

Ciepiela Hurls LL Shutout

Wayne Ciepiela hurled a three-hit sthutout last night as the Co-op Bank team scored a 20-0 win over Zayre's in the North Little League. In other games, Crescent Creamery edged Team 6 in the South League 8-6, and Goyette beat Wohrle's 12-8 in a West League encounter and Dunkin' Donuts came from behind in the East league to down Pittsfield Electric 12-10.

Co-op made 14 hits against Zayre's and took advantage of eight errors to score 20 runs. The winners had two big innings, a seven-run second and a nine-run sixth. It was the sixth straight victory for Co-op, which leads the North League.

In the South League, Crescent took a 6-0 lead through 3½ innings, but Team 6 came back with three in the bottom of the fourth. The victors added two in the top of the sixth for the winning margin, as the losers rallied for three more in the bottom of the sixth.

Goyette pushed across nine runs in the top of the second, enough to defeat Wohrle's in the West League. Larry Allan was batting star for Goyette with a solo homer and a pair of singles. Kevin Higgins had three singles, and winning pitcher Dennis Harrison and Matt Bushey added two safeties apiece. Kevin Yon was losing pitcher.

Pittsfield Electric scored 10 runs in its first two at bats, but Dunkin' Donuts overcame a 10-1 deficit and won the East League encounter 12-10. Jim DiNicola pitched scoreless relief over the last four innings to receive credit for the win.

The winners combined 10 hits and 11 walks to tally four in the second, four in third, two in the fourth and an insurance run in the fifth. Bill and Jim DiNicola and Bob Lucaroni had two safeties each for Dunkin' Donuts. Pittsfield Electric starter Dave Lusignan belted a three-run homer, one of only five hits made by the team.

Inn Team Tops Building Supply To Clinch Title

Meadowview Inn became the first champion of the East Minor Baseball League by beating Levernock Bros. 18-4 in one of three weekend games. Runner-up John's Building Supply was upset by the Levernock team 9-4, and the Builders were victorious, 7-1, over the Merchants in the final game of the season.

Buster Koziara and Dave MacDonald combined to pitch a no-hitter for John's against the Merchants. The contest was halted by darkness after four innings. Two walks and an error spoiled the perfect game.

Bases-loaded singles by Wade Tate Jr. and Mark Hanford were the big blows in Levernoch's triumph over the Building boys. The loss killed any chances John's had of tying Meadowview and forcing a play-off.

East League May Have Minor Loop

The organization of a minor league for the East Little Baseball League will be discussed tomorrow night at a meeting at the GEAA on Crane Avenue. The meeting will start at 7:30.

East League officials will assist in the organization of the minor circuit if enough people express an interest in running the league. Parents of East League candidates, who did not make a team this year and anyone desiring to help in the minor loop venture, should attend tomorrow's meeting. The minor league would act as a farm system for the East circuit.

The Park Department has agreed to formation of the new loop. East League officials will assist in setting up the machinery and will furnish some used equipment for the minor organization.

Meadowview Wins Over Oilers 5-4

Meadowview Inn defeated Levernoch Bros. 5-4 in an East Minor League game last night at Plastics Avenue Field. Baserunning interference with the bases loaded in the sixth ended a Levernoch uprising.

The Oilers already had scored one run in the sixth. With the bases crammed and two outs, Charlie Smith hit the ball on the ground between first and second. Wade Tate Jr., who had reached on a single, bumped into second baseman Al Reis, and was called out for interference.

Each team had four hits. Jim Simon was the winning pitcher. Dave DePaoli was charged with the loss.

The line score:

Meadowview Inn	013 10x—5	4	5
Levernoch Bros.	101 011—4	4	3

Meadowview: Sacchetti, Simon and Emerson. Levernoch: Tate, DePaoli and Smith, Tate.

L.L. Supply Wins 8-5

John's Building Supply exploded for eight runs in the fifth inning to defeat the Merchants 8-5 in an East Minor Baseball League game last night at Plastics Avenue Field. Trailing 5-0 in the fifth, John's Supply put together five hits, four walks and a hit batsman for the eight-run cluster.

Bill Burke, Dave MacDonald and John Stow were big hitters for the winners. Burke hammered a bases-loaded triple and a single. MacDonald and Stow each had run-scoring doubles. Pitcher Steve Frydel of the Merchants had two hits and two RBIs.

McDonald's Triumphs 4-3 Over Besse-Clarke in LL

McDonald's came from behind to defeat Besse-Clarke 4-3 in an East Little League game last night, while the Co-op Bank, M & B Electric and MAC Finance scored lopsided wins in their contests.

In the North League, Wayne Ciepiela held Colt Insurance to two hits as Co-op won 13-6. M & B scored a West League victory over Gull Oil & Coal 26-9. MAC beat Team No. 6 23-8 in a South League game.

Besse-Clarke took a 3-0 lead in the second inning, but McDonald's rallied for four in the fourth to tie at 5-5. The winners rallied for four in the bottom of the fourth to regain the lead as Ciepiela homered and Bob Kerwood followed with a two-run blast. Co-op added four in the fifth to put the game out of reach.

Winning pitcher Jim Sarmuk held Gull scoreless through the first three innings as M & B tallied 19 times to ensure victory. Gull rallied for seven in the fourth but the winners got them back in the sixth. The losers closed with two in the bottom of the sixth.

Joe Meloveck paced the winners with five hits, including a grand-slam homer and a pair of doubles. Andy Coty had three singles for the losers. Ralph O'Connell suffered the defeat.

Team 6 scored five runs in the bottom of the second to erase a 4-0 MAC lead, but the victors pushed across seven in the third to regain the advantage. Winning pitcher Jim Stracuzzi gave up 8 runs and 11 hits, but he had five hits himself, including a three-run homer and a double.

McDonald's Triumphs 4-3 Over Besse-Clarke in LL

McDonald's came from behind to defeat Besse-Clarke 4-3 in an East Little League game last night, while the Co-op Bank, M & B Electric and MAC Finance scored lopsided wins in their contests.

In the North League, Wayne Ciepiela held Colt Insurance to two hits as Co-op won 13-6. M & B scored a West League victory over Gull Oil & Coal 26-9. MAC beat Team No. 6 23-8 in a South League game.

Besse-Clarke took a 3-0 lead in the second inning, but McDonald's rallied for four in the fourth to win 4-3.

Co-op scored two in the first and three in the second, but Colt came back with one in the third and four in the fourth to tie at 5-5. The winners rallied for four in the bottom of the fourth to regain the lead as Ciepiela homered and Bob Kerwood followed with a two-run blast. Co-op added four in the fifth to put the game out of reach.

Winning pitcher Jim Sarmuk held Gull scoreless through the first three innings as M & B tallied 19 times to ensure victory. Gull rallied for seven in the fourth but the winners got them back in the sixth. The losers closed with two in the bottom of the sixth.

Joe Meloveck paced the winners with five hits, including a grand-slam homer and a pair of doubles. Andy Coty had three singles for the losers. Ralph O'Connell suffered the defeat.

Team 6 scored five runs in the bottom of the second to erase a 4-0 MAC lead, but the victors pushed across seven in the third to regain the advantage. Winning pitcher Jim Stracuzzi gave up 8 runs and 11 hits, but he had five hits himself, including a three-run homer and a double.

Schmoyer, McAvoy in Hitless LL Wins

Steve Schmoyer of Western Mass. Supply and Mike McAvoy of Wohrle's Meat threw no-hitters last night in Little League games to beat Pittsfield Electric 10-1 and Goyette Bros. 11-0, respectively.

Schmoyer walked two and lost his shutout when Jim Sincere, who had walked, scored on a wild pitch. The winner struck out 13 and aided his own cause with a two-run double. Andy Sincere and Gary Gentile also hit doubles for the East League Supply team.

In the West League, Wohrle's scored nine runs in the first two innings and coasted on McAvoy's hitless performance. He walked eight, but good defense and tight clutch pitching preserved the shutout.

McAvoy also knocked in three runs with a pair of singles. Billy Michaels had 3 of Wohrle's 10 hits. Matt Bushey was the losing pitcher.

Simonelli Wins Two-Hitter As LL Features Pitching

Sharp pitching highlighted three of four Little League games played last evening. Tony Simonelli won his third game of the season for Civitan with a two-hitter, beating the Eagles 4-1.

Kevin O'Donnell hurled a three-hitter as City Savings scored a 9-1 victory over MAC Finance, and Mark Reynolds limited Nichols to three hits as the Colts registered a 16-2 win. In the fourth game of the eveing, Moldmaster defeated Pittsfield Electric 10-6.

In the West League game, Simonelli had a no-hitter until Keith Pemrick belted a home run with one away in the sixth. Gary Corseri followed with a single, the Eagles' only other hit.

Gull, Royal And Team 6 Win in LL

Gull Oil & Coal scored five runs in the seventh inning yesterday to break a tie and beat Goyette 15-10 in a West Little League game at Clapp Park. In other games, Team 6 edged Crescent Creamery 6-5 in the South League, and Royal defeated Zayre's 6-4 in the North League.

Gull had opened with a four-run first, but Goyette took the lead with a five-run third. Gull went ahead with two in the fourth and added two in the fifth and two in the sixth. Goyette countered with two in the fifth and tied with three in the bottom of the sixth.

Winning pitcher Ralph O'Connell led the Gull offense with a triple, double and single. Mark West contributed a double and two singles. For Goyette, Larry Allen and Kevin Higgins had two singles apiece. Dennis Harrison suffered the loss.

Larry Hulland starred on the mound and at bat for Team 6. He struck out nine in picking up the victory and went two for three at the plate against Crescent Creamery.

Royal had just one hit, but the team capitalized on five walks and two errors in defeating Zayre's 6-4. The losers held a 4-3 lead going into the last of the fifth, when Royal rallied for three and the victory.

Civitan Tops LL Opponent

Slam by Simonelli Paces 15-12 Win Against Gull Oil

Civitan scored 14 times in the last three innings for a 15-12 Gull Oil in a West Little League baseball game at Clapp Park.

The contest, which lasted two and one-half hours, saw a total of 20 hits and 26 walks. Gull had 12 of the 20 safeties, but Civitan capitalized on wildness to rally for the win.

Civitan led 1-0 after the first inning, but Gull went ahead 7-1 through the third. The eventual victors pushed across eight runs in the fourth and held a 9-8 lead going into the fifth. Civitan tallied three in the fifth and three in the sixth, then stood off a four-run comeback by Gull in the last inning.

Tony Simonelli, out since July 2 with a fractured wrist, returned to action and blasted a grand-slam homer in Civitan's big fourth inning. It was his eighth circuit clout of the year. Brian Pinsonneault and John Hawkins had three hits apiece for Civitan, while Andy Coty and Billy Bandurski had two each for Gull.

Billy Allen was winning pitcher, and Bandurski lost.

JUST AHEAD of the throw to first base is Worcester East Side's Jake Kojolo in the fourth inning of last night's Massachusetts Legion play-off game at Wahconah Park. Kojolo was safe on a fielder's choice as his ground ball to shortstop forced Steve Blair at second base. The Pittsfield first baseman is Fran Reardon. Just after the photo was snapped, Kojolo stepped on Reardon's foot, tripped and took a hard fall. Reardon also was in pain for a minute, but both players continued.

OUT AT HOME in the seventh inning of last night's action is Pittsfield's Pete Ellsworth, who was thrown out by East Side right-fielder Pat Bourque on a single by DeSantis. Ellsworth came from second base. Putting on the tag is catcher Buzz Tivnan and calling the play is umpire Jim Sullivan. Ellsworth got on base with walk.

Each member of the team and Coaches William E. Smith and Charles Salley Sr., received key chains with Little League emblems from the bank and trophies from the Pittsfield Little League.

The David Nicholson memorial trophy, symbolic of city supremacy, was presented to the bank by John C. Marchesi, director of athletics for the Parks and Recreation Department. Marchesi noted that City Savings Bank, the only team with two city titles, needs only one more leg on the trophy to retire it. City Savings Bank won the city play-offs in 1961 and 1963. It has been South League champion for three consecutive seasons — 1961 through 1963.

Kenneth W. Seyffer, assistant treasurer of the bank, was toastmaster. Speakers were Luke S. Hayden, president of the bank, Marchesi, the coaches, and Roger O'Gara, sports editor of The Eagle.

CSB Cops City LL Title By Beating Co-op 12-0

City Savings Bank of the South League last night blanked Pittsfield Co-op of the North League 12-0 at Deming Field to capture the city Little League championship.

Hurls One-Hitter

Tommy Redlin hurled a masterful one-hitter, striking out eight. City Savings took a 1-0 lead in the top of the first, but Co-op starter and loser Bob Kerwood held the winners scoreless through the second and third.

The CSB offense came to life in the top of the fourth, scoring two runs. The game became a runaway when CSB added three in the fifth and six in the sixth.

Batting star for the winners was Chuck Salley, who connected for a pair of homers and drove in four runs. Gary Grogen had a homer and a double good for two runs batted in. Kevin O'Donnell contributed two hits in four trips, and Redlin went for five.

Erased on Bases

Kerwood managed the only hit off Redlin, but he was erased in a double play after singling.

CSB and Co-op had qualified for the championship contest with semifinal victories Wednesday. The South League leaders had beaten the Eagles of the West League 9-7, and the North League representatives had overcome Dunkin' Donuts of the East League 10-4.

Stratford, Conn., Reaches LL World Series Semifinals

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (UPI) — Granada Hills, Calif., meets Izmir, Turkey, and Duluth, Minn., plays Stratford, Conn., today in the semifinals of the annual Little League World Series.

Granada Hills was a 3-2 winner over Houston, Tex., in the series' opener Tuesday. Izmir, which drew an opening-round bye when a Japanese team was unable to make the trip here, will be making its first appearance in the tournament.

Stratford and Duluth gained victories Wednesday to advance into the semifinals.

The Connecticut team scored three runs in the fourth inning and added two more in the fifth when Ron DeFeo hit a homer with a mate aboard for a 5-1 triumph over Valleyfield, Quebec.

Duluth rallied for three runs in the third to break a 2-2 tie to defeat Monterrey, Mexico, 5-2. Two walks, singles by pitcher Steve Trachsel and John House and a Monterrey error accounted for the runs.

John Slosar limited Valleyfield to two hits — a single by Mike Poloiquin and a double by Bob Amos — in racking up the Stratford triumph.

Trachsel went the distance in the Duluth triumph. He fanned five and spaced seven hits. Jose Fonseca, Monterrey first baseman, led off the second inning with a homer which tied the game, 1-1.

Girls Club To Mark 50th Birthday With Celebration This Afternoon

5/8/63

The Girls Club will observe its 50th anniversary at a birthday party at 4:30 this afternoon at the club.

Because there were no facilities for health, recreation and craft work in the schools or in the community, the club was formed as the "Young Women's Home Association" by a group of prominent citizens who felt the need for this movement for the benefit of girls and women. The first class of 37 girls met in the Women's Club rooms over the Pittsfield Coal Gas Co. in 1911. Two years later the Girls' League Association was formed and Miss Gertrude A. J. Peaslee was employed as general director. Under her guidance, the program grew and expanded.

Miss Peaslee became interested in the Camp Fire Girls and started the organization here. For many years it was an integral part of the Girls' League program and was housed there until 1950.

Silent Benefactor

In 1924, at the time of Arthur N. Cooley's death, it was revealed that he was the silent benefactor of these women's and girls' organizations. Mr. Cooley, a bachelor, left $100,000 to be used for new buildings. The depression came before the plans could be fully carried out. Only the gymnasium became a reality. The Home Association bought the Jones house on the corner of East and Willis streets for the Girls' League use, plus all the East Street frontage up to First Street.

About 1929 another need in the girls' recreational field was brought into focus, the lack of camping facilities. I. P. Thompson led a capital drive for funds and property. Thus Camp Witawentin came into being, as the first overnight camp for girls in this area. Soon a day camp was established, which in 1950 was named after William C. Stevenson, the first president of the Girls' League Association.

In 1945 the Girls' League became a charter member of the Girls Clubs of America and in 1951 changed its name to Pittsfield Girls' Club.

Because the Girls Club's 101-year antiquated plant was completely inadequate and even unsafe with its old wiring, bad plumbing, cracked ceilings and many heating problems, it was decided to have a capital fund-raising drive for a new building for all Pittsfield girls.

$469,000 Raised in 1955

Preliminary work for this campaign was done in 1954 and the drive for about $350,000, which went over the top for a total of about $469,000 was completed in 1955. In 1956 the new building was started and in 1957, because of public interest in a swimming pool, an additional $105,000 was raised to complete a pool along with the rest of the new building.

By the end of 1957 the project was at last complete, pool included, and the formal opening with the laying of the corner stone was held Jan. 19, 1958. Mrs. David K. Spofford then was club president.

The present club building, now in its sixth year of operation, has an annual membership of about 2,000 girls plus about 100 preschool children aged 3 and 4, and 300 women in swimming clases. Participation in various activities has steadily increased, and, in 1961, Camp Stevenson was renovated and enlarged to accommodate 600 girls each summer.

Mrs. Frederick H. Hodgdon Jr. is present president of the club, and Miss Martha May Newsom, executive director.

Past Presidents

Past presidents of the club are Mr. Stevenson, 1913 to 1924; Mr. Thompson, 1924 to 1932; Charles H. Kline, 1932 to 1938; Miss Mary G. Stevenson, 1938 to 1944; Mrs. Severence Sawyer, 1944 to 1947; Mrs. Orin P. McCarty, 1947 to 1952; Mrs. Spofford, 1952 to 1958; Mrs. John Burbank, 1960 to 1962; and Mrs. Hodgdon, 1962.

Executive directors have been Miss Peaslee, 1913 to 1936; Miss Sophie Fishback, 1936 to 1941; Miss Edith DeBonis, 1942 to 1943; Mrs. McCarty, 1944 to 1945; Miss Betty Kingsley, 1946 to 1949; Miss Margaret M. Noble, 1950 to 1956; Miss Katherine Shankland, 1957 to 1958; and Miss Newsom, 1958.

Community College Site Impresses Visiting Expert

Berkshire Community College's prospective new site on West Street is ideal, according to a man who should know.

He is Prof. B. Lamar Johnson of the University of California, who is taking a countrywide tour of community colleges. He was inspecting BCC today.

"I visited the new site," Dr. Johnson said, "and I think it is one of the most beautiful junior college sites I've seen anywhere ir the country."

Directs Training

Dr. Johnson has seen a lot of junior college sites. At the University of California at Los Angeles he is a professor of higher education, and his specific assignment is as director of a program to prepare junior college administrators. The program is partially financed, to the tune of $300,000, by the Kellogg Foundation.

"Southern California," says Dr. Johnson, "is the world hotbed of the junior college."

There are some 70 public junior colleges in the state, and they're building more. The current junior college full-time enrollment in California is about 125,000, and by the next decade this figure is expected to be doubled. Three-fourths of the students in their freshman and sophomore years in California, Dr. Johnson said, are in junior colleges.

30 So Far

Dr. and Mrs. Johnson left California seven weeks ago on a 10-week tour of junior colleges throughout the country. So far, they've visited about 30, in 12 states.

He was particularly interested in Massachusetts because he wanted to find out how the program got started here. The Johnsons drove here from Boston this morning.

"Berkshire Community College," he said, "was the first of the state community colleges, and is also recognized as a very strong college.

"I am also particularly impressed with the support the community has given the college. I get the impression that this is a community college in a very real sense."

Council Approves Lights For Lakewood Playground

A $3,000 appropriation for lights at Lakewood playground softball field was included in the $250,704 capital outlay budget approved by the City Council at a special meeting last night.

About 35 softball enthusiasts packed the small city auditor's office in City Hall to hear Mayor Haughey say that there is "tremendous interest in night softball in this city."

The mayor's appearance did much to rally forces around the lights though several councilmen believed that a complete fence around Allen Heights playground should have a higher priority.

The Park and Recreations Department had asked for $7,000 to construct a 2,150-feet fence at the playground. But the Capital Outlay Committee only authorized $1,000 for an estimated 300 feet.

Brown's Motion Beaten

A motion made by Councilman-at-Large Roy F. Brown to kill the $3,000 light request was defeated. Only Councilman Joseph S. Scelsi and Daniel Casey supported the Brown move. Brown and the others thought the fence was more important.

Ward 7 Councilman Thomas W. Coughlin said that assistance in making the Allen playground "safe for children was more important."

Ward 3 Councilman Remo DelGallo rebutted this by saying that lights at the softball field would help combat juvenile delinquency by keeping some kids off the streets.

Mayor Haughey felt that a fence around Allen Heights playground was not so much for children's safety as it was "for the protection of abutting property owners." He said that children are apparently cutting across private land to get to the playground.

The mayor did say though that "later on we can come up with additional funds for the fence."

Ward 1 Councilman Ernest G. St. Peter, also fighting for the fence, said he would have a petition on the mayor's desk "tomorrow."

There were several other attempts to delete items from the budget but they failed because of lack of support.

Other Items

So the 1963 capital outlay budget now calls for items including reconstruction of Mohegan Street, $33,000; an asphalt basketball court at Lakewood playground, $3,594; a backstop for the softball field at Deming Park, $1,500; new boiler for Redfield School $27,780; and equipment replacement in the Public Works Department, $59,900.

The PWD also received money for sidewalks on Mill, South and West Streets, plus Parkside Avenue. Funds were made available for water extensions in Berkshire Avenue, Gilbert Street, Holmes Road at the new bridge, Pecks Road, Reed Avenue, and West Union Street.

In other business last night, the Council approved of an amendment to the original Fire Department Building Commission charge which makes the commission responsible for constructing a $160,000 fire station on the southwest corner of Holmes Road and Elm Street.

The Council also approved settlement of a $150 claim from the estate of Natale Valente for land damage resulting from the sewer improvement program.

LaGrotteria Is First To Enter Mayoral Race

7/29/63

Declaring that he intends "to fight all the way" on the issues of the campaign and his personal qualifications for the position, Atty. Francisco R. LaGrotteria today became the first candidate for mayor of Pittsfield in the fall sweepstakes.

The 38-year-old candidate stated that his basic platform is to "improve the economic picture in the city of Pittsfield for the good of all of us; children, teen-agers, adults and elderly."

He promises a campaign which is "straightforward, honest and with no punches pulled. This applies to not only providing adequate educational facilities for our children, but also to the domestic problems that confront us with urban renewal, and a determined program to encourage new and diversified industry."

'Independent' Candidate

LaGrotteria has decided to be an independent candidate—independent of both "the good guys and bad guys." He said he had received encouragement and after deciding to run for mayor then "discovered that our city housed a few well-intentioned people who approached me — not to support me (for mayor,) but to encourage me with the 'alternative' of helping me run for another citywide office!

"Because my name happens to be LaGrotteria, an Italian name, these 'political professionals' had determined in their own mind that they would use their means to support another candidate, whom some felt was less qualified than myself, but had a better chance of 'getting Haughey out of office.' Frankly, I don't know which is worse — the oligrachy that seems to be building around us, or the passiveness of our present administration.

"I am grateful to the many people who have offered to support my candidacy, not with contributions of thousands of dollars, but with whatever they could afford: and to say to those other few well - intentioned but misguided people who wanted me to run for an at-large City Council seat that their notion of the importance of national origin in this city is an insult to the intelligence of the voters.

Hits 'Invisible Government'

"I ask the voters at this time to give consideration to the fresh and determined approach I can bring to the City of Pittsfield, unsoiled by past political obligations, and untouched by invisible government, whether by the "good guys or the bad guys."

"There won't be big banners flying or large political advertising signs, because my campaign will be financed by dollar bills. When the day for your vote comes, I only ask that you vote for the person you believe will bring to office the unpolitical honesty and determination which is so necessary for the job of mayor.

"As a lawyer, as a businessman, as a veteran, as a father faced with the problems of raising a family, as a former teacher and factory worker, as a white collar worker and gray collar worker, I believe I can bring to the mayor's office the formal and necessary informal education and experience that is so vital."

Sought School Board Seat

LaGrotteria was an unsuccessful Ward 1 School Committee candidate last August when a joint School Committee and City Council convention elected Thomas F. Kelly to fill the vacancy created when Mary Kirkpatrick moved from Pittsfield. This occurred during the controversial school superintendent race.

"In making an announcement at this time," LaGrotteria said, "I promise that every issue that arises during the campaign will be treated by me with the same spirit and determination exhibited during the superintendency issue last year. . ."

Librizzi

Francisco LaGrotteria

LaGrotteria, who lives at 1980 East St., graduated from Pittsfield High School, Suffolk University (with honors) and Suffolk University Law School in 1955. He was one of the five top students out of a 200-student class during his undergraduate years.

He served for three years with the Marines in the Pacific during World War II, attaining the rank of sergeant.

Taught at North Junior High

He taught English and history as a substitute teacher at North Junior High School in 1958, and also taught business law at Berkshire Business College.

LaGrotteria and his wife, the former Mary Palumbo Cross of North Adams, have three children.

He opened his law practice here in 1956. He is secretary of the Berkshire Bar Association and a member of the Massachuetts Bar Association. He is licensed to practice in state and U.S. District courts, plus the U.S. Supreme Court.

Councilmen Take Papers

Political activity in Wards 2, 3, and 4 started today when Councilmen Raymond E. Crow, and Remo DelGallo took out nomination papers at the city clerk's office. Edward L. Dobbins, chief counsel of GE's transformer division, has taken papers for the Ward 4 City Council seat, while incumbent Ward 4 Councilman Joel S. Greenberg said he would run for re-election.

Ward 2 Councilman Crow said he had not yet decided whether he would run for the Ward 2 seat for an at-large position. If Crow decides for the ward spot he will be running for a third two-year term.

Crow plans to announce his decision in a week or so.

Ward 3 Councilman DelGallo also will be running for a third term. He is expected to stay in the ward race.

This will be Dobbins' first try for political office. He arrived in Pittsfield 10 years ago after being transferred from a GE plant in Louisville, Ky. He has been active in a number of civic organizations, including United Community Services, Red Cross and the Berkshire Mental Health Association.

Conflict of Interest Law To Be City Council Topic

The City Council will meet as a committee of the whole Friday night to discuss the new conflict of interest law.

This meeting was scheduled today by Council President Joseph S. Scelsi. The session will follow a special Council meeting called by Mayor Haughey for 7:30 p.m. in City Hall.

A new state law, effective May 1, provides that city employes, either elected or appointed, must be classified as special employes if they have any dealings with the city outside of their regular duties.

Those classified as regular employes may not deal with the city in any way.

City Solicitor William R. Flynn is compiling a list placing employes in one of the two categories. Generally, commission and committee members are classed as special, while most full - time and part - time employes will be regular. This would include the solicitor and Council members. The mayor would also be regular.

The Council met with the solicitor several months ago and discussed a tentative list. The solicitor has been asked to draw a definite list which will be presented Friday night.

The state law provides that councils and selectmen boards are the only group which can classify employes.

Barbers Win, Undefeated In Softball

JUN 11 1963

In City Slow Pitch League action last night, Dom's Wendell Barbers kept their slate spotless with a 4-2 win over second-place Berkshire Mutual. The loss dropped Berkshire to second place in the league.

Raven's Auto kept in the running for the title with a 9-7 win over Shire City. The losers had built up a three-run lead over the early innings, but Raven's stormed back with three runs in the fifth and two in the sixth to ice the game. Mastercraft Tile Takes CSL Round Robin Title

AUG 28 1963

Mastercraft Tile proved its dominance in the City Softball League last night. Behind the superb three-hit pitching of Bing Miller, the regular season champion won the league's post-season round robin tournament by defeating the Pittsfield Sporting Goods 4-1 at the Brown Street Field. The largest crowd of the season attended.

Miller retired the losers in order in five of the seven innings. He had a shutout until the fifth. Milt Gardner pitched well for the PSGs. He struck out 12, but wildness hurt him.

Mastercraft gained its margin of victory in the first inning, scoring three times on a hit batsman, two bases on balls and singles by Jerry Schmidt and Fran Devanny.

Miller escaped from a bases-loaded threat in the fifth after the PSGs had scored their one run.

Mastercraft tallied an insurance run in the fifth on Devanny's single, a base on balls, a sacrifice and a fielder's choice.

The line score:

Mastercraft	300	010	x	4	7	1
PSGs	000	010	0	1	3	1

Boulevard Cafe Wins Four, Loses Two For Third Place in Softball Tourney

CSL

PLYMOUTH — Boulevard Cafe f Pittsfield won four of six games ere Saturday and Sunday for a hird-place finish in the state Class A softball tournament.

Front Page Cigar of Ludlow took the title with a 6-5 victory over the Springfield Cardinals yesterday. The Cards then defeated Boulevard 3-0 to capture second place.

George Bigelow was winning pitcher in the four games won by Boulevard. Joe DeAngelis and Gerry Sullivan were losers in the other two contests.

DeAngelis started the second game against the Cardinals, who blasted him out with eight runs in the first inning. Bigelow relieved and held the Cards to one run over the last five innings. Ed DeAngelo had three hits including a homer and a double and O'Niel had a pair of hits for the Cafemen. Gene Rettelle was winning pitcher. The big blow for Springfield was a grand-slam homer by Lou Camella.

Joe DeAngelis pitched the first four frames of the third game, but Bigelow relieved in the fifth and picked up credit for the victory. Boulevard took a 4-0 lead against the Cape Cod All-Stars in the first inning and coasted to a 7-1 win. O'Niel made a pair of singles, and Ed O'Hearn belted a three-run triple.

Homer by O'Niel

Bigelow came back as a starter in the fourth game, facing Hough's of Springfield. He hurled a four-hit, 5-1 victory; fanning six and walking only two. O'Niel's homer was the key hit for Boulevard. Ed De Angelo had a pair o safeties for the second consecutive game.

Boulevard scored its third straight win with a 2-1 decision over Rofor. Bigelow was at his best, allowing two hits, walking none and striking out nine. O'Hearn blasted a two-run homer in the first for Boulevard's runs. Frank DeAngelis and Terry MacCartney made two hits each.

Room for Rheaume

Slow Pitch

AUG 30 1963

FAIR OR FOUL

By Roger O'Gara

BACK IN THE days when newspaper work was less troubled, editor Horace Greeley made a fine point to indicate the difference between a big story and a little one. He told a young reporter that when a dog bit a man, it wasn't sensational. Unfortunately, dogs had been doing just that for years, even a century ago. However, Greeley said that when a man bit a dog, this was front page material. For most men weren't capable of mustering such energy, aggressiveness and courage even during a meat shortage. And today, even those who had all three probably would be unable to make indentation because this is an age of early dentures.

However, this is to report that a story of the man-bites-dog variety figuratively occurred here this week. It came in the form of a letter to the sports editor.

It was a commendation from William P. Rheaume, scorekeeper and public relations director of the City Slow Pitch Softball League.

We will reprint the first paragraph: "When an individual does an extremely good job, no matter if it be his vocation or avocation, it should be brought to the attention of the public. That is why I feel the enclosed letter of appreciation to William Mahan should be published in The Eagle, preferably on the sports page. I am hoping that you find it feasible to put it in your column, Fair or Foul."

o—o

IT SO HAPPENS we can make room for Rheaume.

Through a troubled quarter-century in this fascinating but underpaid profession, we have concluded that most people write letters to newspapers only when they are displeased.

If they should happen to feel that a reporter or a columnist (perish the thought) had done a good job, they wouldn't be moved to compose congratulations.

Rather, they incline to the philosophy of the old Vermonter at a baseball game. An outfielder staggered through ground pock-marked by gopher holes, made a phenomenal catch just before he crashed into the fence, and then held on to the ball even though he lapsed into unconsciousness.

There was no applause.

One of the outfielder's teammates screamed at the crowd, "What's the matter with you people? Don't you appreciate a good play?"

A salty citizen in the bleachers stroked his whiskers, chewed vigorously on his cut plug, spat disdainfully, and asked in a soft voice, "What the hell is he out there for?"

o—o

HERE IS the Rheaume letter:

Dear Bill:

On behalf of John Marchesi of the Park Department, Joe Harrison, umpire-in-chief, all the umpires, scorekeepers, managers and players of the City Slow Pitch Softball League, I wish to express our appreciation and thanks to you for your cooperation and assistance in the write-ups of the results of the games played this season. With the problem of space in the paper for covering all sports, we feel the coverage, by you, has done much to create interest and stimulate the desire of other teams to join the league.

Presently, many teams are desirous of joining the league, and requests by independent teams are on the increase. To those of us who have been with slow pitch softball since its infancy, this is truly gratifying. It has been the answer for many of us who have not been able to participate in fast pitch softball.

Too many times, we are apt to forget that it is reporters, such as yourself, Bill, through full coverage of sporting events, create interest and stimulate the desire to become participants or spectators.

Again, on behalf of all of us, let me express our thanks to you and hope the next years will allow us the opportunity to have you as our reporter.

William P. Rheaume.

His most exciting overtime victory this year was over Paul Harney on the first hole in the Thunderbird Classic at the Westchester Country Club in Rye, N. Y.

Another big one was in the 1962 Masters at Augusta, Ga. He had to birdie two of the last three holes to force a deadlock with Gary Player. In the playoff, Palmer trailed by three strokes at the end of nine holes, but came on to win by three.

Boulevards Eliminated In Play-Offs

Springfield Team Is 3-2 Winner In 9 Innings

Pittsfield's Boulevard Cafe was eliminated from the Western Massachusetts Class A Softball League play-offs in the opening round as it lost to the Springfield Cardinals 3-2 in nine innings last night at Ludlow. The win in the rubber game of a best of three series moved the Cardinals into the finals against the survivor of the Front Page Cigar - Buffalo Club series. That will be a best-of-five event.

The deciding run came on a single, a sacrifice hit, and an infield hit. It was a heart-breaking result for Boulevards' pitcher George Bigelow, who yielded only three safeties all the way. He had a one-hitter entering the ninth. Bigelow fanned four, walked the same number.

Gene Retelle, who relieved Marbles Medura, received credit for the victory, his second over the Boulevards in two nights.

Eddie O'Hearn drove in the first run of the game for the Boulevards with a single in the opening inning. The Cardinals made the next two scores, then the Boulevards tied the count in the seventh.

The setback came as a mild surprise, because the Boulevards were runners-up and the Cardinals third in the regular season race. The Boulevards defeated the Cardinals twice in a row in the play-off series, but one of the wins was nullified because the Boulevards used an ineligible player.

This won't mark the end of the season for the Boulevards. They are entered in a tournament at Watervliet, N.Y., and are slated to play there sometime during the weekend.

Boulevards Triumph 4-1 In Tourney

Richie Surhoff Throws 2-Hitter At Watervliet

WATERVLIET N.Y. — Richie Surhoff, former Lenox (Mass.) Merchants' basketball star, threw a 10-strikeout, two-hitter, for the Pittsfield (Mass.) Boulevard Cafe in a 4-1 win over Simonian's of Watervliet in the Watervliet softball tournament here last night. The victory advanced the Boulevards to a semifinals with a three-nothing record.

Surhoff, a resident of New Rochelle, was imported by Manager Donald (Bones) Sheran when the tournament officials announced that anyone would be eligible. Sheran said this change in policy came after his team had won two games. It defeated Ziggy's Diner of Cohoes 4-0, and received a forfeit decision over WPTR of Albany.

The Boulevards will oppose the Drerazian Studio of Albany in the semifinals Sunday night at 8:30. Surhoff again will pitch for the Pittsfield team.

Surhoff had a no-hitter through six and one-third innings. Then, only two outs away from it, he was reached for a pair of singles. These brought the sole run for the Watervliet club.

Frank DeAngelis and Dick O'Neil of Chicopee had two hits apiece for the winners. Terry McCartney, Eddie O'Hearn and Ed Kelley each drove in a run for the Boulevards.

Meadowview Inn Wins and Ties For Loop Lead

Meadowview Inn gained a tie for first place in the East Minor Baseball League with John's Building Supply by defeating that team 9-4 last night at Allendale Field.

Given a 7-1 lead after two innings, Mark Sachetti pitched well for Meadowview. He had only one bad inning, the fourth, when the Builders scored three runs.

Barry Emerson, Joe Beratta and Gordie Stevens led the winners at bat. Buster Koziara and Bill Burke starred for the losers.

Boulevards Beaten 2-0

Cards' Retelle Throws 1-Hitter; Final Tonight

Pittsfield's Boulevard Cafe found itself tied at one game apiece with the Springfield Cardinals in the Western Massachusetts Class A Softball Leatue's best of three play-off series following a 2-0 loss to that club last night at Ludlow. Gene Retelle held the Pittsfield club to one hit, a single by Mike Mancivalano with two out in the seventh and last inning.

The same teams will meet for the right to survive tonight at 7:45 at Ludlow. The winner will move to the post-season finals, a best of five series.

Retelle struck out eight, and walked five. George Bigelow, the Boulevards' work horse, yielded six safeties, fanned seven and walked three.

The Boulevards last week defeated the Cardinals two games straight, but one had to be replayed following allowance of a protest by the Springfield team.

Surhoff Has No-Hitter As Boulevards Win 4-0

WATERVLIET, N.Y. — On the strength of Richie Surhoff's no-hitter that came within one batter of being a perfect game, the Boulevard Cafe of Pittsfield, Mass., moved into the finals of the Watervliet invitational softball tournament by defeating the Drerazian Studio of Albany 4-0 here last night. Surhoff, former Lenox (Mass.) Merchants' basketball star, struck out 14, and didn't give a base on balls. The only opponent to reach made it on an infield error.

Finals Slated Saturday

It was the fourth consecutive win for the Boulevards. They'll play in the finals here Saturday evening.

The Boulevards made only four hits off Skip Eggleston, but each counted. A double by Ed DeAngelo and Surhoff's single produced a pair of runs in the sixth inning, and singles by Eddie O'Hearn and Dick O'Neil figured in single scores in the first and fifth.

Egglestron struck out six, and walked three.

The line score:

Boulevards	100	012	0—4 4 1
Drerazian	000	000	0—0 0 2

Surholl and Cohen; Eggleston and Kelly.

Fifty-Two At Slow Pitch Banquet

SEP 13 1963

Presentation Of Trophies Is Program Feature

Fifty-two attended the eighth annual banquet of the Pittsfield Park Department City Slow Pitch Softball League last night at Marino's Restaurant. Presentation of team and individual awards comprised the major part of the program.

Members of the Richman Cafe team, which won the league championship, received individual trophies. The Berkshire Mutual Insurance club was given a team trophy for winning the postseason round-robin tournament.

Bill Delphia of Richman's was awarded a trophy for leading the league in hitting an average of .582. He beat Harvey Rennie of TV Cable by four points. Rennie received the home run trophy. He had seven homers, one more than Joe Hodlin of Richman's and Jack Bartow of Berkshire Mutual.

Dick Stiles of the insurance company squad took the runs batted in award with 47. Hodlin was runner-up with 30. A special award of a plaque was presented to Manuel (Moe) Pravia, Richman Cafe pitcher, by his teammates for his courage and competitive spirit. Pravia has played in the league for all nine years of its existence. He hasn't decided whether he will play another season or move into the coaching ranks.

Marchesi, who is recreation supervisor for the Park Department, was master of ceremonies and made the presentations. He told the assembly the league can look forward to greater achievements next season with the addition of lights at Hibbard Field. He said the lights will be for the use of all softball leagues.

Marchesi stated the Slow Pitch circuit may have 14 teams in 1964, and probably will have twi-night doubleheaders. He said Clapp Park and Deming Field will continue to be used.

Speakers were Joe Harrison, umpire-in-chief, Bill Rheaume, official scorer and statistician, and Bill Mahan of The Berkshire Eagle sports department. Bob Blake manager of the Berkshire Mutual team, was chairman of the committee on arrangements.

SPECIAL RECOGNITION went to Manuel (Moe) Pravis, (left) last night at the annual dinner of the City Slow Pitch Softball League at Marino's Restaurant where he was given a plaque by his Richman Cafe teammates for his courage and competitive spirit. Pravis pitcher most of the Cafe club's 18 games. He is a charter member of the nine-year-old circuit. Moe is not sure whether he will play or coach next season. The plaque is being presented by Park Department recreation supervisor John Marchesi, who was master of ceremonies. He also was a Cafe player.

Boulevards Take Title In Watervliet Tourney

WATERVLIET, N.Y. — The Boulevard Cafe of Pittsfield, Mass., is champion of the Watervliet invitational softball tournament. It clinched the honor Saturday night before approximately 1,000 by defeating the Drerazian Studio of Albany 6-3. It was the fifth consecutive win for the Massachusetts boys. They went through the double elimination tournament without a loss.

Two imports made it a major sweep for Pittsfield. Ritchie Surhoff of New Rochelle was voted the outstanding pitcher in the event. Right fielder Dick O'Neil of Chicopee, Mass., was awarded the most valuable player prize.

Surhoff held the losers well in hand until his team gave him a big lead. All of the Albany runs came in the fifth after Pittsfield had widened its advantage to 6-0 in the top of that inning. Surhoff allowed eight hits, and struck out 10.

O'Neil had three of the seven safeties the winners made off Dick Eggleston. Two figured prominently in the scoring. Eggleston fanned eight.

Boulevard made two runs in the second on a single by O'neil and Frank DeAngelis' double that went through the left fielder. DeAngelis scored behind O'Neil on the miscue.

Ed Kelly opened the Boulevard fifth with a single. Ed DeAngelo was hit by a pitch. Both runners advanced on Ollie Cohen's fly-out to deep right. Surhoff was given an intentional pass. Eddie O'Hearn's infield hit brought in one run, and and three more scored when O'Neil's single rolled through the center fielder.

Two singles, a passed ball, a walk and an error produced all three Albany runs in the fifth.

Jimmy Fund Winner in Softball Tilt

Fire Department, City Fathers Tie 4-4 in Benefit

The Jimmy Fund was the only winner in the benefit softball game between the Pittsfield Fire Department and the city fathers under the lights of Wachonah Park as the game finished in a 4-4 tie. A crowd of nearly 300 saw the exhibition and over $200 was netted.

Mayor Ray Haughey started on the mound for the city fathers and went three innings. He was relieved by Assistant Supt. of Schools Lincoln Lynch. Councilman Remo DelGallo did the catching. Ron Plankey and Bob Doner were the starting battery for the firemen.

Any resemblance to softball was hard to find in the early part of the game. Grapefruit got in the action instead of the softball, and the firemen played in boots, helmets and raincoats for awhile. The efforts of two of the Fire squad in scoring runs appeared to be too much. They collapsed and were carried from the field on one stretcher.

Sheriff John Courtney, umpire-in-chief was "shot" by a dissatisfied participant.

Others appearing for the city fathers were Vin Hebert and John Manchesi of the Park Department, Assessor John Connors, Tax Collector Shaun Meehan, Wiring Inspector Gordon Dennis, Harold Ruel of the License Board and Councilmen George Purnell, Sam Quadrozzi, Roy Brown, Ernest St. Peter, Ray Crow, Dan Casey and Joseph Scelsi.

Other umpires were postman Jim Farry and Wade Tate, former Canadian - American League player.

The red shirts worn by the firemen were gifts of the McCormick & Toole Insurance Agency Inc.

Can Softball Come Back?

FAIR OR FOUL

By Roger O'Gara

CAN SOFTBALL ever regain the heights it reached here during the colorful reign of David I. Sookey? It may not soar that far, but Donald (Bones) Sheran and his associates, who have secured a Western Massachusetts Class A League franchise for the Boulevard Cafe, feel sure that they can build it up to the point of respectability.

It has been a long time since anyone cared how a softball game came out in Pittsfield. Sookey, the swarthy storekeeper-window display artist, captured public imagination back in the middle 1930s when he assembled a strong team and capitalized on natural local rivalries. His best series was with a group of young and somewhat athletic school teachers.

In the matter of a few years, Sookey's team improved to the point of winning a state championship. That was in 1940. World War II broke up that strong combine, and softball hasn't amounted to much in the last two decades.

o—o

THE MADISON CAFE has had some fine teams in the interim, but by and large the sport has been dead. The Madisons, with such standouts as Dick Powers and Art Gwinnell, have had some striking success in Eastern New York tournament play. However, Pittsfield hasn't been able to keep pace with the rest of the state of Massachusetts in fast play.

The big reason is that the city has lacked strong pitching. This department is even more dominant in softball than it is in baseball.

Sheran feels that George Bigelow, the former Adams High and Boston College athlete, who was a member of the Pittsfield Merchants' basketball team the past winter, will help to fill that need. Bigelow for years has been blinding the best softball batters in Northern Berkshire.

o—o

LACK OF LIGHTS also has handicapped Pittsfield teams in intersectional play. Most of the games in which they have been involved with Connecticut Valley powers have been played after dark. The Springfield area teams even practice under the lights.

The Park Commission is seriously considering installation of lights for softball at the Hibbard Playground. If this should be done, it would be a big boon to the Boulevards. With the lights available for both practice and play, the team shortly would be on equal footing with the strong clubs in the fast league it has joined.

Furthermore, the after-dark games would help attendance. With the five best teams in the Connecticut Valley slated to make regular appearances here, people would come out to watch. They would, that is, providing that Pittsfield could field a team capable of making a game out of it.

o—o

WHEN TALK TURNS to softball attendance we always like to tell the story of a game on the Common in the late 1930s This was one night when even the magical name of David I. Sookey couldn't attract a corporal's guard. Even the umpires didn't show. So it was agreed that the pitchers would make all of the decisions.

Late in the game, Sookey held grimly to a 2-1 lead. Then, with the bases loaded and two outs, an opposing batter hit the ball into deep left.

Sookey later admitted that the ball probably was fair. However, exercising the power vested in him, he called it foul. The opponents protested loudly. That was OK by David. The important thing was that those runners went back to their bases. Then he retired the batter on a pop fly, and walked off with another win.

o—o

AFTER THE GAME, Chuck Hayes, Sookey's conscientious left fielder, told David that the ball had dropped fair by five feet. Chuck, now a priest, said that he should know because he was closest to it.

"If you were that close, you should have caught it," David remonstrated. "Anyway, I called it a foul," and a foul it is. The game is over, and that's all there is to it."

Chuck continued to protest to David. He didn't like to win that way, he said.

Whereupon David tried to overwhelm him with statistics.

"Look," he said, "there were 25 people at the game. Do you think they're going to be missionaries and go from door to door to tell everyone that Sookey's won because I called a fair ball a foul? No, they're not. But The Eagle, with more than 25,000 circulation, will have a story tomorrow, and it's going say, 'Sookey's Wins Again.'"

SPENCERPORT, N.Y., not Spencertown, N.Y., is the home community of Francis Ferris, the St. Joseph's High all-time great lineman, who visited here recently. We carried a column on Francis last week. We thought we wrote Spencerport, but it came out in print Spencertown. Several hundred miles separate the places. Spencertown is in the Eastern part of the state, Spencerport in the extreme West. Both are small towns.

Spencerport is a suburb of Rochester. Francis said that most of the inhabitants of Spencerport work at the Eastman Kodak Company in Rochester.

In the column on Francis, we recalled that he faked a placement kick and threw a pass for the extra point that gave St. Joseph's a 7-6 victory over Pittsfield High in 1944. Quarterback Jimmy Gaul, who was kneeling to hold the ball for Francis' kick, also should have been credited with an assist in this deception. Jimmy caught the snap from center, went through the motions of setting the ball down, then straightened and tossed it back to Francis.

FRANCIS WALSH, former St. Joseph's High of North Adams star pitcher, is on the freshman baseball team at Providence College. The capable left-hander, who opposed Pittsfield High's Joey Costanzo in several memorable duels, is expected to be the ace of the staff for the Friar yearlings.

LUIS APARICIO, Baltimore Orioles' shortstop, has led the American League in base stealing the past seven years with the same flat feet that kept him out of military service in his native Venezuela. He was credited with 269 thefts from 1956 through 1962, and has been 6 for 6 to date this spring.

Boulevards Win Opener With Bigelow as Big Star

George Bigelow, former Adams High and Boston College athlete, pitched and batted the Boulevard Cafe of Pittsfield to a 4-0 wi n over the Westover Field Bombers in the opening Western Massachusetts Class A Softball League game for both yesterday afternoon at Deming Field. In addition to throwing a three-hitter, Bigelow drove in two of his team's runs with a homer over the left field fence in the second inning.

DeAngelo Homers

Circuit clouts accounted for all but one of the Boulevards' scores. Eddie DeAngelo, leading off in the first, also cleared the left field barrier with a drive.

The winners made only four hits off Len Lenduc. Bigelow survived several early scares, and was the complete master in the late innings. He struck out five, and walked four. Lenduc also fanned five, and gave three bases on balls.

Bigelow's homer came with two outs and Eddie Kelley on first base with a base on balls. Kelley scored the final run in the fourth when he reached second on a throwing error, and came the rest of the way following the same kind of miscue on Bigelow's grounder.

DeAngelo made the fielding feature at third base with a neat back-hand stop of a grounder in the fifth inning.

Eddie O'Hearn and Terry MacCartney had the other Boulevard hits, both singles.

Two Games This Week

The Boulevards will have league games on successive nights in the coming week. They'll go against the Front Page Cigar Company at Ludlow's Franklin Park Wednesday night and Perry's Oil at West Springfield's Veterans' Field Thursday evening. Both games are slated for 8:30.

Besse-Clarke and GEAA Top Divisions in BRL

Babe Ruth Baseball League divisional play-offs concluded Saturday afternoon as Besse-Clarke edged Moldmaster 4-3 at Clapp Park for American honors, and GEAA scored a 5-4 victory in 10 innings over Ida & John's at Deming Field for National laurels.

Reliefer Pero Wins

For Besse-Clarke, starter Jeff Nicholson retired after two innings. Jim Pero relieved and got credit for the win. Nicholson fanned four and walked two, and Pero fanned six and walked a pair.

Pero and Bassi hurled shutout ball through the next three innings, but Moldmaster rallied for two in the top of the seventh and a 3-2 advantage.

Gene Curletti and Bassi opened the inning with singles, the third hit of the game for each. The rusners advanced to second and third and scored on successive sacrifice squeezes by Bill Monteleone and Jack Clark.

Besse-Clarke came back in the bottom of the seventh to win the game on a two-run rally. After an error, Gary Rembish and Kenny Marshall belted back-to-back doubles to drive in the tying and winning runs.

Russo Urges VFW Players To Keep Playing Baseball

Pittsfield Babe Ruth Baseball League president Louis Russo urged the members of the Babe Ruth League's VFW team to keep playing baseball in the circuit, in high school and in college, at a roast beef dinner given last night for the team and their parents by the Pittsfield Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Mr. Russo also emphasized the importance to the boys of keeping up their school marks. He praised the players for their good sportsmanship and thanked the local veterans' organization for its assistance to the league.

Paul Brindle, league secretary, spoke on plans for next season and complimented Lou Morel and Dan Connors, coaches of the VFW team. Brindle pointed out that the VFW team was the second oldest in the league.

Richard M. Croteau, Department of Massachusetts Commander and past post Commander, welcomed the players and their parents and stressed the main project of the VFW is helping young people under the community service program.

Players Congratulated

Congratulations were extended to Ned Evans, Mitch Massaconi and Skip Archey for being chosen to the All-Star team. Members of the team were introduced. Players who will be too old to play Babe Ruth baseball next season are Archey, Evans, Paul Martino, Massaconi and John Shutts.

The program concluded with the showing by Al Polidoro of sports films entitled "Batting With Ted Williams," "Duck Hunting" and "Tarpon Fishing."

Members of the post and the Auxiliary under the direction of Charles C. DeLuce, catered Charles J. Simonelli, youth activities chairman, was general chairman and master of ceremonies.

Besse-Clarke and GEAA Top Divisions in BRL

Babe Ruth Baseball League divisional play-offs concluded Saturday afternoon as Besse-Clarke edged Moldmaster 4-3 at Clapp Park for American honors, and GEAA scored a 5-4 victory in 10 innings over Ida & John's at Deming Field for National laurels.

Reliefer Pero Wins

Pat Bassi, who pitched all the way and absorbed the loss for Moldmaster, belted a long triple in the top of the first inning for a 1-0 lead. Besse-Clarke evened the score in the bottom of the first and went ahead 2-1 in the third.

For Besse-Clarke, starter Jeff Nicholson retired after two innings. Jim Pero relieved and got credit for the win. Nicholson fanned four and walked two, and Pero fanned six and walked a pair.

Pero and Bassi hurled shutout ball through the next three innings, but Moldmaster rallied for two in the top of the seventh and a 3-2 advantage.

Gene Curletti and Bassi opened the inning with singles, the third hit of the game for each. The rusners advanced to second and third and scored on successive sacrifice squeezes by Bill Monteleone and Jack Clark.

Besse-Clarke came back in the bottom of the seventh to win the game on a two-run rally. After an error, Gary Rembish and Kenny Marshall belted back-to-back doubles to drive in the tying and winning runs.

Loses on Wildness

The contest at Deming consumed three hours and 15 minutes and saw a total of 31 strikeouts, 25 walks and 25 runners left on base.

Jerry Fresia pitched a complete game for Ida and John's, holding GEAA to four hits. He fanned 18, but wildness cost him the game. GEAA scored four runs in the fourth on five walks and a pair of singles by Tommy Grieve and Johnny Petell.

The winning run came across in the 10th when Fresia loaded the bases on walks and allowed a single to Pat Gloria.

Ida & John's attempted a rally in the bottom of the 10th. Despite three singles, winning picher Grieve held Ida & John's scoreless. One runner was called out at home on an interference play and another was forced at third. With two down and two on, Grieve registered his fifth strikeout to end the game.

Besse-Clarke and GEAA will meet at Clapp Park Saturday at 1:30 for the city championship.

Besse-Clarke Beats GEAA For BR City Championship

Jim Pero, who relieved starter Jeff Nicholson with none out in the top of the first; hurled a four - hit shutout Saturday as Besse-Clarke scored an 8-0 victory over GEAA to win its first Babe Ruth Basebell League city championship in 12 years.

Nicholson had walked the lead-off batter on four pitches and thrown two balls to the second hitter before Pero came in from the bullpen.

Pero started the Besse-Clarke offense in the bottom of the first with a two-run single. Norm Cheever was starter and loser, with relief from Tommy Grieve in the fifth.

Buddy Reddington was batting star for the winners. He had his best day of the season, driving in three runs with a pair of singles and a double.

Pero allowed a triple and a single by Pat Gloria and a double by Mike Hart, but his control was sharp and he pitched out of trouble on two occasions.

Corky Hit Late in Year

FAIR OR FOUL

By Roger O'Gara

CORKY SCHMOYER, a mathematics major who is his own severest critic, views his first professional baseball season with mixed feelings. The former St. Joseph's High and University of Massachusetts infielder is happy that he hit well in the latter part of the season. He regrets that he played most of the summer at shortstop, a position he frankly says he can't fill efficiently.

He played for Statesville, N.C. of the Western Carolina League. He joined the team in June after signing with the Boston Red Sox for a modest bonus.

"They played me at shortstop in most of the games, because the regular at the position was hurt," Corky told us. "I couldn't cover the ground. I'm not that fast."

Corky played shortstop at St. Joseph's High and for the Pittsfield American Legion, but was used at third and second bases at Massachusetts. He was at third as a sophomore and at second during his junior and senior years.

o—o

SO WHAT NOW?

Corky hasn't made up his mind, but he rather likes third base.

"I played 15 games there in the latter part of the season. It's a good place for a fellow like me. I have fast hands, but I'm slow on my feet."

He feels he has the arm for the position.

"I had no trouble getting the ball over to first," he said smilingly. "In fact, I hit the bleachers a few times."

Eddie Connolly, who was two years ahead of Corky at St. Joseph's and Massachusetts, feels that his friend should try to make it at third base. He points out that there is a shortage of third basemen in the Red Sox system.

Still, others have advised that he make the bid at second base.

o—o

CORKY BATTED .248 for the season.

It isn't an imposing average. However, the .360 that he hit during the last month and a half would seem to indicate that he has considerable potential as a batsman. The trouble was his mark at the end of the first month was only .140.

"I was benched a week for poor hitting," he said. "Then someone was hurt, and I went back into the lineup. Everything went right after that."

Corky thinks he knows what the trouble was when he wasn't hitting well.

"I wasn't getting around on the fast ball," he said. "Another thing was that sliders bothered me. I didn't see many of those in college."

o—o

PLAYING UNDER lights also was a handicap, he thinks.

"I hadn't played much under lights," he said.

In the two seasons he was with the Legion here, the club didn't make tournament play. So all of its games were in the day time or at twilight. He spent three summer vacations from college in the Cape Cod League. Games in that league were played at twilight.

"At the beginning, I also was handicapped because professional ball is so fast. I'd say it was twice as fast as college. Every pitcher you faced had a fast ball. They all had three pitches, and two of these usually were good."

o—o

CORKY HOPES to talk again with Red Sox scout Milt Bolling, who signed him.

"He was more or less apologetic," he said, "because they had to send me to Statesville. The league was good, but the facilities we had there were terrible."

Corky said that Statesville was independently owned. This is a rarity in the minor leagues today.

Statesville had players from nine major league organizations. Because of the lateness of his signing, the Red Sox had to look around for a place to send him. Their own farms were full. So, they finally settled on Statesville.

Corky signed a contract with the Waterloo, Iowa club of the Mid-Western League. Technically, he was sent by Waterloo to Statesville. He'll receive his 1964 assignment within the next month, he has been told.

o—o

STATESVILLE, a community of 20,000, didn't draw well, because the team never was in the race. It finished in seventh place. Corky estimated the average attendance at between 300 and 400.

He said that the team had two managers. Bob Brally was there the greater part of the season, but then had to return to his home community in Virginia to teach school. He was succeeded by Norman Small, a long-time minor league star.

Asked how the parks in the league were, Corky said, "Half were good; half were bad."

Bruce Gallagher of North Adams was with Statesville during the early part of the season, but had left for home before Corky arrived.

Corky said that outfielder Levi Brown and pitcher Dick Cassini, against whom he had played when they were stars at the University of Vermont, again were opponents. They were with Greenville, S.C., in the same league. Greenville is a farm club of the Milwaukee Braves. Brown led the circuit in RBIs. Cassini had a "pretty good" pitching record.

CORKY WILL BE 22 years old on New Year's Day, 1964. He went to Statesville at 185 pounds, was up to 193 pounds shortly after arriving, and now hits 178. He stands 5-11.

Corky is planning to continue in pro baseball next spring. He also is considering another bi step—marriage. His fiancee Sandra Russell of Hanson. S was a 1963 classmate at Mass chusetts. She is teaching sch in Weymouth.

The wedding is planned f February.

What will he do in the off-season?

"I wish I knew," Corky said frankly. "Know anybody who needs a mathematics major?"

Imperial Scores Upset

Walks Are Factor In 14-5 Decision Over Grady's Team

IMPERIAL Lanes scored an upset 14-5 victory over Grady's Newsstand in a Babe Ruth Baseball League game last night at Deming Field.

The loss dropped Grady's into a third-place tie with IUE 255 in the National division. Both have 7-9 records. An early-season tie between Imperial and Union Federal (6-9) will be replayed tonight at 6 at Deming to give Union Federal a chance to join Grady's and IUE 255 in third place.

A special play-off will be scheduled for next week to resolve the third-place deadlock for the last post-season play-off spot in the league.

Mark Farrell Stars

Imperial managed just seven hits last night, but pitchers Dick L'Hote, Pat Bonavitacola and Danny Powers gave up a dozen walks to Imperial batters.

For the winners, Mark Farrell knocked in five runs with two singles and a triple. Winning pitcher Dave Kearns had a single and three runs batted in. Jimmy Ckullo added a pair of singles good for two RBIs.

Cheever and Pero Hurl Two-Hitters In Vital Victories

GEAA and Besse-Clarke won on two-hitters by Norm Cheever and Jim Pero, respectively, in Babe Ruth Baseball League action last night.

At Deming Field, Cheever blanked Grady's Newsstand 13-0 as GEAA clinched second place in the National division. Tommy Grieve was the big gun, driving in five runs with a triple, double and a pair of singles. Danny Powers was losing pitcher, with relief from Pat Bonavitacola and Dick L'Hote.

Jeff Nicholson started for Besse-Clarke at North Junior High, but Pero took over in the first after VFW had scored twice. Pero hurled shutout ball the rest of the way as his mates tied with a pair in the second, went ahead 3-2 in the third and added insurance runs in the fifth and sixth.

Besse-Clarke clinched at least a tie for the American division championship, its first in 12 years. A victory Friday over Adams Market would assure the title.

Pete Russo and Don Lucaroni had three singles apiece for the winners. Pero added a two-run double. Ned Evans was losing pitcher.

Tonight, VFW will play Union Federal at Deming and IUE 254 will meet IUE 255 at Wahconah Park.

Billy McKeever

FAIR OR FOUL

By Roger O'Gara

FOR TALENTED and popular Billy McKeever, the important statistic wasn't how many points he scored in basketball or how many hits he made in baseball, but how many days he had to serve in the Army before his discharge. In a letter to uncle Dan McKeever just a week ago, he disclosed that the magic number had been cut to 36. That's what makes it doubly hard to take the sudden passing of this excellent young man.

Billy enjoyed varsity play at Fort Polk, La., but this at best was a mere marking of time before he should return to his loved ones, civilian sports and a second chance at an education.

Rejecting several big basketball scholarships from large Southern universities, he had decided instead to re-enter North Adams State College.

o—o

IT WAS IRONICAL that a person with such competitive zest as Billy should expire at the tender age of 21 while returning from a sports mission. He was killed in Denton, Texas while en route to Fort Polk from a baseball game in Fort Sill, Okla.

Billy won basketball fame that will last for years at St. Joseph's High and North Adams State College. Back in 1958 when Coach Ted Mezejewski selected this five-foot, five-inch sophomore as a St. Joseph's High regular over much bigger and older players, he was in effect rewarding spirited finesse. Billy wasn't a heavy scorer then, but was at the top or close to it in the assist column in most of the games.

He had an uncanny way of dribbling the ball away from an opponent. This came as the result of long hours of practice. Each Saturday morning for several winters,he was waiting for the janitor to open the Catholic Youth Center building. He dribbled and shot there by himself many minutes before any of the other fellows were out of bed.

o—o

BILLY UNDOUBTEDLY was the city's most versatile athlete while he still was in his early 'teens. For in addition to proficiency in the three accepted major sports of basketball, baseball and football, he also excelled in three others, speed skating, ping-pong and caroms.

He first appeared on the athletic scene at the age of eight in the summer of 1950. He was the darling of Pittsfield's first Little Baseball League at Crescent Field. He wasn't a regular, but was good enough to win a suit, and soon attracted attention with his pepper and industry.

He was city caroms champ at 13, beating older divisional opponents at the Boys' Club. For some years, he was city champion speed skater in his age division. He didn't practice at this either, because it came during his favorite season, basketball.

o—o

HE PLAYED Babe Ruth League baseball and was on the St. Joseph's squad as a freshman. Then he became so engrossed in basketball, he stayed away from the diamond sport for two years. He even played basketball during the summer time.

Finally, he again became interested in baseball. So he was picked for the 1959 American Legion team, and proved a most acceptable outfielder. As a senior at St.Joseph's he was an outstanding outfielder, and even did a little pitching.

He earned a rare honor in 1960 by captaining both the basketball and baseball teams at St. Joseph's.

o—o

AT NORTH ADAMS State, he set an all-time scoring record for a single game by making 42 points in a contest against Windham (Vt.) College. George Jarck, his coach, was the holder of the old one with 38.

North Adams State basketball fans were delighted to learn that he planned to return in the fall. Having followed his success at Fort Polk via the newspapers, they were almost sure he would accept a bid to one of the big Dixie schools.

Despite his small stature, Billy even made his mark as a football player. That was in 1955, the first season of Pop Warner League play here. As quarterback, he led the Giants to the championship of the league.

As a freshman, he was a reserve back at St. Joseph's. Illness forced him to leave football as a sophomore, and he didn't play after that. He didn't miss it much, for this way he had more time for basketball.

HE WAS SUFFERING from hepatitis at the same time his father had the disease.

That's the way it was with the McKeevers. Vin Sr., and his two sons were great buddies. They did things together, even to the extent of occupying the same hospital room.

Vin Sr., became a city-wide name more than 35 years ago when he flashed his fielding finesse for the West Pittsfield baseball team that was the forerunner of the famed Nation-Wide Grocers, City League champions of 1932.

Vin Jr., was a basketball standout at St. Joseph's High and Boston College. He has been junior varsity coach of the sport at Pittsfield High the past two winters. He also played last season for the Pittsfield semipro Merchants.

o—o

FOR FIVE STRAIGHT years, there was a McKeever in the backcourt for the St. Joseph's High basketball team. Vinny held the job in 1956 and 1957, and Billy filled the vacancy left by Vinny's gradution. He played three seasons as a first-stringer.

He perfected his ball-handling and shooting to the point where each was so polished, the practitioner of these arts had no trouble at Fort Polk. They welcomed him, notwithstanding his lack of inches.

He kept a level head through his many athletic successes. He was well-mannered and considerate. His letters to his parents, uncle Dan, and friends bespoke a genuine concern for those close to him.

Boys from 8 to 12 are excellent judges of character. Many in this age bracket were Billy McKeever fans, not only because he was an exceptional player, but because he always had time for them.

Along Melville Street's basketball row, either at the Catholic Youth Center or at the Boys' Club, he gave of himself freely as an official and teacher.

Even when he was blowing the whistle in a kids' game, he handled his duties with a niceness that is rare in the late 'teenager. Billy didn't expect any medals for such good conduct. He merely showed by his example that he was appreciative of the helping hands that had been extended to him when he started to dribble as a toddler.

Three Players Raise Marks In Pro Ball

Local Athletes Improve Chances By Performance

Pittsfield's representatives in professional baseball improved their averages last week. Pittsfield has three players in pro ball, Eddie Connolly, with Reading, Pa., in the Class AA Eastern League, Corky Schmoyer with Statesville, N.C., in the Western Carolina League, and Ray Woitkowski with Bluefield, W. Va., of the Appalachian League. Both Statesville and Bluefield are in Class A.

Connolly was impressive in defeating York Tuesday as he went the distance to win 7-3, allowing nine hits, striking out 12 and walking only two. York scored three runs in the first inning, after which Connolly settled down to pitch scoreless ball. Connolly stands 6-7 with an ERA of 3.91.

Schmoyer, an infielder, showed the biggest improvement. He had seven hits in 20 times at bat for a .350 average. The hits included two doubles and a home run. Schmoyer scored two runs and batted in four. The heavy hitting raised his average for the year to .202. This represents a 40-point increase.

Outfielder Woitkowski went to bat six times, hit two singles, scored twice, and batted in three runs to raise his batting average to .120, an increase of 67 percentage points. The three RBIs were his first of the season.

Season's statistics:

Rally for Victory

National League All-Stars in 12-5 Win Over Adams in Babe Ruth Tourney Tilt

The Pittsfield Babe Ruth National League All-Stars spurted to a quick lead and were never in danger in beating the Adams All-Stars 12-5 in a Massachusetts District 1A Babe Ruth Tournament quarter-final round game Saturday afternoon before a small crowd at Wahconah Park.

The National Leaguers will meet the Pittsfield American League All - Stars Saturday afternoon at 2 at Wahconah Park in a semifinal contest. The American team drew a first round bye.

The victory was sweet revenge for the local squad. For the past two years the National circuit representative has been defeated by the Adams entry in the first game.

Pat Gloria, a big 14-year-old hurler, went the route for the triumph. He struck out five, walked two and gave up four hits.

Dick Klemansky led off for a home team in the first with a walk, and Jack Gallagher bunted for a hit. Tom Grieve smashed a low line drive to right field that George Anderson tried to shoestring but could not quite reach. The ball went through and Grieve went all the way around for a home run.

With two out in the first Pat Bonavitacola tripled to deep right-center and came home on a throwing error.

The Nationals added three more in the second after two were out. Klemansky started the uprising again with a single. Gallagher was safe on an error and another miscue and a balk permitted Klemansky to score.

Grieve singled for another run and Connie Caritey came through with his first of two hits in the game. Grieve came across on a passed ball. The Nationals had more than enough to clinch the game but added three insurance runs in the third and two in the fourth.

Adams made its best bid with three runs in the fifth. A double by Warren Delmolino and a Johnny Rousseau triple were the big blows.

South Berkshire Wins

In the other Berkshire County tournament game at Lee the South Berkshire American All-Stars beat Lee 8-7. Saturday the winners will clash with the South Berkshire National League All-Stars at Great Barrington at 2.

The gate collection at Wahconah Park was $27.85 far below the game expenses. About 50 adults and 200 children attended.

Besse-Clarke And Federal BRL Winners

Jeff Nicholson's two-hitter led Besse-Clarke to a 4-2 win over Moldmaster last night at Wahconah Park in a Babe Ruth Baseball League game. In a game at Deming Field, Union Federal unleashed a 13-hit attack to down Grady's Newsstand 14-5.

Nicholson's fourth win of the season pulled Besse-Clarke into a tie for second place with the losers. A three-run third provided the difference, as two hits, two walks and three passed balls led to the outburst. Besse-Clarke picked up an insurance run in the sixth as Jim Peros stole second after his second hit of the day, went to third on an error and scored on Jerry DiCicco's sacrifice fly. Jack Clark and losing pitcher Pat Bassi split Moldmaster's hits.

Fred Sangiovanni with a double and three singles led Union Federal's potent hitting attack, and was backed up by Connie Caritey's three safeties. Mike Caritey relieved Jim Whitfield in the second inning to pick up his third win of the season. Nick Maniatis and Dick Delgallo with two singles each, had all the loser's hits.

Tonight Ida & John's meet Imperial Lanes at Deming Field and IUE plays VFW at Wahconah Park.

Pitching of Douillet, Allen Highlights Babe Ruth Action

Moldmaster's Roger Douillet and General Electric's Dave Allen both pitched one-hitters in a Babe Ruth Baseball League game at Wahconah Park last night, but Moldmaster won 3-1 on defensive blunders by the GE team.

At Deming Field, GEAA defeated Imperial Lanes 9-6 behind the pitching of starter Pat Gloria and reliefer Joe Albano.

The only hit off Douillet was a first - inning double by Paul Pierce. The losers scored their lone run in the top of the fourth when Alex Boreli walked, advanced to second on a sacrifice, stole third and scored on an error.

Squeeze Bunt

Moldmaster rallied to tie the score in the bottom of the fourth, then tallied two in the sixth to win. Gene Curletti started the sixth-inning rally with a single to right, took second and third on successive passed balls and scored on Jack Clark's squeeze bunt. Clark came around to score on a wild pitch.

For GEAA, Gloria left after four innings with a 4-1 lead. With Albano on the mound, the margin was extended to 9-2 before Imperial rallied for four in the bottom of the seventh. Albano and Joe Esposito had three hits apiece for GEAA. Art Dermody was losing pitcher, and Mark Farrell and Jim Ciullo made two hits each.

Tonight, IUE 255 will play Imperial at Deming, and Adams Market will meet General Electric at Wahconah.

Two-Hitter By Brennan Wins in BR

Kevin Brennan pitched a two-hit shutout last night as IUE 255 defeated Imperial Lanes 1-0 in a Babe Ruth Baseball League game at Deming Field. General Electric beat Adams Market 7-4 at Wahconah Park.

IUE scored its lone run on two hits and two errors in the bottom of the fifth. With two out, Steve Barry singled and went to second on a misplay. Brennan made an infield single, Barry stopping at third. But he scored on the second error of the inning. Pete Ricciarini had the only extra-base hit, a double. Kevin Connolly was losing pitcher.

Errors by GE

At Wahconah, Adams Market jumped to a 3-0 lead in the top of the first with the help of GE errors. Adams tallied once in the third to break a 3-3 tie, but GE scored two in the fifth and two in the sixth to win going away.

For the winners, Paul Pierce, Alex Borelli and Gary Papallo had two hits apiece. Tommy Rilla was winning pitcher, and Johnny Russo was the loser.

In games tonight, Grady's Newsstand will play Union Federal at Deming, and Moldmaster will meet Besse-Clarke at Wahconah.

GEAA Defeats IUE 255 In BRL National Play-Off

Pat Gloria last night scattered five hits for a 6-2 victory over IUE 255 at Deming Field as GEAA earned the right to face Ida & John's in the Babe Ruth Baseball League National division play-off final Saturday at Deming.

GEAA wasted no time gaining the lead in the first inning as Tommy Grieve followed Mike Hart's lead-off single with a long home run to left. IUE closed the margin to 2-1 in the second on singles by Nando Delmolino and Dale Stetson.

GEAA pushed across four runs in the third. Grieve singled, Gloria walked, Joe Albano singled for one run and Bernie Rosenblum doubled to left for two more. Starter Tony Gibson, who had walked four and fanned five, was relieved at this point by Paul Ricciarini. Three straight walks issued by Ricciarini forced Rosenblum in from third.

Gibson Steals Home

IUE scored its second and final run in the bottom of the third. Gibson singled, stole second, moved to third on an infield out and stole home.

Gloria struck out 10 and walked only three en route to the victory. Gibson was losing pitcher.

Play-offs in both the National and American divisions of the league will conclude Saturday at 1:30. In addition to the GEAA-Ida & John's contest at Deming, Moldmaster will play Besse-Clarke at Clapp Park for the American division title.

The city BR championship will be decided next Saturday, Aug. 31, when the divisional leaders meet at 1:30 at Clapp.

GEAA handed Ida & John's a 12-3 defeat last night in Babe Ruth Baseball League action at Deming Field. The winners still are two and one-half games behind after picking up a full game on the leaders of the National division.

Jerry Fresia suffered his first loss of the season for Ida & John's. He was relieved by Dan Gall and Tom Sinopoli. Joe Albano was winning pitcher.

Albano singled and walked three times, driving in three runs. Tom Grieve blasted a homer and a single. For the losers, Pete Salvatore and Bruce Robertson made two hits apiece.

Belanger Pictured In Ruth League National Paper

Mark Belanger, former Pittsfield High and Pittsfield Legion baseball player, who signed a bonus contract with the Baltimore Orioles after high school graduation last year, is one of eight major league baseball players pictured in the current issue of "Babe Ruth Bullpen." The publication is put out by Babe Ruth League, Inc., for national distribution.

The pictures of the players are on the back cover of the paper under the caption "Babe's Boys Benefit Big Time Baseball." Belanger, like the other seven, is a former product of Babe Ruth baseball. Mark was in the Pittsfield league and a member of its All-Star team.

Belanger played with Bluefield, W.Va., and Elmira, N.Y., last year, his first in pro ball. At the present time he is about half way through a six-months' hitch in the Army at Ft. Dix, N.J. He is regular shortstop on the Ft. Dix team.

VFW, Adams BRL Teams Score 12-4, 10-8 Wins

In Babe Ruth Baseball League games last night, VFW finished strong to beat Adams Market 12-4 and IUE 25 outlasted GE for a 10-8 victory.

Ned Evans registered his second pitching victory for VFW with a four-hitter at Wahconah Park. He walked 7 but struck out 13. His mates made 9 hits, but took advantage of 10 walks. The game was tied 3-3 after four innings, but VFW scored three runs in each of the last three innings to win going away.

Paul Martino knocked in four runs for the winners on a triple and a single. Tom Sherman knocked in three with a pair of singles, and Steve Teal added a single and a double. Losing pitcher was Paul Vacchina, who also had two of his team's four hits.

The IUE 255 team managed just five hits off Alex Borelli and Bob Doyle, but 12 errors by GE provided the margin of victory at Deming Field. Doyle took the loss, while Kevin Brennan won with relief from Pete Riccarini and Willie Woodson.

Tonight, the schedule shows Ida and John's against Grady's Newsstand at Deming in a battle for first place in the league's National division, and IUE 254 against Besse-Clarke at Wahconah. Tomorrow morning at 10, Tuesday's rain-outs will be played, with GEAA against IUE 255 at Deming, and IUE 254 against VFW at Wahconah.

Babe Ruth Nationals Open In State Tourney Tomorrow

The Pittsfield Babe Ruth National League All-Stars, baseball champions of District 1, will be playing their first game in the Babe Ruth state tournament tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 at Williams Street Playground in Longmeadow against the West County All-Stars, Worcester area champions. Medford and Randolph clubs will clash in the tourney opener at 1.

The local team will leave for Longmeadow from Springside House at noon tomorrow by private cars and will dress for the game at Longmeadow High School. Players and officials of the squad will attend a dinner put on by the Longmeadow and state Babe Ruth officials tomorrow night at 7.

The state meeting before the tournament will take place at 10 tomorrow morning at the Longmeadow Community House. Each tournament entry must be represented. Birth certificates and all records of each league will be examined at that time. Representing the Nationals will be James Frank, district director, Paul Brindle Jr., league manager, and Dick Grady, All-Star team manager.

For the first time in 12 years of all-star play every member of the local team was born in Pittsfield. The Nationals have won four tournament games and have batted .324 in tournament competition. Their opponents have batted only .153 off pitcher Jerry Fresia, who has won two games. Pat Gloria and Pat Bonavitacola have been credited with a victory apiece.

Either Fresia or Tom Grieve probably will start today. If Fresia goes, Grieve will be at first base. If Grieve starts, Fresia will be in left field.

BRL Finale Set Tonight

Grady's-Imperial Game To Conclude Regular Schedule

The Babe Ruth Baseball League regular season finale between Grady's Newsstand and Imperial Lanes was postponed again last night because of wet grounds. The game has been rescheduled for tonight at 6 at Deming Field.

If Grady's (7-8) wins, it will clinch the third National division play-off spot. But if last-place Imperial (2-12) pulls an upset victory, Grady's will fall into a third-place tie with IUE 255 (7-9).

An early-season tie between Union Federal (6-9) and Imperial would then have to be replayed to give Union Federal a shot at the third - place tie. A round-robin preplay-off play-off would be necessary to resolve the three-way tie.

The top two teams clinched their play-off spots well before the final games. Ida and John's took first with a 13-3 record, and GEAA captured second on an 11-5 performance.

A meeting of all coaches of teams involved in American and National division play-off has been scheduled at Springside House tonight at 8:15.

Puerto Rico Wins NE Ruth Title

CRANSTON, R.I. (AP)—Puerto Rico has won the New England Babe Ruth League baseball tourney and a berth in the national tourney at Farmington, N.M.

Miguel Morales struck out 16 while pitching a two-hitter to whitewash Manchester, N.H., 7-0 in yesterday's regional finals.

BRL Season Ends Tonight In Big Game

The final game of the regular season in the Babe Ruth Baseball League, rained out last night, will be played tonight at Deming Field. Grady's Newsstand, battling for the third National division play - off spot with IUE 255, will play Imperial Lanes tonight.

The league has scheduled a meeting of all coaches of teams involved in league play - offs, tonight at 8:15 at Springside House.

Bonavitacola Pitches 6-5 BR Triumph

Reliefer Preserves Grady's Tight Win; Adams Beats GE

Grady's Newsstand survived a five-run rally by IUE 255 last night to win a Babe Ruth Baseball League game at Deming Field 6-5. At Wahconah Park, Adams Market combed GE pitching for 15 hits as Johnny Russo hurled a four-hit 142 victory.

Grady's scored four runs in the second and added single tallies in the third and fourth for a 6-0 lead. Pat Bonavitacola gave up five runs as IUE rallied in the fifth, but reliefer Danny Powers preserved Bonavitacola's second win of the year.

Nick Maniatis led Grady's with two singles. Nando Delmolino had a double and Kevin Brennan, a two-run single, for the losers. Tony Gibson took the defeat.

Courtney Olds, Carl Albano and Jeff Conor had two singles and a double apiece for Adams Market. Winning pitcher Russo added a single and a triple.

Ida & John's, GEAA Win Babe Ruth Openers

Ida & John's and GEAA scored opening-day wins in the Babe Ruth Baseball League Sunday at Wahconah Park. GEAA's Tommy Grieve beat Moldmaster with a two-hit shutout and hit a two-run double in the 4-0 second game.

In the first game, each team managed only two hits but Ida & John's capitalized on six errors and three wild pitches to defeat IUE 254 by 7-2. Jerry Fresia went the distance to win, striking out 15.

Unearned Runs

Ida & John's knocked out starter Bil' Carey with just one down in the first. He already had walked two, and had thrown two wild pitches. Steve Kruczkowski relieved and gave up five more unearned runs the rest of the way.

Bill Winslow and Tom Sinopoli had singles for the winners' two safeties. For the losers, Joe Woitkowski had a long double and Kruczkowski, a run-scoring single.

After taking a 1-0 lead in the first inning, GEAA tallied another in the second on Mike Barnini's double. Grieve worked with the 2-0 edge until the bottom of the sixth, when he batted in two more with his double.

Grieve stranded 10 Moldmaster runners in 7 innings, for in addition to the two hits, he allowed seven walks. Mike Cook and losing pitcher Pat Bassi had singles off Grieve.

In games tonight, both at 6, General Electric will play Grady's Newsstand at Deming Field and Besse-Clarke will meet VFW 448 at North Junior High.

Pittsfield's Ladd Twins Named to Naval Academy

Congressman Silvio O. Conte today announced the appointment of 17-year-old Pittsfield twins, Roger Ledde and Ronald Larue Ladd, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Ladd, 98 Spandina Parkway, to the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis. They will enter with the July class.

Rep. Conte said this morning that he couldn't recall when twin brothers were admitted in the same class to Annapolis.

"At least," he commented, "I don't know of any such case in the 1st Congressional District."

Follow in Father's Steps

The Ladds are following in the footsteps of their father, a General Electric engineer, who has been assigned to Pittsfield GE for the past 12 years. Mr. Ladd was a freshman at the University of Illinois when he received his appointment to Annapolis. He entered the academy with the class of 1945, but because of a World War II acceleration program, he was graduated and commissioned in 1944. The boys went to Pittsfield public schools from Grade 1 through South Junior High School, except for Grade 2, which they attended in Key West, Fla., where their father was on temporary assignment for a year. They will graduate in June from Lenox School.

Roger Ladd, who ranks ninth in the Lenox School graduating class of 49, was a principal candidate for his appointment. His brother, who ranked fourth in the class, was a second alternate. The other principal, an Adams resident, didn't meet the physical requirements, and the first alternate, a Holyoke student at the University of Massachusetts, was outpointed by Ronald in the special Civil Service examination given for candidates to the academy. Both Ladds have been good athletes at Lenox School, having played varsity basketball, baseball and soccer. Roger was also a track man. The Ladds also scored extremely well in their College Board examinations.

Congressman Conte said that next year the special Civil Service examinations will be eliminated from the entrance process to the U.S. service academies. He said that it has been decided that a College Board examination is a better means for determining the all-round qualifications of the applicant.

Grieve Named Boy of Year, Youngest To Win the Award

Mitchell

BOY OF THE YEAR, Thomas Grieve, 15, receives the Crane Memorial Award plaque from W. Rankin Furey, Boys' Club president, at father-son program yesterday sponsored by Boys' Club Alumni Association.

Thomas Grieve, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alan B. Grieve of 486 Elm St., was named last night as "Boys' Club Boy of the Year." The ninth grade student at South Junior High School was the youngest club member yet to win the Crane Memorial Award plaque.

Grieve was honored at the annual dinner of the father-son program held in the club auditorium under sponsorship of the Boys' Club Alumni Association. W. Rankin Furey, president of the Boys' Club, made the presentation. Mr. Furey, congratulating the young award-winner and his parents, said that the new addition to the Boys' Club which was dedicated four months ago "has proven itself a huge success and its facilities, together with those offered in the old building, will be first, last and always, a place for boys." He also paid tribute to the volunteer help given by the Alumni group in assisting the widely expanded program now offered by the Boys' Club. Wilbert Stockton gave the invocation.

Albert (Bud) Curry, president of the Boys' Club Alumni, was master of ceremonies for the dinner program. He introduced the organization's board of directors and thanked the committee workers and their chairmen Nick Speranzo and Bill Kowchuk. He also presided at the drawing of door prizes, chief of which were a bicycle won by Al Barbarotta of 14 Parker St. and a two-week campership to the Boys' Club Camp Russell, won by Anthony Whiteside of 174 Dewey Ave. Numerous other prizes also were won by club members and guests.

Winners in the sports and games contests were Andrew and Tommy Cowlin in caroms, Arthur and Bob Brassard in ping-pong, James Mooney and Jeff Connor in basketball foul shooting and Charles Yon and Henry Foley in billiards.

John J. Loughlin, chairman of community activities at the club, a former state trooper, showed a half-hour film entitled "Dedicated To You," a documentary of activities and training of the Massachusetts State Police. He also answered questions from the audience following the film.

The Boys' Club gym team under the direction of Ed Plouffe, physical director, gave an exhibition before dinner.

Grieve, who will enter Pittsfield High School in the fall, has been an outstanding player in Boys' Club basketball and has captained his teams in both the Peewee and Intermediate leagues. He has also excelled in basketball, baseball and football at South and is president of his class at the school. In the 1959-60 season, he was co-winner with Frankie Scago, St. Joseph's High sophomore basketball star, of the Ted Furey award, given by the Boys' Club for outstanding qualities of sportsmanship, ability and conduct.

Grieve becomes the seventh winner of the Crane Award given to "The boy who had done most, by his conduct and interests, to encourage the acceptance of Boys' Club ideals and principles." Previous winners were Walter McHendry and Bruce Ochieano in 1958-59, Robert Butler in 1959-60, William Quinn in 1960-61 and Carmen C. Massimiano and Edward L. Rushbrook last year.

The full facilities of the Boys' Club were open to the boys and their fathers and many took advantage of the opportunity for ice skating, swimming, basketball, game room activities and inspection tours.

Local Youth Injured by Flying Bat

Robert E. Choiniere, 15, suffered severe mouth lacerations at Deming Field last night when a candidate for the Babe Ruth Baseball League lost control of a bat that he had swung. The bat flew through the air and struck the youth.

Choiniere was taken to St. Luke's Hospital for emergency treatment. The entire upper lip was spread, and 34 stitches were required to close the gaping wound. The boy was released later in the evening. X rays this morning revealed that several teeth were chipped.

Robert, a Pittsfield High sophomore, is a member of the General Electric Athletic Association team of the league. His team wasn't practicing, but he was "helping out" in the drill, according to Paul Brindle Jr., league manager.

The youth is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Choiniere of 14 Dodge Ave.

Also re-elected were James J. Frank, vice president; Colin A. Keegan, vice president; Vincent J. Hebert, treasurer; John C. Marchesi, secretary; and Paul E. Brindle Jr., league manager.

LOU RUSSO leads a well-rounded athletic life.

The 45-year-old former Pittsfield High football player has been re-elected to his sixth one-year term as president of the Babe Ruth Baseball League.

He also recently was appointed business manager of the newly-formed Pittsfield Merchants' basketball team.

These aren't all of his sports affiliations by any means. For years, he has been on the Boys' Club's senior basketball committee. He is the public address man for the Parks and Recreation Department at Wahconah Park football games. He is the able sports columnist for the General Electric Company's Works News.

THE FELLOW is so versatile, he even tried coaching. He was resident strategist for the Tyler Aces, a semipro football player here in the late 1940s before television of the National Football League games ruined the gate. He also coached in the Babe Ruth League before he was elevated to the presidency.

Lou is the first to admit he wasn't a regular on the PHS football team of 1935, one of the best in the school's history.

Yet if he had come along at about any other time, he would surely have been a first-stringer. In 1935 when Coach Chuck Stewart's team was unbeaten, tied once, and scored on but twice, Lou couldn't crack the regular combination of Jake Barnini, quarterback, Buddy Evans and Pete Kellar, halfbacks, and Steve Trepacz, fullback. Later, in the years before World War II, Lou was a sturdy back for the Pittsfield Collegians and the Asci Coal Heavers.

He had an excellent war record, winning the Silver Star for outstanding duty with an Army armored engineering unit.

Ida-John's, Besse-Clarke Win in BRL

Errors, Wildness Defeat IUE 255 And VFW Teams

Besse - Clarke and Ida and John's capitalized on the sloppy play of their opponents last night to score lopsided Babe Ruth Baseball League victories.

Besse - Clarke defeated IUE 255 by 12-5 at North Junior High, and Ida and John's blasted VFW 448 at Deming Field 5-2.

Tommy Doyle gained credit for his first win of the season as Besse-Clarke combined its eight hits and 11 walks with a series of misplays. The losers committed five errors, three passed balls, three wild pitches and one balk.

Willie Woodson lost, with relief from Tony Gibson. Gibson belted a long home run and a single, Nando Delmolino had a triple and a single, and Steve Barry added a two-run triple for the losers.

Doyle aided his own cause with a pair of singles. Other strong hitters for Besse-Clarke were Doug Hebert, with two singles and three runs batted in, and Jerry DiCicco, with a long triple.

At Deming, Jerry Fresia hurled his fifth victory of the season. He limited VFW to four hits and walked just one while striking out 13. He also had a pair of singles and two runs batted in to spark Ida and John's offense. Dan McDonald added a single and three runs batted in.

The winners totaled only seven hits, but they made good use of 10 free passes and three hit batsmen. The VFW squad committed five errors and gave five passed balls and a wild pitch. Ned Evans was the losing pitcher, with relief from Marc Kellogg. Skip Archey connected for a solo homer for the losers.

Tonight, General Electric is scheduled against Imperial Lanes at Deming, and IUE 254 is slated to meet Adams Super Market at North Junior High.

Rain halted both games last night in the Babe Ruth Baseball League. Besse-Clarke & Ida and John's went two innings before the weather stepped in and erased Besse Clarke's 5-1 lead, while VFW and Union Federal were tied in the second when the rain started.

Two triples by Buddy Reddington and a single and triple by Kenny Marshall drove in four of Besse Clarke's runs at North Junior High Field. At Deming field, Connie Caritey hit a home run to account for Union Federal's two runs.

Both games have been rescheduled for Saturday afternoon at 2, July 6. Tonight at Deming field GEAA is slated to play Imperial Lanes and General Electric will take on Moldmaster at North Junior. Tomorrow afternoon at 2 Union Federal and GEAA play at Deming Field and Moldmaster and Adams Super Market are at North Junior.

Tonight Union Federal and IUE 255 will meet at Deming Field and VFW and General Electric will face each other at Wahconah Park.

Babe Ruth Nationals Open In State Tourney Tomorrow

The Pittsfield Babe Ruth National League All-Stars, baseball champions of District 1, will be playing their first game in the Babe Ruth state tournament tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 at Williams Street Playground in Longmeadow against the West County All-Stars, Worcester area champions. Medford and Randolph clubs will clash in the tourney opener at 1.

The local team will leave for Longmeadow from Springside House at noon tomorrow by private cars and will dress for the game at Longmeadow High School. Players and officials of the squad will attend a dinner put on by the Longmeadow and state Babe Ruth officials tomorrow night at 7.

The state meeting before the tournament will take place at 10 tomorrow morning at the Longmeadow Community House. Each tournament entry must be represented. Birth certificates and all records of each league will be examined at that time. Representing the Nationals will be James Frank, district director, Paul Brindle Jr., league manager, and Dick Grady, All-Star team manager.

For the first time in 12 years of all-star play every member of the local team was born in Pittsfield. The Nationals have won four tournament games and have batted .324 in tournament competition. Their opponents have batted only .153 off pitcher Jerry Fresia, who has won two games. Pat Gloria and Pat Bonavitacola have been credited with a victory apiece.

Either Fresia or Tom Grieve probably will start today. If Fresia goes, Grieve will be at first base. If Grieve starts, Fresia will be in left field.

GEAA Wins Tilt From Grady's; GE Defeats IUE 254

Tommy Grieve hurled a three-hit shutout to give GEAA a 6-0 win over Grady's in Babe Ruth Baseball League action at Deming Field last night. At Wahconah Park, GE took a 7-5 decision from IUE 254.

Grieve struck out 12 as GEAA scored four in the first and never were challenged. Losing pitcher Pat Bonavitacola was wild, walking 10. The winners had just five hits, one a two-run single by Bernie Rosenblum in the first.

Each team managed just four hits at Wahconah, but GE took advantage of Steve Kruczkowski's early wildness to fight back from a 4-0 deficit. IUE 254 had scored four in the top of the first on two walks, two doubles and a single.

Winning pitcher Dave Allen held IUE hitless from the first through the seventh when Bruce Eulian hit a single as the losers rallied for one run. Kruczkowski did not allow a hit after the second inning.

Tonight, IUE 255 will play Moldmaster at Deming, and Ida & John's will meet Adams Super Market at Wahconah.

West County BR Team Eliminates Nationals

LONGMEADOW — A hard-hitting West County Babe Ruth All-Star baseball team of Leicester scored seven runs in the first three innings, an advantage too great for the Pittsfield National League All-Stars to overcome, and the mid-state club went on to a 13-8 victory to kill the Berkshire County team's chance in the Massachusetts championship tournament Saturday afternoon at Williams Street Playground.

Yesterday's Results

Pittsfield beat Randolph 7-6 in the consolation contest yesterday. Medford took the state crown by downing the Leicester Club 3-0 in the title game yesterday. Medford knocked off Randolph 7-0 Saturday.

In spite of the seven - run lead, Pittsfield made a game of it Saturday by scoring two runs in the fourth inning and three in the fifth to close the gap to 7-5. West County added five more in the sixth to put the game out of reach, and added an insurance run in the seventh in a last-ditch effort.

Fast - balling Bill Mattei went all the way for West County although he gave up 11 hits and five walks. He struck out six.

Jerry Fresia started for the Nationals. He was reached for 11 hits, five walks and seven runs. Pat Gloria went the next 2 2-3 innings. He gave up two hits, five bases on balls and five runs. Tom Grieve came from behind the plate to finish up.

Mattei set Pittsfield down in order in the first three innings. In the fourth Joe Gallagher was hit by a pitch. Singles by Grieve, Connie Garitey and Mark Farrell produced two runs.

Add Three More

Singles by Gloria, Kevin Brennan, Gallagher and Grieve accounted for three more runs for Pittsfield in the fifth to make the score 7-5. A combination of four hits, three walks, an error, two wild pitches and a passed ball gave West County five runs in the sixth and a 12-5 edge.

Ronny Leno drove in five runs for West County with two base hits. Mattei helped his cause with three hits and two RBIs. Ed Griffith had a perfect day with three singles and two bases on balls.

Grieve was the heavy hitter for Pittsfield with two safeties and three RBIs. Garitey also had two hits.

The wild and woolly contest took 2 hours and 37 minutes. A crowd of about 300 watched the action. An estimated 100 were from Pittsfield.

West County lost a run in the fifth inning when Dean Maher circled the bases after clouting one into some bushes in right-center field. However he failed to touch first base and was called out on an appeal play.

The Pittsfield Nationals fashioned their third-place finish on the clutch relief pitching of 13-year-old Tony Gibson, who relieved starter Pat Bonavitacola in the third after Randolph had scored five of its six runs.

Tommy Grieve was hitting star again with a pair of long triples and a single, good for three runs batted in.

Randolph opened the game with a single tally in the first, but Pittsfield bounced back with three. Grieve and Jerry Fresia belted back - to - back triples after a walk, and Dave Kearns followed with a single to knock in the third run of the inning.

Trailing by two, Randolph scored one in the second and took a 5-3 lead with three in the third on three walks and three singles.

Hits Second Triple

Pittsfield rallied for a 6-5 lead with a three-run outburst in the fourth. Grieve's second triple and a single by Joe Gallagher were the key hits.

In the top of the fifth, Bob McGonigle tripled and came home on a sacrifice squeeze by Bob Verzone. Pittsfield broke the 6-6 tie in the bottom of the fifth. Kearns reached base on his second single, took second on a passed ball and scored on a pinch single by Fred Sangiovanni.

Losing pitcher was George Charron, who relieved starter Jack Hurley in the fourth.

In regular league games here tonight, IUE 254 is scheduled to Park and Ida and John's is slated against GEAA at Deming Field.

Ida-John's Cops BR Title; IUE, VFW, GEAA Score

Ida & John's Tuesday clinched the National division championship of the Babe Ruth Baseball League with a 12-6 victory over IUE 255 at Deming Field. IUE 254 defeated General Electric 9-7 at North Junior High.

Last night, in games stopped by the 15-run rule, VFW 448 trounced Moldmaster 18-3 in six innings at North Junior High, and GEAA blanked Union Federal 15-0 in three innings at Deming.

Jerry Fresia hurled his eighth win of the season as Ida & John's took an early lead and held it the rest of the way. Losing pitcher was Paul Ricciarini, with relief from Tony Gibson in the fifth.

For the winners, Charlie Beuth had a triple and a single. Joe Gallagher and Dan McDonald had two singles each. Willie Woodson paced the losers with a triple and a single. Pete Ricciarini made a pair of singles, and Kevin Brennan added a double.

Trailing 7-0 in the sixth, IUE 254 erupted for nine runs on a pair of walks, a hit-batsman, four doubles and two singles. Tommy Rilla had pitched two-hit shutout ball through the first five frames.

IUE 254 starter Steve Kruczkowski pirmitted only two hits, but he walked 12 in less than four innings. GE tallied four times in the second on four walks and three errors. After Rilla belted a homer in the fourth to make the score 7-0, Mike Kane relieved Kruczkowski and pitched hitless, runless relief for three and two-thirds innings.

Kane led the winning rally with a pair of doubles. Joe Woitkowski slugged a three-run double, and Bill Carey and Bill Watroba made two hits apiece.

Ned Evans Stars

Ned Evans starred on the mound and at the plate for VFW. He fanned nine and allowed only two walks and three hits, limiting Moldmaster to three runs in the third. At bat, he went four for five, including a double and a triple, scored four runs and drove in a pair.

In all, VFW tallied its 18 runs on eight hits, 12 walks and eight fielding errors. Starter Pat Bassi took the loss, with relief from Mike Cook.

Union Federal starter Mike Carity walked the first five batters in the opening inning for GEAA, which pounded reliefer Fred Sangiovanni and scored eight runs before the side went out. The winners rallied for seven in the bottom of the third to end the game.

Winning pitcher Pat Gloria was very effective, allowing only two hits, striking out five and walking none in three frames. Norm Cheever had two singles and four runs batted in.

Tonight, Grady's Newsstand (7-7) will play Imperial Lanes (2-12) at Deming, and Besse-Clarke (9-5) will meet Adams Markets (3-12) at Wahconah Park.

City BRL Nationals Beat Holyoke, Sweep District

On the strength of an 8-6 victory over the Holyoke Americans Saturday afternoon at Wahconah Park, the Pittsfield Nationals won the District 1 title and advanced to the Babe Ruth Baseball League state tournament opening in Longmeadow this weekend.

Holyoke managed just three hits off Gerry Fresia and Tommy Grieve, but wildness and errors kept the District 1B champions in contention. Eight walks, six wild pitches and one hit-batsman kept Pittsfield in trouble most of the way.

Roy Brosseau belted a bases-loaded triple to left in the first inning after a pair of walks and an error. Pittsfield closed to 3-2 in the second and assumed a 5-3 lead in the third on four bunt singles, a pair of stolen bases and a throwing error.

Starter Replaced

Holyoke pushed across a single run in the fourth to narrow the margin. In the bottom of the fourth, Joe Gallagher, who had scored Pittsfield's first run in the first on Grieve's booming triple to deep center, collected his second hit of the game but was stranded on third. Mark Ripa replaced starter and loser Randy Watkins on the mound.

After a walk and two bunts had loaded the bases for Pittsfield in the fifth, Gallagher laid down a perfect sacrifice squeeze and two runners crossed the plate to give the team a 7-4 lead.

The Berkshire County representatives tallied an insurance run in the sixth after Holyoke had scored twice. In the top of the seventh, Grieve walked two and hit a batter to load the bases, but he fanned Carl Dunn to end the contest.

Four district representatives will open competition in Longmeadow Saturday. In addition to Pittsfield, these will be the Worcester champion and two district leaders from Eastern Massachusetts. The tourney winner will advance to the regional playoffs in Cranston, R.I., the following weekend, with play commencing Thursday, Aug. 8.

Babe Ruth League Opens Season Ticket Campaign

The Babe Ruth Baseball League for boys from 13 through 15 years of age today opened a season ticket campaign. In a letter to all league players, President Louis J. Russo stressed that this will be the only time during the year the league will ask for financial help.

League Manager Paul Brindle said that tickets have been distributed to all member teams.

Russo's letter revealed that the boys will receive baseball equipment as a reward for outstanding sales records.

The letter in full follows:

This year, as in past years, the directors have decided to have another season ticket campaign rather than pass the hat at each game. So, therefore, each boy in the league will be asked to sell season tickets which we expect you will sell to your parents, relatives, friends, and anyone else interested in seeing boys like you play baseball.

"We need your help, and this is the only time we will be asking you to help out the league financially. Also for your effort in selling tickets the directors have agreed to reward you with the following: For selling 10 tickets a Babe Ruth League baseball. For selling 15 tickets a Louisville Slugger bat. For selling 25 tickets a pair of spike shoes (cost $9). For selling 50 tickets a baseball glove (cost $20).

"Your coach will supply you with the tickets which will be given out in lots of 10. When you have sold 10 tickets, you will be required to turn in $10 ($1 per ticket) to your coach who will then give you 10 more tickets. Each boy will be responsible for the tickets he will receive, so please keep control of them at all times. A tally will be kept of how many tickets you have sold and when the deadline of June 15 arrives you will receive your rewards.

"When you are selling tickets, always remember that you are a representative of the Babe Ruth League and the Department of Parks and Recreation, which sponsors the league by providing umpires, baseballs and field facilities. Be a gentleman at all times, be courteous and polite and tell the people how much you appreciate a chance to play and how anxious you are to make it possible for other boys to have the same opportunity."

Bonavitacola Pitches 6-5 BR Triumph

Reliefer Preserves Grady's Tight Win; Adams Beats GE

Grady's Newsstand survived a five-run rally by IUE 255 last night to win a Babe Ruth Baseball League game at Deming Field 6-5. At Wahconah Park, Adams Market combed GE pitching for 15 hits as Johnny Russo hurled a four-hit 142 victory.

Grady's scored four runs in the second and added single tallies in the third and fourth for a 6-0 lead. Pat Bonavitacola gave up five runs as IUE rallied in the fifth, but reliefer Danny Powers preserved Bonavitacola's second win of the year.

Nick Maniatis led Grady's with two singles. Nando Delmolino had a double and Kevin Brennan, a two-run single, for the losers. Tony Gibson took the defeat.

Courtney Olds, Carl Albano and Jeff Conor had two singles and a double apiece for Adams Market. Winning pitcher Russo added a single and a triple.

Tommy Rilla was the losing pitcher, with relief from Mark Mitchell and Shaun Broderick. Gary Papallo had a long double for GE.

Duda and Murphy Combine To Hurl BR No-Hit Game

In Babe Ruth League baseball games last night, Johnny Duda and Pat Murphy combined to no-hit Grady's as IUE 254 scored a 15-2 win at Deming Field, and General Electric rallied for three runs in the bottom of the seventh to edge Ida & John's 9-8 in the waning twilight at Wahconah Park.

Duda, who pitched two-thirds of an inning against Moldmaster Monday, was forced to leave after six hitless innings last night. Murphy preserved the no-hitter with a sharp one-inning relief stint.

Joe Woitkowski led the IUE attack with five RBIs on a double and a triple. Bruce Eulian had a homer and a single, and Steve Kruczkowski added a triple to the 12-hit total. Dick DelGallo was the losing pitcher.

The game at Wahconah was held up 22 minutes at the outset because of the sun, and the seventh inning was played in near darkness. Ida & John's carried an 8-6 lead into the final frame but came out with its first defeat of the young season.

Pitcher Hits Too

Winning pitcher Dave Allen tripled to knock in the tying runs in the seventh and then scored the decisive tally on Paul Pierce's third hit and fifth RBI of the night. Ronny Goyette had a triple and three singles.

For the losers, Jerry Fresia had three RBIs on three singles; Tom Sinopoli had a double and a single, and Bill Winslow and Dave McDonald had two singles each. Dan Gall was the losing pitcher.

Two games rained out Wednesday evening will be replayed this morning at 10, with Union Federal against Imperial Lanes at Deming and Adams Super Market against IUE 25 5at Wahconah.

Imperial fell behind 2-0 in the first inning, and Union Federal scored nine runs in the third to knock out starter and loser Kevin Connolly. Mark Farrell managed two singles off Caritey to pace the Imperial offense.

Despite wildness, Willie Woodson scattered 5 hits and struck out 16 to earn his second win for IUE 255. The victors tallied four in the first and four in the second to put the game out of Adams' reach.

Leading the 14-hit IUE attack were Pete Riccarini with two triples and a single, Paul Riccarini and Mike Mougin with two singles apiece, and Woodson with a three-run triple.

Bassi, Evans Hurl Two-Hit Wins in Babe Ruth Games

Fine pitching highlighted last night's Babe Ruth League baseball games as Moldmaster edged Besse-Clarke 1-0 and VFW defeated GEAA 4-1. Winning pitchers Pat Bassi and Ned Evans hurled masterful two-hitters.

Bassi and Tommy Doyle were locked in a scoreless duel at Wahconah Park through five innings. Moldmaster broke the scoring ice in the top of the sixth when Gene Curletti walked, advanced to second on a ground out and scored on Jackie Clark's triple. Clark was out and scored on Jackie Clark's triple. Clark was out at the plate trying to stretch his hit into a home run.

Bassi finished his shutout and gained his second victory of the season. Loser Doyle permitted just five hits. Besse-Clarke's two safeties were a long triple by Don Lucaroni and a single by Buddy Reddington.

At Deming Field, VFW took an early 3-0 lead and Evans kept GEAA under control all the way. He struck out 12 and walked but 2. The winners combined three hits and six walks for their four runs.

Phil Degnan had two singles and Skip Archey, a double for VFW. Bob Choinere and Joe Esposito singled for GEAA. Tommy Grieve struck out six in taking the loss.

Tonight, Grady's will play IUE 25 at Deming, and GE will meet Adams Super Market at Wahconah.

NEW RECORD in Babe Ruth League ticket sales was set this year by Carl Sherman, right, who sold 150 tickets to surpass the previous mark of 93 set by Paul E. Brindle Jr., left, ticket chairman and league manager.

Carl Sherman Sets Record For Sales

Boy Sells 150 BRL Tickets, Outsells Brindle

The manager and top ticket salesman of the Babe Ruth League has been outsold by one of his teen-aged charges — and he's delighted to lose his title.

The former record of 93 ticket sales, set by Paul E. Brindle Jr., ticket chairman and league manager, has been shattered by a new mark of 150 set by Carl Sherman, one of the loop's young participants.

"I really thought my old record would never be broken," Brindle said in commending Carl this week. Citing the new top salesman as an example for the other boys in the league, Brindle said:

"I only wish we had 10 boys like him. Then the league wouldn't be $500 in the hole"

Noting the fact that after this year's tryouts 83 boys were left who could not play Babe Ruth League ball because of a shortage of teams, Brindle said he feels the league must add four or six teams next year.

"I would like to see the day that when a boy tries out he automatically goes on a team," he said. "But it's up to the 180 boys who are playing this year to make my dream come true. They have got to come through and sell those tickets."

Grady's, GE Score Wins In BR Tilts

Ned Evans Belts Third Home Run In Two Contests

Grady's Newsstand handed Besse-Clarke its first loss of the season yesterday in Babe Ruth League baseball. The winners were outhit, seven to three, but rallied in the late innings for a 5-1 victory. In a slug-fest, General Electric outlasted VFW 9-7.

At Wahconah Park, Grady's starter Pat Bonavitacola developed arm trouble in the second inning and had to be relieved by Dan Powers. Besse-Clarke had men on the bases in every inning, but Powers held them scoreless to gain his first win of the season.

Blanked through the first four frames, Grady's came up with four in the fifth when Jim Pero walked two and hit one to set up the rally. An error, two fielders' choices and a single by Dick Klemansky brought home four tallies. Klemansky had two other singles off Pero.

Pete Russo drove in Besse-Clarke's run in the second with a long triple. Pero added two singles.

Tommy Rilla went all the way for GE at Deming Field to pick up his first win. Mitch Massaconi was the loser, with relief from Ned Evans in the seventh.

Hitting leaders for GE were Mike Scipione with three singles, Ronny Goyette with a double and a single, and Pete LeBlanc and Bob Doyle with two singles apiece.

Evans hit his third home run in two games for VFW. He also had a double and a single. Skip Archey added a home run to the losing offense.

In games today, Union Federal will play Imperial Lanes at Deming Field and Adams Super Markets will meet IUE 255 at Wahconah Park. There are no games scheduled for tomorrow.

Besse-Clarke and Imperial Score Babe Ruth Victories

Besse-Clarke rallied to beat General Electric 12-9 and Imperial Lanes held off Adams Market to win 10-7 in Babe Ruth Baseball League games yesterday.

At North Junior High, Besse-Clarke took a 6-2 lead into the bottom of the fifth, when GE scored seven runs to assume the lead at 9-6. But the victors came back with five in the sixth to regain the lead.

Tommy Doyle, who had pitched four strong innings, left in favor of Doug Hebert after the GE surge. Hebert allowed just one hit the rest of the ay to pick up the win.

Ronny Goyette's three-run homer and Dave Allen's triple, both in the fifth, were the big blows for GE. Paul Pierce managed three singles for the losers.

For Besse-Clarke, Jerry DiCicco had a double and three singles, Buddy Reddington had a double and a single, and Kenny Marshall ad Hebert had two singles apiece.

Losing pitcher Tom Rilla gave up 13 hits, walked 10 and hit 2 batters.

In a five-inning contest at Deming Field, Imperial scored its first win of the season against Adams Markets. The winners jumped to a 10-1 advantage in the top of the fourth and then survived two three-run rallies by the losers.

Dave Kearns was the winning pitcher for Imperial. Don Gattasso, who gave up three runs in the first, was the losing pitcher. Pete Vacchina and Alan Olds relieved for the Adams team.

Hitting leaders for Imperial were Shaun Harrington, with a two-run double, and Mark Farrell, with two singles. Mike Chesney had three RBIs on a double and a single for Adams Markets.

This afternoon, VFW 448 will play Grady's Newstand at Deming, and Unin Federal will meet IUE 255 at North Junior High. Make-up games tomorrow morning at 10 will pit Grady's against GE at Deming and Besse-Clarke VFW at North Junior High.

Mark Farrell Sets Record With .545

Imperial Catcher Has Highest Mark In 12 BRL Years

Mark Farrell, 15-year-old catcher for Imperial Lanes, won the batting crown of the Babe Ruth Baseball League's National Division this year with an average of .545, highest ever recorded in 12 seasons of Babe Ruth play in the city.

Farrell made 30 hits in 55 appearances. He struck out only once during the season.

Jerry Fresia of Ida & John's was the league's leading pitcher with an 8-1 record. Pat Gloria of GEAA and Willie Woodson of IUE 255 had 4-2 records, and GEAA's Tom Grieve was 4-3.

Leading Hitters

Connie Caritey of Union Federal also topped .500 in batting. He had 28 hits in 54 trips for a .519 average. Three others hit over .400—Grieve (.449) and Dick Klemansky and Nick Maniatis, both of Grady's Newsstand (.438).

Joe Albano of GEAA hit .387, followed by Mike Doolan of Union Federal (.378), Fresia (.375), Fred Sangiovanni (.344), and Pete and Paul Ricciarini of IUE 255 (.333).

In other offensive categories, Grieve had the most runs batted in, 21, and Caritey had 20. Grieve, Caritey and Sangiovanni shared the homer lead with two apiece. Caritey made six doubles, and Grieve belted five triples. Tony Gibson of IUE 255 stole 19 bases. Gibson and Tom Lonabocker of GEAA drew 17 walks apiece.

Jeff Nicholson threw a one-hitter last night as Besse-Clarke blanked GEAA 4-0 in a Babe Ruth League baseball game at Deming Field. At Wahconah Park, Moldmaster came from behind to defeat VFW 4-3.

Nicholson mystified GEAA, Tom Grieve connecting for the lone single off him, as Pete Russo belted a long home run and Doug Hebert had two singles for Besse-Clarke. Pat Gloria was the losing pitcher.

VFW scored three times in the first inning on triples by Skip Archey, Ned Evans and Phil Degnan. But Moldmaster starter and winner Roger Douillet pitched two-hit ball over the last six innings as his teammates rallied with two runs in the sixth and one in the seventh to overcome a 3-1 deficit.

For Moldmaster, Gene Curletti, Cliff Nilan and Pat Bassi had two hits apiece. Loser Degnan was in trouble in every inning, but steady fielding prevented bigger scoring outbursts by Moldmaster.

Tonight, Grady's Newsstand will play Adams Market at Deming Field and IUE 254 will meet Imperial Lanes at Wahconah Park. Tomorrow night's General Electric-Union Federal game scheduled at Wahconah Park will be played at North Junior High instead.

Eddie Connolly Jr., former St. Joseph's High and University of Massachusetts ace, continues to pitch in hard luck for the Reading (Pa.) Red Sox of the Eastern Baseball League. In two starts alst week against the league-leading Charleston, W. Va., club, he struck out 28 batters in 22 innings, yet didn't win either game.

A week ago last night, Eddie fanned 13 in nine innings, but rain forced termination of the game with the score tied at 4-4.

On Friday evening, he whiffed 15 batters in working 13 complete innings before he left with the count knotted at 4-4. Charleston won 9-4 with a five-run splurge in the 18th. Thirteen of Eddie's strikeouts came in the regulation nine innings.

His strikeout total now is 150.

Douillet Pitches One-Hit Shutout Victory in BRL

Roger Douillet faced the minimum 18 batters and allowed just one hit last night as Moldmaster blanked Union Federal 12-0 in a Babe Ruth Baseball League game at Wahconah Park. Grady's Newsstand beat Imperial Lanes 7-5 at Deming Field.

Loses No-Hitter

Douillet had a no-hitter until the bottom of the fifth, when Jim Nagle beat out a slow roller down the third base line. He took third on an error, but was out at the plate trying to score on a grounder by Connie Caritey, who later stole second but was picked off the bag.

The victory was Douillet's second of the season. The loss went to Mike Caritey, who was wild and suffered from the seven errors his mates committed. Bob Sykes mopped up effectively against Moldmaster. Billy Monteleone paced the winning offense with three singles and four runs batted in. Pat Bassi had two singles and two runs batted in. Moldmaster started slowly with one in the first, then added three in the third and exploded for eight in the fourth.

At Deming, Danny Powers won his second game as Grady's relied in the late innings. Dave Kearns was the loser, giving up just five hits. He walked 12 and struck out the same number.

For the winners, Dick Klemansky had two singles and Dick DelGallo punched an important two-run single. Mark Farrell continued his hot hitting for Imperial with a double and two singles. Kevin Connolly had two singles, and Kearns contributed a two-run double.

Tonight, General Electric will play IUE 255 at Deming and Adams Super Market will meet VFW 448 at Wahconah.

Moldmaster Explodes To Top Imperial Lanes

Adams Super Markets nipped Besse-Clarke 2-1 in the first extra-inning baseball game of the Pittsfield Babe Ruth League season last night at Wahconah Park. Wayne Farnsworth singled home Johnny Russo with the clincher in the top of the eighth inning. Russo received the first of two walks in the inning.

At Deming Field, Moldmaster came from behind with an eight-run explosion in the top of the sixth to beat Imperial Lanes 12-6.

In the Wahconah Park contest, which was held up for 35 minutes because of the sun, the Super Markets team tied up the game in the sixth inning on three Besse-Clarke errors. Both winner Russo and loser Tommy Doyle pitched two-hitters. Base hits by Gary Wowk and Buddy Reddington accounted for Besse's only score.

Pat Bassi got the win for Moldmaster. Shaun Harrington was the loser for Imperial Lanes. He was relieved by Kevin Connolly. Mike Cook and Roger Douillet had two singles each in the big inning for Moldmaster. Mark Farrell had two base hits for the losers.

Games tonight will have IUE 254 and VFW meeting at Wahconah Park and GEAA and IUE 255 playing at Deming Field.

Corky's Chance

JUN 17 1963

FAIR OR FOUL

By Roger O'Gara

IN RECENT years, most of the chances in professional baseball have gone to young men who have been blessed with superior physical equipment. The doors have swung open for iron-armed pitchers, batters with co-ordinated power and keen vision and fielders with automatic gloves and matching throwing apparatus. That's why it's so refreshing to note that an opportunity has been given to a youth who liked the sport so much, he worked long, hard, lonesome hours to perfect his skills. The reference is to Corky Schmoyer, signed last week by the Boston Red Sox.

Corky may never have his name on a locker at Fenway Park, but he already has put more into this game than many who have. For Corky made himself a hitter as a comparative infant by practicing the roll of the wrists in his back yard.

A comparative mite through his days as a Little and Babe Ruth Leaguer, Corky early realized that there was more to batting than a mere swing at the ball. So he worked incessantly to improve the way he met a pitch.

o—o

WE SAW HIM first as a North Little Leaguer. He smashed a home run over the left field fence at Clapp Park in an all-star tournament game against the East League. The East then covered the area that now belongs to the South. Pittsfield had only three Little Leagues then. It now has four.

Corky hit consistently well throughout his three seasons in the Ruth League. By the time he became a high school regular at St. Joseph's, he was genuinely respected for his ability to drive a long ball.

Late in high school, he began to gain some size. That, with the special trick he already had learned, made him a young man to be feared by all pitchers. As a senior at St. Joseph's, he actually stung the baseball.

o—o

CORRESPONDENTS at the University of Massachusetts reported that outfielders were taking triples and home runs away from him on many of the open fields. He boasted respectable averages, nonethless, through his sophomore and junior years.

What happened to him as a senior? There had been no explanation all spring as to why this good hitter had slumped so badly in average.

The Red Sox knew the story. It's a scout's business to explain why he is interested in signing a youngster who bats only .181 as a college senior. That was Corky's mark the past season.

Corky always has been a polite, respectful boy, not given to idle boasting or fresh talk.

However, he isn't any blushing violet either, or he wouldn't be venturing forth into the jungle of low classification minor league ball.

We asked him about his batting average, which was only six points above his weight.

"Frankly, I was hitting the ball just as well as I ever have, but I was in hard luck all spring," he said. "I hit too many right to someone."

o—o

THE RED SOX signed Corky as a hitter. That has to be his chief value. You can shake glove men out of trees, as the guy said. And Corky would be the first to admit he won't challenge Maury Wills or Luis Aparicio for base-stealing honors. He's no gazelle.

Milt Bolling, the handsome ex-Red Sox infielder, who now is singing young talent for alma mater followed Corky a long time. He liked the serious young man's bat, and shrugged his shoulders at the anemic average. Corky said Milt told him he'll be the second baseman at Statesville, N.C. of the Western Carolina League. He'll be a teammate of Bruce Gallagher of North Adams.

Second base is the position at which Corky played most in college. However, he originally was a shortstop. That was his post through kid and high school ball. He was at third base as a sophomore regular, then Coach Earl Lorden shifted him to second.

Corky has a strong arm, so could adjust to any position to which the Sox assign him.

o—o

CORKY CERTAINLY has more things going for him than most boys who make their professional baseball debut.

He's devoted to the game, and already knows what hard work will do for a player. His own is a case in point.

Being away from home won't bother him. He already has had three years of that. His last baseball here was a member of the Pittsfield American Legion team of 1959. After that, he played three summers with the Chatham team of the Cape Cod League. His hitting was one of the big factors in Chatham's drive to the pennant last summer.

Incidentally, know who took Corky's place as Pittsfield Legion shortstop in June, 1960. Fellow by the name of Mark Belanger, who also is in organized baseball. Mark's name currently is on the Baltimore Orioles' national defense list.

Corky's intelligence also should serve him in good stead. He's a bright boy. His youthful application to rolling the wrists indicated a sharpness of realization most boys of his age wouldn't possess. He was graduated No. 1 in his class at St. Joseph's. He majored in mathematics at Massachusetts. His credentials were so good, the International Business Machine Corporation offered him a fine opportunity after he was graduated.

It was so good, Corky had to like baseball an awful lot to decline it. That liking, the fine balance between mind and body, and the quiet determination may send this great kid father than many of the big, bright-eyed, bonus boys.

VFW, Adams BRL Teams Score 12-4, 10-8 Wins

In Babe Ruth Baseball League games last night, VFW finished strong to beat Adams Market 12-4 and IUE 25 outlasted GE for a 10-8 victory.

Ned Evans registered his second pitching victory for VFW with a four-hitter at Wahconah Park. He walked 7 but struck out 13. His mates made 9 hits, but took advantage of 10 walks. The game was tied 3-3 after four innings, but VFW scored three runs in each of the last three innings to win going away.

Paul Martino knocked in four runs for the winners on a triple and a single. Tom Sherman knocked in three with a pair of singles, and Steve Teal added a single and a double. Losing pitcher was Paul Vacchina, who also had two of his team's four hits.

The IUE 255 team managed just five hits off Alex Borelli and Bob Doyle, but 12 errors by GE provided the margin of victory at Deming Field. Doyle took the loss, while Kevin Brennan won with relief from Pete Riccarini and Willie Woodson.

Tonight, the schedule shows Ida and John's against Grady's Newsstand at Deming in a battle for first place in the league's National division, and IUE 254 against Besse-Clarke at Wahconah. Tomorrow morning at 10, Tuesday's rain-outs will be played, with GEAA against IUE 255 at Deming, and IUE 254 against VFW at Wahconah.

IUE Downs Besse-Clarke; Ida & John's Tops Grady's

IUE 254 nipped Besse-Clarke 2-0 in an American Babe Ruth League game at Wahconah Park last night and Ida & John's crushed Grady's Newsstand 9-1 in a National League game at Deming Field.

There will be no Babe Ruth League games Monday night because of junior high school proms. All games scheduled for Wahconah Park next week will be played at North Junior High School.

The IUE-Besse-Clarke game was decided in the top of the sixth when Joe Woitkoski smacked an inside-the-park homer with Johnny Duda on base. Besse-Clarke left fielder Don Lucaroni made a valiant try for the catch, but fell down.

Last night's victory cemented Ida & John's firmly in first place with a 5-1 record. The winners scored a triple play in the fifth when second baseman Joe Gallagher snared a line drive, stepped on second for a force-out and fired to first baseman Dan McDonald in time to nab the batter.

SIGNING ON THE DOTTED LINE is Corky Schmoyer, who became a member of the Boston Red Sox baseball organization yesterday while Red Sox scout Milt Bolling, left, and Corky's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Sheron Schmoyer, look on. Capital Outlay Projects For $220,000 Approved

About $220,000 will be taken from surplus revenue to pay for capital outlay projects, the Capital Outlay Committee decided last night. This is $9,000 more than allotted last year.

The Public Works Department will receive the lion's share. Some $173,363 was granted the department, which had requested projects costing $2.5 million. PWD projects include a sewer and water line for Holmes Road near the new bridge across the Housatonic River, plus the purchase of two street sweepers.

The department also will receive $67,000 for equipment and $27,000 for supplies. No allowance was made for labor as in past years.

The Public Buildings Department received $28,000 for new boilers at Redfield School, and $7,700 to paint the second floor at Pittsfield High School.

About $9,000 was granted for requests of the Parks and Recreation Department. Some $1,500 was tabbed for a backstop at Lakewood Playground, with $3,500 earmarked for an asphalt basketball court at Springside Playground. Stairs in the public park at Onota Lake will cost $3,000, and a fence at Allendale Playground will cost $1,000.

DeBonis First Candidate To Take Papers

Frank J. DeBonis of 258 First St. became the first "definite candidate" to take out nomination papers this morning at the city clerk's office. He is running for an at-large seat on the City Council.

City Clerk John J. Fitzgerald announced today that nomination papers are now available for those wishing to be candidates in the primary elections this fall.

Candidates have until 5 p.m. Sept. 17 to submit completed papers to the Registrars of Voters for certification of signatures. The papers must then be filed with the city clerk no later than 5 p.m. of Sept. 24.

Candidates for mayor and at-large City Council seats need 300 certified signatures to become official nominees, while those running for ward positions on the School Committee and Council need 50 signatures.

Primary elections will be Oct. 15. The regular election is set for Nov. 5.

A new law passed by the state legislature last year will apply to primary election ballots. Candidates will be allowed to have a maximum of eight words next to their names on the ballot explaining their political accomplishments. A candidate may state that he is an incumbent, former officer holder (if such is the case) and a veteran. This law dows not apply to the regular election ballot.

Spending Spree

To the Editor of THE EAGLE:—

It seems the more people have, the more people want. True, things cost more. Why wouldn't they when labor and everything else gets so high? If this keeps up we'll be a ghost city, with stores and apartments empty. If people can't live on $5,000 a year, how do they expect retired people to hold onto their houses or live on $1,000? It's true everybody would like more but these salary demands by city employes should be put on the ballot and let the people vote on them. Surely time has come to stop this spending spree.

200 Honor Dillon at Victory Party

Mayor-Elect Presented Purse And Portrait

Nearly 200 men and women, who turned out last night for a victory party for Mayor-Elect Robert B. Dillon at the Stanley Club, vigorously applauded when they heard toastmaster Joseph L. Bolster declare: "We elected a wonderful person to be our mayor. He is the quintessence of intellectual honesty. This is hard to come by. This is a rarity."

Louis J. Russo, the scheduled toastmaster, began the proceedings but laryngitis bested him and Mr. Bolster substituted.

Portrait Presented

Charles (Chuck) H. Wise, a lifelong friend of Mr. Dillon, presented him in behalf of the assembled guests, a large charcoal portrait of the new mayor by artist William J. Schultz Jr. and a purse. Mr. Wise noted that another lifelong friend of his honor-elect, photo engraver Charles D. Gilson, made the program which included a reproduction of Mr. Dillon on the front cover. Mrs. Dillon was given a bouquet.

After noting that he could not have attained the mayoralty without the help of so many people and emphasizing his thanks for their assistance, Mr. Dillon declared: "I want good government and I know you want it. I can't do it alone. I need your help. I want it."

The mayor-elect said it was impossible to single out all who assisted him in the election, since there were so many, but he cited two, his son, Danny, who is in the Army, and his wife, Madeline.

"When I told my wife I was going to run for mayor she said she wasn't going to help," Mr. Dillon laughingly said. He added, however, that she pitched right in and worked from "8 in the morning until 9 at night."

Besides a letter from his son, Daniel, striking both humorous and serious notes, several wires were read. Another son, Robert Jr., spoke briefly.

At The Head Table

Seated at the head table, besides the guest of honor and his wife, were: Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Dillon Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Powell of Boynton Beach, Fla. (Mrs. Powell is the former Betty Ann Dillon, one of the Dillon's five children); Mr. and Mrs. George Yannone, (Mrs. Yannone is another daughter) Thomas, a son, a student at Boston College; Mrs. Daniel Dillon; a brother, Thomas, and Mrs. Dillon of Newton; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Russo and state Democratic Committeeman and Mrs. Gerard Doherty of Charleston. Mrs. Doherty is Mr. Dillon's niece.

Mrs. Mary Coughter, formerly of Pittsfield, came the farthest distance for the affair. Mrs. Coughter, wife of the late Charles Coughter, now resides in Grosse Point Farms, Mich.

The committee included: Mr. Wise, Mr. Gilson, James J. Archey, Samuel J. Quadrozzi, Rudolph A. Sacco, Guy A. Pellegrinelli Sr. and Guy A. Pellegrinelli Jr., Robert Dillon Jr., Mr. Russo, Anthony W. Sottile, William Steele and Richard W. Danckert.

Following the tenderloin of beef dinner and speaking program, which were preceded by a cocktail dinner, there was dancing to the music of Alan Grieve's orchestra until midnight.

Dillon Says He Will Vote In School Board Election

Mayor-elect Robert B. Dillon disclosed last night that he has changed his mind and will vote in the forthcoming joint convention of the City Council and School Committee called to elect a school committee representative from Ward 6.

Mr. Dillon had originally announced he would not participate in the vote unless "something obliges him to vote." This stand was immediately assailed by Councilmen Remo Del Gallo and Ernest G. St. Peter who insisted the mayor-elect stand up and be counted at the convention.

Mr. Dillon issued a statement last night explaining that after a review of the situation he has recognized the fact that the City Charter specifically spells out the mayor's obligation in the matter of a joint convention. He said he intends to comply with the terms of the charter and vote at the convention.

Not 'Completely Satisfied'

However, the mayor - elect added that he was not "completely satisfied with the manner in which vacancies are filled at the present time." He noted that in the coming convention 15 of the 17 Councilmen and School Committee members eligible to vote do not live in Ward 6, "and under ordinary circumstances would not be eligible to vote in the ward in a regular election. "They will in effect," he added," be dictating to Ward 6 citizens who shall represent them on the School Committee."

He recommended that a modification of the present City Charter should be given further study to "correct this problem."

Mr. Dillon said this change on his original stand on the convention will not alter his stand on voting on School Committee matters which he outlined during the campaign. At that time h said he would not vote on all School Committee matters, but would keep informed on educational problems and would vote as a member of the School Committee "where, in my opinion, unusual or emergency conditions exist." He said last night that this remains his position.

Pittsfield Budget Requests Top $14 Million

The record 1964 school department budget was formally submitted to the mayor Monday afternoon bringing the total budget requests for next year to more than $14 million.

This represents an increase of more than $2 million from the budget approved by the City Council for 1963. With few exceptions all of the city's 33 departments asked for more money for next year than was allowed for 1963.

Biggest increases have been sought by the School Department $584,000; Public Works Department, $287,000 and the Welfare Department $144,000.

A good deal of budget trimming can be expected from both the mayor and the Council. Requests traditionally greatly exceed the figures that are finally approved.

Mayor-elect Dillon will have 45 days after his inauguration to submit his budget recommendation to the Council and the Council in turn has 45 days in which to adopt a final 1964 budget.

Pay Hike Pleas Returned to City Council

The City Council finance committee last night failed to take a position on two petitions for pay increases. The petitions were returned to the Council without prejudice.

One of the petitions was from the union of city employes. The employes seek an across-the-board five-grade pay hike and semiannual, rather than annual, step increases.

A second petition from Ward 1 Councilman Ernest G. St. Peter seeks a pay increase for the chiefs of both the Fire and Police departments.

The committee, in returning the petitions, took the position that any action on pay increases should be taken by the new Council.

At another meeting, the Licensing Board last night approved the renewal of 19 liquor licenses, according to Harry J. Burns, board chairman.

School Committee Is Asked To Recognize Tennis at PHS

The Pittsfield Tennis Club wants the School Committee to establish tennis as a recognized interscholastic sport at Pittsfield High School.

School Committee Chairman John J. Quinn said a petition to that effect will be considered by the committee at its regular meeting tomorrow night at 7:30 at the High School.

Quinn said the petition is signed by Atty. Frederick J. Broderick, president of the Pittsfield Tennis Club, Louis Ettlinger, chairman of the club's high school sports committee ,and Eugene Marsten, a PHS student.

The petition asked only for recognition of tennis as an official sport and for the School Committee to provide transportation to the tennis team for out-of-town matches.

The petitioners said coaching, uniforms and equipment will be taken care of by other means, presumably by the individuals or through the Pittsfield Tennis Club.

Listed in the petition as students who want to participate in an interscholastic tennis team, according to Committeeman Quinn, are Peter Simkin, G. B. Marsten, Philip Caropreso, William Kerwood and James Burdick, all juniors, and Craig Fenton and Peyton Townes, sophomores.

Quinn said the committee probably will either reject the petition or refer it to its subcommittee on athletics.

The major objection to the Broderick petition is expected to be that, if approved in its present form, it would constitute not only recognizing tennis as an official sport, but would establish a team without the usual prelude of competitive tryouts.

Recognition Pleas by PHS Tennis Club Referred to School Board Subcommittee

Pleas from the Pittsfield Tennis Club for immediate recognition of tennis as an interscholastic sport at Pittsfield High School and designation of a present group of student players as the PHS team have been shunted into a School Committee subcommittee for consideration.

Atty. Frederick J. Broderick, president of the club, pleaded for quick action by the school board Thursday night. But he was told by Chairman John J. Quinn and other members that legal problems had to be explored first.

On motion of Committeeman Edward S. Harubin, the Broderick petition was taken under advisement by Harubin's athletics subcommittee. The referral vote was unanimous.

Appearing with Broderick before the School Committee were five of the ten PHS students who had presented the petition. The five were Craig Fenton, John Lyons, Gene Marsten, Peter Simkin and Peyton Townes. Accompanying them was Louis Ettlinger, chairman of the club's high school sports committee. None except Broderick spoke.

Broderick, however, argued the case at length.

He said that if money were an objection, the petition's request for payment of team expenses would be waived, and that even sports letters would be bought by the club or players.

Broderick objected to having the petition referred to a subcommittee for study, saying, "I don't think there is anything to be studied."

Quinn said there is a state law regarding participation of schools in athletic programs, and there are problems of insurance, all of which need to be studied.

The attorney rejoined that "spring is upon us, and we are pressing because the boys are practicing, already have held one match and others are scheduled."

Committeeman William E. Harris suggested that tennis be recognized "in principle, leaving insurance and other problems to the superintendent." But the idea was put aside while Committeeman James R. Clary argued that the tennis program should be brought "under the school coach and the school programs."

"We can't have just any interested citizen with a scrub team get it set up as a high school team," Clary declared.

In answer to various questions, Broderick said competition to get on the tennis squad now is open to all. The system in use, he said, keeps all the boys playing and puts the six with the highest standings on the team.

With Clary and Quinn pressing the attorney to "realize the legal implications" of starting a new team, Harubin said he would call a session of his subcommittee as soon as possible. "But," he said, "on this 15-minute notice, I would not make a commitment."

Broderick jabbed back by saying that "Mr. Clary, I am sure, can find plenty of red tape," and he asked for a vote on "the Harris motion."

Chairman Quinn, however, ruled that a vote had to be taken on the Harubin motion for a committee study. When it passed without dissent, the discussion ended and the tennis group left.

Tennis Gets a Boot

FAIR OR FOUL

By Roger O'Gara

THIS IS A story about Frederick Broderick and Bruce Burnham, who prior to the last meeting of the Pittsfield School Committee had only two things in common. Both are Williams College graduates, and each has a strong liking for tennis. Now they share a very low estimate of the committee's public relations consciousness, because that body didn't approve the Pittsfield Tennis Club's petition for immediate recognition of its game as a varsity sport at Pittsfield High.

It may surprise you to learn that the Messrs. Broderick and Burnham were aghast when the committee committed what they would describe in their favorite pastime as a foot fault. It only goes to prove that they haven't been paying attention to the committee's deliberations on other athletic matters.

Say what you want to about the group, but you can't accuse it of an inconsistent attitude toward sports. It kicks them all around, presumably in the belief that by presenting a militant stand it in effect is putting itself on the side of culture.

There may be one benefit deriving from this latest display of stubbornness and coveting of power. That would be the sudden realization on the part of some of the alleged better minds in the community that this is an insufferable bunch. For after all, don't you know, there's a first cousin relationship between tennis and intellectual folks. This isn't a game of the streets.

o—o

BRODERICK WAS a heavy ground gainer as a football back at St. Joseph's High and Williams College, but he couldn't go beyond the line of scrimmage against this line. He was stopped cold.

Broderick was appearing before the group as the newly-elected president of the tennis club. Although he seemed to be making sense in asking for quick action, he erred in not knowing the men to whom he was speaking.

We particularly liked this part of Broderick's argument: "Spring is upon us, and we are pressing because the boys are practicing, already have held one match and others are scheduled."

This apparently had to be rejected because it was too logical.

Committeeman William Harris suggested that tennis be recognized "in principle, leaving insurance and other problems to the superintendent."

This appeared to be an intelligent approach, but Harris received no support from his fellow members.

o—o

THE COMMITTEEMEN who were quoted in The Eagle's account of the meeting all seemed to be obsessed with the idea of delaying action, because of legal problems. Since petitioner Broderick is an attorney, it would have seemed appropriate to enlist his aid in expediting the organization of a tennis team at PHS.

We were amused by Committeeman James Clary's observation that the tennis program should be brought "under the school coach and the school programs."

What school coach? What school programs?

Would the tennis club be offering to set up its sport at Pittsfield High if there were a designated coach or program?

Clary also said that he and his fellows couldn't have "just any interested citizen with a scrub team get it set up as a high school team."

This wan't just any group. It was a club organized specifically for the purpose of promoting tennis. Broderick submitted that competition for places on the varsity squad would be open to all under a system that keeps all the boys playing and puts the six with the highest standings on the team. The club was offering to set up for the School Committee a worthwhile program in a sport that hasn't been recognized at Pittsfield High because the school doesn't have any department of athletics, as such. Two years ago, the committee ignored a request from a citizens' committee for the appointment of a director of athletics. Copies of a six-page letter stressing what the citizens felt were excellent reasons for the creation of such a position were sent to each member of the school committee. The citizens weren't even paid the common courtesy of acknowledgment. The committee gave this the slow death treatment. When a member of the citizens' committee appeared before the School Committee, he could sense that most members of the committee hadn't read his group's proposals.

The petition of the tennis club was referred to the School Committee's sub-committee of athletics for study. It'll be interesting to watch its fate here.

o—o

LIFE WAS SIMPLER back 30 years ago when Burnham, then a junior at PHS, asked for permission to set up a tennis team at PHS. What did the School Committee say? Its members probably didn't say a thing at the time, because he didn't ask them.

Burnham recalled that he went to John Carmody, then the nominal head of the PHS sports program, and said he and some friends would like to represent their school in tennis. He said that John tolo him he would be glad to have them do this, so the team came into being.

This was during the depression era, and the school had no money to give to the young tennis hopefuls.

Burnham said that parents of players drove them to out-of-town matches, and the boys purchased their own equipment. He can remember that all home matches were played at the Camp Merrill courts.

Among the opponents were Wilbraham Academy, Adams High, and Williamstown High, Burnham said.

On the team were Dan Secunda, Henry Halperin, Bob Hopkins, Bill Giesker, Jim and Chuck Winter and Henri Beauchemin, who by participating in tennis became one of the few four-lettermen in the school's history. Henri also excelled in football, basketball and baseball on the varsity level.

BURNHAM FEELS that tennis

o—o

is "the simplest team sport to operate."

There is a minimum of equipment, he said.

Competition for places on the varsity could be kept fair by strict adherence to a ladder system, he pointed out.

The writing of insurance for a handful of tennis players shouldn't take too long.

So, as Broderick asked after he failed to move them, what's to study?

17,000 'Shudder' As Goblins Parade

By JAMES A. LYNCH

Witches wailed, thousands paled. A pall of panic smothered North Street last night.

After it had lifted, the ghastly goblins, most of them no bigger than oversized elves, had vanished, leaving the 17,000 monster-watchers more happy than harrowed.

The occasion for this ghostly conclave filled with fun and fantasy was the 19th annual Halloween parade spookily sponsored by the Department of Parks and Recreation and The Eagle.

Like a witch on a jet-powered broom, the line of march smoothly but noisily glided up North and Wahconah streets in perfect, midautumn weather. The parade passed the reviewing stand in 50 minutes.

Sheriff Comes Out of West

Sheriff John D. Courtney Jr., masked and outfitted as a two-gun, wild West sheriff, led the 63-unit parade, which boasted loads of bands and drum and bugle corps, colorful and original floats and hundreds of costumed high-spirited children.

Deftly maneuvering his supersonic space ship from New York state to Pittsfield, Captain Six, star of WRGB's kiddies' show, "Satellite Six," zeroed in on North Street just in time for the big doings.

But sources close to outer space say the captain's return flight home was not as successful as his parade appearance. He reportedly collided with one of those low-flying witches and dented a fender on his space capsule.

Redfield Float Wins

A variation on the theme of "Gulliver's Travels," the float from Redfield School depicting the Halloween monster captured by lilliputians, won first place and the $50 prize.

Morewood took second place and $25 in the float division with its "Order of Pumpkins," a castle-encased queen ruling over her court of live jack-o'-lanterns.

St. Mark's Cub Scouts, Pack 18, sailed into third place and $15 on its pirate ship, "Make Believe," which flew a skull-and-cross bones flag, and carried a crew of sword-brandishing children and cannons that threw smoke at the crowd.

In the musical division, the Cavalier's drum and bugle corps placed first and won $25. They placed third in last year's Halloween parade. Second place and $15 went to the Imperials drum and bugle corps. The Skyhawks drum and bugle corps, second-place winners in 1961 and 1962, captured third place and $10.

55 Win Costume Prizes

Fifty-five of the marching children won costume prizes. They will receive, through the mail, $2 gift certificates from Zayre's.

Some of their outfits were ingenious; others were as time-worn but as popular as Halloween itself. They disguised themselves as brides and grooms, decks of cards, six-packs of beer, sheeted skeletons, laughing clowns peddling unicycles, George Washington and John F. Kennedy.

HINSDALE — The Berkshire County Deputy Sheriffs' Ascociation reorganized here last night with Charles J. Simonelli of 37 Greenway St., Pittsfield, as president.

A board of directors and executive committee were named and a minor change was made in the bylaws. Mr. Simonelli succeeds Peter C. Salvatore of 34 Congress St., Pittsfield, as president. Other officers are John Donelli of Williamstown, vice president; Arthur M. Kelly of Pittsfield, re-elected secretary-treasurer, and Dwight O. Ford of Sheffield, sergeant at arms.

Cummings Resigns

Sheriff John D. Courtney announced the resignation of Fred D. Cummings of Pittsfield as special sheriff, a post he has held for eight years. The special sheriff acts for the elected sheriff whenever the latter is unable to function for any reason.

Sheriff Courtney also announced that Henry Como of Adams, a guard at the House of Correction, has been designated as delegate to the state association from Berkshire County.

Elected as an executive committee were Charles D'Angelus, at whose Home Club here the meeting was held, Basil A. Petricca, Winthrop Sheerin Jr. and Edward Grady, all of Pittsfield, and Philip Shea of Adams. Appointed by Sheriff Courtney as a board of directors were Martin J. Cooney of Dalton, Bernard J. Gibbon of Great Barrington, Edward W. Buckley of North Adams and David I. Sookey and Mario J. Cassinelli, both of Pittsfield.

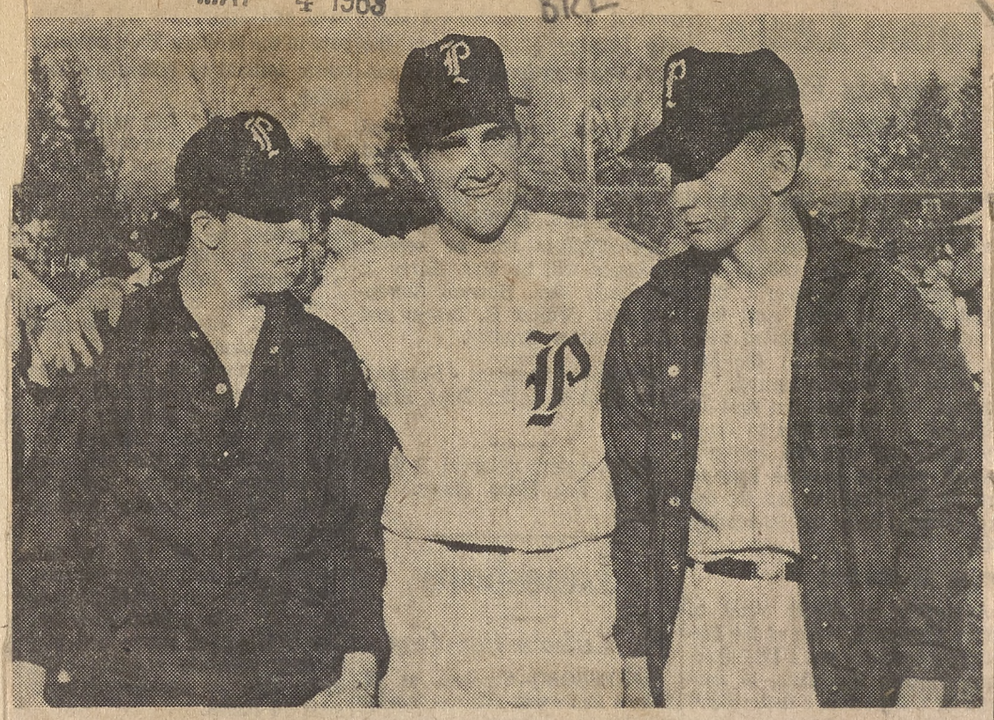

The bylaws were amended to specify that quarterly meetings of the association will be held on the third Tuesdays of January, March, May and October. The annual clambake was scheduled Sept. 1, a Sunday, at the Boys' Club Camp in Richmond.

No Interference

Sheriff Courtney emphasized that any interference by deputy sheriffs with police officials, or any assumption of police duties by those not otherwise authorized would be considered grounds for dismissal as deputy sheriff.

Mr. Simonelli has been employed as an officer at the House of Correction for 16 years and has been a deputy sheriff for 12 years. He is a member of the Massachusetts Correctional Officers' Association, Massachusetts Deputy Sheriffs' Association and is junior vice commander - elect of the Lt. John N. Trudeau Post 448, Veterans of Foreign Wars. He is scheduled to be installed as vice commander of the post May 16. Ida & John's, GEAA Win Babe Ruth Openers

Ida & John's and GEAA scored opening-day wins in the Babe Ruth Baseball League Sunday at Wahconah Park. GEAA's Tommy Grieve beat Moldmaster with a two-hit shutout and hit a two-run double in the 4-0 second game.

In the first game, each team managed only two hits but Ida & John's capitalized on six errors and three wild pitches to defeat IUE 254 by 7-2. Jerry Fresia went the distance to win, striking out 15.

Unearned Runs

Ida & John's knocked out starter Bil' Carey with just one down in the first. He already had walked two, and had thrown two wild pitches. Steve Kruczkowski relieved and gave up five more unearned runs the rest of the way.

Bill Winslow and Tom Sinopoli had singles for the winners' two safeties. For the losers, Joe Woitkowski had a long double and Kruczkowski, a run-scoring single.

After taking a 1-0 lead in the first inning, GEAA tallied another in the second on Mike Barnini's double. Grieve worked with the 2-0 edge until the bottom of the sixth, when he batted in two more with his double.

Grieve stranded 10 Moldmaster runners in 7 innings, for in addition to the two hits, he allowed seven walks. Mike Cook and losing pitcher Pat Bassi had singles off Grieve.

Russo Hurls Babe Ruth Four-Hitter

Adams Markets, IUE 255 Score Initial Victories

Johnny Russo scattered four hits, striking out 13 and walking none, to give the Adams Markets team a 9-2 Babe Ruth Baseball League win over Union Federal at North Junior High field yesterday.

At Deming Field, the IUE 255 team rapped out 11 hits for a 15-9 win over Imperial Lanes. Art Gibson, with three singles and a long triple for three RBIs, was the hitting star for the winners.

IUE's Pete Ricciarini had two doubles and two RBIs. Mark Farrell added two singles, and Dave Kearns had a base-loaded triple.

Starter Willie Woodson scattered five hits for the win. He walked nine and was frequently in trouble but the 14-0 cushion his mate built in the first three innings was sufficient. Because of a late start, the game was limited to five innings.

Ahead 3-2 through five innings, Adams Markets broke through starter and loser Mike Caritey for five runs in the sixth. The big hit in the rally was Russo's double. Jeff Connor and Paul Vacchina had two singles each and Carl Albano, a double, in the winning offense.

The schedule for tonight shows Ida & John's against Moldmaster at Deming and IUE 254 against GEAA at North. Both games are slated for 6.

Crane, Common, Pitt, Common 'B' Win on Court

The Crane and Common junior teams and the Pitt and Common 'B' senior squads have been winners this week in the Parks Department's summer basketball league.

Monday evening, Crane defeated Common 36-22 in a junior tilt, and Pitt beat Lakewood 63-25 in the senior division.

Last night, Deming dropped a 40-33 decision to the Common juniors. Common 'B' edged Common 'A' 44-38 in the senior game.

Deming Tops Clapp 65-25 In Park Game

7/25/63

The Deming seniors overpowered Clapp yesterday in a Park Department summer basketball league game on the Common, 65-25. Leading by only one point at the end of the first quarter, Deming broke loose with 39 markers in the second half to make the game a rout.

Dave Robertson's driving layups and jump shots, and the rebounding work of Art Delusky and Bob Decelles paced the one-sided win. Chuck Simonelli led the scorers on the Deming team.

The line score:

Deming	10	16	13	26—65
Clapp	9	4	6	6—25

Registration For Fall Cage League Tonight

Another registration for the Park Department fall basketball league will be conducted tonight on the Common, it was announced today by recreation supervisor John Marchesi. Boys of the junior age division, 14 and under, will register at 6, and senior division boys, 19 and under, will sign up at 7.

At two registration sessions last week, there was a poor turnout, totaling six juniors and nine seniors. Unless a large number sign up tonight the fall league will be abandoned. Plans call for games to be played under lights at the common with qualified timers and officials.

FAIR OR FOUL

By Roger O'Gara

THE NEW YORK Knickerbockers drafted Loyola University All-American Jerry Harkness as their second choice, but that doesn't mean he will play for them. The only senior regular on the national championship collegiate team won't try the professional game unless he receives a three-year no-cut contract. At least that's what his coach, George Ireland, told us when he was here last week end as principal speaker at the Catholic Youth Center's basketball communion breakfast.

Ireland revealed that Harkness is all set to play with the Goodyear Rubber Company team of Akron, Ohio. This kind of an arrangement, he said, permits a young man to continue in his favorite sport and at the same time to gain a profitable start in a business career.

Ireland said Harkness isn't too keen on trying in the pros, because he knows the heavy casualty rate.

"They don't give many no-cut contracts," Ireland continued. "If they should give one to Jerry, he probably would try. Otherwise, he'll be with Goodyear."

o—o

IT WASN'T surprising that Jerry Ward of Boston College went in the opening round of the NBA draft. The many Pittsfield people who watched him lead St. Peter's of Great Barrington to the Boys' Club senior tournament title back in March felt sure he was top-flight professional material. The thought persisted that the championship Boston Celtics would take him.

The word from Boston is that the Celtics were very much interested in Ward. However, they decided to gamble on him. They planned to take as their first draft choice Tom Hoover, a 6-10 center who attended Villanova one year and then spent three years in the Eastern League. They figured that should they file for Hoover, they then would make Ward a territorial choice.

It didn't work that way. They lost both men. The Syracuse Nationals made Hoover their first pick, and the St. Louis Hawks took Ward as their No. 1 selectee.

So the Celtics had to settle for Bill Green, a 6-foot-6 inch star at Colorado State University. Green, a colored boy, averaged 28 points a game the past season with a 57.8 shooting percentage.

o—o

WARD IS a sturdy 6-feet, 4. Despite his ruggedness, he isn't big enough for consideration as a front court player. A man of his height is rated small in the NBA. That won't pose any problem for Jerry, because he realized this as far back as his freshman year at BC, and concentrated on becoming a backcourt player.

He does so many things well, he should have an excellent chance of making the grade.

He is built much like Cliff Hagan, the former Kentucky star, who originally was a Boston draft choice, but was traded to St. Louis.

o—o

PAUL PROCOPIO, the best all-around athlete at St. Joseph's High in many years, received several college scholarship offers, but decided to take a year of prep school. He'll enter Cranwell School in the fall.

Many Pittsfield boys have attended Cranwell since it opened in the late 1930s, but this young man could be the very best from the standpoint of all-around excellence in the three major sports.

Paul is a stickout in all three. Basketball undoubtedly is his best. An excellent playmaker, he also is a keen shot. He passes exceptionally well in football, and also is a better than average runner. He can play both the infield and outfield in baseball, and hits the ball with more power than you would think his lean frame could summon.

o—o

PAT RILEY, son of former Canadian-American Baseball League manager and player Lee Riley, has been awarded a full basketball scholarship to the University of Kentucky. The 6-foot-4 star of Schenectady Linton High's strong team averaged 30 points a game the past winter, and cracked the 1000-point career mark. He's rated by Schenectady area sports writers as one of the greatest ever developed over there. That's high praise, for this has been a strong basketball territory for years.

Pat's dad managed Rome and Schenectady when Pittsfield was in the Can-Am. He developed a pennant winner at Schenectady in 1947. Lee now operates a variety store in Scotia, N.Y., not far from Schenectady.

Pat also has shown marked ability in football and baseball. He was an exceptional quarterback. However, he doesn't want to play the grid sport in college because he suffered seven chipped teeth as a high school competitor. It's good that he hasn't any football ambitions, because Adolph Rupp, Kentucky's domineering cage coach, wouldn't permit one of his scholarship boys to take such a chance. Pat plays first base in baseball, and is rated a long ball hitter. There isn't much he can't do. He's an accomplished pocket billiard player and an expert swimmer.

His older brother, Lee Jr., starred as a back at the University of Detroit, played with the Detroit Lions and the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League, and last fall was with the New York Titans of the American Football League. He is an insurance man in New York.

o—o

BILL FREEHAN, rookie catcher of the Detroit Tigers, is related to several of the Freehan families in Berkshire County. Mrs. Raymond H. Benton of Lee, the former Yetive Freehan, advises that she and seven other members of her immediate family recently went to Boston to see the young player. She and he are first cousins. Others making the trip were Mrs. Benton's husband and daughter, Phyllis Ann, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Freehan of Great Barrington, and her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Freehan of Pittsfield and their daughter Judy. They were joined in Boston by eight other Freehans who reside in that area.

They were disappointed that Bill didn't play against the Red Sox the day they were there. He had seen action in the first two games of the series. They had a chance to visit with him before and after the contest.

Freehan, a native of Detroit, lives in Birmingham, Mich. He's 21 years old, weighs 200 pounds, and stands 6-feet-3. He bats and throws right. He hit .283 last season in 113 games for Denver.

Common Court To Be Opened Nights Weekly

The Common basketball court will be open Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights, starting next week, weather permitting, it was announced today by the Pittsfield Parks and Recreation Department.

The court will be lighted and supervised by Park Department personnel. Basketballs will be supplied.

If sufficient interest is shown, two leagues will be formed.

Basketball Court Closes for Season

The basketball court at the Common has been closed for the season, the Park Department announced Saturday. Poor attendance was given as the reason.

The Park Department has been furnishing lights and supervision evenings for the past two weeks and planned to organize an autumn league if there were enough interest but most nights there were not enough boys present for two teams.

Common 'B,' Crane Teams Victorious

7/7/63

Big Senior Tilt Scheduled Tonight On Common Court

Crane's junior team edged Pitt 23-17, and Common "B" seniors defeated Clapp 45-22 in a Park Department Basketball League double-header on the Common last night.

With the score tied 4-3 at the end of the first quarter, Crane broke the junior game open in the second quarter by outscoring Pitt 10-2. Jack Clark again was the all-around star for the winners. Larry Hunt did a fine job for the losers.

The Common "B" squad continued its undefeated season with the victory over winless Clapp by never relinquishing the lead after building up a 14-7 first quarter advantage. The team play of Bernie Kapton, Pete Martin, Mel Gallup, Dan Scieszka, and Roger Johnson proved too much for Clapp's inexperienced squad led by Chuck Simonelli. Tom Whitman and Fred Delava played well in reserve for the winners.

Tonight's senior game at 7:30 will feature Common "B" against Pitt. Both teams along with league-leading Deming, are strong contenders for the title. A victory by the Common would tie it with Deming at 4 - 0. A Pitt victory would tie Pitt with the Common at 3-1 in second place.

The line score:

Crane	4	10	5	4	—23
Pitt	3	2	4	8	—17
Common "B"	14	7	5	19	—45
Clapp	7	2	11	2	—22

The leagues will play under the Common lights, with games scheduled to begin at 6:30 and 7:30 nightly.

PHS To Work With Machine In Drills on Rebounding

11/12/63

Teaching machines aren't limited these days to reading, writing and calculus. You now can learn to put an elusive basketball through a hoop by machine.

And the PHS varsity basketball team has gone mechanized with the purchase of a $259 gadget called The Rebounder, put out by an outfit named McCall's in Raleigh, N.C.

The Rebounder has arrived. Coach Frank Moynihan soon will have the boys bounding under it, learning how to try and try again, if at first they don't succeed.

The Rebounder is an assembly with a basketball hoop that can be raised or lowered mechanically. You start out at a low height and when you finally become skilled at putting the bounding ball where it should have gone in the first place, they raise The Rebounder on you. Frustrating, but it's worse when you miss in a game, which occasionally happens.

NEW ORGAN for the Wahconah Heights recreation hall was dedicated by Mrs. Anna deMonseigle, center, in a ceremony attended by 60 last night at the hall. The organ was purchased with proceeds from a drawing for a hand-hooked rug made and donated by William Roberts, right, and some contributions. Mrs. Isabel Parker, at left, won the rug. A total of $700 was realized for the hall's new organ.

Billy Roberts Hooks a Rug, Assures Music for Elderly

By ISABEL PARKER

In these days when racetrack hearings, police probes, school squabbles, strikes strife, huffy Hoffas, and cockey Castros make the news, a welcome change is the story of Billy Roberts and music. In an era of the what-is-in-it-for-me philosphy, when even the average man finds it hard to resist, it is as refreshing as lilacs in the April Berkshires, and almost as unusual, to find someone on whom the philosophy has not noticeably rubbed off.

One day when Billy Roberts was spending a few of his leisure hours at his hobby of hand-hooking rugs, he got thinking. His trend of thought was about the older people who are residents of the housing projects where he is maintenance supervisor, and the good times they had when they got together. Then his thoughts wandered on to the fun he was having learning to play his new organ and of the pleasure music from such an instrument could inspire. That is just about when inspiration dawned. A man and an idea got together. Why not donate one of his hooked rugs and have donations made, with it as the prize, and if enough money were realized, purchase an organ for the recreation hall of the projects.

No sooner hatched than the idea seemed weak, unsteady as the fledgling bird. However the more he thought about it, the more enthusastic he became, and having sold himself, it was a simple matter to present it to the project residents. Here it didn't have to be sold, as it caught on immediately. Fed and nourished by many helping hands from the residents and many community-minded citizens, it grew up gracefully, and last night came of age and was launched on its own.

Organ Dedicated

Several weeks ago it was ascertained that money had been realized of sufficient amount to purchase an instrument and Mr. Roberts and Mrs. Joanne Liverseidge, Wahconah Heights club president, headed a committee to look out for a suitable organ. The Hammond orga. which was purchased was formally dedicated last night, and the history of the idea and a tribute to Mr. Roberts, written and read by club secretary Mrs. Anna deMonseigle were given.

Following a covered-dish supper, Wahconah Heights residents spent several pleasurable hours singing, dancing, and listening to the delightful sounds drawn by the talented fingers of Joseph Ancora of the Hammond Organ Studios from the new organ. Mrs. Pearl Keefe, Mr. Roberts, and Mrs. Dorothy Lavigne, 73 year-old Heights resident who has just begun learning to play, also entertained the group.

Other Heights residents have expressed interest in learning to play, and it is expected they will derive individual pleasure in forgetting any troubles they may have through the medium of music. Plans were also made to use the organ for meetings, parties and other services, and, as it is portable, it could be used at the Francis Plaza project on occasion.

Former Band Leader

Interest in music has always enriched Billy Roberts' life, since as a young man he made his living leading the Royal Hawaiians band in local appearances. This he remembers is the only group of musicians of its kind in the area. A modest, unassuming person, Mr. Roberts' only reward in the organ project is the fruition of his idea and "the satisfaction of having it turn out well." It is a unique witness to altruism, and as cheering as the knowledge of the ice-out in Pontoosuc in the spring is the thawing of hearts by the warmth of a fellow man's goodness of heart and the refreshment from the magical keys of a musical instrument.

Wahconah Heights Nets Almost $700 For New Organ

A final report was made on the organ fund at a recent meeting of Wahconah Heights residents at the recreation hall. Prizes were awarded to those who sold the largest number of tickets, and were won by William Roberts, Mrs. Gertrude Flynn and Mrs. Ella Webb. Winners donated their prizes to the Wahconah Heights social club. A drawing for the hand-hooked rug made by Mr. Roberts was won by Mrs. Isabel Parker.

Almost $700 has been raised toward the organ purchase and the organ committee is making a choice of an instrument for the hall. Mr. Roberts, Mrs. Dorothy Lavigne, Mrs. Etta Nilson and Mrs. Joanne Liverseidge are on the committee. Mr. Roberts originally had the idea for the purchase, made and donated the rug, and made arrangements for selling tickets and the selection of an organ.

A special dedication program Monday, April 22 at the hall will be preceded by a covered-dish supper. Members will have an opportunity to hear the new organ.

Mrs. Lillian Dunsmoor, Heights resident, was honored on her 95th birthday. Plans were made for meeting with residents of Francis Plaza Thursday, April 25, at the plaza and residents who wish to attend the musical program and social will meet for transportation at 7 p.m. On May 6, a card party will be held, with Mrs. Nettie Davenport, chairman of a committee consiting of Mrs. Margaret Chaiffre, Mrs. Williams and Mrs. James Egan, on refreshments, and on prizes and arrangements, Mrs. Arden Miller, Mrs. Flynn, and Mrs. Lavigne.

A social program and refreshments followed the meeting. Mrs. Miller arranged for the GE Band to play, after the business meeting. Arnold Obreza led the musicians in a program of marches and novelties.

Believing Elderly-Housing Plan Doomed, Greenberg Seeks Reaction of the State

Though Ward 4 Councilman Joel S. Greenberg believes that chances are nil for a 100-unit, housing-for-the-elderly project on Elberon Avenue, he still wants more information on the project.

The councilman suggested today that a member of the state Housing Board be invited here to discuss state views on the proposal as presented by the local Housing Authority.

Greenberg feels that opposition of four councilmen to the project is unalterable. Scelsi, Casey, Brown and Quadrozzi are opposing the project site by voting against any change in zoning for the 10-acre property. Eight of 11 Council votes are needed for this change.

Wants Confirmation

The Ward 4 representative wants first-hand knowledge that the state fully supports the local authority's decision.

Greenberg said he would vote for a zone change, which would allow the project, but not because it is "the best site."

"I feel the local authority will not select another location," Greenberg said, "so the entire $1.3 million project will be lost to Pittsfield."

The local authority has stated that it believes this to be the best possible location. Ralph J. Froio, authority chairman, has said that many other locations have been investigated and none equals the Elberon Avenue spot.

"Assuming that the project is lost," Greenberg said, "it will do no harm to obtain more information. This we can get from the state."

The Ward 4 councilman also felt that the local authority should plan to pay for a necessary drainage easement and pipe through near-by land. This drainage system has been designed by the authority to correct a surface water problem.

The authority wants the cost of this sytem to be split between the authority, the land-owners and the city.

$1.3 Million Granted

The state Housing Board is the parent, so to speak, of the local authority. It is this state board which authorizes expenditures of funds for local housing. The board has granted the authority $1.3 million for the Elberon Avenue project. This money rests in local banks.

Greenberg's idea is to have the state corroborate the local authority's contention that full board approval has been granted this Elberon Avenue site. Greenberg also wants to know where Pittsfield would stand on eligibility for other elderly housing projects should the Council deny this proposal.

Froio is checking the actual mechanics of resubmitting the zone-change petition with the city solicitor. Greenberg hopes the Council can meet with the state before a vote is taken.

Clowns To Play Baseball And Put On Show Tonight

Long before the Indianapolis Clowns and the Brooklyn Stars start their baseball game tonight at 7:45 at Wahconah Park, there'll be a running series of comedy acts. The gates will open at 5:45. Batting practice will be followed by assorted capers.

The meeting of the colored traveling teams undoubtedly will be the only professional baseball offered here this season. The Clowns hold the national record for continuous operation by a road club. They have been at it since 1929.

Nature Boy Williams, the Clowns' most publicized player and comedian, has been with the club since 1955. He's rated the most powerful batter, and Manager Fred (Babe) Battle considers him the best fielding first baseman in all of baseball.

Williams' specialty stunt is to go to bat once a game with his back to the plate. He wheels around to the correct stance when the ball leaves the pitcher's hand.

Shortstop Birmingham Sam, billed as an acrobatic base runner, and third baseman Billy Vaughn, the only midget baseball player on tour, are other feature entertainers. Birmingham Sam has a large repertoire, featured by a cartwheel as he reaches a base he is attempting to steal.

One of the Clowns' top group acts is known as "shadowball."

Kennemore To Pitch

Eighteen-year-old Ed Kennemore of Huntsville, Ala., is considered one of the top pitchers in the Clowns' 34-year history. He has compiled heavy strikeout totals in most of his games. Kennemore is expected to start. He usually splits a game with Elijah Jackson.

The probable starting lineups with numbers in parentheses:

Billy Vaughn
Clowns' third baseman

Substantial Laughter

AUG 21 1963

Indianapolis Clowns Win 7-2 Before Crowd of 500

By ROGER O'GARA

Hank Aaron, star outfielder for the Milwaukee Braves, for some years has been rated the most distinguished alumnus of the Indianapolis Clowns. This is to report that no one in the Clown's class of 1963 will press him for the honor. The Clowns, the oldest of the traveling colored baseball teams from the standpoint of continuous operation since 1929, drew approximately 500 spectators and substantial laughter in defeating the Brooklyn Stars 7-2 last night at Wahconah Park.

An Improbable Name

It was a good show, but certainly not sufficiently impressive to warrant a demand for a return presentation here this year, at any rate. With the exception of two excellent in-the-hole plays by the Brooklyn shortstop with the improbable name of Robert Kelly and a good catching job by Indianapolis' Harold King, the game wasn't much.

The time-flavored buffoonery was well-received by the audience. It made the oldsters feel they were back in their salad days. The youngsters enjoyed it because nothing like this cast has been seen at the ball park in their short time as spectators.

Like Lopez On Bases

Two non-baseball acts, presented between innings, brought heavy applause. The Great Yogi, a contortionist, displayed so much rubber in his hands and feet, he looked like a good bet to bounce over the grandstand. The Flying Nesbits, a quintet, did such phenomenal things in the assembly of human pyramids, you feared they would suffer a Humpty-Dumpty fate. Their only mistake was in attempting too much. Towards the end, they dragged like the late innings of the game.

The Brooklyn Stars were ardent exponents of speed-up play. They acted like Hector Lopez on the bases. In the first three innings, four expired in a veritable suicide sweepstakes, two on ill-advised steals, two on pick-offs.

Nature Boy Williams, the senior statesman of the Clowns, carried the juvenile precincts on rail-side chats with the bleacher sitters and a visit to the grandstand. However, he failed to hit safely in three times at bat, and didn't have anything but routine plays at first base.

Charles Stanton, who pitched the first six innings for Indianapolis, held Brooklyn to three hits and one run in achieving the win. He fanned six and walked five. Stanton, the only player on either side with two hits, drove in the run that put his team ahead to stay 2-1 in the fourth. Midget Billy Vaughn, who started at third base, finished on the mound for the Clowns. He was rapped for three hits and one run in the seventh. However, he struck out three men.

Six Errors by Losers

Satchel Sledge limited the Clowns to five hits, but suffered from poor support and his own wildness. The losers made six errors, and he walked eight. Sledge fanned seven.

Two of the Clowns' key men didn't play. Pitcher Ed Kennemore wasn't used, because he is slated to work an important game Sunday at Chicago's Comiskey Park. Birmingham Sam, the acrobatic base runner, didn't dress because he has a bad leg.

Both teams left by bus immediately after the game for Niagara Falls, N.Y., where they'll get each other all over again tonight.

The line score:

Indianapolis	100 123	7	5	1
Brooklyn	001 00	2	6	6

Stanton, Vaughn (7) and ; Sledge and Jones.

Clowns, Due Tomorrow, Are Last of Old Road Clubs

The Indianapolis Clowns, who will oppose the Brooklyn Stars in a meeting of colored professional baseball traveling teams tomorrow night at 7:45 at Wahconah Park, are the only road attraction that plays a major schedule, according to general manager Syd Pollock.

The Clowns were one of dozens of traveling groups in the 1930s. Today, they're the only such team which starts in the spring and goes right through the summer to the early fall.

Pollock said, "We attribute our longevity to the old-time color we've given baseball over the past 34 years."

Record Crowds

The Clowns have played to record crowds in all parts of the United States and Canada. Their top boast was 31,000 in St. Louis. They also claim 26,000 in Detroit, and more than 18,000 each in Kansas City, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Washington. The team has drawn more than 2,000 paid admissions in towns of 2,000 population or less.

The Clowns, who play approximately 160 games a season, will conclude a short New England tour here. They'll play in Niagara Falls Friday night en route to a scheduled game Sunday in Chicago's Cominskey Park.

The team's publicity department ... two outstanding victories over opponents made up of organized baseball players. They won series of games from the Nashville Vols of the Class AA Southern Association and the Jackie Robinson Major League All-Stars.

The Clowns will present a fun show before and during the game. Starring in the comedy routines will be playing manager Babe Batties, first baseman Nature Boy Williams, shortstop Birmingham Sam and third baseman Billy Vaugh, a midget.

Traveling business manager Ed Hamman will be at the microphone of the public address system.

The gates will open at 5:45.

Admission will be $1.25 for adults, 50 cents for children.

Interstatesmen Schedule Rehearsals at Clapp Park

The Interstatesmen Senior Drum and Bugle Corps who represent the Berkshire County Council of the American Legion and the Charles Brady American Legion Post of Waterford, N.Y. will hold an intensified weekend rehearsal at Clapp Park Saturday and Sunday.

The first of the two practice sessions will start at 1 Saturday afternoon and will continue until 9 with a short break at 5:30 for the supper meal. The corps will be lodged in Pittsfield Saturday night, and after church services and Sunday dinner, will again rehearse at Clapp Park from 1 until 6.

This weekend rehearsal will climax a twice a week practice schedule that the Interstatesmen have been adhering to throughout the winter in an effort to improve on their fine showing last year. Their record of seven first places in 1962 placed them solidly among the top five corps in the United States.

According to Robert E. Pause of Adams, the corps publicity director, the Interstatesmen have retained the excellent team of instructors who led them to national prominence last year. They are: William (Wild Bill) Hooton of Philadelphia, drill instructor; Domenick DelRa of Cohoes, N.Y., music arranger and director; and John S. Pratt of the United States Military Academy at West Point, who is in charge of the percussion section.

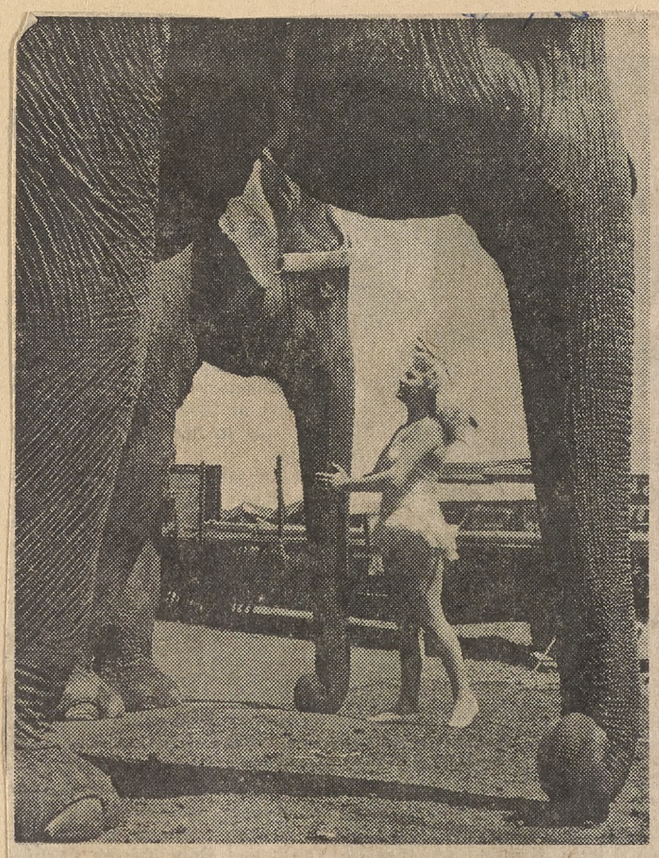

During the 1963 season, the Interstatesmen will field a 70-man competing unit under the field direction of drum major Alan Smyth. Walter Wood of North Adams is the Interstatesmen's business manager, and Atty. Robert I. Manuel of North Adams is the corps chairman.

The firemen have announced their starters but promise some other surprises for their opponents as well as the spectators. The game is scheduled for 7:30.

New Girls' Drum Corps To Be in July 4th Parade

A brand new, all-girl drum and bugle corps from Pittsfield will make its first public appearance in the Fourth of July parade.

Called the Royal Blue Angels, the female entourage is composed of 55 junior high and high school students from the Pittsfield area.

Although the girls will march in the parade, they will not take part in the competition that afternoon. The drum corps is directed by Mr. and Mrs. John E. Raymond of 37 Mohawk St. The group was formed last April.

Sheriff To Be Marshal

Marshal of the parade, climax of the week-long Firemen's Muster, will be Berkshire County Sheriff John D. Courtney Jr., outfitted in top hat and tails.

Chairmen of the muster, which will be held at Wahconah Park from June 28 to July 4, are Robert P. Villanova and fire fighter Robert L. Salvadori.

In case of rain, the drum corps competition will be held at the Boys' Club gymnasium, starting at 1. Otherwise, it will take place at Wahconah Park.

Lt. Villanova said that rain or shine, the annual firemen's competition will be held at Wahconah Park playground beginning at 1.

Floats Needed

Floats, as usual, are needed for the parade. Anyone interested in entering one should contact fire fighters Ralph Decker or Merton L. Amuso.

Muster tickets are available from firemen or at any of the local fire stations. The major prize to be awarded the final night of the muster is a 1963 Chevrolet.

Clowns, Who'll Play Here Next Week, Have Three Individual Attractions

The Indianapolis Clowns, who will oppose the Brooklyn Stars under lights at Wahconah Park next Thursday night, August 22 at 7:30 in what probably will be the only professional baseball game of the season here, boast three top individual attractions. They are Nature Boy Williams, at 220 pounds and a career batting average of .325 the most powerful comedian in diamond history in two respects; Birmingham Sam, an acrobatic base runner, and Billy Vaughn; a midget infielder.

The Clowns will be making their initial appearance here. They were rained out of a scheduled game at Wahconah Park last August. They won 131 and lost 29 in 1962.

The Clowns and the Brooklyn club are scheduled to meet at Chicago's Comiskey Park three days after their game in Pittsfield. The promoters anticipate a minimum attendance of 15,000, according to their press releases.

34 Years On Road

The Indianapolis outfit is rated the top attraction of all traveling teams. It has been operating continuously since 1929. There has been a considerable turnover of players since the novelty club was organized, but Syd Pollock, who founded the team, still is the general manager.

At least once a game, Williams assumes a batting stance with his back to home plate. He doesn't wheel around to a normal swinging position until the pitcher starts his delivery. Williams also plays part of each game at first base while sitting in a chair. He uses a three-foot high mitt.

Nature Boy Williams
Here next Thursday

Birmingham Sam features acrobatics while on the bases. However, despite his zany actions, he stole 45 bases in 48 attempts last season. He uses a belly slide that he calls a "hook lifeguard." Manager Babe Battle says that it's almost impossible to tag out Sam.

Vaughn Only 4-5

Vaughn, the third baseman, stands only four feet, five inches. He batted .287 last year. The only midget active in professional baseball, Vaughn doesn't like to accept bases on balls. He averaged less than a walk every five games last year. He often swings at bad pitches, preferring to do that than to hear the taunts of fans who say he is only up there for a walk.

The Clowns' newest star is Ed Kennemore, an 18-year old pitcher from Huntsville, Ala. Early in July, he struck out 19 batters in a game against a St. Joseph, Mo., semipro all-star team. Several days later, he threw a no-hitter against the Muscatine (Iowa) Red Sox, who were fresh from a 25-4 win over the famed Satchel Paige and the Birmingham Black Barons. In the final inning of a game at Creston, Iowa, Kennemore called in all of his outfielders, and then struck out the side. He is reported to be exceptionally fast.

Can-Am Was Good League

Although the Canadian-American League was only a Class C circuit the loop, that functioned in this city for eight years, drew many cash customers and provided an interesting brand of baseball with a good mixture of old and young players. The circuit was represented by a team here in 1941 and 1942. Then there was a suspension of play for three seasons because of World War II after which the league did business for six years breaking up after the close of the 1951 season.

The attendance in all seasons except 1951 was so large that the payments by various clubs, based on attendance at games, was sufficient to meet the operating expenses of the league for payments of umpires and various other expenses. In 1951 there were only six teams in the circuit, Kingston having been added, while Quebec, Three Rivers and Schenectady dropped out. An extra assessment had to be made on the clubs in 1951.

The turnouts for games at the Canadian-American League were larger than was the case at the Class A Eastern League last year. In fact the Canadian-American League, in its best season at Pittsfield, 1946, drew nearly 85,000 in the regular season and playoffs. They attracted 64,997 in the regular season and 19,891 in the playoffs, a total of 84,888. The best season Pittsfield ever had at the gate in the Eastern League was about 75,000 in 1927.

In 1949 the Canadian-American League drew 698,682 for the regular season and 32,949 in the playoffs, a total of 731,631. The biggest year at the gate was 737,311 for regular season and playoffs in 1948. The loop drew 543,863 in 1946 and 692,308 in 1947. Quebec, winning the pennant for the first time in 1949, had the biggest attendance ever in the circuit, 176,779 in the regular season and 18,393 in the playoffs, a total of 195,172. Quebec also won the pennant in 1950 but the attendance dropped to 123,352. In seven seasons in the circuit Quebec won two pennants, finished eighth three times, seventh once and sixth once. Nevertheless Quebec, finishing eighth in 1948, drew 146,421 fans.

Schnectady also had some big years in the league, drawing 146,132 during the regular season in 1947 and 29,057 in the playoffs, a total of 175,189. Schenectady won the pennant and the playoffs that year. Schenectadty finished in fifth place in 1948 but drew 146,421 cash customers.

Only 330 turned out at Springfield Monday night to see the Eastern League game in which Eddie Connolly of this city, pitching for Reading, turned in a fine job but lost to Springfield 2-1 in 10 innings. Many fans from this city attended.

Major league scouts should be making some fancy offers to Lou Pia of this city. University of Massachusetts pitcher, to sign a contract at the close of the college baseball season. The senior right-hander unbeaten in his college career, held Amherst to two hits, winning 2-0 Wednesday. He extended his varsity record to 8-0. Monarchs To Compete Here Saturday

The Monarchs junior drum and bugle corps will represent the Pittsfield area at the Class A invitational marching and maneuvering competition, being sponsored by the Boys' Club Cavaliers on Saturday at Wahconah Park. The Monarchs hope to annex a goodly portion of the $1,300 prize money at stake.

Their arch rivals of the Hudson-Berkshire circuit, the Magnificent Yankees of Utica, N.Y., will also compete. The Yankees will be remembered for their fine showing here during the past four years.

The Crusaders of Boston, a junior unit sponsored by Lower Mills Memorial Post VFW, are a noteworthy addition to a star-studded line-up. They placed third in the Boston Arena Drumfest in April with a score of 88.5. The Crusaders were a close third to the national champion Garfield Cadets of New Jersey. Reorganized in 1958, their long rebuilding program is now over and they are determined that their move for top honors will not be denied. The Crusaders are a leading contender for high honors in junior dum corps circles.

Tickets for this show are available from members of the Cavaliers, as well as Sammy Vincent's, Wood Bros. and Nichols Variety.

Crusaders in Second Win Of Local Corps Contest

8/5/63

By JOHN STEELE

FIVE FINE junior drum and bugle corps competed for $1800 in prize money at the first annual "Show of Shows" sponsored by Pittsfield's Monarchs at Wahconah Park Saturday night before a crowd of 1,500.

The Boston Crusaders, for the second time in six weeks, topped the field at a local drum and bugle fest, having won the Cavalier - sponsored competition on the same field June 15. This time the Cavaliers were among the competitors, but the Boston group, put together five years ago from the remains of a couple of defunct corps, and with some help from the disbanded Holy Trinity outfit, had it their own way over the local boys.

St. Rocco's Cadets of Brooklyn, N.Y., who took a drubbing from these same Crusaders here in June, apparently decided against honoring a commitment to appear and reportedly took their chance on a more lucrative evening by attending the New York State American Legion championship competition at Rochester.

IN THEIR PLACE, the Imperials of Pittsfield were hastily summoned to fill in, and they responded in fine style. On just a few hours notice, they fielded all but six members of their corps.

To get the program under way, the Crusaders set a pace that the following units found impossible to match. Individual experience is probably the big reason for their success, but they also have good instruction and a good organization.

Second corps on the field was the Imperials. These boys and girls, averaging about 13, weren't fazed in the least about being in such sophisticated company. Incidentally, they were robbed of 10 points in the official scoring, an inadvertency which was caught and corrected at about 1 a.m. Although that didn't affect the standings, it did make quite a difference in the way the Imperials felt about things.

The Musketeers of Peabody were third to perform, and their showing was way off. In a previous appearance they had been hot on the heels of the Cavaliers, but this night they were not close.

THE CAVALIERS, fourth unit to compete, showed their usual competence and were given wild applause. This group has come along splendidly in the four years since its inception, and is a popular and welcome contestant throughout the East. The final unit to compete, the Braintree Warriors, were making their first appearance of the year here and left a good impression. Their all-girl color guard seems to be charged with carrying out the warrior theme, appearing, as they do, in big, feathered Indian war bonnets.

Scores of the contestants and prizes were as follows: Boston Crusaders, 77.5 and $700; Cavaliers, 72.3 and $500; Braintree Warriors, 66.25 and $150. The Imperials, who netted 53.8 after a two - point penalty, also came home with $150.

THE MONARCHS, who staged an exhibition of their full routine while the scores were being completed, offered a drum quartet interlude following the Musketeers' performance.

Two handmade sofa pillows, donated by the Monarchs Auxiliary, were awarded as door prizes. Doug Shirley, director of the Monarchs, announced the program. Judges were from the New York chapter of the All-American Judges Association. Their runners were members of the Royal Blue Angels, newly founded Pittsfield all-girl corps.

STILL ALIVE, the incomparable Clyde Beatty will be back in town tomorrow terrorizing the big cats. He's with the Clyde Beatty-Cole Bros. Circus, which will give performances at Wahconah Park at 4 and 8 p.m. Sponsorship is by Elks lodge.

In the only close contest, nine-year-old winner Daley had an edge of only one point over Peter Drennan. Daley didn't lead in one specialty, but was consistently good in all. There were 26 contestants in the 11-year-old class, 22 in the 10, 18 in the 9 and 18 in the 8.

Good Weather On Menu Tonight For Warner Games

Fair, mild weather is predicted tonight, perfect for the scheduled Pop Warner Football League doubleheader at Wahconah Park at 7.

The evening twin bill has been scheduled, according to commissioner Edward (Red) Fox, to permit parents and the coaches and players of Pittsfield and St. Joseph High schools to attend.

Fox said yesterday that the league faces financial difficulty if attendance is poor. Gate receipts are the main source of league revenue, he said. He said he hoped the high school representatives would attend to view future players.

The Browns play the Rams at 7. The Giants and Lions meet in the second game.

Ciepiela Scores 4 Times As Warner Stars Triumph

GUILDERLAND, N. Y. — Ninety-pound halfback Wayne Ciepiela scored four touchdowns for the Pittsfield (Mass.) Pop Warner Football League All-Stars in their 33-6 win over the Guilderland Ponies here yesterday afternoon. It was the first intersectional game of the season for the All-Stars, who drew high praise for their blocking and tackling. Guilderland suffered its fifth consecutive loss. The weight limit was 130 pounds.

Ciepiela went 50 yards on a reverse for his initial score early in the first period. John Shea and Roger Barzouwsky threw important blocks to open the road for the little speedster, who is the younger brother of Steve Ciepiela, former Pittsfield High star.

Ciepiela raced 40 yards on a sweep for the second touchdown. John Ciliberti made a key block on this run. Ciliberti added the conversion points on a keeper play.

20-0 at Half

John Hawkins' 30-yard run on a pass interception set up the third Pittsfield score. It came on a pass from Ciliberti to Ciepiela, who raced 35 yards after making the catch. Barzowsky swept end for the extra point to give Pittsfield a 20-0 lead at half-time. Conversion running plays count only one point in New York state.

On the third play from scrimmage following the second half kickoff, Guilderland fumbled, and Joe Kamenski recovered for Pittsfield. Then Ciliberti passed to Ciepiela for another touchdown. Wayne scooted 30 yards for this one.

Ciliberti Scores

Late in the fourth period, Ciliberti intercepted and bulled his way 20 yards for the last Pittsfield touchdown. Kamenski plunged for the extra point.

With only two minutes remaining, Guilderland averted a shutout by scoring on a 40-yard pass play from Bill Meyl to Don Ferguson.

Forty Pittsfield parents attended. Guilderland served sandwiches and punch to the Pittsfield party after the game at Guilderland High School.

Pittsfield's four league teams will practice tomorrow night at 6 on the Common in that city.

Pittsfield's team was coached by Steve Ciepiela, Dick Bard and Dick Ahern.

Lions Take Warner Lead By Beating Browns 16-8

POP WARNER LEAGUE STANDINGS

Lions	3	0	1.000
Browns	2	1	.667
Giants	1	2	.333
Rams	0	3	.000

The unbeaten Lions scored a stunning 16-8 win over the formidable Browns yesterday afternoon at Wahconah Park to take undisputed possession of first place in the Pop Warner League standings. In the second game of a doubleheader the Giants overwhelmed the Rams 22-0 for their first win of the season.

The Lions were definitely playing against the chalk. Eggheads of the juvenile sportscasting fraternity had made the powerful Browns an almost prohibitive favorite.

But the ovaltops were sobbing in their Ovaltine this morning. For the snarling Lions came out fighting and walked away with the traditional lion's share of the spoils.

Browns Score First

The Browns scored first when Lions fullback John Shea was tackled behind his goal line for a safety in the first quarter. Later in the quarter the Browns started a push that petered out at the Lions 11.

Here the Lions started an impressive drive of their own. Wayne Ciepiela swung left end to his own 20. Rog Barzousky picked up a first down at the 23. John Ciliberti fired an accurate pass to Gary Wowk, who was thrown out of bounds at he Lions 46 on the final play of the quarter.

Shea broke through the line for 17 yards to the Browns 37. On a reverse, Ciepiela raced to the Browns 11. On a quick opener, Shea threaded his way to the one. Shea slammed over to give the Lions a 6-2 lead. Barzousky swung around right end to add two extra points.

The Browns tied it on a 57-yard push—aided by a recovered fumble—following the kickoff. Starting at the 43, Roland Handy carried the ball for seven yards to midfield. Tom Rilla added seven more for a first down on the Giants 43. After three plays Rilla kicked, and the Browns recovered the fumbled punt on the Lions 22.

Sanginetti Scores

Handy broke through the middle for two yards. Rilla reversed his field to the left, adding three more. A penalty set the ball on the 17. Sanginetti, on a keeper, rolled around right end to tie the score at 8 apiece. Rilla's kick was blocked.

Early in the third quarter, after the Browns received the kickoff, there were three successive fumble exchanges, with the Lions finally gaining possession on their

The winning play followed, a photographer's delight. Ciepiela took a pitchout, fired a pass to Wowk at the 30, and Wowk sped 70 yards straight downfield for the decisive score. Behind good blocking, Ciepiela made it around left end for the extra points.

Kamienski Stars

The second game was anticlimactic. Joe Kamienski, Giants fullback, had touchdown runs of 35 and 41 yards nullified by penalties in the first quarter. With Dick Stracuzzi running well, the Rams also made some substantial gains in the first half, which ended in a scoreless tie.

But Kamienski was not to be denied. Early in the third quarter, on a power play to the right, Kamienski dashed 36 yards to score. The point try, with Kamienski carrying, was short.

In the fourth quarter Kamienski again dashed around right end, 35 yards for the second touchdown. Quarterback George Newell spun inside left end to make it 14-0.

Gaining possession later in the quarter at midfield, the Giants rolled downfield to a third touchdown. Big item in the push was a 17-yard sprint by Kamienski. The scoring play was also for 17 yards --around right end behind Kamienski blocking--with Newell carrying. Kamienski bulled through the line for the extra points.

Rilla of the Browns played well defensively in the first game, making a big percentage of his team's tackles. Dan Powers of the Rams made a neat catch of a forward pass, and made some decisive tackles from his end position in the second contest.

Lions Remain Undefeated; Browns Take Third Victory

POP WARNER FOOTBALL LEAGUE STANDINGS

Lions	4	0	1.000
Browns	3	1	.750
Giants	1	3	.250
Rams	0	4	.000

The unbeaten Lions reeled off their fourth straight win in the Pop Warner League yesterday afternoon thumping the winless Rams 22-6 in the first game of a league doubleheader at Wahconah Park. Their closest rival, the Browns, downed the Giants 12-6 in the second contest.

Commissioner Edward (Red) Fox announced after the first game that a booster doubleheader will be played at Wahconah Wednesday night. The Browns will clash with the Rams in the first game at 7. The Lions will collide with the Giants in the second contest.

Unless a long artery of fans is in line at the box office to give a life - saving infusion to the league's anemic treasury, the Pop Warners will be adrift in Dire Financial Straits, a treacherous channel separating the Lane Down Under from the Cape of Good Hope.

The final twin bill of the year will be played Sunday, Oct. 27, as the Lions take on the once-beaten Browns in a contest that may decide the championship. The Rams will meet the Giants in the other contest.

Lions Pounce

The Lions struck from the opening kickoff. John Ciliberti received the kickoff on the 20 and ran it back to his own 44. On the first play Wayne Ciepiela swung to his left and behind a key block rambled 56 yards for a touchdown. Ciliberti on a keeper ran the right flank for the extra points.

Midway in the quarter Ciliberti returned a punt from his own 42 to the Ram 44. In 10 plays the Lions had another touchdown. Longest item in the series was a 28 yard burst by Ciliberti on a keeper. Ciliberti went over for the score from the five - yard line on the second play of the second quarter. Rog Barzousky swung right end for the extra points and it was 16-0.

After the kickoff, the Rams registered a first-down at the Lions' 49, their first penetration of the game. Three plays netted only five yards, but on fourth down Dick Stracuzzi broke through right tackle and raced 56 yards to score. A pass from quarterback Mark Reynolds to end Danny Powers for the extra points was incomplete.

The Lions added an insurance touchdown in the third quarter, aided by an unintentionally well-executed pass play. To start it off, Ciepiela recovered a Ram fumble at the Ram 34. Ciliberti fired a pass that was intercepted by secondary defenseman Pat Murphy. Murphy was tackled as he made the catch, and the ball squirted into the hands of the original target, Lions end Gary Wowk, for a first-down on the Ram 16.

The Lions made a steady advance by biting off yardage in small chunks. Finally Ciepiela swung left end from the seven for the touchdown. Ten-year-old Donnie Troy just missed on a slam into the line for the extra points.

Two Scores in Half

In the second contest the powerful Browns, paced by Tom Rilla, scored a touchdown in each of the first two periods. The first score stemmed from a recovered fumble at the Giants 30. In two line shots Roland Handy and Rilla chalked up a first-down at the 20.

Rilla circled right end for seven yards. After a pass was incomplete, Handy barreled off the left side to the five yard line. Rilla smashed right end for the touchdown.

In the second quarter, Rilla took a Giant punt at his own 1 swung to his left, and was awa for an 85 yard touchdown jaun

Late in the third quarter, th Giants recovered a Brown fum ble at midfield. On the final play of the quarter, quarterback George Newell fired a pass to Joe Markham who sprinted to the 15-yard line. On a keeper Newell swept right end to score.

Joe Kamienski, Giant back, made several important tackles in the game. In the opener, Rams end Danny Powers starred on defense.

Lack of Support Endangers Pop Warner Football: Fox

"If we don't get the support at this game, we'll be forced to discontinue Pop Warner football."

That's the way commissioner Edward (Red) Fox described the Pop Warner League predicament today. He said an evening doubleheader at Wahconah Park tomorrow has been scheduled at night to permit parents and high school coaches and players to attend.

Fox said he spelled out the league's financial difficulty to members of the sponsoring Monday Morning Quarterbacks' Club last night in the same terms.

"One good game would put this thing over," he said. The league's prime source of support is gate receipts, Fox said.

He said attendance was fair at the first game of the season, about 300, but no more than 150 have appeared at any of the later games. He added that the 100 league players were able to sell only 200 season tickets in a recent sales canvass.

The four daytime games have been held in "wonderful weather" Fox said, but parents in the main have left the boys at the field and driven off. "We're professional baby sitters," he said, deploring the lack of support for the boys and the 12 coaches who, he said, have donated their time week days since Aug. 29.

Tomorrow night's game, the fifth for each team, will pit the Browns against the Rams at 7 and the Giants against the Lions immediately afterward.

A 25-member team selected from the four teams' rosters will travel to Schenectady Sunday to play an all-star team there. A Schenectady squad played in Pittsfield last year.

The regular schedule will end Sunday after next, Fox said. An all-star game will be played later.

Committee Will Consider Proposal for Directorship

LENOX—The Pittsfield School Committee soon will consider a proposal to adopt a director of physical education and athletics for the public school system, Committeeman Edward S. Harubin said here last night.

Harubin told the Lenox PTA that the school subcommittee on athletics and physical education, of which he is chairman, last week voted to make the suggestion to the full committee.

The subcommittee, Harubin said, feels that an administrative assistant is needed to take charge of ordering equipment, taking inventory of equipment and coordinating interscholastic and intramural schedules.

After the meeting, Harubin told The Eagle that he is not sure when the proposal will be brought before the full committee. He said that the subcommittee must plan specifications for the job before the position can be submitted for approval.

Roger E. O'Gara, sports editor of The Eagle, who often has spoken in favor of an athletic director, last night applauded the subcommittee's stand.

Harubin and O'Gara participated in a discussion at the PTA meeting here. The top was "Athletics in Education."

TWO CHANGES made recently by the football rules committee of the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations were sensible. One makes illegal the practice of barefoot kicking. The other permits only one representative of a team at the midfield coin-tossing ceremony.

The barefoot rule was enacted as a safety measure. The regulation against the mob meetings for the toss of the coin could be interpreted as disapproval of the trend toward co-captains. Many schools have carried this to a ridiculous degree.

Former PHS Line Mentor Leaves Norwich Saturday

Enos Describes Head Coach Trimble As 'Large-Sized Nick Morris'; He'll Report Sunday; Drills Start June 1

By ROGER O'GARA

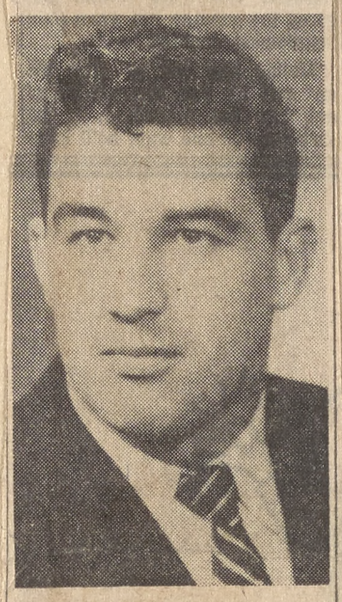

Burly Eddie Enos, 28, Pittsfield High line coach in 1959 and 1960, is the new defensive coach of the Montreal Alouettes of the Canadian Professional Football League. The appointment was announced this morning by Jim Trimble, former Philadelphia Eagles' head coach, who several months ago was named to succeed Perry Moss at Montreal. Trimble for five years was coach of the Hamilton Tiger-Cats of the Canadian League.

He Last Played in Canada

Enos will be returning to the circuit in which he last competed as an active player. He was with the Vancouver Lions in 1957 and 1958 after trying out in the early stages of each of those seasons with the New York Giants of the National League. He was chosen as an all-league defensive end in 1958. He stayed with the Giants each season until the final cut.

Enos starred as a tackle at the University of Connecticut after outstanding play for East Boston High and Milford (Conn.) Prep. He was an All-Yankee Conference and All-New England tackle selectee in 1956. His playing weight was 225 pounds.

Enos started his coaching career here. He resigned late in the spring of 1961 to accept appointment as an assistant coach at Norwich University in Northfield, Vt. He'll complete his duties at Norwich on Saturday with the final workout of spring practice, and will report Sunday at Montreal for the first in a series of conferences of the coaching staff.

First Game July 17

The Alouettes will begin formal preparations for the season on June 1, when all Canadian candidates will report. The American aspirants have been ordered to start work on July 1. The exhibition season will begin July 17 with a contest against the Calgary Stempeders.

Enos, in a telephone conversation with this writer, said he welcomed the opportunity to serve under Trimble, whom he described as "a large-sized Nick Morris." Morris was head coach at Pittsfield High when Enos started as line coach.

"Trimble is a big felow, weighing 265 pounds and standing 6-feet-3," Enos said. "He's fiery and intelligent, like Morris. Even his hair coloring is like Nick's. He's a real tiger on the field, my kind of man. I know that the association will be profitable for me. I only hope it is for him."

Trimble, a former University of Indiana star, played for the Pittsburgh Steelers and the Philadelphia Eagles. He was a tackle.

mer Janice McCluskey of Pittsfield. They have two small sons. Mrs. Enos' parents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCluskey of 52 Bel Air Ave.

During his residence here, Enos worked summers at several area camps, and directed the Park Department's hockey program in the winter.

Sandy Stephens Is QB

Montreal was down in the race last season. That's why Trimble was obtained as successor to the deposed Moss. Trimble had marked success at Hamilton, winning the Grey Cup once. One of the American standouts on the Montreal roster is Sandy Stephens, All-American quarterback at the University of Minnesota in 1961. Stephens, a colored boy, comes from Uniontown, Pa.

Enos was credited with giving the Pittsfield High line a charge that carried it through two unbeaten seasons. During his two seasons here, PHS won both the Berkshire County and Western Massachusetts Class A titles.

Spring Drill Set Monday For PHS

Charlie O'Rourke Among Assistants Helping Out

Two weeks of spring football practice will start Monday for the Pittsfield High squad on the field in the rear of the school. The drills will conclude with a scrimmage against Greenfield High in Greenfield.

Coach Joe Gleason will have plenty of assistance in putting his squad through the preliminary drills. Helping will be his regular assistants George Redman and Shaun Hawthorne, plus the football coaches from the three junior high schools. Also lending a hand this year will be Charlie O'Rourke, former Boston College and pro star back and ex-coach at the University of Massachusetts. O'Rourke will be around part-time and will work with the passers and kickers.

The high school students, who are out for the team, and some of the ninth grade candidates received their physical examinations Wednesday. The junior high boys, who have yet to be examined will report to the high school for physicals when they are released from their classes Monday afternoon.

Pittsfield opens its season Sept. 21 against Wahconah Regional at Wahconah Park and closes Nov. 11 against St. Joseph's. All games are scheduled for Saturday but Gleason may change one to a Friday night. The complete slate is:

Sept. 21, Wahconah; Sept. 28, at Springfield Tech; Oct. 5 at Northampton; Oct. 12, West Springfield; Oct. 19, at Drury; Oct. 26, open; Nov. 2, Adams; Nov. 11, St. Joseph's.

Four Teams Are Planned In Pop Warner Football

There'll be four Pop Warner football teams in Pittsfield this fall, Commissioner Edward (Red) Fox announced today. He said this will mark a return to the program as it was from 1955 through 1961. The four presumably will play an intra-city schedule.

There were only two Warner teams last fall. They player an intercommunity slate in their age brackets, 10 and 11 and 12 and 13. The junior or older team was successful, winning four games, losing two and tying one.

Fox said the first practice will be held Monday night at 6 at Clapp Park. Registration also will be conducted at that time. Any boy who hadn't reached his 13th birthday by March 1 of this year is eligible.

Candidates should fill out the registration blank that is being printed in today's sports section. These blanks should be presented Monday night at practice. The commissioner warned that the applications will not be accepted unless parental permission has been given.

About 130 Attend Grid Clinic

Game Situations Are Demonstrated By WRHS Squad

About 130 area football coaches, players and officials were present at Wahconah Park last night for the pre-season clinic sponsored by the Berkshire County Officials' Association and the Pittsfield Parks and Recreation Department. High school players made up an estimated 80 per cent of the crowd.

The Wahconah Regional High of Dalton football team, under Coach Jim O'Connor, was the demonstration squad. Demonstration officials were Referee Jerry Grover, Umpire Angelo DiNicola, Field Judge Jack Carmody Jr. and head Linesman Jim Reed. John Quinlan and Ray Chamberland of the association described on the public address system the action on the field. The two announcers and Pat Bruni made up the committee in charge of arrangements.

The demonstration began with the procedures at the coin toss and covered kick-off situations and play situations with a half-speed scrimmage. Also shown with individual players were the difference between a proper block and a clip and the interpretation of the new rule where a flanker can no longer clip in the clip zone. The standard things that transpire in a game were demonstrated during the scrimmage.

The county group will have a regular meeting Monday night at 7:30 at Springside House. A report on rules interpretation from a meeting of college officials of the Connecticut Valley area Sunday will be made by representatives of the Berkshire organization, who will attend. Area coaches will be welcome at the Monday night session.

With the popularity of the sport increasing each year, the association feels the need of a larger complement of officials in order to best serve the participating schools. Anyone interested will be welcome at the meeting.

Other meetings will take place every two weeks throughout the season. Coaches also are invited to attend.

The outgoing officials are Ralph Gionet, president, and Stephen Cozzaglio, secretary.

Punt, Pass, Kick Contest Set for Oct. 12 on Common

The Pittsfield part of the Ford Motor Co.'s third annual punt, pass and kick competition for boys from 8 through 11 has been scheduled for Saturday morning, Oct. 12 at 10 on the Common.

Each contestant will receive one try in each of the specialties. Judges will score one point for each foot of distance the ball travels on the fly, minus one point for each foot that the ball lands right or left of a center line. Total points will determine the winner in each age group.

Registration Starts

Richard P. Connor, sales manager of the Brookshire Co., the Pittsfield Ford agency, is in charge of registration. Boys may enroll with him at the company's headquarters, 694 East Street, any time between now and Friday, Oct. 11. No registrations will be accepted on the morning of the competition.

In explaining the age limits, Connor said that a 7-year-old who will attain age 8 by Dec. 29 may compete and that an 11-year old who will become 12 prior to that date is ineligible. He also said that any boy attending junior high school is ineligible and that each entrant must be prepared to furnish legal proof of his age.

Five Levels

There will be five levels of competition—local, state, area, division and national. Local winners will be determined by a comparison of scores of local first place winners in 50 states and the District of Columbia. Area titles also will be settled that way. Divisional competition will be held at National Football League games. Eight divisional winners will be determined, four representing the East, four representing the West.

The national championships in each of the four age groups will be settled Sunday, Dec. 29 at the National Football League championship contest. Any ties will be broken at the spot.

A kicking tee may be used for the placement kicking part of the contest. When punting and passing, a reasonable distance for a three or four-step running approach will be allowed. However, entrants must not step over the starting line. If a boy steps over, the measurement will be made from the last step.

No Special Footgear

No special footgear may be worn for local competition. Only ordinary street shoes or sneakers will be allowed. In divisional and national play, contestants will be required to wear sneakers.

Three local prizes will be awarded in each age group. These will be a National Football League warm-up jacket for first place, a football helmet for second and an autographed football for third.

Certain boys will not be eligible to compete. These will be sons of employes of the Ford Motor Co., its dealers, the National Football League and its member clubs, members of the National Football League Properties, Inc., and their advertising and public relations agencies.

The punt, pass and kick area that will be outlined on the Common will be 150 feet long and 50 feet wide.

Jewelers Win 6-0, Widen Lead

Stanley Club, PGS Tie 6-6 in Touch Football Matches

Park Jewelry shaded the Stanley Club 6-0 yesterday to widen its first-place lead in the Pittsfield Touch Football League. The victory gave the jewelers a 2-0 record.

The Independents and Pittsfield Sporting Goods meanwhile fought to a 6-6 tie.

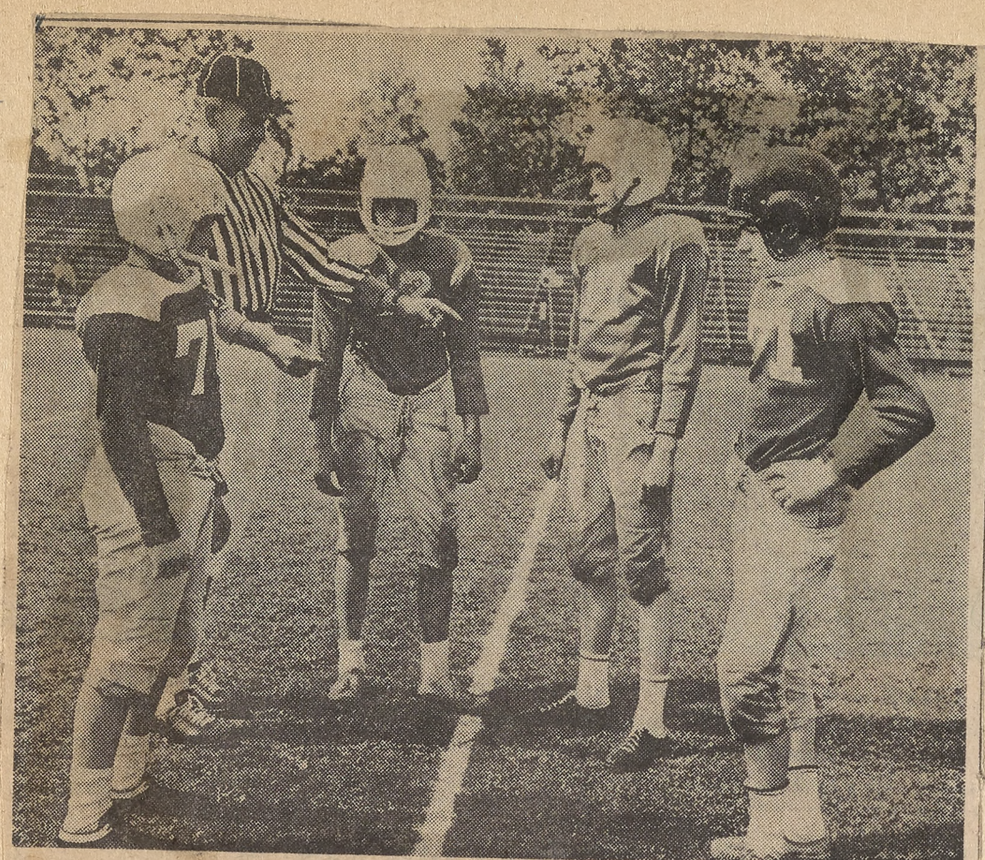

The double-header outcome was a near duplicate of a week ago when the jewelers walloped Sporting Goods 22-0 and Stanley Club and the Independents ended in a scoreless tie.

Yesterday's scoring for Park Jewelry came on a 20-yard pass from Frank DeAngelus to former PHS end Dick Elwell in the final minutes after Ed DeAngelus had carried twice for 30 yards. Don Troy, Red Soldato, Joe Simonetta and Bill Seeley stood out for the losers.

In the second game, Sonny Bruno tossed 30 yards to Fran Martini for the Independents' touchdown. John Seeley dodged eight yards around end for the Sporting Goods score.

Giants	0	2	.000

By LAWRENCE JACOBS

The Lions and Browns continued the winning habit as each scored a victory in Pop Warner Football League play yesterday afternoon at North Junior High Field. The Lions came from behind to win the opener from the Giants 8-6; the powerful Browns, with halfback Tom Rilla scoring four touchdowns, overwhelmed the Rams 36-8 in the second game.

The results indicate that next week's games are all-important. The unbeaten Lions and Browns will collide in one contest. The winner will lead the league with an unbeaten record. In the other game, the Rams and Giants, both winless, will clash. The winner will post its initial victory, and will take third place.

The first game was interesting. With Wayne Ciepiela and Roger Barzousky ripping the flanks and John Shea driving through center, the Lions threatened several times in the first half, but were unable to put the ball over. Late in the second quarter, after pushing back the Giants relentlessly, a whole pride of them wrestled halfback Joe Kamienski to the ground as he was trying to run the ball out of his own end zone. This gave the Lions a 2-0 lead at the half.

Giants Lead

In the third quarter, the Giants took a short kick on the Lions 35, and scored in six plays. Kamienski ripped off gains of 12 and 14 yards to put the ball on the 9. Newell added three yards on a quarterback sneak. Two short gains put the ball on the 2, from which point Kamienski burst onto the end zone. Dave Teal failed to go over for the extra points, but the Giants led 6-2.

The following kickoff was the opening play of the fourth quarter. Barzousky lugged it back to the Giant 40. Ciepiela went down the left sideline for 10 yards and a first down at the 30. Ciepiela added three yards up the middle. Barzousky, off right tackle, moved to the 22. On a beautifully executed reverse, Ciepiela raced down the left side to score the winning touchdown.

The second game was one-sided. The Browns were simply too big and too powerful for their inexperienced opponents. And Rilla broke out in more spots than a paper bag in a deluge.

Rilla's first touchdown came on a 52-yard dash in the first quarter. He raced around his own right end and kept going. In the second quarter, the Browns took a short kick on the Rams' 24. In two plays, Rilla and Roland Handy advanced to the 3 yard line. Rilla rammed through the line for the touchdown. Quarterback Jim Sanginetti added the extra points on a keeper to make it 14-0 at the half.

Rilla ran the second half kickoff back 65 yards for his third touchdown. Handy barreled through center for the points. Later in the period, Pat Phelps threw a pass intended for Rilla. The pass was slightly underthrown. Mark Reynolds attempted to intercept it. He leaped for it, but it bounded off his fingertips into the waiting arms of you-know-who on the goal line. That made it 28-0.

Football history has been eating radishes again. On the following kickoff, a play occurred that appears repeatedly—but not always happily—in local annals. The Browns kicked off, and the ball rolled into the end zone. While other players looked on, Brown and Paul Clark fell on it for a touchdown. Rilla crashed into the end zone for the extra points.

The Rams finally scored in the final quarter. Taking over at midfield, Mark Reynolds tossed a pass to end Pat Murphy good for a first down at the Browns' 40. An off-side penalty against the Browns moved the ball to the 35. Dick Stracuzzi fought his way to the 11. A pass, Reynolds to Dan Powers, set the ball on the 3 yard line. Glenn Guachione bulled over. Reynolds went through the line for the extra points.

More Police Needed

Wahconah Park

FAIR OR FOUL

By Roger O'Gara

FRIGHTENING was the word to describe the disgraceful scene in the waning moments of the Pittsfield-Wahconah Regional interscholastic football season opener last Saturday night at Wahconah Park. In any contact sport, it's natural for competitors to lose their tempers in the heat of combat. We're not condemning players of either school for the jostling that ensued along the sideline. The reprehensible part of the incident was that hundreds of youngsters ran like a pack of mad dogs onto the playing field. This mob action could have precipitated wholesale injury, maiming, even death.

It shouldn't happen again. Pittsfield High authorities should take steps to see there is no recurrence. One way to prevent a repetition would be to ask for more police protection. Only two city officers and two park policemen were on duty. They did their work well, but the odds against them were prohibitive.

The field of play is restricted territory. The only persons who are rightfully there are the players, and each side is limited to 11.

o—o

THE NEW YORK Yankees, who excel on the field, also know how to deal with intruders. City police give the bum's rush to them. Soft-hearted people may think this is severe, but how would you treat them? If they were handled with kid gloves, they would overrun the place, and you would have chaos rather than competition. The same hard line should be adopted here. Make an example of a few of the nuts, and they'll stay where they belong.

While we're writing about sweeping the field clear of everything but players and officials, let's not forget the dogs. They may seem cute to casual fans, but they're a source of constant annoyance. They admittedly aren't as dangerous as the hordes of hoodlums who raced out there Saturday, but their presence constitutes a needless delay.

Maybe a few nets would help.

Pop Warner Moving Back To Wahconah

Browns, Lions Battle for Top In First Game

The Pop Warner football program will move back to Wahconah Park for its two games tomorrow afternoon. The league played last Sunday at North Junior High Field.

The first contest tomorrow, slated for 1:30, will be a battle for first place between the Browns and the Lions. Each team has won two games and lost none.

The second tilt will match the Giants and the Rams. Both squads will be after their initial win and will be battling to stay out of the cellar. The second contest will follow immediately after the first and should start about 2:30.

The shift to North Junior High last week was disappointing to the Pop Warner officials. Commissioner Edward (Red) Fox said some of the spectators told him they prefer Wahconah Park, where seating, refreshments and rest room facilities are available.

Fox stated he feels the games are more enjoyable from the standpoint of both the fans and players at Wahconah where the public address system and the sideline markers help both groups keep in closer touch with the situation on the field. The commissioner also said the gate donations and season ticket sale dropped off at North where there are no fences and spectators enter at a number of different points.

The Giants will practice tonight at 6 on the Common. It will be a light session. The coaches ask that players bring only their helmets.

Giants Oppose Lions; Browns Go Against Rams

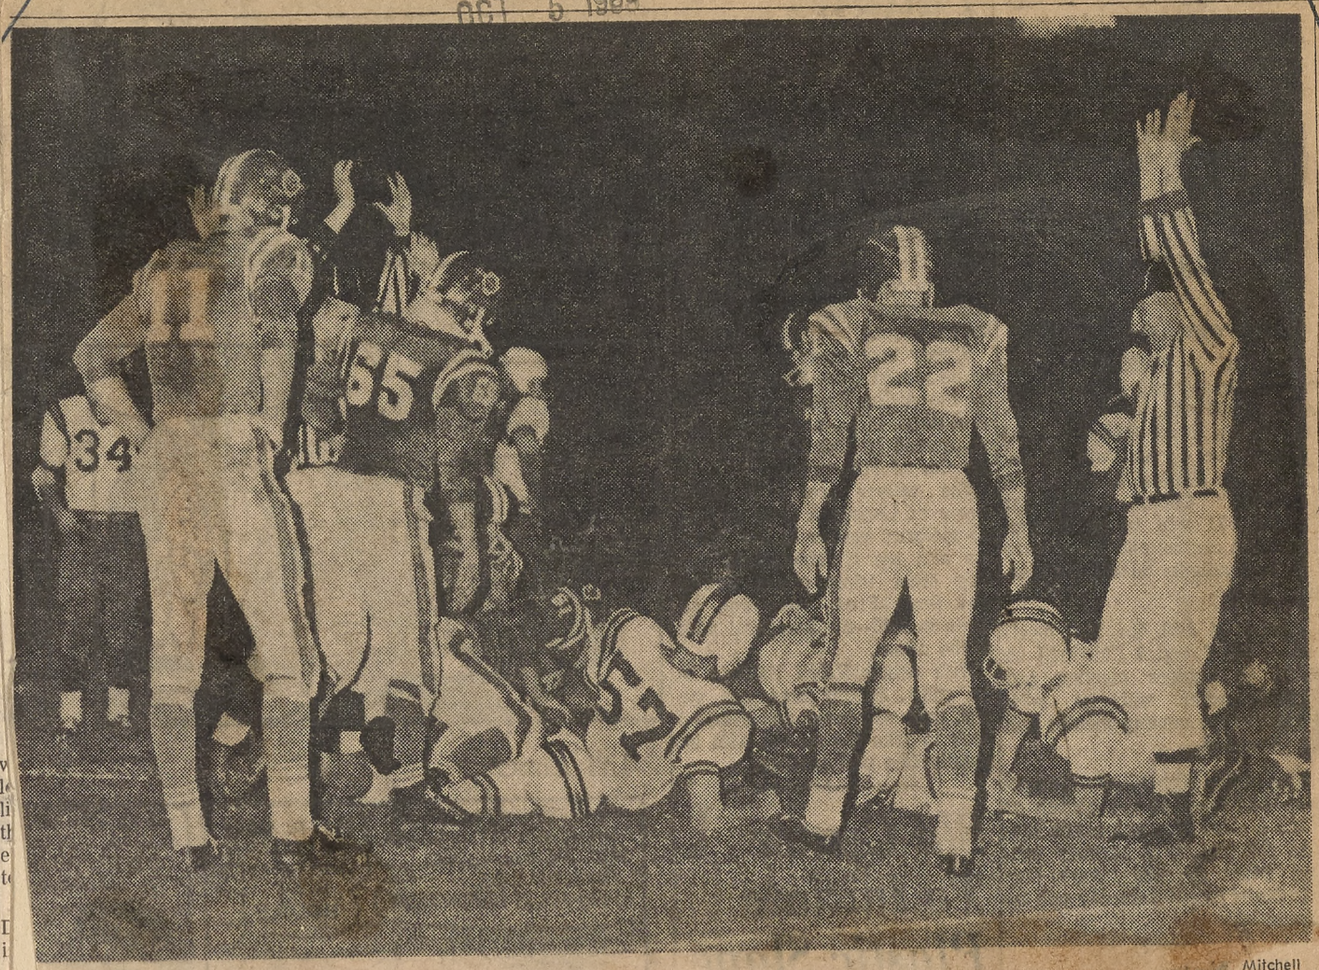

The Lions and the Browns will be seeking second successive wins as the Pop Warner Football League resumes play tomorrow afternoon at the North Junior High field. The Lions will meet the Giants at 1:30, and the Browns will face the Rams.

In the openers last Sunday at Wahconah Park, the Browns overwhelmed the Giants 21-0 and the Lions won from the Rams 14-0. The teams came out in the games free of injuries, Commissioner Edward (Red) Fox said.

Fox also disclosed that all 100 league players will be in new uniforms tomorrow. Fifty wore their new suits for the first time last week end, and the other 50 uniforms arrived this week.

Players are selling season tickets for $1. These will be good for all 12 of the league's regularly scheduled games.

Wahconah Park Surface Made Unplayable by Rain

City Series Contest Is Scheduled For Tomorrow Night at 7:30; Rain Must Cease in Time To Ready Field

By BILL MAHAN

For the first time in the 44-year history of the city football series between Pittsfield High and St. Joseph's High, the game will be played under lights. The plan for the night contest was brought about by the elements, and its fruition will depend on the cooperation those same elements.

Washed Out by Rain

The rain of last week, Sunday and yesterday caused the postponement of the contest from its original time of yesterday afternoon to tomorrow night at 7:30. Now the rain must cease in time for the Parks and Recreation Department maintenance men to get Wahconah Park in playable shape for tomorrow.

As the contest is St. Joseph's home game the postponement decision rested with Coach Bill Murray, who examined the field with Parks Supt. Vin Hebert yesterday morning. They found the playing surface partly underwater and the part not covered with grass a mass of ooze.

"It would have been foolish to try to play," Murray said. "It would have been impossible to run any kind of plays."

The coaching staffs and teams from both schools are anxious to get the contest played. Pittsfield High Coach Joe Gleason agreed that it would have been impossible to have the game.

Day Off Yesterday

The teams had the day off yesterday, but were slated for workouts today after school. Murray said if conditions still were bad he would try to get use of the Armory on Summer Street where the players could loosen up and the coaches could go over last minute instructions. Gleason and Murray both feel their teams are as ready as they ever will be. The clubs had Saturday and Sunday practices.

In the event Wahconah Park cannot be made playable by tomorrow night, the date of the game probably will be moved to Saturday afternoon or possibly Friday night. Gleason said he doubted the tilt could be scheduled for Thursday night as Pittsfield High has open house for parents.

The postponement is shortening the between-seasons vacation of Murray, who also coaches basketball, and few of the players on both teams, who play the two sports. According to Headmasters' Association rules, schools that have football may start basketball Friday. Murray said he will issue his call for candidates Monday.

Parochial school football players, who were on the varsity basketball squad last year are Denny Kelly and Frank Scage. Jayvee basketball players Dave Kearns, Joe Woitkoski and Willie Woodson saw occasional varsity service last season and are expected to be battling for spots on the big team this year.

PHS fullback Dave Southard also is a basketball starter. Sophomore quarterback Tom Grieve, who displayed considerable talent for the cage sport in junior high and in a number of Boys' Club leagues, is expected to be a candidate for the Pittsfield High team.

Jewelers Top New Yorkers In Touch Tilt

Park Jewelers, the top team in the Pittsfield Adult Touch Football League, came from behind Sunday to defeat the Chatham (N. Y.) Independents 19-7.

Quarterback Eddie DeAngelo, still stiff from the bruising PHS-St. Joseph's alumni game, scored the Jewelers' second touchdown on a 10-yard run to put his team ahead to stay as the fourth quarter began.

Halfback Frank DeAngelus tossed 30 yards to end Dick Elwell for the first score at the end of the third period. The scoring play covered 60 yards in all.

A 45-yard pass from DeAngelus to DeAngelo was good for the third tally. Elwell caught a DeAngelus pass for the extra point.

The Jewelers began to score after Chatham went ahead 7-0.

The Greatest Upset

NOV 14 1963

FAIR OR FOUL

By Roger O'Gara

AT 7:28, John (Cold Steel) O'Neil, St. Joseph's High 1935, said to his friends in the bleachers, "Let's have a pool on what time the first dog runs out on the field."

Before any guesses could be recorded, a large collie walked proudly on to the playing surface near midfield. This was the expected.

Less than two hours later, the stalwart gridiron representatives of Cold Steel's alma mater, displaying courage symbolic of his nickname, had defeated the greatest foe, Pittsfield High 13-7. This wasn't expected. In fact, it was so surprising, it has to be recorded as the greatest upset in the 44-year history of the rivalry.

No? Name another that so combined the elements of surprise, drama and guts. Down through 43 afternoons the smaller school had played the role of the nuisance, occasionally beating the big fellow. Yet such results, form reversals though they admittedly were, almost without exception had come in Pittsfield's lean seasons.

o—o

THIS ONE, then, was different. For this victim was a conference champion, a club that had so dominated its league, there had been talk it would be invited to leave.

Through the first half, the teams had followed their season-long form. Pittsfield was off slowly, much as it has been in most of its games. St. Joseph's had the edge up to intermission, but that didn't show on the scoreboard.

With the score at cipher to cipher, knowing men smiled. Pittsfield would start to move. St. Joseph's would fade after an impressive 20 minutes, just as it had in early losses to Drury and Northampton. St. Joseph's had led at the half in each of these.

St. Joseph's line admittedly had the edge in the first half, but it wasn't enough. It would lose the advantage in the third period, the omniscient said.

It did. Pittsfield's forwards seemed to take on new power and drive. Within four minutes, Pittsfield had scored, capitalizing on recovery of a St. Joseph's fumble at the St. Joseph's 29.

Surely this would be enough to discourage the team that had played better than it knew how. Then Frankie Scago started to throw. Even the departure of capable Denny Kelly with a torn hip muscle didn't slow St. Joseph's. Scago hit spirited Joe Woitkoski, the bearer of a name that played superbly for the other side more than three decades ago. An excellent call, a 15-yard assessment against Pittsfield for piling, brought St. Joseph's to the Pittsfield 40. Two more rifle-shots by Scago, and the underdogs had scored. A finger - tip, end zone catch by end Kevin Dermody brought the score, and then the daring in the St. Joseph's stands groaned. Their team was going to settle for a tie. Tom Tobin place-kicked his team back to even terms.

THIS WIN was no fluke. St. Joseph's drove a big chunk of yardage for the tie-breaking score. It was appropriate for Scago to make it on a sneak. For the little gambler had been a big contributor in the inspired push down the field.

The line play was rugged through the entire 40 minutes. St. Joseph's forwards did the harder hitting. That's why Pittsfield fumbled so often. Oh, the slime of a field that was underwater only a few days before made ball-handling precarious at best, but even that doesn't jar a runner as much as a tackle by a young man who means it.

Bull-like Mike Skrocki, the third and largest of the Windsor brothers to play for St. Joseph's, was the heaviest hero, and in our book the busiest. His early smashes through the line enabled St. Joseph's to mount several good marches.

Then, when he moved up front on defense, he was more devastating. He recovered three Pittsfield fumbles after he had stunned the carriers into loose hands. If this isn't a series record, it should be.

THIS HAS BEEN a great year for handsome William Murray. The indefatigable coach gave his school its first Berkshire basketball championship in 23 years last winter.

That was fine, the hard-to-please alumni said. But one wonders if that string of indoor successes caused the old settlers half as much joy as this hard-earned, uphill and by all means deserved outdoor triumph on a foggy evening. The cold was biting, but not half as sharp as such St. Joseph's linemen as Dave McNeice, Skrocki and Kelly, to name only a few.

o—o

THE FORMULA for St. Joseph's football success over Pittsfield High is to have a Dermody in the lineup.

In 1950, Larry played a big part in a 14-12 conquest by Ted Mezejewski's first St. Joseph's team. In 1954, Bill, now a Pittsfield police officer, excelled in a 12-0 conquest of the old rival. Last night, Kevin, a senior, caught the first touchdown, and Art, a sophomore, excelled as a replacement for Kelly. Four Dermodys! Three wins!

It was family night near the St. Joseph's bus after the game. Relatives embraced the young heroes, and there was so much happiness, many cried.

Scago, as energetic as if he had just climbed out of bed, stopped hopping up and down long enough to kiss his three-year old nephew, young Ralph Gardner, who was being held by his father.

The older Ralph Gardner explained, "He's not Junior. We have different middle initials."

o—o

SOL GOLDSTEIN, of Stamford, Conn., a Pittsfield High star athlete just before World War I, attended with his nephew, Dr. Jason Leavitt, and Dr. Leavitt's son, Maurice, a jayvee football player at Lenox School . . . Present also was Ed Haughey, who made the St. Joseph's touchdown in another upset (6-2) over Pittsfield on Thanksgiving Day, 1928. Walt Wise threw the scoring pass. Ed noted two differences: "There was more mud that day, and the field ran from the right field fence toward the grandstand." . . . Richie Kelly, former St. Joseph's High athlete, came up from Hartford, Conn., to see Denny, his younger but larger brother, play. Discharged from service in March, Richie is employed by the Aetna Life Insurance Company . . . Jack Murdock, a former University of Colorado football star, who plays tackle for the Springfield Acorns, helped Coaches Murray and Joe Fox, the only St. Joseph's assistant, in the last several weeks. He was on the bench last night. . . The Pittsfield players didn't wear stockings . . . Time marches on note: Ray Woitkowski, former PHS great back, was selling tickets in the bleachers for the PHS-St. Joseph's alumni game Saturday night . . .

Warner Commissioner Red Fox Hopes Upsets Will Continue Through Weekend

Edward (Red) Fox, commissioner of the Pittsfield Pop Warner Football League, almost always has liked upsets. As captain of the St. Joseph's High football team of 1928, he played a big role in the line in a 6-2 conquest of Pittsfield High. Wednesday night, he cheered St. Joseph's for whom his son, Joe Fox, is line coach, to a 13-7 victory over PHS. So he is hoping that the form reversals will continue at least through Sunday, when the Pittsfield Warner League All-Stars will play their third annual intersectional game with the Mattydale (N.Y.) Vikings at Wahconah Park. Starting time will be 1:30.

Mattydale, champion of its Central New York Warner Conference in 1961 and 1962, clobbered Pittsfield both years. The scores were 20-0 here two years ago and 26-0 last fall at Mattydale.

This year, Mattydale fell on a comparatively lean season. It didn't qualify for the conference play-offs. It finished with three wins and five losses. However, the Vikings won three of their last four games, and generally are rated considerably stronger than their record.

On past performance ,if nothing else, Mattydale probably should be regarded as a slight favorite. The Pittsfield team has played only one outside game. That was a 31-6 win over the Guilderland (N.Y.) Ponies several weeks ago at Guilderland.

Reception Planned

The Vikings will arrive at Park Square tomorrow afternoon at 3 in station wagons. The 30-man squad will be accompanied by three coaches, nine cheer leaders and their coach, and 10 couples, most of them parents of players.

A reception will be held. The Berkshire Pom-Poms, an all-girl drum and bugle corps, will welcome the Vikings. The Mattydale players and cheer leaders will be guests at the Pom-Pom's benefit dance tomorrow night at the Portuguese - American Club. The Pom-Poms also will accompany the visiting players to the game Sunday afternoon.

Mattydale boys and girls will be lodged in Pittsfield homes. Each will have dinner tomorrow night and breakfast Sunday morning with his host.

Charles D. Gilson, Warner commissioner here for two years, has been assisting Fox in arranging details for the visitation.

Graduates In Condition For Contest

Ciepiela Says Both Are Ready For Benefit Tilt

"Both teams are in good condition," said former Pittsfield High All-Berkshire selectee Steve Ciepiela today in referring to the Pittsfield High-St. Joseph's High alumni football game tomorrow night at 7:30 at Wahconah Park. Proceeds will go to the Pop Warner Football League equipment fund.

Ciepiela, originator of the idea to pit recent graduates of the city schools against each other for the first time in history, said that each team has looked sharp in workouts this week. Ciepiela also is a one-man promotion committee for the game.

Although each group listed a 20-man roster several days ago, the lists are not closed, Ciepiela said. Late entrants will be accepted.

Ciepiela is hopeful that the contest will become an annual affair for the same purpose.

Five of the players, including Ciepiela, coached in the Warner League, and realize that new uniforms for next fall are a necessity.

It Won't Be Any Act

FAIR OR FOUL

By Roger O'Gara

IF YOU SEE Mayor - elect Bob Dillon at most of the city's sports events in the next two years, it won't be any act on his part. For he'll be doing what has come naturally for more than four decades.

In fact, his only regret during the campaign was that it limited his attendance at high school football.

"Politics definitely interferes with a fellow's pleasure as a spectator," he observed jokingly the day after election. "Would you believe it? I saw only two games all fall. It was the first time in 40 years I attended so few."

He is expected to be at Wahconah Park tonight for the 44th Pittsfield High - St. Joseph's High football game.

o—o

THAT CONTEST always has been a must with him.

Although he was a varsity football letter winner at Pittsfield High, he never played in the traditional contest. That was because he missed the first game of the series by one season.

The initial gridiron meeting of the schools took place on the Common on Thanksgiving Day morning, 1920, and he had graduated the preceding June.

o—o

"I ALMOST played against St. Joseph's in football," he recalled. "In the fall of 1919 when I was a senior, we went up from the Common one day for what we thought was going to be an unofficial game with St. Joseph's High behind St. Joseph's Church."

"I can't remember why we didn't play them," he continued. "There was some reason. Maybe they didn't have enough kids. Anyway, I do know that the contest never was held."

Bob won letters in all three of the major sports at PHS. Although he is of sturdy build today, his top weight in high school was 128 pounds. He disclaims stardom in any of the sports.

He said he played in four games that football season, "just enough to get a letter."

He was a forward in basketball and a right fielder and first baseman in baseball. He was a substitute in basketball as a sophomore, "a semi-regular" as a junior and a starter as a senior.

o—o

LIKE MANY another father in the mixed alliances that the city football games often evoke, Pittsfield alumnus Dillon several times has cheered for St. Joseph's.

He had good reason. Son Bob Jr., was an end at the parochial school shortly after World War II, and son Dan was a reserve center there a decade later. Bob Jr., was playing in the period in which Pittsfield regularly clobbered St. Joseph's. However, Dan had more fun. St. Joseph's won 32-0 in 1957 and 13-0 in 1958.

o—o

THE MAYOR-ELECT said that he played under two fine coaches. Charley Knight handled football and basketball, and Frank (Shake) Leonard was the baseball mentor.

Both were educators as well as coaches. Knight, who had developed a New England championship basketball team in 1915 just before Bob entered high school, was for years a principal, first at Hibbard Elementary and then at Crane Junior High.

Leonard taught at Long Island University. He now lives in retirement at Hamilton, N.Y., site of his alma mater, Colgate University.

o—o

BOB TAKES pride in his record as a spectator.

He also has followed the teams to important contests throughout the county and the Connecticut Valley. He's a regular every year at the Western Massachusetts basketball tournament at Springfield College. He was present when Pittsfield High played in the New England tournament at Boston in March, 1962.

o—o

THERE WERE approximately 3,000 Pittsfield people at Keene, N.H., one night in late August, 1960 for the Pittsfield - West Hartford, Conn., championship game in the Northeastern American Legion baseball tournament. Many were typical bandwagon followers who were seeing their home city club for the first time.

Bob Dillon didn't need the public address system to identify the Pittsfield players. He had started the season with this club when only a scattered few were watching.

He's a rarity insofar as high school baseball is concerned. He regularly hurries by car at 5 o'clock from the General Electric Company to see the last few innings of contests at Clapp Park and Deming Field.

o—o

HE ALSO HAS followed the colleges closely. He has seen a few Holy Cross-Boston College football games and a number of contests at Williams and the University of Massachusetts.

How about the Notre Dame-Army football game at New York? That was a must with Pittsfield sports fans in the 1920s and 1930s. Bob finally made it in 1943. He recalls that was Angelo Bertelli's senior year. Notre Dame won 26-0.

He has one regret in the college field. He never has seen a game in Yale Bowl. The Yale-Harvard contest on Saturday, Nov. 23 at New Haven would be one way of taking care of that and of celebrating his success at the polls.

o—o

BOB HAD MUCH to do with the success of the Boys' Club basketball tournament over the years. He and long-time close friends Chuck Wise and Charley Gilson were named to the committee in the early 1950s, and have served continuously since then.

They work hard at it, attending meetings long in advance of the event and putting in arduous evenings at the gym on the nights of play.

We recalled that Bob has been designated as tournament chairman for years.

"It doesn't mean anything," he said. "They just call me that. We're all together on the thing."

Lions, Browns Tri

Small Crowd Donates $73, Sees Good Football Games

Rilla, Ciepiela, Kamienski Are Stars; Kamienski Boots Unusual Punt; Stage Set for Finale Between Lions, Browns

By LAWRENCE JACOBS

The Lions remained unbeaten by trouncing the Giants 22-12 in the feature Pop Warner booster football game last night under lights at Wahconah Park. The Browns hung onto second place in the loop by downing the winless Rams 12-8 in the first game.

Stage Set

The results set the stage for the final double header of the year Sunday, Oct. 27. The Browns, with a powerful running game, will attempt to topple the Lions from the unbeaten ranks and force a play-off. A win for the Lions will of course automatically give the Lions the league title. The Giants and Rams will clash in the other contest.

The twin bill was an artistic success. (That means they didn't make any money.) It contained some fine running plays, some good tackling — and one for the book. A small crowd contributed $73 to the league treasury, not an impressive sum over-all, but a good per capita average.

Tom Rilla of the Browns, Wayne Ciepiela of the Lions, and Joe Kamiensik of the Giants featured in the running department. Kamienski and Mark West of the Giants made some fine tackles.

And, in the third quarter, with the Giants hard pressed in a fourth - down - and - 12 situation, Kamienski dropped back to kick. The pass from center was low, and the Lions came charging in. A born expediter, Kamienski calmly stepped forward and — look, Ma, no hands — punted the spiraling pigskin 35 yards downfield.

Browns in Charge

Although the score was close, the Browns had things their own way in the opener. Rilla had two touchdowns nullified by infractions, one a 99-yard sprint.

On the third play of the first quarter, Rilla smashed over right end and ran away from the defenders to score unhampered. In the second quarter Jim Sanginetti returned a punt from the Rams 44 to the 29. Eight plays later quarterback Pat Phelps sneaked over from the three-yard line.

The Rams scored on the final play of the game with a well executed forward pass. From his own 41, quarterback Mark Reynolds tossed a pass to end Danny Powers who gathered it in and scampered 30 yards into the end zone. On a deceptive reverse, Dick Stracuzzi circled right end for the extra points.

Quick Strike

In the second encounter, the Lions scored the first time they had possession. Ciepiela took a Giant punt from his own 40 to the 27. Four plays later he dashed around left end from the six-yard line to score. John Shea split the middle for the extra points.

In the second quarter, Ciepiela fired a pass to end Gary Wowk for 31 yards and a touchdown. On a keeper John Ciliberti failed to make the distance. Kamienski took the ensuing kickoff back 60 yards down the right sideline for a touchdown. The extra-point try was short.

In the fourth quarter the Lions put on a sustained drive from the Giant 36 where they gained possession of a Giant punt. It took six plays, with Shea bursting over from the four. Ciliberti sneaked over for the additional points.

But the Giants came back strong. With Kamienski slashing the ends, they advanced to the Lions' two-yard line in four plays. Kamienski carried the ball three times in the drive, registering gains of 26, 15 and 18 yards. Quarterback George Newell raced around right end for the touchdown.

John Marchesi of the Park Department handled the public address system. Marchesi left early to accept an award from the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and Art Gwinnell spelled him at the mike.

As customary, the officials donated their services. Officials were Jim Reed, Jerry Grover and Jim Smith.

The unbeaten Lions reeled off their sixth straight win yesterday afternoon at Wahconah Park, defeating the Browns 8-0 in the second game of a double-header to take the Pop Warner Football League championship. The Giants won the opener, downing the winless Rams 12-0.

Commissioner Edward (Red) Fox announced that an all-star game will be played Sunday afternoon, matching a combination from the champion Lions and fourth-place Rams against one from the Browns and Giants.

On Sunday, Nov. 17, a league all-star team will meet the Mattydale (N. Y.) Vikings to close the league season. This will be the third straight year that local junior football teams have engaged Mattydale. Pittsfield has yet to win in the series.

The Lions and their closest rivals, the Browns, put on an interesting contest featuring some hard-hitting football. Both teams had opportunities, but penalties and fumbles nullified scoring setups and touchdown runs.

TD on Picture Play

The Lions finally scored the only touchdown in the third quarter on a picture play. Taking the second-half kickoff, the Lions set a drive in motion from their own 29 yard line. With John Shea and Wayne Ciepiela splitting the middle, the Lions advanced to their own 42-yard line in three plays. On and end-around, Gary Wowk swept right end to the Browns' 38. Ciepiela added a yard through the middle.

On the next play, Ciepiela dropped back and fired a pass to Wowk. Wowk grabbed it at the 25, and took off like an umbrella in a hurricane for the end zone. Roger Barzousky added the extra points on a smash off right tackle.

In the fourth quarter, the Browns' power back Tom Rilla raced around right end from his won 48, and presumably scored the equalizer, but he stepped out of bounds on the Lions 36 and the play was returned to that point. In the second quarter, Rilla was also detected stepping out of bounds, at the Lions 35, on a play that went all the way.

Giants Triumph

In the opener, the Giants scored touchdowns in the first and final quarters. The first touchdown stemmed from the opening kickoff. Mark West received the kickoff and lugged it back six yards to the Giant 24. Joe Kamienski circled right end for six yards. A pass, from Kamienski to George Newell, was good for 18 yards. Kamienski swung left end and nearly made it into the clear, but was tackled by Danny Powers at the Rams' eight. On a keeper, Newell raced the defenders into the left corner for a touchdown.

The second Giant touchdown stemmed from a pass interception by West on the Rams 22. West picked up three yards on a quick opener. Kamienski swept around left end for the touchdown.

Officials were John Quinlan, Pete Tierney, Jim Smith and Mike Messina. Officials donate their services to the Warner football program.

Rilla of the Browns and Powers of the Rams featured on defense.

PHS-St. Joseph's Game Postponed Until Wednesday

The Pittsfield High-St. Joseph's city series football game, scheduled for this afternoon at 1:30, was postponed until Wednesday night at 7:30. The decision was made during the morning after St. Joe's Coach Bill Murray and Parks Department Supt. Vin Hebert viewed the playing field at Wahconah Park. It is St. Joe's home game.

The surface was covered with water, and rain continued to fall. Hebert said park maintenance men could get the standing water off the field once the rain stopped, but the prediction for showers today, tonight and tomorrow led to the decision to play the contest Wednesday.

Wet and Sloppy Contest In Prospect This Afternoon

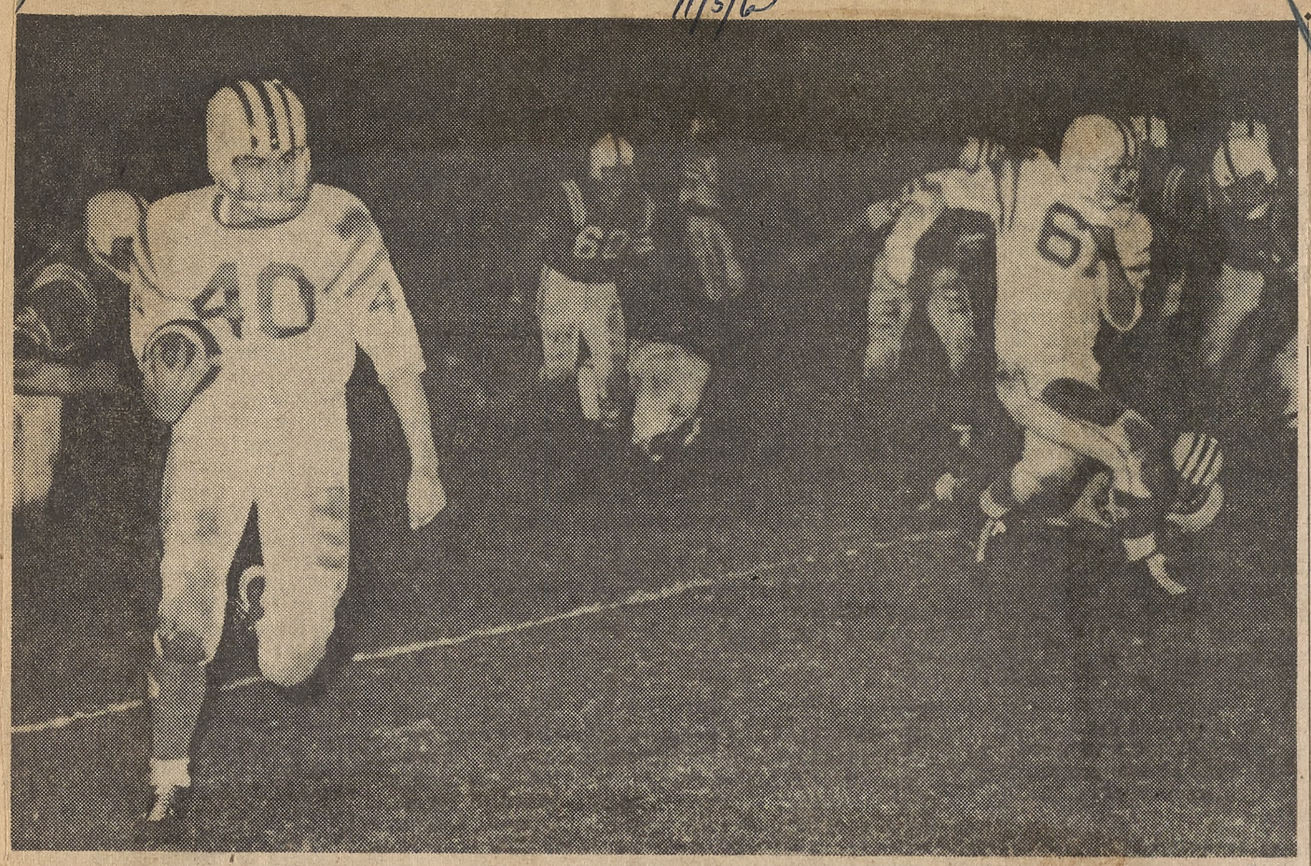

A wet and sloppy city series football game this afternoon between Pittsfield High and St. Joseph's was in prospect early this morning as rain continued to come down on the already saturated Wahconah Park Field. The game was scheduled for 1:30.

Both teams managed to get in practices Saturday and yesterday in spite of the wet weather. Coach Bill Murray had light drills for his squad both days. Coach Joe Gleason had a light workout yesterday, but put the boys through their paces for a couple of hours Saturday.

Both teams are in good shape for the game. St. Joe's starting tackle Mike Furey was out a couple of days last week with a hard cold, but returned to the squad yesterday.

The weather forecast this morning was for showers today, tonight and tomorrow. Prospects for the improvement of field conditions in the next 24 hours were not bright in view of the forecast.

ON HIS WAY to what was almost another Pittsfield High touchdown goes PHS halfback Mike Rohlfs (40) on the last play of the first half in last night's game between the local team and Adams at Wahconah Park. Rohlfs went 40 yards, and finally was knocked out of bounds on the Adams eight-yard line. About five of the Hurricanes had shots at him before he was stopped. Looking for someone to block is PHS guard Darryl Rustic (61).

PHS-St. Joes' Alumni Game To Benefit Warner League

A football game between Pittsfield and St. Joseph's High alumni teams for the benefit of the Pop Warner League has been scheduled for Saturday night, Nov. 16 at 7:30 at Wahconah Park.

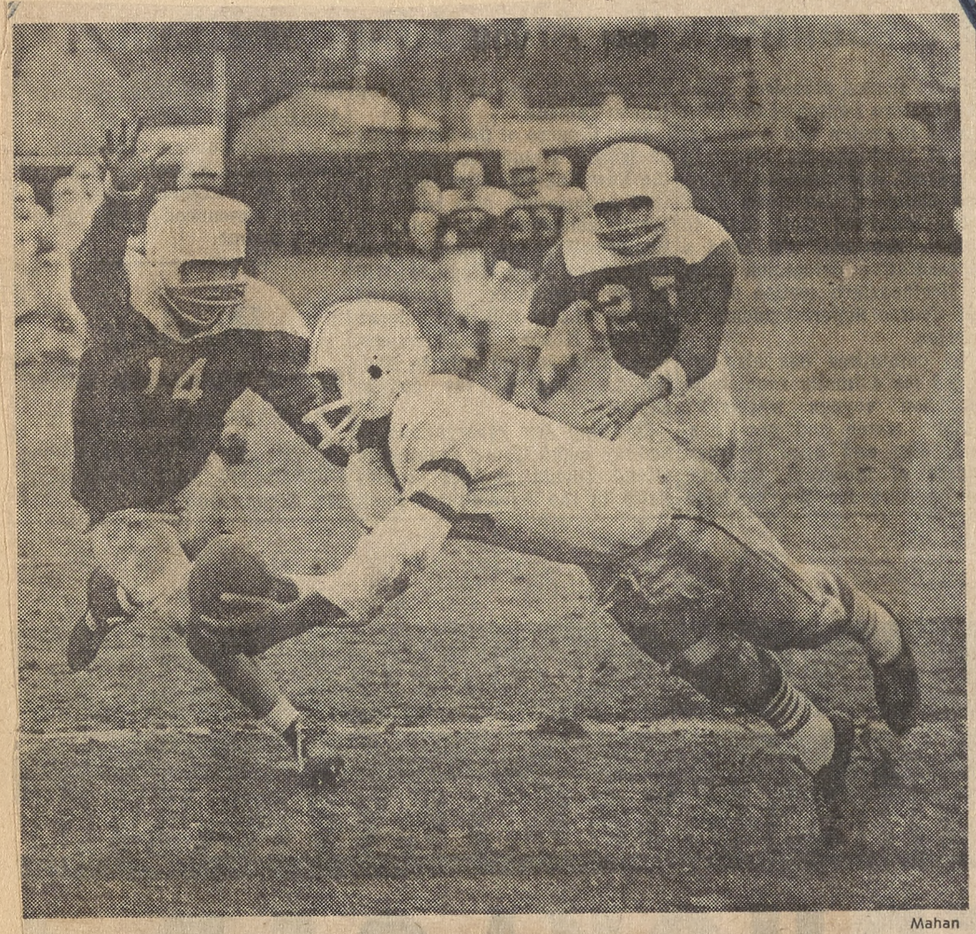

Steve Ciepiela, an outstanding member of the unbeaten PHS teams of 1959, 1960 and 1961, conceived the idea. Ciepiela, a product of the Warner League, coached the Lions to the championship this fall. Associated with him were Dick Bard and Dick Ahern, both former Warner League and Pittsfield High players. All three are preparing the league's all-star team for its intersectional contest with the Mattydale (N.Y.) Vikings at Wahconah Park Sunday afternoon, Nov. 17 at 1:30.

Ciepiela said, "We hope this will become an annual affair. It's certainly for a worthy cause. We expect to raise enough money to buy uniforms for all four teams. Many of the kids this fall were wearing suits that were used in 1955, the first year I was in the league."

Ciepiela, Bard, Ahern, Gary (Red) Soldato, Bill Seely and John (Red) Farrell are early enrollees on the PHS squad. Dick Potter, who coached the Rams of the Warner League, Tommy Potter, Dick Taglieri, Joe Newman and John Bardo have agreed to play for the St. Joseph's graduate club.

Ciepiela said complete rosters will be released early next week.

The Pittsfield team will practice Tuesday night at 6 on the PHS field.

Lions and Browns Will Meet Tomorrow in PWL Finale

The unbeaten Lions and the once-defeated Browns will meet in the second game of the Pop Warner Football League's season-closing doubleheader tomorrow afternoon at Wahconah Park. A tie or a win by the Lions would give them the title. A victory by the Browns would leave the teams tied for first with 5-1 records, and would necessitate a championship playoff game.

The Giants will oppose the Rams in the first contest at 1:30. The Lions and the Browns will meet shortly after that ends.

The Lions beat the Browns 16-8 in the first meeting of the teams several weeks ago.

Both teams display powerful and quick running attacks. Chief carriers are little Wayne Ciepiela for the Lions and big Tom Rilla of the Browns.

League officials view the return game as one of the best in the eight-year history of Warner football here. Attendance has been small throughout the autumn, but the largest crowd of the season is expected to watch the return meeting of these well-matched teams.

Mitchell

PRINCIPAL THREATS in the important Pop Warner Football League game at Wahconah Park tomorrow afternoon will be Wayne Ciepiela, left, of the Lions and Tom Rilla of the Browns. Each has been a big ground gainer all season. The teams will meet in the second game of a double-header.

OCT 26 1963

Mattydale, Warner Stars Will Meet Here Nov. 17

The Mattydale (N.Y.) Vikings and the Pittsfield Pop Warner League All-Stars will meet in their third intersectional football game at Wahconah Park Sunday afternoon, Nov. 17, at 1:30, Edward (Red) Fox, commissioner of the Warner League, announced last night.

Lean Season for Vikings

The Vikings, a long-time power in the Central New York Warner Conference, overwhelmed the Pittsfield club here in 1961 and at Mattydale last year. However, officials of the Pittsfield league are hopeful that their team will have a chance this season, because the Mattydale club has been having a lean year. It has won not one and lost four in its conference.

Pittsfield opened its outside schedule last Sunday by walloping the Guilderland (N.Y.) Poneis 33-6 at Guilderland.

The Warner League's regular season schedule will be concluded tomorrow. Then the All-Stars, selected from the league players who are not more than 130 pounds, will start to practice several times a week for the Mattydale game.

As in the first two years of the relationship, the home organization will arrange housing and dining for the visiting players and cheer leaders. Commissioner Fox and Charles D. Gilson, who was commissioner in 1961 and 1962, will be in charge of registration.

City Council Meeting

JAN 22 1963

10 Paid Holidays for Police, Firemen Approved, 6 to 5 After Lively Debate

By DANIEL C. FALES

A petition from the fire and police betterment committees finally was resolved by the Council last night after a long and varied history.

If the 6 to 5 vote registered last night holds during the Feb. 12 council meeting, policemen and firemen will have 10 paid holidays whether they are scheduled to work or not. They receive no pay for these days now.

This particular petition bumped around from the Council to committees, to the personnel director, to the city solicitor, and eventually drew a promise of lobby activity in the Boston legislature. It finally ended with Ward 3 Councilman Remo DelGallo calling Councilman-at-Large Roy F. Brown a "Barry Goldwater" and a charge that Brown was subjecting municipal employes to "slave labor."

Actually it didn't end there, for the Council's Ordinance and Rules Committee has been instructed to return the necessary orders to adopt state legislation allowing the holiday pay.

Started Last April

It all started a long time ago. On April 10 last year, the Council first saw the betterment committees' petition. It was routinely referred to the Council's Finance Committee.

The Finance Committee later referred it to the personnel director. The director referred it back to finance with the recommendation that protective forces be paid extra on holidays when they were scheduled to work.

The Finance Committee liked this suggestion and sent on to the Council. But it turned out that there was some question as to whether the city could legally adopt such a recommendation.

So back to the Finance Committee. From finance it went to the city solicitor who said no: the city could not pass such an ordinance, because there was state legislation dealing with the same subject.

This legislation says that protective personnel must be paid extra for 10 holidays whether they worked or not. (Those scheduled to work would receive double time and those off, regular time.) But the state legislation was not mandatory and only becomes effective if the city chooses to adopt it.

But the city either has to adopt the state law or do nothing. It could not pass its own ordinance just paying those people scheduled to work holidays double time.

State Legislation Rejected

Finally, it was decided to see if special state legislation couldn't be passed granting Pittsfield its desire.

This idea led to a letter from the state Firemen's Betterment Association. A strong lobby against such legislation was promised. It seems that all cities in the state, except two, had accepted the state law. Pittsfield is one.

Then it was learned that chances of such special legislation getting through were slim, very slim.

With this knowledge the Finance Committee again returned the petition to the Council, but without recommendations.

From the beginning, the firemen and policemen said all they wanted was double time when they worked holidays. They didn't push for the state law.

Both the police chief and fire chief approved, everyone approved. Well, almost everyone. Somewhere along the line the idea of eight paid holidays (for those scheduled to work) raised its head.

So about 10 months later, which was last night, the Council was faced with all the way or not at all.

Vote Is 6 to 5

Six Councilmen said go, five said no.

But there was a discussion period before the vote.

Councilman-at-Large George A. Purnell Jr. said he favored the eight-holiday system. Ward 5 Councilman Samuel Quadrozzi echoed this idea.

A plea for home rule came from Councilman-at-Large Donald G. Butler. "I think we are being dictated to by Boston. The boys in the legislature draw up these laws and make them permissive—that's permissive or else."

Brown didn't like this and said so. "These bills are presented and pushed by lobbyists."

But then he got into his opposition to the paid holiday provision. He started by lamenting the additional vacations granted city employes two years ago. And then said: "I don't think they're too bad off when you add up all the fringe benefits. If this state law is adopted it will give the police and firemen two or three paid holidays more than any other employes. If we're going to go it, let's do it for all."

DelGallo Makes Motion

DelGallo had a motion on the floor that the 10-holiday law be passed.

"If you (DelGallo) want to skyrocket the tax rate, all right, but this thing will cost $40,000 extra a year," Brown clamored.

"I'm sick and tired of hearing Brown talk of slave labor for municipal employes," DelGallo retorted. "He's nothing but a Barry Goldwater. Every time anyone wants to hold the tax rate down, they do it at the expense of the municipal employes.

"I certainly am willing to pay the extra tax."

No Order To Vote On

But the story doesn't end here. After tempers had cooled and each councilman had decided whether he was for or against, the word was passed that there was no order—no legal document to vote on. But the Council wanted to vote.

Ingenuity came into play here, and it was suggested that the Council vote on whether it should instruct the Ordinance and Rules Committee to return to the next meeting with "those orders or ordinances needed to grant the prayer of the petitioner."

Vote—Yes; Councilmen Butler, Casey, DelGallo, St. Peter, Crow and Greenberg. No: Councilmen Scelsi, Purnell, Casey, Quadrozzi and Brown.

The motion carried.

School Rental Policies To Be Discussed

Renting school buildings for other than educational purposes is to be discussed during a proposed meeting between City Council and School Committee subcommittees.

Councilman-at-Large Roy F. Brown said after a meeting of his Public Buildings Committee that he would try to arrange a meeting with the School Committee's buildings and sites committee.

The School Committee has asked the Council to allow transfer of renting authority from the Public Buildings Department to the School Department. Donald E. Farr, Public Buildings Department superintendent, now has charge of renting space in public buildings.

GGA Present Schedules

During last night's meeting in City Hall, it was decided that Farr should establish a set rate schedule for renting halls. Two representatives from the Pittsfield Good Government Association presented similar schedules used in Springfield and Chicopee.

After the short meeting, Councilmen Brown, committee chairman; Joseph S. Scelsi and Remo DelGallo, committee members; and Councilman Samuel J. Quadrozzi took a look at Morewood School on South Mountain Road.

The Councilmen found the school adequately heated, though the lavatories were reported cold. The committee felt that it should view the school through an expected petition for heating facilities has not reached it as yet.

Funds will be requested to install electric heating panels in the school, replacing an oil heater, characterized as unsafe.

Mayor Names Five To Survey On Salaries, Administration

Mayor Haughey today appointed a five-member committee to modernize the operation of city government.

Working with Administration Service Director Robert P. Johnson, the committee will study and eventually recommend changes to update not only the administration but the internal composition of all city departments except the School Department.

The committee is specifically charged with studying all phases of job classification and compensation for city employes, plus administration of departments.

Job To Take a Year

The survey, to take about a year, will also compare salaries and wages paid employes with those paid other employes in similar private and public positions not only in Pittsfield, but other areas.

In its recommendations, the committee will also prepare a comparative statement of total cost to Pittsfield under the present and recommended salary and wage schedules.

Reports will be made to the mayor and City Council.

Committee Members

Members of the Special Committee on the Salary and Administration Survey are:

Carl E. Cozzio of 64 Concord Parkway, former supervisor of General Electric's personnel department; Ivan W. Lord of 62 New Hampshire Ave., past president of IUE Local 254 and now president of the Hillcrest Hospital Corp.; Edwin M. Keir of 66 Allengate Ave., formerly with GE's personnel department, now a salesman for U.S. Steel; J. Ovila Gagne of 79 Center St., supervisor and traffic manager for A. H. Rice Co., and Mrs. Alice Ilchman, instructor in government at Berkshire Community College.

The City Council will act on the appointments and committee formation during Tuesday's regular meeting.

Technicality Stalls Fire Dept. Building Unit

Donald P. Gerst, chairman of the Fire Department Building Commission, said he cannot hold an official commission meeting until a membership technicality is straightened out.

Ward 1 Councilman Ernest G. St. Peter, commission member, is not now a member of the City Council's Public Safety Committeee. This is required by commission charter.

St. Peter was a safety commitee member, but was dropped when the Council revamped all standing committee memberships recently.

The mayor has been talking about appointing Ward 3 Councilman Remo DelGallo to the fire commission, as the councilman is a safety committee member. But St. Peter is against this move because he wants to remain on the commission.

There is also some talk about cutting the Public Safety Committee requirement for a councilman's membership on the fire commission. But Gerst is against this, feeling that the fire commission has a public safety function.

Mayor Seeks Merger of Groups On the Aging

An effort is being made today to merge part of the mayor's council for the aging with the Pittsfield and Berkshire council on the aging. Mayor Haughey called a noon luncheon meeting of his 11-member group and asked the Rev. Walter S. Ryan, chairman of the Pittsfield council, to "sit in."

The Pittsfield council needs at least three representatives from the mayor's council to qualify for state aid. Mr. Ryan said that an all-day meeting on aging problems will be held on April 10. This session will be attended by all leaders dealing with or interested in the aging. This will be the first regional conference on the aging held in Berkshire County.

Today's meeting was held at the Rosa Restaurant.

Mayor Haughey has reactivated his council for the aging after several years of dormancy.

Police Appointee Is Ruled Ineligible

One of five provisional appointees to the Police Department has been found to be ineligible for the position.

Robert U. Johnson, administrative services director, today stated that a "visual error" resulted in the misconception that John R. Burns was a veteran as defined by Civil Service.

A veteran, according to Civil Service, is a person who served in the armed forces any time between 1940 and Jan. 31, 1955. This veteran status means that a person must be selected for a position before a non-veteran.

Burns did not enter the service until 1956, the personnel department said.

The non-veteran status of Burns was brought to Johnson's attention by Councilman-at-Large George A. Purnell Jr. during Tuesday night's Council meeting. The other four men are veterans.

Civil Service informed Johnson this morning that James A. Haggerty of 86 Maplewood Ave. and Robert Smalley of 80 Brown St. will be placed on an eligibility list within two weeks. These two men, plus the four provisional patrolmen will fill all the six patrolmen vacancies in the Police Department

The provisional patrolmen will retain the provisional status until results of a Civil Service examination are received.

Mayor Asks For Survey Of River

Pittsfield has officially requested a survey of the east branch of the Housatonic River by the state Division of Waterways.

Mayor Haughey said late yesterday that he has written the state asking for the study. "This survey does not commit the city to anything," the mayor said. He also said a special City Council meeting was not necessary to gain authorization to initiate the survey.

The Housatonic River Watershed Association, headed by Mrs. Frederick G. Crane Jr., met yesterday with Daniel J. Horgan, chief engineer of the state waterways division. The state conducts programs for cleaning up rivers on a 50-50 cost basis with the local cities and towns through which the rivers run.

A survey is first conducted to detremine actual costs and extent of a program. This survey does not cost the localities any money, nor does it obligate localities to a program.

Horgan stated that a clean up program could cost as much as $25,000 a mile, but he could not state with any certainty cost for the six mile stretch of river through Pittsfield.

APR 19 1963

Mayor Haughey has sent money orders to the City Council for action during Tuesday night's regular meeting. One order calls for $477 as final payment for constructing a playground shelter at Osceola Park. Another, requests $350 for a vehicle replacement account in the Park Department. Finally, the mayor is asking for $4,000 to pay a court judgment to Curtis G. Keyes for damages resulting from a land taking for the sewer improvement project.

Mayor For Recreation Use Of Old Pumping Station Site

Mayor Haughey said today he favors turning city land on Pomeroy Avenue over to the Conservation Commission for park and recreation purposes.

The 14-acre site was formerly used as a sewage pumping station, but the new treatment plant has resulted in the abandonment of the obsolete facility.

Legality To Be Checked

Making the area a park has been recommended by both the commission and the Housatonic River Watershed Association. Mayor Haughey today received a letter from Mrs. Fredrick G. Crane Jr., president of the HRWA, strongly urging conversion of the site into a park and recreation spot. Mrs. Crane said that she has been approached by several garden clubs, which have expressed a desire to beautify the river banks along this public land.

The mayor said he first must check to determine if the Conservation Commission can legally manage buildings. There is no question about the commission's right to hold land.

It has been suggested in the past that a fire station might be constructed on the property, but the mayor said this section did not lend itself to such a station. He also noted that other arrangements were in the works for fire protection in the southeast quadrant of the city.

The commission wrote the mayor expressing its belief that the land should be given the commission now while the change is at hand. The commission felt that this would be a perfect spot for a park, plus boating and canoeing facilities. The HRWA echoed this sentiment.

Conservation Commission To Seek $1,000

The Pittsfield Conservation Commission voted last night to request a budget of $1,000 for 1964.

The commission has a balance of $1,172 from previous appropriations, Chairman Fred D. Retallick said. Expenditures this month will include $1,000 for acquiring a 3½-acre tract at the west end of Onota Lake Causeway and $275 to clear trees around a water hole on the tract. The hold would be filled later to make a parking area at the entrance of the tract.

A petition of Councilman Daniel Casey, requesting the taking of a parcel of land at the south end of the causeway, is being returned to the City Council by the commission with the request that it be referred to Public Works Commissioner John F. Daniels.

Chairman Retallick said that this action was taken in view of a proposed Chapter 90 project which will include widening the causeway, probably taking a piece of this land.

In Solemn Observance of an Election Year, The Who-Wants-To-Be-Mayor Game Is On

By DANIEL C. FALES

It is a long and honorable tradition that when an election year dawns, the sound of horns and crashing fenders is barely stilled before speculation begins on who might run for what.

The debut of 1963 is no exception. In November, Pittsfield will elect a mayor, and already a large collection of names is being tossed about—some of them logical, some wish-fancies and some out of this world.

First on the list is the incumbent, Mayor Haughey. After six years in office, the mayor has nothing to lose by trying for a fourth term. He says now that it is too early to decided what he'll do.

But if the mayor can gather his forces to him again, he may make a try. There is some question about financing such a campaign, but it has been done in the past and could be done again.

Callaghan

Another name of the scene is that of Rep. Patrick Callaghan. His name has been mentioned time and again, but there is no definite indication he will try. As a matter of fact, he says he is happy where he is.

Further down the list is Housing Authority Chairman Ralph J. Froio. He makes no secret of having been asked by unnamed persons to consider such a move. But there is little likelihood he would run again Mayor Haughey.

Next is Ward 3 Councilman Remo DelGallo. Here again there has been some talk that this councilman is interested in the $9,000 a year job. But he will probably not buck Haughey if the mayor choses to campaign again. He says he has been approached to run, but he will make no comment.

One candidate—seriously intending to run—is Fred J. Broderick. This young lawyer has the backing of Peter G. Arlos, chairman of the Democratic City Committee.

Hawkins, Smith?

Several others have cropped up as possibilities: Atty. John Hawkins and former General Electric vice president, Raymond W. Smith. Smith has not been contacted, but his name has been mentioned in some quarters. Hawkins says he is considering a run, but that it is too early for any definite decision.

Others are mentioned, but there is little chance that these people would consider running. Those suggested are former Councilmen John Burbank and Daniel England, William J. Flynn, city solicitor, and Roger Wellington.

In the 1961 campaign, official candidates announced their intentions early. The first was Sammy Vincent, who tossed in his hat in March, Anthony Sottile entered in May, while Mayor Haughey waited until August.

It is hard to tell at this point when candidates will come forth. One main point to remember is that politicos try to keep away from officially announcing until the last minute. This lessens the chance that the public will get tired of a campaign.

There is always the possibility of a dark horse. But none can be seen at this early juncture. Former Councilman John F. Fraser may have a yen for the mayor's chair, but he is expected to try for the City Council this time around.

Speaking of the Council, this will probably be the mad steeplechase it has been in past years — at least for the primaries. Most, if not all, the present councilmen are expected to run again.

Candidates now taking their positions in the wings promise that all Council seats will be contested this year.

The heavy side of the School Committee is also up for election. In the election of 1961, seats in Wards 4, 5 and 6 were filled for four years. This year, seats in Wards 1, 2, 3 and 4 will be on he block. These are now filled by Committeemen Thomas F. Kelly, John J. Quinn, Donald H. Welton and William E. Harris.

Primary elections will be held Oct. 15. The election will be Nov. 5.

Overshadowing all political races in the city elections will be the issue of filling the school superintendent vacancy last year. All elected officials were in on this selection, and it is evident that attacks from challengers will be aimed, in part, at various votes made by those in office at the time. This includes both School Committee and City Council members not to mention the mayor.

Johnson Tells Councilmen Of Special Survey Plans

JAN 2 1963

Following last night's special City Council meeting, Personnel Director Robert U. Johnson met informally with the Councilmen and discussed in detail his plans for special survey covering all city departments to solidify job classifications and organziation.

Johnson stressed the fact that it would be "virtually impossible" to conduct the survey without the services of a senior clerk-typist. Mayor Haughey has already sent a request for a $3,146 appropriation to the Council for such a clerk. Johnson said he would require her services for approximately a year.

Survey Outlined

The Councilmen appeared to be sympathetic to Johnson's plans and most likely will approve the request for the senior clerk.

The survey will include the employes' total service with the city and the actual work he or she performs plus their absences and considerable other information. Eventually the information about job classification, wages or salaries would be processed on IBM machines and stored away for "permanent and instantaneous use," Johnson said.

An advisory committee would assist Johnson. How many would serve on the committee has not yet been determined.

Johnson also said that the Blue Cross-Blue Shield and PIC rates for city employes will be increased effective Feb. 1, "due largely to recent increase in hospital and semi-private room rates."

According to Blue Cross figures, "hospital rates have increased at the rate of 8 per cent per year and the doctors' charges, 4 per cent."

Mayor's Budget Totals $12,044,632

Mayor Haughey has set the official budget total as approved by him at $12,044,632. This is $792,125 more than finally adopted by the City Council last year. It is also $600,000 more than the final total appropriation established in determining last year's $63.60 per $1,000 valuation tax rate.

The Council last year approved a budget of $11,252,507. Additional funds needed for various projects during the first part of 1962 ran the total appropriation to $11,392,128.

The $792,125 difference represents $6.30 on the tax rate. But increased state reimbursements are expected to cut this rate by some degree.

Paid Holidays Measure Tabled

City acceptance of state legislation providing 10 paid holidays for fire and police personnel were tabled during Tuesday night's City Council meeting; not approved as reported yesterday.

Ward 3 Councilman Remo DelGallo asked for the delay in acting on the orders because Ward 7 Councilman Thomas W. Coughlin did not attend the meeting. A close, 6 to 5 vote, on the subject during the Jan. 22 Council meeting prompted Councilman DelGallo's move. Councilman Coughlin had voted favorably then and was expected to do so again. Loss of this vote would have thrown the issue into a tie, thus defeating the orders.

The holiday legislation will come before the Council at the Feb. 26 meeting.

Council To Meet Tuesday On Police Survey Question

JAN 25 1963

A special City Council session to talk about the police probe is only one of numerous meetings scheduled by the Council and its committee for the next several days.

Council President Joseph S. Scelsi will call the Council, meeting as a committee-of-the-whole, to order at 7:30 p.m. in Springside House on Tuesday. This session is an attempt to find out what the Berkshire County Grand Jury meant when it recommended a study of the local Police Department by the state police.

Specifically, the Council wanted to have an explanation for the word "investigation," and the words, "inefficiency and deficiencies" used by the Grand Jury in its recommendation.

Ryan Asked to Attend

Dist. Atty. Matthew J. Ryan Jr. is expected to attend this meeting, as are Mayor Haughey and Police Chief Thomas H. Calnan.

Mayor Haughey had asked the Council, last Tuesday night, for authorization to invite the state police to study Pittsfield's Police Department. On the motion of Ward 2 Councilman Raymond E. Crow, the Council voted 9 to 2 to refer the matter to a meeting of the Committee-of-the-Whole. The Council felt it needed more detail on why the Grand Jury recommended such a study. It is expected that after this Tuesday's meeting the Council will grant the mayor his requested authority.

Another meeting, which should stir some interest, is a session of the Council's Public Safety Committee on Wednesday night. This committee will consider whether or not the Yellow Coach Co. should have a local license to operate along Berkshire Railway Co. routes.

If this license is granted, it does not mean that Yellow Coach will start operations. It only means that the first step has been taken in acquiring a state Department of Public Utilities franchise should the BSR fold.

Atty. George Crane, representing BSR, is expected to attend the meeting to oppose Yellow Coach.

The committee is scheduled to meet at 7:30 p.m. in the City Hall.

Meeting Monday

The Council also has a meeting scheduled for Monday night. Mayor Haughey called the special session to take land for the proposed Columbus Avenue — Summer Street parking lot.

This official act will be accomplished at 7:45 p.m. in City Hall. At 8, the Council will journey to the former main building of Pittsfield General Hospital to view proposed offices for the Health Department. Dr. Harold Stein, health commissioner, wants to move from City Hall because he needs "more space."

Tonight, School Supt. James P. Reynolds and School Committee Chairman John Quinn will meet with the Council's new Public Buildings Committee. The School Committee is asking that authority to rent school auditoriums be vested in the School Department rather than the Public Building Department.

Supt. of Buildings Donald E. Farr now has charge of scheduling activities if they are not in conflict with school schedules.

Last night the Ordinance and Rules Committee met and will submit an order to the Council accepting state legislation which calls for paying protective personnel on 10 holidays. This means that those scheduled to work on these holidays will receive double time, while those police and firemen who are off will receive regular time.

FEB 20 1963

Physical Exams Considered for City Job Candidates

A physical examination for prospective city employes was discussed by the City Council's Ordinance and Rules Committee Monday night.

Meeting in City Hall, the committee considered the proposal with Administrative Services Director Robert U. Johnson. The director noted that there often is as much as two years between the time a prospective employe takes a Civil Service test and the time he is hired.

He also said that many people are hired on a temporary basis pending test results and that the employe falls under the city's workmen's compensation plan. This might prove costly without a physical beforehand, he said.

A committee recommendation for five more parking spaces on lower West Street near Union Station will be sent the Council. The committee favored cutting the present bus stop area by 40 feet.

No parking on the east side of Third Street was also proposed.

Survey Asked Of City Jobs

JAN 2 1963

The Administrative Services Department is planning to conduct a survey of all city departments to solidify job classifications and organization.

To accomplish this, the department is asking for an additional clerk. Mayor Haughey yesterday sent a request to the City Council asking that $3,146 be appropriated to hire a senior clerk-typist.

The mayor also asked the Council to confirm the appointment of James T. Goggins as the new clerk of (City Council) committees. The appointment of Goggins, who is assistant inspector of buildings, is to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of Daniel M. Power.

Power, who is assistant city clerk, has been clerk of committees almost 10 years. He is resigning this position for personal reasons.

Goggins will become clerk of the Council's Claims and Licenses, Ordinance and Rules, Public Safety, Public Buildings and Health and Welfare committees.

Firemen Need Wheels

Mayor Haughey is also asking the Council for $1,000 so that the Fire Department can purchase wheels and tires for ladder truck number one. This truck is 25 years old, and requires tires that are not manufactured any more.

A tire blew last week while the truck was in the Central Fire Station. It is impossible to find new tires because of the odd-sized wheels. So new wheels and tires are required.

The truck will be placed in reserve when the city acquires a new one.

The mayor also wants the Council to authorize borrowing in anticipation of taxes during 1963. This is a routine request.

Custodians Raised

Salaries were increased by four per cent for custodians, with their pay continuing to be based on the number of rooms in the buildings to which they are assigned. The salary schedule shows a range of $4,878 to $5,335.

A differential of $1,000 over the base salary of the highest paid subordinate is to be paid the supervisor of custodians, Joseph J. Madison Jr., who is to receive $6,626 this year.

Custodians were voted four hours' pay for working on Sundays and holidays between Sept. 1 and June 30, and are to receive four hours' extra pay for work on eight "paid" holidays.

School clerks who work 52 weeks a year as well as custodians were granted longer vacations, described by William B. Walker, chairman of the salary subcommittee as "comparable with those of other city employes." The new schedule calls for two weeks' vacation after one year of service; three weeks after five years of service, and four weeks after ten years.

Extra for Evenings

Custodians also received adjustments designed to give them premium pay for evening work at functions in the schools. Prior to 7 p.m. and after 10 p.m., they are to receive $1.50 per half hour. For working from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m., they will receive $8; they had been getting $6.

Two final salary-raising votes dealt with special teachers: those handling homebound students, and those instructing evening classes. The new pay rate is $5 an hour; formerly it was $4.50.

Housing Board To Discuss Site Obstacles

Fhat the Housing Authority will do to overcome obstacles in planning a housing for the elderly project on Elberon Avenue will be talked over during a scheduled meeting Friday at 7 p.m.

The City Council has blocked a zone change for the site. But the authority may initiate other action to overcome this. At this time there is no indication of what action will be taken.

Ward 5 Councilman Samuel J. Quadrozzi wants a meeting with Ralph J. Froio, authority chairman, to discuss other sites. The councilman has one idea involving the Fenn and Whipple streets corner, and another in the Springside Park area.

But Froio, who is willing to meet with Quadrozzi, says that he investigated 52 sites before selecting the Elberon Avenue land. He also stipulates that the authority will consider only cleared land because the initial cost is too much when purchasing land with buildings.

Friday's authority meeting will be in the recreation hall at the Francis Avenue housing-for-the-elderly project.

Seven Local Men Pass Exam for Phone Operator

Seven local men passed the Civil Service examination last month for telephone operator in the Pittsfield Fire Department. Nineteen men and one woman took the exam.

The seven, in alphabetical order are Arthur P. Archambault, 41 Dartmouth St., Roland E. Benham, 60 Cherry St.; Charles N. Benoit, 31 Lucille St.; Owen W. Boyington Sr., 26 Essex St.; Arthur J. Chamberlain, 34 Preston Ave.; Frederick J. Hutchinson, 7 Amity St., and John K. Wilker of 26 Meadow Lane.

Council Meets Tonight on Police Study

The City Council tonight will talk over a mayoral request for authorization to invite the state police to survey the Pittsfield Police Department.

Mayor Haughey and Police Chief Thomas H. Calnan will meet with the Council at 7:30 p.m. at Springside House. It had been hoped that Dist. Atty. Matthew J. Ryan or his representative could attend, but this does not look likely.

Ryan is out of town, and Asst. D. A. Clement A. Ferris has not as yet been assigned to meet with the Council.

The mayor's request came after the Berkshire County Grand Jury recommended that the Police Department be investigated and surveyed by the state Department of Public Safety (state police). This recommendation was made to find ways to "correct present inefficiency and deficiencies" in the department.

Ryan explained last week that the Grand Jury had only an organizational study in mind, not anything of a criminal nature.

The mayor requested the needed authority during the Jan. 22 Council meeting. The Council decided to refer the subject to a meeting of the Council as a whole to gather further information on the desire of the Grand Jury.

St. Joseph's Takes City Championship on Thrilling 13-7 Victory

Parochial Team Tops PHS With Fourth Quarter TDs

Scago Passes to Dermody for First, Sneaks Over on Second, Completes 11 Passes; Pinsonneaut Is PHS Scorer

By BILL MAHAN

In what had to be one of the most thrilling St. Joseph's High victories in the history of the city series, Coach Bill Murray's parochial team came from behind with two touchdowns in the last quarter to beat Pittsfield High 13-7 before about 6,000 people last night at Wahconah Park.

a long pass but Tobin dashed in to pick it off. The game ended as he was knocked out of bounds.

A fumble gave PHS a good opportunity to score early in the game but another fumble shortly after took the chance away. John Culver recovered a St. Joe's fumble on the parochial school's 11-yard line but two plays later Murray's club had the ball again when Skrocki grabbed a PHS miscue.

St. Joseph's had its cross-town adversary deep in its own territory throughout most of the closing minutes of the first half. The parochial squad started on its own 36 as the second period began, and with the help of successive passes from Scago to Tobin for 12 and 20 yards and a piling penalty against PHS, it was down to the Pittsfield 5-yard line before being stopped.

Trailing 7-0 going into the final period, the St. Joe's club snatched the triumph on a touchdown pass from quarterback Frank Scago to end Kevin Dermody and a one-yard TD plunge by Scago. The second score came with a minute and a half left in the game. Tom Tobin booted the tying points after the first score.

The victory gave St. Joseph's its eighth city championship in the 44-year rivalry and the mythical Berkshire County crown. Murray's team had a 4-1 record against county teams to Pittsfield's 3-1 mark.

Pittsfield broke the scoreless stalemate early in the third period on a three-yard dash by halfback Bob Pinsonneault. Jim Martin booted the extra point.

The St. Joseph's High team definitely was up for the big game against its arch rival. The squad as a whole played its heart out. Defensively, practically every man in the lineup came up with a key play at some time during the game.

Scago put on a tremendous passing performance. He looked like Y. A. Tittle with hair. He completed 11 of 19 passes for 144 yards, and threw many of them on the run. In St. Joe's first touchdown drive, which went 75 yards starting in the third quarter and ending on the second play of the fourth period, he completed five out of seven for 55 yards. The parochial team lost 20 yards in penalties in the march.

Ground Work

The rushing contributions of the other members of the backfield were about equal. Tobin was a work horse, carrying 17 times for a net of 32 yards. Joe Woitkoski netted 31 yards on seven tries, and fullback Mike Skrocki had 29 on eight attempts. Scago gained 18 yards on five carries himself.

Skrocki also played a great defensive game at tackle. He recovered three of Pittsfield's five fumbles, and made a tackle that caused another bobble.

Pittsfield had a 113 to a 110 edge in yardage rushing. PHS tried four passes and completed two for 16 yards. The parochial squad led in the first downs 14 to 10.

Halfback Mike Rohlfs led the public school ball carriers with 44 yards on nine carries. Fullback Dave Southard had a net of 28 on 10 tries and Pinsonneault gained 23 on seven chances. Quarterback Tom Grieve had a net of 18 on four carries.

Fumbles played an important role in the contest. Pittsfield fumbled five times and St. Joe's twice. Both teams lost the ball on every bobble. Fumbles started each club on its way to its first touchdown.

In the third quarter, Bill Stanhope recovered a loose ball on the St. Joe's 29-yard line on the opening kickoff. Six plays later, Coach Joe Gleason's boys were on top 6-0. Pinsonneault contributed runs of 5, 9 and 3 yards in the drive, Southard picked up 9 and Rohlfs 3. Pinsonneault zoomed through the left side of his line on the three-yard TD run.

Skrocki Recovers

It was a Skrocki recovery on the St. Joe's 14 that started his team on its way for its first score. The recovery also killed off a serious PHS threat.

Scago completed passes to Tobin of 11, 10 and 22 yards in the drive and one of 17 yards to Woitkoski before he hit Dermody in the end zone with a five-yard aerial. Skrocki made 16 yards over land on the dri...

Fired by its touchdown ... Joe's held Pittsfield on downs following the kickoff and took over on its 34-yard line when Pittsfield punted. Tobin went for six yards, Woitkoski seven and Skrocki four through the line. Tobin scrambled for another yard and Scago rolled around his right end for 11 to put the ball in Pittsfield territory.

Scago connected with Woitkoski on a 23-yard pass and after a second throw was incomplete, Tobin went over tackle for three. Another forward to Woitkoski brought the ball inside the one-yard line. Skrocki hurled his 235 pounds into the PHS line twice but the public school's forward wall met the challenge.

Pass Interference

Scago went to the air again and a pass interference penalty against Pittsfield in the end zone gave Murray's team a first down on the one-yard line. This time Scago kept the ball and dove over behind a good charge by the center of the St. Joseph's line. Tobin's kick for the point was deflected by charging PHS linemen and fell short.

The parochial team got a real break on the following kickoff when Mike Chesney recovered a Pittsfield fumble. St. Joe's used a couple of ground plays to run out the clock, tried a pass unsuccessfully and another rush before surrendering the ball to the opposition.

Another Fumble

Pittsfield came back out to the 23 but fumbled. Scago recovered but St. Joe's could make only four yards in a series of downs that had two passes knocked down by defender Al Hubbard.

St. Joe's had to wage its uphill battle in the second half without center Denny Kelly, who suffered a muscle injury to his hip early in the third quarter. Kelly and Dan O'Brien did great linebacking jobs. After Kelly's injury Scago moved from defensive end to the linebacking duties and freshman Art Dermody took over the center chores on offense.

Defensive standouts for Pittsfield were Steve Trepania, John Culver, Dave Reilly, Mitch and Mike Massaconi and Pat Litano. One or more of them were in on practially every tackle.

City Series Side Lights

There was some confusion among the spectators as to why St. Joe's refused a roughing-the-kicker penalty in the third quarter. The reason was that the parochial team probably would not have made a first down as it was a fourth down with long yardage to go. Interscholastic rules do not give an automatic first down on a roughing infraction as is done in professional football.

A great crowd of St. Joseph's High students were at the school to cheer the team when it arrived on the bus from the park. The overjoyed assembly included the Sisters of St. Joseph who came out of the convent to join the celebration.

Coach Bill Murray is building a reputation for at least one upset a year. Two winters ago, it was his basketball squad that beat a favored Pittsfield club. Last year he tied Pittsfield in football, took the county basketball crown and went to the semi-finals of the Western Massachusetts basketball tournament. Murray was assisted into the shower fully dressed by his players back at the school, but he said after the game that he didn't care what they did to him.

The defeat did not affect Pittsfield's championship of the Western Massachusetts Class A Conference. St. Joe's finished in a tie for third place with Northampton with a 3-2 record. It was the first league defeat for PHS, which had won four straight in circuit competition.

Murray's boys won their last five games after losing their first two. Gleason's team had an over-all mark of five wins and three...

Although no one complained of mosquitoes, the temperatures, which were in the mid 30s, were not too uncomfortable. Fog was beginning to roll in during the final stages of the contest.

Corps' Contribution

To the Editor of THE EAGLE:—

It was most gratifying to hear the comments [WBEC, March 5] by Mr. Paul Harvey, noted ABC network commentator, concerning the low incident rate of juvenile delinquency in the city of Pittsfield. The members of the Drum Corps Association of Pittsfield, the Boys' Club Cavaliers, the Imperials, the Monarchs, the Pom Poms, and the Skyhawks, like to feel that in some measure we are, through the medium of these drum corps, contributing to this low rate.

These drum corps are helping to mold the future citizens of our community by teaching some 350 members of the corps discipline, neatness, coordination, musicianship, responsibility and exposure to the young people of the other communities in which these corps appear. This teaching process is a 52-week-per-year affair when it comes to the corps. The total hours of useful activity by these young people is staggering. Each youngster in each corps spends a minimum of eight hours each week at supervised rehearsals. This is a total of 416 hours per youngster or a total of 145,600 hours for all of the corps combined. This figure is the very minimum and probably runs much higher than that.

The corps will continue to do their part and will continue to represent our city, its citizens and its youth with the highest standards in every event and community in which we appear.

Publicity Chairman,
Pittsfield Drum Corps Assn.

In Brief . . .

While firemen and policemen should certainly be given extra pay for working on holidays, it is unfortunate that the City Council found it could do this only by accepting a state law which gives the same benefit to off-duty personnel as well. Under the circumstances, the legislation amounts to nothing more than a side-door pay raise, as Mayor Haughey noted in reluctantly signing it into law . . . Whatever the outcome of the discussion over who should have control over the rental of school facilities by non-school groups, there should be general agreement on the desirability of encouraging greater after-hours use of these facilities for community pur-

Police Dept. Survey Session To Be Wednesday

Mayor Haughey, Police Chief Thomas H. Calnan and possibly City Council President Joseph S. Scelsi will meet Wednesday with Frank S. Giles, state Public Safety Department director, to discuss the mechanics of a state police investigation of the local police department.

Councilman-at-Large Daniel Casey today claimed that this orientation session should be held in Pittsfield so the entire Council can attend. He said that since the Council has approved this survey, it should be apprised of the scope of the investigation.

An investigation and survey of the Pittsfield Police Department was recommended by the Berkshire County Grand Jury sitting last October. The jury asked that the state police make recommendations on correcting "the present inefficiency and deficieneies" of the department.

At the time, the jury was investigating a case involving three patrolmen, eventually convicted of burglary.

Orchard Street Land Purchase Asked by Casey

Councilman-at-Large Daniel Casey today called on the city to preserve the land where the Orchard Street School stands. He said that the building could be sold and torn down but that the land should be retained for a playground.

The old school on Orchard Street at First Street has been used as a storage area by the School Department. But the department now plans to use another facility.

Council Unit Planned for Grievances

City employes will have a place to take their grievances if they do not receive satisfaction through regular channels. The complaints will be referred to a three-man advisory committee composed of councilmen to be appointed by Council President Joseph S. Scelsi.

The committee was suggested by Local 65 of the Pittsfield City Employes Association. Most members of this group and Local 861 of the AFL-CIO Municipal Employes Union are in the Public Works Department.

Opposed By Greenberg

Ward 4 Councilman Joel S. Greenberg opposed the committee plan.

"I don't believe that we (the Council) as a legislative body, should intercede in an executive function," Greenberg said. He said he was not opposed to individual contact with councilmen by employes when a grievance cannot be resolved, but he was opposed to a general committee.

Councilman-at-Large Roy F. Brown said that it was time the Council "realized that we are not an administrative branch (of city government)."

"If we take up every grievance," Brown said, "it will be a full-time job."

But Councilman-at-Large George A. Purnell Jr. had a different idea.

"When the present (grievance) system fails to function then we should step in," he said.

The present system requires that workers submit grievances to their supervisors. If they are not settled at this level, then the workers go to the department head, then the mayor, and finally they may appeal directly to Civil Service.

The employe groups, which have no legal bargaining rights, feel that their grievances are not receiving proper attention.

Physical Exams Sought For City Job Candidates

A physical examination for each prospective city employe is one of two requests sent the City Council today by Robert U. Johnson, administrative services director.

The other would force city department heads to require an opinion from the director on the legality of such acts as firing, hiring, promoting and disciplining city employes.

All city-employe personnel records are kept with the Administrative Department. Until now the department has had a hard time keeping up with various changes occurring in the city's 22 departments.

Written Statement Required

Department heads have not been required to notify the services department of various actions, because most of these moves are made directly with civil service.

But now, provided the Council grants Johnson's requests, the city auditor must have a written statement from Johnson before any financial actions can be taken regarding city employes.

This written statement will be an opinion on whether the department head has legally fulfilled the requirements of city ordinances and civil service regulations in dealing with employes.

Johnson said that the report is only an advisory item and is not binding on department heads.

A physical examination for new employes, Johson said, will cut down on the number of medical claims to which the city becomes liable. This amendment also will call for an examination for employes returning to work after two weeks or more of sick leave.

Johnson said in some cases employes return to work without medical clearance.

Mayor Signs Orders

10 Paid Holidays Approved For Firemen and Policemen

Mayor Haughey has signed into law orders providing firemen and policemen with 10 paid holidays. The mayor was reluctant to do so, because he wanted extra pay for just those protective personnel who were scheduled to work on a holiday.

But because there was state legislation on this subject, it had to be accepted instead of a tailor-made ordinance.

Mayor Haughey felt that this state legislation provided an extra day's pay to those who were not scheduled to work. In other words, if a fireman is not scheduled to work he receives a day's pay for a holiday. This is over and above the pay he gets for a week's work.

Same for Policemen

The same is true for a policeman. A patrolman receiving $100 for a five-day week may receive $120 if a holiday falls on one of his two days off. A patrolman that works the holiday will also receive $120 as he receives double-time for the working holiday.

It boils down to an extra day's pay for everyone or a salary increase, the mayor said. He also said he definitely favors double-time for those who work on holidays.

If he had failed to sign the state legislation, as accepted by the City Council on a close 6-to-5 vote, protective personnel could not have received any holiday benefit. This the mayor was against.

The mayor had thought of granting just a pay raise to the personnel to compensate for holiday work. But there was no guarantee that the state legislation would not be adopted under a different Council or administration.

Alternatives Ruled Out

In studying ways to pay a bonus to those who worked holidays, the Council found that it would be illegal to adopt a special local ordinance when there was state legislation in this field. The Council also found that a request for special state legislation permitting such a move by the city would be vigorously fought by fire and police lobbies in Boston.

The 10 paid holidays for all protective personnel will cost the city an extra $48,000 annually.

Council Passes Appropriations Of $10,425

The City Council last night approved $10,425 worth of appropriations submitted by Mayor Haughey.

The biggest was $4,000 to settle a land damage claim brought against the city by Mr. and Mrs. Curtis G. Keyes, operators of the Keyes Flower Shop, 888 Dalton Ave., as a result of the city's sewer construction program. The $4,000 is for a 25-foot easement over the Keyes property in Coltsville.

The Council also approved, with Councilman Thomas G. Coughlin dissenting, an appropriation of $2,400 for installation of special brackets and electrical connections on North Street light poles to facilitate the downtown merchants' Christmas decoration program.

Another big item was the $2,698 awarded Mr. and Mrs. Wesley M. Eaton, 588 West Housatonic St., and their son, Bruce, for injuries and property damage incurred in an accident with a police cruiser operated by Officer Maurice C. Isenhart.

The Council also appropriated $477 for a final payment on construction of a shelter at Osceola Playground; $350 for replacement of a Park Department vehicle; and $500 to meet increased costs of printing the city's annual report.

Whittling by Council Cuts Budget $50,000

Pittsfield's 1963 budget has been set at a record $11,993,798. The City Council, meeting for 4½ hours last night, only managed to cut a meagre $50,553 from an already cropped budget sent the Council by Mayor Haughey.

This final figure is $741,291 more than the Council approved last year after cutting $74,000. The $50,000 cut means that the tax rate this year will be 40 cents less per $1,000 assessed valuation than if the budget were approved as okayed by the mayor.

Another $36,000

But the 40 cents will almost be wiped out by a $36,000 appropriation requested by the mayor yesterday to pay police and fire personnel for holidays. The Council will officially accept the budget Tuesday during a scheduled Council meeting. It will also act on the mayor's appropriation order.

The Council's cutting efforts will have little if any impact on the anticipated tax rate for this year of $68.10, which is $4.50 higher than last year.

It was the Public Works Department which was hit the hardest. The Council cut $34,000 from the department's $1.5 million request. Most of this was a $20,000 slice taken from salaries. The Council figures, and it has proved right in the past, that sick leave and workmen's compensation paid in lieu of salaries durig the year, will compensate for this cut.

Parks Cut $3,351

A rash of minor cuts in the Parks and Recreation Department totaled $3,351, which was the next largest amount taken from one department. This left the Parks Department with about $250,000.

The Public Buildings Department, usually laid out in lavender by the Council, was only tapped for $2,625. The Council left intact, $65,000 item for school building repair, and even noted that this was not enough. But the Council can only cut, not add.

City Auditor John J. Norton, assisting the Council last night, noted that it was an error on the School Committee's part not to apply for federal and state reimbursements because the maintenance money is allocated in the Public Buildings budget.

On Tax Bills

"Regardless of where the money is shown," Norton said, "it is still figured in the school portion of the tax bills." School Committee Chairman John J. Quinn several weeks ago said he thought the city was losing possible reimbursement for school repairs because the responsibility did not rest with school authorities.

"All that the city has to do," Norton said, "is apply for the reimbursement."

In the budget is the $4.58 million requested by the School Committee for school operations

A new, 100-foot ladder truck for the Fire Department was allowed. Only $1,700 was cut from that department's $831,986 budget. The Police Department only lost $1,200 from its $554,858 request.

Other Cuts

Other department budgets which were cut slightly were health, $500; welfare, $1,050; inspector of wires, $550; assessors, $2,000; legal, $600, and the planning board, $2500.

The Planning Board had asked for $10,000 for a director. The Council felt that this was a proper sum, but noted that a quarter of the year had passed and any director hired could not receive the full $10,000 for this year, thus the $2,500 cut.

When the budget is formally approved Tuesday it will be sent to the assessors who eventually determine the tax rate. It is hoped, says Anthony J. Ruscetta, chairman of the Board of Assessors, that the rate will be set by May 1.

New Policy

APR 10 1963

Council To Interview Most Mayoral Appointees

The City Council will interview most mayoral appointees before voting on appointment confirmation.

This new procedure was introduced by Councilman-at-Large Donald G. Butler during last night's Council meeting.

"If we are open to public criticism," Butler said, referring to recent news stories throughout the state concerning the local Police Department, "then let us be criticized when we have full knowledge (of people involved)."

Haggerty Is First

The Council approved of the idea and referred the appointment of James A. Haggerty to the Public Safety Committee. Haggerty was appointed a patrolman in the Police Department.

Butler said today he plans to vote for confirmation of Haggerty when the appointment appears before the Council in two weeks. He said that most councilmen do not know the men they confirm and now was the time to take steps to correct this situation. This is his only motive, he said.

Butler qualified his position today by saying that the interview system would not hold for minor appointments such as school crossing guards, special patrolmen for private business and official sealers and weighers.

This was evident last night when the appointment of Elizabeth C. Wood as a school crossing guard was confirmed. Only Ward 1 Councilman Ernest G. St. Peter voted against the guard. St. Peter felt the Council should interview [illegible]ointees.

Mayor To Request $35,000 To Cover New Paid Holidays

MAR 12 1963

Mayor Haughey said today he will ask the City Council to approve an order appropriating about $35,000 to cover additional pay for police and fire personnel because of the recently adopted 10-paid-holidays laws.

The Council, meeting in a budget session last night, decided to ask the mayor for such an appropriation so the sum could be reflected in the tax rate rather than taken from surplus revenue later in the year.

City acceptance of state legislation allowing 10 paid holidays for protective personnel will cost about $44,000 annually. Since two holidays have gone by the board this year, only $35,000 will be needed for the rest of the year.

Mayor Haughey said he will obtain the exact amount needed and then asked the Council for approval.

Budgets Discussed

In other business during an informal sesison last night, the Council had four department heads explain their 1963 budget requests. No actual cuts were made in any budget though some minor cuts are being considered.

Police Chief Thomas H. Calnan said he plans to replace five cruisers by May, noting these will be marked cars. The chief also mentioned that a police-woman should be appointed April 1 because a civil service list has been received naming four women eligible.

The chief explained that he would like to connect Pittsfield's police teletype system with that in Springfield, Northampton and Westfield enabling the city to have direct communications with 47 states for half the cost of sending telegrams when information is needed.

$2,389 for Fallout Shelter

A $2,389 item in the Civil Defense Department budget is being thought over by the Council. This money would be used to construct a fallout shelter at CD headquarters.

City Solicitor William R. Flynn said he would not mind deleting $500 from his budget for some estimated dues, court fees, and appraisal fees.

Antonio J. Ruscetta, Board of Assessors chairman, will furnish the Council details on appraisal fees, new equipment requested and out-of-state travel.

So far, the Council has tentatively approved 20 of the 32 department budgets. This represents about half the $12 million budget for this year.

Budget meetings are scheduled for Wednesday and Monday nights. Eight more department heads will be interviewed by the Council during these meetings.

Atty. Broderick Attacks Haughey for 'Inaction'

Atty. Fredrick J. Broderick opened the mayoral race today by alleging that Mayor Haughey's "inaction must bear a great deal of responsibility for what is happening (in the Police Department.)"

The 30-year-old lawyer has said he "is seriously considering running for mayor this fall." Broderick said he would agree with Mayor Haughey about sensationalism in stories about the police investigation if he did not believe that "the low moral climate pervading the city has been generated by the lack of executive leadership in Pittsfield."

Broderick states that the police situation is only one more link in a chain which has contributed to the moral climate. He pointed to instances of "conflict of interest in the city solicitor's office." (City Solicitor William R. Flynn resigned as attorney for the Housing Authority when the state balked because he headed the city's legal office,) and "in the assessors' office" (two assessors were successful in bidding for land on Dawe Avenue last year.)

Scores 'Machine Politics'

"We have seen machine politics," Broderick charged, "vividly demonstrated during a school controversy when the chief executive stood on the City Hall steps and in demagogic style lashed out at decent, public-spirited citizens because they exercised their right to disagree with him.

The failure and misuse of executive leadership which brought these things about, not the 'ambitious reporters' (the Mayor's explanation for a story which appeared in the Boston Herald Tuesday on the Police Department) are responsible for blackening Pittsfield's name. . ."

Broderick touched on a police needs commission statement made during Mayor Haughey's inaugural address.

"He cited the need for a commission," Broderick said. "If this recognition had been implemented, if he has acted at that time, certainly the Police Department would not now be plagued with the low moral climate and lack of discipline and order, which had first been seen in the suspension of a police officer and then in the incident of three patrolmen jailed for burglary.

"Certainly there was much need for a study and investigation at the time of the mayor's last inaugural. Now, however, the entire situation has resulted in a sensationalism which can only impair the usefulness of the investigation itself and can endanger public respect for the law and the effectiveness of the whole Police Department."

Son of Late Policeman

Broderick is the son of the late Thomas V. Broderick, who served in the city Police Department for 40 years. Thomas Broderick was secretary to the late Chief John L. Sullivan and served under the present chief, Thomas H. Calnan.

Broderick has served on the staff of State House Speaker John F. Thompson and was in the assistant attorney general's office under Edward J. McCormick. He was employed in Judge John A. Barry's office before opening his own law business.

Sick Leave Measure Disapproved

Council Unit Calls for Tighter Controls

The City Council's Committee on Finance voted last night not only to recommend rejection of additional accumulated sick leave for municipal employes, but also to go along with a salary ordinance amendment calling for tighter control of existing sick leave provisions.

Under existing law, city employes are allowed 15 days of sick leave a year, and they may accumulate this sick leave up to a maximum of 90 days. The petition presently under consideration would have extended that 90 days to 120.

Council President Joseph S. Scelsi made the motion calling for better administration of sick leave ordiances, and it was unanimously adopted. It provides that all department heads make monthly sick leave reports and file them with the director of administrative reports.

"In that way," Scelsi said, "we can get a better idea of the operation of the sick-leave ordinances and see what patterns, if any, have developed over the years."

Also last night, the City Council deferred action on petitions from police and firemen for pay raises, at least until a report has been made by the state Department of Public Safety, which made a study and investigation of the Police Department last month. The police and firemen are asking the city to adopt a new permissive state law which pays a minimum $5,500 a year and a maximum of $6,300. These would be basic salaries for police patrolmen and Fire Department privates. The maximum is now about $5,300 locally.

The committee also voted to recommend a $2,000 annuity for Miss Elizabeth F. Eagen, retired police matron.

Physical Exam Measure Okayed By Council

Over the objections of Councilman Donald G. Butler, the City Council last night approved a change in the ordinances which subjects certain city employes to an independent physical examination before they can work for the city or before they can resume municipal jobs after a prolonged absence because of illness or injury.

Councilman Butler objected to the change because he thinks that such a plan that doesn't allow an employe to select his own physician is "undemocratic."

Councilman Joel Greenberg and the city's director of administrative services, Robert Underwood Johnson, who administers the city workmen's compensation program, said it is no more "undemocratic" than a private insurance company which insists on an independent physical examination before a person can be insured.

The city has been a self-insurer in the field of workmen's compensation for the past nine years. Mr. Johnson said last night that claims in the past year almost exceeded the $60,000 appropriated for workmen's compensation.

Under the plan, the Berkshire Medical Society will set up a panel of doctors who will be available for physical examinations. Mr. Johnson said the physicians would be used on a rotating basis.

MAY 8 1963

Paid Holidays Measure Recommended

All city employes will have the benefit of 10 paid holidays if the City Council adopts its Finance Committee's recommendation.

Meeting Tuesday night, the committee approved of two additional paid holidays for labor and custodial employes. This brings the total number of paid holidays to 10—equally to police, fire, and administrative personnel. Only teachers are not included in this plan because this group operates under a different salary structure.

The Finance Committee did stipulate, though, that employes in the two categories be paid extra for work only when a holiday falls on a regular work day.

The two additional holidays are Patriots' Day, April 19 and Washington's Birthday, Feb. 22.

200 Employes Involved

About 200 labor and custodial employes are involved in the committee's recommendation. Another 200, who are protective personnel, are paid for 10 holidays now, as are about 200 employes in other city departments.

The eight other holidays are New Year's Day, Memorial Day, July 4th, Labor Day, Thanksgiving Day, Christmas, Veterans' Day and Columbus Day.

Other committee action included filing of a pension request from former Patrolman Benjamin Horton. The city solicitor has ruled that Horton left the Police Department before retirement age because of illness not service-connected.

Mrs. Patrick Condron, widow of the former fire captain, has received a favorable committee recommendation on increasing her annuity by $395.

Council action is expected on committee recommendations at th May 14 regular Council meeting.

Police, Fire Personnel Seek Salary Increases

Salary increases for all personnel in the Police and Fire departments have been requested by the betterment committees in both organizations.

The requests provide that patrolmen and fire fighters receive an increase amounting to about $1,000 a year for the first year's service and about $1,200 in the third year. Other positions in both departments will increase accordingly. Starting wages are set at $4,524 a year now.

In another petition, submitted to the City Council Thursday Councilman-at-Large Daniel Casey asked each department chief to give the Council and mayor a list of those protective personnel holding additional jobs outside their municipal employment.

Both betterment committees asked that patrolmen and firemen receive $5,500 a year to start; $6,000 for two years' service and $6,300 for three years' service and more.

Now Start at $4,524

Protective personnel now start at $4,524 and receive $5,304 after five years' service. Each year the salary increases on a step level until the $5,304 is reached. About two months ago, protective personnel received benefits calling for 10 paid holidays. This amounts to about $200 a year.

Almost two years ago, the city granted policemen and firemen a two-grade, across-the-board increase.

Thursday's petition also asks for a minimum of $5,200 for telephone fire alarm operators the first year, $5,600 the second year and $6,000 the third year and thereafter; $5,750 for fire inspectors the first year, $6,250 the next year, and third year and after, $6,550; for master mechanics, in the same order, $6,200, $6,600, and $7,000; fire lieutenants, $6,300, $6,700, $7,100; fire captains, $7,100, $7,400, $7,650; deputy fire chiefs, $7,650, $8,000, $8,500; the fire chief, $10-000.

Police Proposals

In the Police Department $5,200 is sought the first year for the motor equipment maintenance man and the police matron, $5,600, the second year, and $6,000 during the third year and after; detectives, $5,750, $6,250 and $6,550; police sergeants, $7,100, $7,400, $7,650; captains, $7,650, $8,000 and $8,500. Petitions for the fire fighters were signed by David J. Cullen, chairman of the betterment committee of the Permanent Firemen's Association; Daniel F. McLaughlin, Thomas J. Reed and Robert J. Salvadori. The police requests were signed by Lawrence J. Healey, chairman of the betterment committee of the Permanent Policemen's Association.

Committee Urges Creation Of New Sewer Division

Creating a sewer division in the Public Works Department was recommended today by the newly formed city Committee on Salary and Administration.

Mayor Haughey basically concurred with the committee's first report and sent the document to the City Council for consideration.

There has been discontent among workers at the new $2.5 million sewage treatment plant off Holmes Road. The workers are worried about job classifications and salaries.

Mayor Haughey has refused to hire any additional personnel at the plant, feeling that several months of operation are needed before any clear-cut need can be seen.

The special salary committee, under the leadership of Ivan W. Lord, has studied the problem and recommended that a sewer division be created "to operate on a 40-hour week and an eight-hour shift schedule."

New Plan Favored

The committee feels that all present job titles and descriptions should be abandoned and the suggested new titles and classifications be adopted within the new division.

Sewerage workers are now assigned from other divisions in the Public Works Department.

The committee also suggests specific salaries for all employes in this type of work.

Mayor Haughey said he "most firmly" agrees with wage increases for people now employed in the plant.

But the mayor also feels that it may not be possible to implement all the additional personnel suggestions as presented by the committee.

He complimented the committee on an "excellent report."

No School May 31; Dates Are Set For Graduations

Now it's official. There will be no sessions in Pittsfield's public schools on May 31, the day after Memorial Day. This creates a long weekend before the final swoop through the following three weeks to the end of the school year on June 21.

The School Committee so voted Thursday night, stipulating also that substitute teachers in continuing positions will be paid for the day. The school year will have comprised 181 days, one more than the legal minimum.

Also voted: graduation dates of June 16 for Pittsfield High School and June 18 for the three junior highs.

Sick Leave Law For City Employes To Be Enforced

Administrative Services Director Robert U. Johnson today requested city department heads to verify the existence and cause of six leave and workman's compensation claims made by city employes.

In a letter to all departments except the School Department Johnson quoted the present ordinance and requested that his department be notified of steps taken to verify an employe's disability.

The City Council last Tuesday refused to pass a new ordinance dealing with physical examinations for city employes returning from sick leave. Both councilmen and city employes felt the present ordinance was adequate and should be enforced.

David H. Walsh Wins Honors at Naval Academy

Special to THE EAGLE

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Congressman Silvio O. Conte announced today that he received with pride notification from the United States Naval Academy that David H. Walsh, class of 1964, has again attained the superintendent's list for distinguished midshipmen.

Midshipman Walsh of 34 Noblehurst Ave., Pittsfield, Mass., received the award for the recently concluded grade period, and is among approximately 15 per cent of midshipmen who achieve the honor during the four grading periods.

Congressman Conte said that Midshipman Walsh is a "great source of pride and satisfaction" to him and an "outstanding example" of the youth of Berkshire County.

To gain the high listing, Walsh maintained an average of 82.5 per cent in his academic subjects for the grading period ending with the last completed semester. He also received a high aptitude mark, maintained satisfactory progress in the physical education department and was recommended by the commandant of midshipmen as having an exemplary record in conduct and general deportment.

In making the announcement to Congressman Conte, the Naval Academy superintendent, Rear Adm. C. C. Kirkpatrick also announced that the reward will give Walsh special liberty privileges.

Fahey Honored On 35 Years With Boys' Club

Fred S. Fahey, superintendent of the Pittsfield Boys' Club, was presented with a desk chair, a cake and a carnation upon his arrival at the club yesterday in honor of his 35th anniversary as an employe at the local institution. The gifts were from the staff members.

Mr. Fahey became affiliated with the Boys' Club shortly after his graduation from Dalton High School. His original plans were to work only a year before going to college, but his plans were changed and he stayed at the club.

He succeeded James Keegan as superintendent in 1950.

Community Attitude Called Obstacle To Rehabilitated Juvenile Delinquent

Serious obstacles to a solution of the problem of juvenile delinquency are presented by forces within the community devoted to the promotion of deviancy. This and other problems were outlined Wednesday to about 50 representatives of social, recreational, health and welfare agencies at the regular open meeting of the Berkshire chapter of the National Association of Soical Workers. The meeting, held at the White Tree Club, at noontime, featured a report from Berkshire Farm for Boys in Canaan, N.Y.

The tendency of the community to reject or exclude the youth returning from a correctional institution or to decline responsibility for the juvenile delinquent after his discharge drives him back into old habits, Eugene Eliasoph, director of social service at Berkshire Farm, said.

Mr. Eliasoph spoke at the end of a four-man presentation, entitled "Helping the Delinquent To Return to the Community — A Report from Berkshire Farm." Other speakers were James B. Hopkins, a senior caseworker at The Farm; David Resnik, a staff member; and Henry Ovadia, a senior caseworker.

Programs Outlined

Mr. Hopkins and Mr. Resnik outlined the general program and the treatment program at the farm. Opinion on the larger problem of how to deal with the delinquent in the community did not begin until Mr. Ovadia spoke on the problem of return from the institution to the community.

In many cases, Mr. Ovadia said, the so-called juvenile delinquent bears the burden of the community's apathy. He said that a third of his cases at Berkshire Farm could have been treated successfully at a family agency, had such an agency existed. In an oblique reference to spending patterns in Pittsfield, he declared that boys' clubs are no substitute for strong family agencies. The solution to the problem of a youth's return, he said, must lie in a joint project between the institution and the community.

Mr. Eliasoph said that Berkshire Farm established its own after-care program in New York City after an investigation revealed there was no satisfactory agency in the city to do the job. He said a "begrudging community" can push a reformed youth back into old behavior patterns.

Counter Measure Adopted

Anticipating this hostility, he said, Berkshire Farm tries during a boy's stay to counteract the anticipated rejection by the community.

At the end of the program, Mr. Eliasoph inquired into the criteria of judging success. Ideally, he said, success should constitute a reform that removes stress and makes the youth happy. But the only index by which The Farm can say it has accomplished something, he added, is the court-free record of graduates. Follow-up studies reveal that two-thirds of them stay out of trouble.

Mayor, Fire Chief To Meet On Emergency Stations

Mayor Raymond L. Haughey expects to meet today or tomorrow with Fire Chief Raymond W. Killackey to further discuss the mayor's proposal to provide emergency fire stations in the Elm Street and Coltsville sections.

The mayor's idea is to put fire trucks in rented buildings in both areas until new fire stations can be built.

He said he wants Chief Killackey to look over the available buildings to find ones that are suitable. Until such buildings are located not much else can be done, he said.

Chief Killackey said he has looked at some buildings in the Elm Street area already but hasn't made a thorough inspection inside any of them. He said he hasn't gone to Coltsville yet, but Mayor Haughey said he thinks there is at least one building there that could be a possibility.

Complicated Factors

Both men said they would have to discuss the whole plan in much greater detail before anything definite can be done. The possibility exists that the project could fall through, both indicated. Many complicated factors are involved, they said.

One possible site for a station in the Elm Street area was put forward yesterday by Ward 3 Councilman Remo Del Gallo. He announced that a one-story, concrete block building used for car storage by the Dickson Service Station at Elm Street and Holmes Road is available. The 30-by-48-foot structure is located at the rear of the service station and is across the street from city-owned property at the intersection which has for many years been mentioned as a good site for a new fire station.

Mayor Haughey said that while the emergency project could be carried out without involving the Fire Building Commission, which is concerned with new construction, he felt that the advice and guidance of veteran Commission Chairman Donald P. Gerst was a must to the plan. The mayor said he would ask Mr. Gerst to participate in working out details of obtaining the temporary stations and trucks and making them meet standards.

New Station in Works

The City Council has approved an appropriation of $7,000 to hire an architect to draw up plans and specifications for a new fire station in the Elm Street area. This, however, is not connected with the mayor's plan for emergency stations. It takes a long time to build, man and equip a new station, and the mayor feels protection should be provided right away. The issue came to ahead following the recent Larrow tragedy in which two children died in a fire at their home in the Elm Street section.

The Fire Department and Fire Building Commission has been recommending construction of a fire station in the area since the 1920s without effect. Petitions are being circulated among residents urging immediate construction of a station, and a reported 4,500 signatures have been obtained.

Also joining the issue is the Junior Chamber of Commerce's committee on modernization of the Pittsfield Fire Department, headed by John Whalen, son of former Fire Chief Ward Whalen. The younger Whalen said yesterday that his group didn't oppose the emergency plan but wanted to make sure an early start is made on permanent stations.

City Population, 58,561

There are 58,561 people in Pittsfield the Board of Registrars of Voters announced today releasing the 1963 city census figures. This is only 102 persons more than last year.

"For the past five years, the population has remained approximately the same," Mrs. Florence Mullaney, board supervisor said today. "But actually the population is effectively decreasing because the rate of increase each year is dropping."

Again, there are more female adults in Pittsfield than male adults. The figures show that there there are 19,717 females and 16,757 males. People of school age (under 20 years old) number 22,087.

There are 83 more males this year than last and 45 more females, but the school age category dropped 26.

One of the lowest rates of increase was recorded between 1960 and 1961 when Pittsfield population increased by only nine people.

New Position Opened by School Board

Health, Safety Special Education Directorship Made

Notices have been posted advertising the new position of director of health, safety and special education in the Pittsfield school system, which is to be filled as of Sept. 1. Applications will be accepted until June 1 at the office of the superintendent.

The directorship represents three of the four jobs held in recent years by John A. Massimiano, who is a supervisor and also handles student transportation. He had asked to be promoted to director, which pays $1,500 a year more than supervisor.

The School Committee last week voted to divide the four Massimiano jobs two ways, creating the new directorship and leaving the transportation work unassigned although Mr. Massimiano for the moment is handling all his duties as before. For transportation, which concerns buses, future plans have not been spelled out.

Mr. Massimiano is expected to be an early applicant for the new post.

Salary for the directorship is based on a differential of $2,650 more than the base pay of teachers, which starts with a minimum of $4,700 a year.

Duties Described

The official description of duties follows:

"The director of health, safety and special education wll co-ordinate health and safety services in 24 schools. He will work closely with the Pittsfield Health Department, school physicians, nurses and dental hygienist.

"He will be responsible for the supervision of two full-time vision and hearing technicians. He will supervise speech therapy and lip-reading classes, special classes for mentally retarded pupils and the teaching of physically handicapped pupils at home. He will keep records of all pupil accidents.

"The director must also work closely with the Pittsfield Fire Department relative to fire prevention, fire drills, etc.; with the Pittsfield Police Department relative to pupil safety, and with the supervisor of custodians relative to proper ventilation, lighting and maintenance."

Johnson Renews Appeal for Physical Exams

Administrative Services Director Robert U. Johnson supported his contention today that it is costing Pittsfield $143,692 a year in sick leave and workmen's compensation payments.

The director has compiled a report showing that $92,243 was spent on sick leave for city employes and $51,449 for compensation payments.

This, Johnson feels, is too much and can be lessened by a proposed ordinance which requires stricter physical examination procedures for city employes, either prospective or returning from sick leave.

The City Council has passed for the first reading the physical examination ordinance. But the Council's Ordinance and Rules Committee has reported unfavorably on the law. The Council will consider the ordinance and committee report during the May 28 council meeting.

Police-Fire 'Moonlighting' Pay Data Sought by Casey

Councilman Daniel Casey is requesting that along with petitions for pay increases for police and firemen that the City Council also consider the "outside" work being done by police and firemen.

There are petitions for pay increases on the agenda for tomorrow night's City Council meeting. These petitions probably will be referred either to the Salary Survey Commission or to the Council's Committee on Finance. But also on the agenda is a motion of the councilman at large instructing the fire and police chiefs to submit lists of employes of their departments who hold outside jobs.

'Something Is Wrong'

"I asked for this kind of information," Casey explained this morning, "a year ago, but I never got an answer. The chiefs told me it was too much of a job. Well, I say that if they don't know what outside work their men are doing, even when ordinances say they are not supposed to have outside jobs without special permission of the chief, then something is wrong."

Casey said he decided to renew his look into outside employment by police and firemen as a result of the recent publicity attendant to the investigation of the local Police Department by the state Department of Public Safety.

"I hear," he said, "that one trouble is that our police are underpaid. That could be, and maybe they should get a raise. But I also want to know how many of them work on the outside and have an idea as to just how underpaid they are."

Casey said that if these men can work on the outside by special permission of their chief there should be no problem in the furnishing of the information. He added that if they are not working with special permission they are violating the ordinances.

53-Item Agenda

There are 53 items on tomorrow night's agenda. One item calls for the appropriation of $2,698 with which to pay claims brought by Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Eaton, 577 West Housatonic St., and their son, Bruce, as a result of an accident last year with a police cruiser operated by Patrolman Maurice C. Isenhart.

Another order calls for the appropriation of $2,400 to pay for the removal of the North Street poles from which Christmas decorations are hung. Several weeks ago Councilman Casey asked that the Association of Business and Commerce remove the poles, but the work subsequently was started by the state Department of Public Works.

Also tomorrow there will be up for consideration the formal designation of the old Boston & Albany freighthouse property, and land on Columbus Avenue and Summer Street as municipal parking area in which parking meters may be installed.

Revaluation 'A Matter Of Money'

Mayor Haughey today said "It is a matter of money," when asked if he plans a property revaluation for Pittsfield.

The Association of Business and Commerce yesterday called for a revaluation program to "restore equitable property taxation." The ABC said that the present tax situation is unfair to property owners, especially in the downtown section, and lessens the city's ability to attract new industry.

The mayor said that he has been "aware of this situation for some time," but that he didn't know where money would come from for such a revaluation.

"The project has merit," the mayor said, "but so do many other projects, for which we just don't have the money." He cited the wish of the Park Department for completion of the Springside Park program in one fell swoop. But he indicated that a piecemeal approach to this program was the best fiscal method.

Recommended by Assessors

The city's Board of Assessors has annually recommended a revaluation since 1957. The board states that the Cleminshaw revaluation in 1949 is outdated and that the 1940 construction costs used in compiling the Cleminshaw report are now unrealistic.

Property owners in downtown Pittsfield have lamented the tax situation for many years. The Assessors have granted tax abtements to most of the North Street properties, but in some cases these have sold for less than the assessed valuation.

Taxpayers on the city's recently developed outskirts are at the other end of the inequitable tax scale.

Welfare Dept. Raises Start On July 1

Welfare Department employes will receive a raise in pay starting July 1, Charles H. Hodecker, welfare commissioner said today.

The local department received a directive from Civil Service Commissioner W. Henry Finnegan which lays out the new wage scale.

This mandatory state legislation calls for raises ranging from $360 per year in Hodecker's case to $120 a year more for junior clerks. The local department has the necessary funds to pay the new scale for the rest of this year.

The new scale will cost an additional $16,000 a year, but state and federal reimbursements for administrative expenditures will total $12,000 leaving a net cost to Pittsfield of $4,000.

Finnegan in his directive referred to a public hearing held in Boston in April which dealt with the salary increases. State legislation followed this hearing.

New minimum wage levels were established by the state Welfare Department last year. This did not cost the city any substantial amount because most local employes were receiving the required minimum or higher.

City Employes Up in Arms Over Physical-Exam Plan

Violent objection to a proposed ordinance governing physical examinations for city workers, was submitted to the City Council today by about 120 employes.

Most of the objectors were in the non - administrative service sections of the Public Works, Public Buildings and Parks Departments. There are more than 600 city employes excluding those in the School Department. School employes are not subject to the ordinance.

The City Council has passed for one of two readings the ordinance drawn up by Robert U. Johnson, administrative services director. Final passage will be considered by the Council Tuesday night.

According to the Johnson plan, Chapter 45 of the city ordinances would be amended by inserting three sections governing physical examinations.

No Objection

The first section states that no person shall be hired or employe reinstated, employed or promoted until the administrative services director has officially informed the employe's department head that state civil service requirements have been fullfilled. The objectors have no complaint with this section.

But the next section is "highly objectionable . . . constitutes a threat to job security to those with long service or nearing retirement status . . . conflicts with the laws of Workmen's Compensation . . . does not give the employe the right of appeal . . . is discriminatory . . . (and) violates civil service rules and regulations" according to petition signers.

This section holds that a doctor selected by the director of administrative services shall examine any employe or prospective employe being hired or returning to work after an extended sick leave or leave of absence. The section declares that the person must be found physically fit. The examination will be paid for by the city.

Section 3 states that mayoral appointees not subject to civil service regulations, elected officials and School Department employes are not included in the ordinance. Objectors claim this is "discriminatory against all civil service employes not in the School Department.

Johnson states that hiring persons and reinstating employes who have been on sick leave without a physical has cost the city a great deal of money in payment of medical claims and disability payments. He feels that this ordinance will cut down future claims.

The City Council's Ordinance and Rules Committee feels the same way and so do 10 of 11 councilmen. The committee submitted a favorable report on the ordinance, while the Council two weeks ago passed the measure for the first time by a 10 to 1 vote. Councilman Donald G. Butler was opposed.

In asking the Council to vote against the ordinance, the 120 objectors stated that they, too, are taxpayers and should not be treated as "second-class citizens."

They ask for the same consideration as employes in other municipalities and for their rights under civil service rules and regulations.

Purnell Seeks Re-Election To Council

Councilman - at - Large George A. Purnell Jr. removed any doubts as to his municipal campaign plans today by stating he would seek re - election and would not make a try at the mayorlty "now."

But Purnell's at - large colleague, Roy F. Brown, only said he would release a statement on his candidacy later this week. Brown has reportedly been circulating nomination papers for both the at - large spot and the mayoral race.

Purnell submitted enough nomination papers to the Board of Registrars of Voters yesterday for certification as an at - large candidate.

In other election business, Ward 2 Councilman Raymond E. Crow and Ward 7 Candidate William A. Bunt have filed certified nomination papers with the city clerk making them official candidates in the primary city elections, Oct. 15. Ward 4 School Committeeman William E. Harris filed completed papers last week.

Candidates, who have not picked up their certified papers at the board's office include Councilman - at - Large Daniel Casey and Ward 3 Councilman Remo DelGallo.

Mayoral candidate Francisco R. LaGrotteria and Councilman-at-Large Donald G. Butler have submitted part of their papers to the board.

Ward 7 candidate Walter Buksa has obtained his certified papers from the board, but has not filed them as yet.

La Grotteria Ponders Run For Mayor

Atty. Frank R. LaGrotteria, a possible mayoral candidate, sent up a trial baloon today and stated that a definite answer on his candidacy would be made "in five or six weeks."

LaGrotteria was the unsuccessful candidate for the Ward 1 School Committee seat filled when a joint meeting of the City Council and School Committee elected Thomas W. Kelly last year. The seat became vacant during the controversial school superintendent race when School Committeewoman Mary Kirkpatrick moved from Pittsfield.

In a release today, LaGrotteria said he has been "seriously encouraged to run for mayor . . . The final decision will depend on many conditions, both personal and otherwise."

Promises Constructive Campaign

"Should the conditions be met to enable me to carry on a full, honest, and sincere campaign, then I shall embark on a constructive campaign rather than a destructive one which feeds only on the errors of the present administration.

"I believe most errors have been fairly obvious to the voters, and do not need much repetition in a campaign.

"The future of Pittsfield requires that men involved in its policy making and administration be capable, right-thinking and forward-looking. It requires that the best possible men be enlisted for jobs commensurate with their abilities, and not commensurate solely with political affiliation to the exclusion of ability.

"It requires that people be represented by a visible government rather than an invisible one. It is not an easy task to run and hold the office of mayor, if one is to do it with sincerity and dignity.

"To my many friends, I can only say at this time that it is hoped that I will have a definite answer in five or six weeks."

Johnson Presents Views On City Sick Leave Problem

It is costing the city more than $100,000 a year for employe sick leaves and compensation claims, Robert U. Johnson, administrative services director, states in a letter to the City Council.

Johnson called for either Council passage of a new ordinance requiring physical examinations for employes or stricter enforcement of the existing ordinance.

The director also alleged that the city physician, Sheron A. A. Schmoyer, "has refused to verify each and every sick leave and workmen's compensation claim arising in the city." Johnson included a copy of present ordinances in this area which state that the city physician, at the request of a department head or mayor is duty-bound to examine "any person claiming compensation . . ."

'Nothing New'

Johnson said this morning that he is trying to show the Council that the new ordinance is nothing new. He said that the city has all the necessary power in this situation if present ordinances are enforced.

But he believes that new rules will be more workable and not so harsh.

The Johnson proposals, okayed for the first of two required approvals by the Council during the April 28 meeting, states that a prospective city employe, or one who is returning to work after extensive sick leave, should be certified by a physician as fit for work. The city would select the physician and pay the examination bill.

The main point of the new ordinance is to avert employment of a person with a disability resulting from his employment with the city, which becomes aggravated when he starts work. This aggravation then makes the city liable for compensation and disability claims, though the original cause of the injury or sickness had nothing to do with city employment.

Present Provisions

The present sick leave ordinance states that no person shall receive benefits or compensation for "any disability resulting in whole or in part from voluntary use of intoxicating liquor, drugs or narcotics; venereal disease; self-inflicted injuries . . . or any injury . . . arising out of the violation of any rule or regulation of the department in which employed. "Enforcement of this and the city physician section of the ordinance are the alternatives to the new ordinance.

In support of the new physical examination ordinance, Johnson states that civil service now requires that any employe absent for 30 days or more because of sickness may not be reinstated without a physical examination.

About 120 city employes have registered their protest against the new ordinance. The feel that it is discriminatory because it does not give the employe the right of appeal; conflicts with Workmen's Compensation and Civil Service laws, and threatens job security for those with long service and nearing retirement.

The Council will act tonight on Johnson's ordinance and letter and the objectors' petition. The ordinance, if passed by the Council tonight, needs only the mayor's signature to become law.

Vote Is 2 to 1 MAY 22 1963

Ordinance Unit Rejects Physical Exams Measure

The Ordinance and Rules Committee has recommended to the City Council that a proposed ordinance governing physical examinations for city employes be rejected. The committee's decision, on a 2 to 1 vote, was made after airing the problem for three hours.

Opposition to the ordinance came from city employes who felt that the administrative services director would be given too much power. The ordinance stated that physical examinations would be required of prospective employes and those returning from sick leave.

The objectors' basic contention is that there is no right of appeal from an adverse physical report, plus the fact that an examination could be ordered for an employe at any time after the minimum amount of sick leave time had been taken.

Brown's Objection

Councilman Roy F. Brown did not like the idea of filing the physical examination ordinance. He maintains that same objectionable portions could be deleted and that the committee should have had an opportunity to look over the notes taken during the three-hour session last night.

But Councilmen St. Peter and Crow, the other two committee members, felt that the city physician should be told what his duties were as prescribed by present ordinances. These duties include examining city employes.

The two Councilmen also believed that additional physicians should be hired to help the present city physician, Dr. Sheron A. A. Schmoyer.

Councilman Brown said that Dr. Schmoyer could not handle the entire examination load for the city. He did agree, as did his two colleagues, that physicals should be required of prospective employes within a reasonable time. Now such an employe may take a physical which is valid for two years.

Councilmen Crow and St. Peter thought that the present ordinance governing physicals should be strickly enforced. Councilman Brown believed that a more detailed ordinance should be passed.

The Council has passed the proposed ordinance for the first of two readings. It will act on the committee's report and the second reading during the May 28 Council meeting.

Other Business

In other business, the committee, at the suggestion of Councilman Brown, planned to invite the entire Council to meet and discuss a petition from Councilman Remo DelGallo calling for charter changes regarding the method of filling vacancies in the school Committee and Council.

Tabled for further information was a petition asking that the Planning Board be increased from five to seven members.

Sent to the city solicitor was a request to draw an ordinance, amendment as suggested by the Council, permitting a new time and temperature device at the Pittsfield National Bank. Councilman Brown said this was done "relucantly," because two of the three committee members did not approve of the amendment.

JUN 1 1963

Physical Exam Ordinance Rejected by City Council

The City Council has denied a new ordinance which would have tightened up the present law governing physical examinations for city employes.

At the tail end of Tuesday night's 3½-hour meeting, the Council turned down, by voice vote, the ordinance as presented by Administrative Services Director Robert U. Johnson.

But the Council did send to its Ordnance and Rules Committee a petition from Councilman Ernest G. St. Peter calling for two assistant city physicians to aid the present city physician. This would allow stricter enforcement of the sick leave and workmen's compensation laws now on the books.

Stricter Enforcement Urged

Stricter enforcement of existing ordinances was recommended by a number of city employes themselves. They had opposed the Johnson plan, feeling that it granted too much power to the personnel director.

The Johnson ordinance stated that an employe must have a physical examination before returning to work regardless of whether he was out for a day or a month. Civil Service regulations require a physical for a man out more than 30 days.

Johnson's idea was to cut down on sick leave and compensation payments made by the city. He felt that the jump in these payments since 1961 dictated a tightening of the law.

Johnson thought the new ordinance would weed out the chronic sick-leave users and prevent the city from unknowingly hiring or reinstating an injuried employe whose work might aggravate the injury thus making the city liable for disability payments.

Anthony Pastore, business agent for the city employes' union, told the Council that the employes felt the new ordinance would be unfair because one man could be singled out for physicals for the slightest cause and others could go free.

He suggested tightening the present laws.

Everyone agreed that a recent physical should be available to the city before a new person is hired. This pre-employment physical is expected to receive Council approval when a proper ordinance is submitted.

In other business, the Council sent to the Finance Committee petitions to increase the salary of the mayor, and to place recreation supervisors anl the park foreman in the Park Department on an hourly wage scale. This would mean that overtime compensation would be afforded people in these positions who do not now receive additional wages for more than 45 hours work a week.

The building inspector was asked by the Council to keep closer tabs on used car dealers storing old vehicles in lots contrary to city ordinances.

The Council asked the Public Works and Police departments to enforce city ordinances prohibiting the use of tree lines for display of merchandise.

And the mayor was asked to determine if it was possible to appropriate funds for a sanitary engineer to recommend ways of making Goodrich Pond a recreational area.

Johnson Files Physical Exam Ordinances

Administrative Services Director Robert U. Johnson today submitted two ordinances on physical examinations for city employes to the City Council for further consideration.

The first ordinance suggestion calls for physical examinations for all prospective city employes.

Both City Council members and city employes have tentatively agreed that this is a good move. The pre-employment physicals would be financed by the city.

The second ordinance states that reinstatement or promotion of employes should be accomplished in accordance with existing ordinances governing sick leave and workmen's compensation.

Writes to Council

In a letter to the Council, Johnson states that he feels it is too early to determine if existing ordinances are adequate or operable. He has requested that all city department heads follow established procedure.

"If department heads find that they cannot follow these rules," Johnson wrote, "or if they find that the city physican is not legally obliged to give medical examinations as requested, then will be the time to consider any necessary legislation."

None of the proposed ordinances affect School Department employes, or elected or appointed officials not under civil service regulations.

Department heads now are required to determine and verify the nature of any disability which involves sick-leave time or workmen's compensation payments. This verification may be done by requesting the city physican to give an employe a physical examination.

Johnson submitted two ordinances on the same subject about a month ago. But there were defeated by the Council on grounds that existing ordinances were sufficient. The city employes felt, then, that the new ordinances would place too much power in the director's hands.

Popular Vote on School Board Vacancies, Enlarging Committee Favored at Hearing

Everyone at last night's Ordinance and Rules Committee meeting agreed that filling vacancies on the School Committee and City Council should be by popular vote rather than the present system of special committee and Council elections.

Almost everyone agreed that the School Committee should be increased by four members who would be elected on an at-large basis. Opinion varied on whether the term of office for committee members should be two or four years. But there seemed to be unanimity that the mayor be a nonvoting member of the School Committee.

Peter Arlos, chairman of the Democratic City Committee, said his organization "in conjunction with the Republican City Committee" was planning to place a partisan-type charter on the November ballot.

Francis Douglas, president of the Parent-Teacher Council, said his group was hoping to have school - building maintenance made the responsibility of the School Committee. He said petitions would be circulated if necessary to get such a question on the November ballot.

Considering Ideas

These opinions were expressed at the meeting scheduled to discuss possible charter changes. The committee is considering suggestions for changing various aspects of the present nonpartisan, strong-mayor charter.

This is the committee's second meeting on changes, with specific emphasis on filling School Committee and Council vacancies, plus increasing the number of School Committee members.

Councilman Roy F. Brown, committee chairman, asked anyone with suggestions to mail them to the committee or present them to the city clerk.

Edward J. Flynn, president of the Good Government Association, supported an enlarged School Committee, and filling vacancies by popular election.

Mrs. George N. Ernst, president of the League of Women Voters, said the league favored four additional School Committee members, elected at - large. She said the league's project this year is a study of filling vacancies, but the project was not complete so no opinion could be expressed.

Apathy Criticized

Several councilman, sparked by Councilman Donald G. Butler, decried public apathy which surrounds the Council. Councilman Joseph S. Scelsi said there was no public interest when a $2.5 million bond issue was voted, but that his "phone rang off the hook" when the Council was considering restrictions on dogs in the city.

Arlos said this apathy was present because there was "no strong, grass-roots party system." He said that government should be returned to the people and the only way to do this was to have "responsible party politics."

Arlos declared that the people have no recourse or "rallying point to air their grievances under a nonpartisan charter." The Democratic Committee chairman said that a two-party system would offer a checks and balances system to government.

"There would be an open door policy for candidates," Arlos said, noting that a party would support a candidate instead of the candidates having to raise money and establish an organization alone.

'Clique Politics'

"The city now is shot through with clique politics and favoritism," Arlos said. He said the city has "invisible government under the nonpartisian charter." He said he meant those who do not hold office, but control city government.

Arlos said that most of the state's political trouble is because there are no strong, grass-roots political organizations.

Councilman Daniel Casey supported the partisan form of city government.

Pittsfield selected the non-partisan charter in 1933. The basic idea then was that city government dealt with services (fixing streets, providing water, etc.) and was not primarily interested in perpetuating a political philosophy. It was also felt that candidates would be relatively free of party politics when making appointments and operating the city.

Councilman Brown plans to call another meeting on charter changes next week. He felt last night that all school committeemen and councilmen should be at-large representatives. Councilman Joel S. Greenberg tended to agree.

The committee will eventually report to the Council. The Council is then expected to discuss changes at a committee-of-the-whole meeting. Almost all the councilmen have attended the previous Ordinance and Rules meetings.

Supt. Reynolds Urges Curb On Vandalism

School Supt. James P. Reynolds today appealed to parents, neighbors and the general public in an effort to curb vandalism at Pittsfield schools.

"We in the School Department are very much concerned," the superintendent said, over damage done to schools and school grounds by vandals who defy law and decency."

Police received reports over the weekend that more than 50 shrubs valued at $10 to $15 each had been torn up at Crosby Junior High School and that nine windows at North Junior High School were damaged by BB pellets.

Last week camera equipment was stolen in a break at Russell School, the scene of several past acts of vandalism.

"The police," Reynolds said, "have cooperated in every possible way, and this appeal is directed primarily to parents of actual or possible offenders; to neighbors who might supply generally helpful information and to the general public, who share in the loss of hundreds of dollars of the taxpayers' money."

$15,000 Salary for Mayor Proposed by Finance Unit

The Finance Committee has recommended to the City Council that the mayor's salary be increased to $15,000 a year from the present $9,000. Meeting last night in City Hall, the committee voted 4 to 1 in favor of the change. Councilman George A. Purnell Jr. cast the only dissenting vote.

If the Council approves the raise, the state legislature will be asked for permission to place the question on the November ballot. The legislature is presently considering a bill which would permit mayoral salary increases without the required referendum. If this bill passes the legislature and is signed by Gov. Peabody, there will be no need for a popular vote on the question.

A petition to increase the mayor's salary was originally submitted by Councilman Donald G. Butler. An early motion last night was defeated by a 4 to 1 vote. But after considerable discussion, the committee reconsidered its vote and favored the salary increase.

Three Switch Vote

Councilmen Joseph S. Scelsi, Roy F. Brown and Daniel Casey switched their votes to support Butler when it was pointed out that several top city employes receive much more in salary than the mayor.

A number of school principals receive more than the mayor, as do executive personnel in the School Department, the commissioner of public works and the health commissioner.

Butler said that "the (present) low salary is keeping a lot of good men from running for office." He said that executives are not going to leave a high salary position to become mayor for $9,000 a year and then after serving find their original "jobs aren't there, as in the case of the present mayor."

Purnell cast a negative ballot because he felt the salary provision should read "up to $15,000 a year."

In other business, the committee held up acting on a petition for salary increases for fire and formation could be obtained.

Other Actions

The committee sent a petition for increasing the salary of the incinerator supervisor to the Special Salary and Administrative Survey Committee.

A petition for assessment of cost of maintenance and repair upon private users of Fire and Police Signal System was filed.

The first report of the Committee on Salary and Administration Survey was held for further study and for a conference with Public Works Commissioner John Daniels and Robert U. Johnson, head of Administrative Services.

The committee recommended an appropriation of $525 in accounts for new Police Department equipment, but filed an order for approximately the same amount for vehicle replacement in the Public Buildings Department.

On a petition for a study to determine the need of an assistant city physician from Councilman Ernest G. St. Peter, the matter was held up until a conference with the city physician.

Massimiano Heads New School Unit

John A. Massimiano is the first director today of the newly formed school division dealing with health, safety and special education. Two school committeemen at last night's special committee meeting abstained from voting, not because they were opposed to Massimiano, but because they felt that more study would reveal that special education should be directed by a separate staff.

These committee members were William E. Harris and William B. Walker.

Those favoring the appointment felt that a separate staff for special education could be hired if the need were demonstrated in the future.

In other business, the committee approved a request from Ward 1 Committeeman Thomas F. Kelly, who proposed a data processing course in the high school. The course will be offered next term.

The committee also approved, pending a subcommittee okay, the ordering of new readers for the elementary and secondary schools. The new books are aimed at improving the reading ability of students.

Donna Announces Hiring Of City Planning Director

John J. Donna, chairman of the Pittsfield Planning Board announced today the appointment of a planning director, Gerald F. McNeil, currently senior city planner at Fall River.

The city has had no planning director since the resignation of Duncan M. Graham in September of 1960. At that time the head of the Planning Board, the late Frederick M. Myers, wrote Mayor Haughey that the board had "for a long time been functioning under the handicap of no permanent headquarters and no full-time secretary."

The engagement of Mr. McNeil ends a long search the Planning Board has made for a planning director. He will begin his duties here Oct. 14.

Gerald F. McNeil

Mr. McNeil is 26 and married. He has been in his present position since September, 1960. He was graduated from the University of Massachusetts in 1959 with a bachelor of science degree in landscape architecture, and minors in city planning and civil engineering. He is a graduate of Whitman High School, and while there won a four-year, full-tuition scholarship to the U. of M.

City Charter Proposals

June 21 '63

Popular Vote Recommended For Filling of Vacancies

Filling vacancies on the City Council and the School Committee by popular vote has been recommended by the Council's Ordinance and Rules Committee.

This and other charter changes may be discussed during an informal Council meeting scheduled for Friday night at 7:30 in Springside House.

The recommendation came last night after a third public meeting by the Ordinance and Rules Committee.

Various other charter change suggestions, may be touched on Friday, including increased membership of the School Committee and the terms of office for all elected officials.

Councilmen Remo DelGallo, Daniel Casey and Joseph S. Scilsi atteneded the meeting, as did Mrs. Janet Cook, original member of the 1955 Charter Revision Committee. Councilmen Roy F. Brown, Raymond E. Crow and Ernest G. St. Peter comprise the Ordinance and Rules Committee.

Mrs. Cook's Proposals

Mrs. Cook spoke at length on filling vacancies, terms of office and the nonpartisan charter.

She said that a four-year term for both the School Committee and City Council "might work out well," explaining that the first year in office is spent learning one's way.

Del Gallo said, "If the School Committee is increased to 11 members, I feel they should be elected for two years, just as council members are," but, he added, he would go along with the four-year suggestion if the term were also increased to four for the council.

Mrs. Cook favored the nonpartisan charter because she felt "Pittsfield is not ready to accept a partisan form of government." She explained that to have good patrisan government "you must have two strong paries, which is not the case here," and she mentioned how the parties are split.

She said crossing party lines on the local level works well, but on the state and national levels, she reverts to the party system.

Mrs. Cook, on the matter of the School Committee, felt that five or six committeemen might be enough, and all should be elected at large.

"It will be better for the city as a whole," she maintained, "for no geographical group will be able to put pressure on a ward committeeman."

Del Gallo's Argument

Del Gallo felt that under this plan the entire seven members might be elected from one section or area of the city. He said that people "still like to have a ward representative." He pointed out that, when people couldn't reach Dr. Welton, they called him, Del Gallo, and he "sort of acted like the Ward 3 School Committeeman."

Brown spoke at length on the minority report of the 1955 charter revision group, praising Superior Court Justice Francis J. Quirico, "who had nothing to gain and thought only of the best interests of the city." (Quirico, Mrs. Cook and Edward L. Dobbins were the minority group).

Brown said he was impressed by the report, noting that "a ward councilman has too much pressure put on him and invariably ward elections are reduced to accusations and doorbell ringing and the issues are not discussed."

In short, Brown felt that if all councilmen and school committeemen were elected at large, the city would gain, because "both committeemen and councilmen would be working for the entire city and not simply a ward."

Brown said that the populace "votes for one - seventh of the School Committee, which spends one-third of the city budget."

Mrs. Cook was opposed to the School Committee having power to appropriate funds. She said that this power should remain with the mayor, "for he represents all of us and it is one of his most important functions." She also asserted that, under the non-partisan charter, the appointments to office have been relatively good.

2 Associations For Retarded Install Officers

OCT 28 1963

The North Berkshire and Berkshire County Associations for Retarded Children held their annual installation dinner-meeting at the Stanley Club in Pittsfield recently. Moses Frankel, vice president of the Massachusetts Association, was the main speaker and also served as installation officer.

Richard J. Burnell was elected president of the Berkshire County Association and William Engle vice president. Dr. Alfred Eramo was elected treasurer. Recording secretary will be Mrs. Edwina Munch and corresponding secretary Mrs. Bertha Weinberg. Elected to the board of directors were Mrs. Eleanor DeSantis, Mrs. Pearl Bobalko and Salvatore J. Ferrante.

Cash awards were presented to the two associations after the installation. Bruce H. Gruno, lieutenant governor of the Civitan Club presented a check for $550 to benefit the North Berkshire Association. The Berkshire County Association was given a check for $1,000 by William Irvin, president of the Pittsfield Civitan Club. The check will be used to further development of the Berkshire Training Center at Coolidge Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. James D. Fryer were presented a 20th wedding anniversary cake in appreciation of their organizational support. Also Mrs. Ann Dewitt, nursery

City Council Meeting

Mayor's Salary of $15,000 Expected To Be on Ballot

It looks as if the voters will decide in November whether or not the salary of the mayor should be $15,000 a year. The mayor's present salary is $9,000.

Only 2 of 11 councilmen opposed the slary increase at last night's City Council meeting. Councilmen Purnell and DelGallo objected when Council President Joseph S. Scelsi referred the issue to City Clerk John J. Fitzgerald to draw the proper ordinance change.

The clerk must have Council approval for the salary increase at least 60 days before the Nov. 5 election. Any salary change for the mayor is an ordinance which, according to the city charter, requires a referendum vote at the next election. Because it is an ordinance and not a charter change, as it once was, no legislative permission is needed to place the question on the ballot.

The Council is expected to act on the ordinance at the July 9 and Aug. 13 Council meetings. This leaves time to advertise the question prior to the November vote.

Del Gallo's Argument

Councilman Remo DelGallo thought a $6,000-a-year raise was too much. He contended that any candidate for the mayor's office knows the salary before he runs.

Councilman George A. Purnell supported DelGallo and added that candidates "would be looking for the $15,000 salary" and not necessarily be "civic minded people."

DelGallo and Purnell were the only two who favored a DelGallo motion which would have killed the increase.

Councilman Donald G. Butler, who originally petitioned for the salary hike, said that anyone running for mayor would look to the salary. He didn't feel that many qualified people would run for less than $15,000.

Councilman Joel S. Greenberg noted that the "present mayor (who makes $9,000 a year and has 10 children) is forced to keep his hand in another business." Greenberg was referring to Mayor Haughey operating a funeral home.

"The mayor must be able to govern with respect and support his family." Greenberg said.

Councilman Casey believed that $15,000 would give the city "a full-time mayor." He said that now he has trouble "finding the mayor" when he wants to talk with him.

Other Business

In other business, the Council approved mayoral requests for land takings from the Mary A. Cassidy family for a 26-car municipal parking lot on Northrup Street which runs just west of North Street between Union and Bradford streets. The city will pay $17,000 for the land.

The Council also authorized payment of $5,000 to Bland Electric Co. which lost land on Columbus Avenue for the new city parking lot between Columbus Avenue and Summer Street.

Isodor Goodman, representing Maxgood Realty Corp. was granted a license for storage of about 30,000 gallons of gasoline at a service station on the corner of West Housatonic Street and Lebanon Avenue.

A petition from Councilman Casey, asking that Henry J. Euler be replaced on the Planning Board because he (Euler) has moved to Stockbridge, was referred to the mayor for action.

Councilman Casey and Purnell asked Public Works Commissioner John F. Daniels to remove

Swimming Pool Ordinance Omits Wading Pools

The new swiming pool ordinance does not include wadding pools, according to Councilman-at-Large George A. Purnell Jr.

Purnell asked at last night's Council meeting that this be explained to the public even though the ordinance would require everyone with a swimming or wadding pool to obtain a permit from the building inspector.

Councilman Ernest G. St. Peter stated that amendments would follow in several weeks which would exclude wadding pools and tighten up the present law.

Mayor To Study Measure

The only barrier to strict enforcement of the present ordinance is Mayor Haughey's signature. The mayor said today he would "look the ordinance over before taking any action."

Every Council member and the mayor agree that some restrictions should be placed on regular swimming pools. But the controversy is over the "loosely drawn ordinance," as Councilman Joel S. Greenberg put it. He wanted it sent back to the ordinance and Rule Committee for redrafting.

Councilman Joseph S. Scelsi explained that he voted against the ordinance because he felt that owners of wading pools should not be subject to a $20-a-day fine when the ordinance is going to be ammended in a few weeks.

If the mayor signs the bill before the amendments are made, strict enforcement would affect wading pool owners.

Councilman St. Peter, who has pushed for the pool protection law, stated that if the ordinance went back to the Ordinance and Rules Committee for redrafting, the summer would be half over before the Council could act on it again. He felt, as did five other Councilmen, that the law should go through now and be amended later.

Fences Required

Basically, the new ordinance calls for fences around permanent pools and draining of temporary pools when not in use. Other safety measures are included in the law.

Those who favored redrafting were Councilman Scelsi, Casey, Coughlin, Quadrozzi and Greenberg. This was not enough and Councilmen Purnell, Burler, DelGallo, Brown, St. Peter and Crow managed to get the ordinance through.

In other business, the Council felt that a new time and temperature device should replace the clock extending from the Pittsfield National Bank at the corner of North and West streets.

The Council voted final approval for an ordinance, requested by the bank, which amends the city's sign ordinance to allow this specific device.

Councilmen Brown, St. Peter and Greenberg opposed the move as they have done in the past.

Mayor Haughey said today he would sign the ordinance change.

Brown 'More Interested' In Running for Mayor

Councilman-at-Large Roy F. Brown said today he was "more interested than ever in becoming a mayoral candidate."

Brown underlined his statement when he obtained two sets of nomination papers yesterday from the city clerk's office. One set he is circulating as a Council candidate, the other as a mayoral hopeful.

One 'Definitely'

Brown is waiting to determine the exact extent of the support he is gathering for a mayoral try. He says he will "definitely run" — either for mayor or for re-election to his at-large seat.

Other candidates who expressed political aspirations by obtaining papers late yesterday and today are Albert G. Pisani of 172 Dewey Ave., who will try for the Ward 6 Council spot, and Ward 1 School Committeeman Thomas F. Kelly, who is running as an incumbent.

Pisani, a GE employe, will be opposing Councilman Joseph S. Scelsi if Scelsi does not decide to run for mayor. The City Council president is silent on his poitical plans, but is reportedly considering a mayoral try.

Kelly became a School Committee member when he was elected to the Ward 1 vacancy at a joint meeting of the School Committee and City Council last September. Kelly filled the spot vacated by Mrs. Mary A. Kirkpatrick, who moved to New York State.

Kelly's opponent at that time was Francisco R. LaGrotteria, who is now a mayoral candidate.

Council Holds Brief Meeting

The City Council last night in a brief special meeting in the city auditor's office passed for a second reading 47 orders submitted by Mayor Raymond L. Haughey for the taking of easements for sewer purposes on lower Elm Street.

Council President Joseph S. Scelsi also announced that there will be a joint meeting of the Council and the School Committee Wednesday evening at 7:30 at Springside House to discuss maintenance in the schools.

City Election

15 of 16 Officeholders Expected To Run Again

By DANIEL C. FALES

Fifteen of the 16 elected municipal officeholders are expected to seek re-election this fall, a canvass revealed today.

The only incumbent who has definitely dropped out is Ward 7 Councilman Thomas W. Coughlin. But his 10 Council colleagues plan to run, though some say they are undecided at this time.

Some others say they will run but are not sure for what post—at-large or from the ward.

Four of the seven School Committeemen, whose four-year terms expire at the end of this year, all plan to run. They are Thomas F. Kelly from Ward 1; John J. Quinn, Ward 2; Edward T. Wallace, Ward 3, and William E. Harris, Ward 4.

Sources close to Mayor Haughey feel that he will try for a fourth term.

This is what each councilman says about the election:

Councilman-at-Large

Roy F. Brown — "I have been approached to consider a mayoral run, but I will probably run at-large again."

Donald G. Butler — "Will definitely run at-large."

Daniel Casey — "Will run at-large."

George A. Purnell Jr. — "I'm noncommittal at this point."

Ward Councilman

1. Ernest G. St. Peter — "Plan to run at this time."
2. Raymond E. Crow — "Will run."
3. Remo DelGallo — "Will run—maybe at-large."
4. Joel S. Greenberg — He is out of town for the week, but is expected to run from the ward again.
5. Samuel J. Quadrozzi—"Haven't decided as yet, but will have an answer in a few weeks."
6. Joseph S. Scelsi (Council president) — "I will definitely run, but I have to decide whether it will be from the ward or at-large."
7. Thomas W. Coughlin — Will not run again. He threw his support behind former Ward 7 Councilman John F. Fraser.

DeBonis To Run

Frank J. DeBonis of 258 First St. started the ball rolling in at-large race by stating today that he was a "definite candidate." The assistant manager at Zyre's Department store and former city policeman for a year said he would officially announce in a "week or so."

Races for the mayor's position, the four at-large and seven wards Council seats and the four School Committee slots are not expected to really start until after the annual General Electric Company vacation period. Vacations start late Friday with workers returning to their jobs July 29.

But there are only three months until the city primary elections scheduled for Oct. 15. The main events will be run Nov. 5 at the regular city election.

All candidates may obtain nomination papers about Aug. 1, City Clerk John J. Fitzgerald said today. These papers with valid signatures must be submitted to the Registrars of Voters by 5 p.m. Sept. 17.

The registrars will certify signatures and return papers to a candidate who must officially file them with Fitzgerald by 5 p.m. Sept. 24.

Signature Requirements

Candidates from the wards on both the City Council and School Committee must present 70 signatures to the registrars for certification. Under a new law, effective this year, all candidates must submit signatures totaling two-fifths more than required to be a candidate. In other words a ward Council candidate needs 50 valid signatures. He must submit 70 to the registrars for certification.

In the case of mayoral and at-large candidates, 350 signatures must be presented. These candidates need 250 certified signatures.

The registrars have scheduled special voter registration sessions outside the routine office hours of 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m. on weekdays. These additional sessions are set for Sept. 13 and 20 from 7 to 9 p.m., and Oct. 4 and 11 between the same hours.

Those who are not registered but wish to vote in the primary election must sign up by 10 p.m. Sept. 25. The registrars' office will be open from noon to 10 p.m. on that day.

Final Registration Oct. 16

Those who miss the earlier registration periods, but wish to vote in the Nov. 5 election must register by 10 p.m. on Oct. 16. Again the office, which is in the City Hall Annex, will be open from noon to 10 p.m. on that day.

The 24 election polls in the city are expected to be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. on both primary and election days. The City Council must officially set the times, but there has been no deviation from the 12-hour period in a number of years.

There may be several questions on the Nov. 5 ballot. This will depend on whether or not the state legislature approves requests from the City Council for referendums on three charter changes. These changes include increasing the School Committee by four at-large representatives; filling Council or School Committee vacancies by a vote of the people, and return to a partisan charter.

The Council petition is before the legislature now.

Police Pay Raises

Patrolmen Fare the Best In Committee's Proposals

Patrolmen on the Pittsfield police force would receive larger pay hikes on a percentage basis, than the higher ranks in a recommendation filed today by a special subcommittee of the City Council.

The committee, headed by Ward 1 Councilman Ernest G. St. Peter, said adoption of their proposed wage increases for policemen would make a career as a patrolman in the Pittsfield Police Department "more attractive to the young men of the city."

The committee, which includes Councilman-At-Large Roy F. Brown and Ward 5 Councilman Samuel J. Quadrozzi, also suggested increases in uniform and clothing allowances.

"It is also recommended," the report continues, "that the Department of Civil Service be requested to raise the requirements of the entrance examinations (for appointment as policemen)."

Higher Pay Than Asked

The pay hike recommended for the patrolmen is higher than they had requested through the betterment committee of the Pittsfield Police Association.

At present, patrolmen are rated Grade 15 in the city pay scale. This ranges from a starting salary of $4,524 to a maximum of $5,304.

The committee recommends they be upped to Grade 20, which ranges from $5,512 to a maximum of $6,422.

The betterment committee of the association has asked that a minimum of $5,500 be established, that patrolmen go to $6,000 the second year, and to a maximum of $6,300 the third year.

For patrolmen detectives, the committee recommended a similar five-step jump in the salary schedule, placing them in Grade 21, which ranges from $5,720 to $6,656.

Sergeants, currently in Grade 21, would go to Grade 24, $6,422 to $7,436.

Other Increases

Captains at present are in Grade 23, $6,188 to $7,176. Under the recommendation they would go to Grade 27, $7,167 to $8,267.

The chief's salary would be raised four steps to Grade 32. This has a minimum of $8,554 and a maximum of $9,776. The chief's position currently is in Grade 28, which ranges from $7,436 to $8,554.

The committee proposed a full uniform allowance, with the exception of shoes, for patrolmen. The city presently pays 50 per cent of the uniform costs.

Detectives would receive a yearly clothing allowance of $100.

The committee report comes as a result of the recent study of the Pittsfield Police Department conducted by the Massachusetts State Police under the direction of Commissioner of Public Safety Frank S. Giles.

Tax Burden Noted

The St. Peter subcommittee said it feels that all the recommendations of the report as to personnel and salary "cannot be accomplished at this time without incurring a heavy burden on the taxpayers of the city."

The committee said strict adherence to the state report on salaries and the addition of nine additional persons on the force would hike annual costs by approximately $172,000. This, the committee said, would increase the tax rate $1.50.

The Council group said their recommendations would cost the city $87,022 a year.

Pay Raise Petitions Filed For City Employes, 2 Chiefs

A five-grade pay increase for city employes has been requested today, as has a salary raise for the chiefs of police and fire.

Representatives of Local 861 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes Union AFL-CIO have called for the five-grade raise to bring employes in line with other salary scales.

Ward 1 Councilman Ernest G. St. Peter has asked that the chiefs receive additional wages in light of a recent state Supreme Court ruling declaring that such personnel could not be paid for holidays.

Teachers Not Included

The local union, which mostly represents workers in the Public Works and Park departments, wants the pay increase for all city employes except teachers. The union members say they feel the teachers have their own organizations.

The petition signed by Anthony M. Pastore, union business agent, and Manuel J. Pravia, union president, states that workers feel recent petitions and talks with city officials have involved only the personnel of the police and fire departments.

Union members agree that the salary increases for the protective personnel are needed, but so is an over-all salary adjustment for all employes from custodians to department heads, Pastore said.

The union is also asking that the annual step increase granted employes for the first five years of service be given after every six months so that top pay in any pay grade can be reached in two-and-a-half years instead of five.

Pastore said that the union membership, which met earlier this week, felt that city employes should be paid relative to comparable jobs outside the city service.

Pastore Comments

"We realize that equal pay is not possible," Pastore said, "but we would like it close enough so we can at least see the pay level of private business."

The union petition referred to a section of the city's salary ordinance which states that pay should take into consideration cost of living increases and "the comparable (pay) positions outside the city service."

A five-grade increase would allow about $500-a-year extra for workers in the lower grade bracket and scales up to about a $1,000-a-year increase for those in the upper or official service levels.

In the petition union members agreed that this increase would have an affect on the tax rate, "but at the same time we are home owners and taxpayers and our cost of living has gone up, though we have been left at the post, in comparison to pay for workers in state civil service jobs and others in private industry."

St. Peter Seeks Study

St. Peter, who did not specify how much the chiefs should receive, felt that the loss of $312 per year, normally paid for 10 holidays, should be made up. He wants the matter studied by the City Council Finance Committee.

The Supreme Court last June ruled that chiefs, who were responsible only to themselves, could take off any day they wanted, so should not be eligible for holiday pay.

A local opinion was made by Assistant City Solicitor Jacob S. Aaronson at the request of City Auditor John J. Norton. Aaronson's opinion was based on the court ruling.

Civil Service has reported that the one man that took the promotional examination for inspector of wires failed. Mayor Haughey today is deciding whether another promotional examination should be scheduled or whether the examination should be opened to all comers.

City Foreman-Laborers' Pay To Be Discussed Tomorrow

Representatives from the local city employe union and association will accompany Robert U. Johnson, Administrative Services director, to Boston tomorrow to meet with Civil Service officials.

Discussion with the state agency will revolve around the Grade 14 pay scale granted working foreman - laborers. This scale, five grades above the highest paid laborer in the city's employ will eventually present a problem for the city if it stands as is.

The Grade 14 scale is also higher than most skilled employes in such departments as Public Works, Parks and Public Buildings.

Johnson States Problem

The problem, according to Johnson, is that skilled employes may want to drop back to the labor ranks as a working foreman - laborer to obtain the higher pay. It is also possible that laborers would protest to civil service if anyone from the skilled ranks came in to fill the laboring - foreman position.

Top pay in the labor class is $80 per week, while the working foreman-laborer, who supposedly works along with his laboring colleagues, receives a top pay of $93 per week.

The City Council has approved pay increases for the working foreman-laborer class from time to time. The last increase came in August 1962 when such a laborer's wage went from Grade 13 to Grade 14.

There are three classifications within the labor and trades group in the city's employ. Class 1 includes unskilled laborers; Class 2 covers skilled employes such as maintenance men and motor equipment operators, while Class 3 is for craftsmen such as painters, carpenters, and electricians.

Foreman-Laborer Pay Hike Was Illegal, Johnson Told

The City Council acted "illegally and improperly" last year when it increased the pay grade for working foremen-laborers, Robert U. Johnson, administrative services director, said today quoting Henry W. Finnegan, director of the state civil service.

Johnson and several representatives from the city employes union and association met with Finnegan Wednesday to discuss the Grade 14 salary scale for about seven unskilled laborers in the city's employ, who have been designated as working foremen.

Johnson said that Finnegan told the assembled group that these men should be laborers first and foremen in an incidental way. He said Finnegan thought the men were being allowed to act as foremen, thus circumventing the required civil service examination which all regular foremen must pass.

The trip to Civil Service was prompted by Johnson when it looked as if the Council last August had put the city in a bind. By increasing the pay one grade, it became possible for men in the second of the city's three-class categories to apply for the laboring position and thus receive more pay.

Unskilled laborers, charged with sweeping streets, digging ditches, and the like are in Class 1. Their pay scale tops off at $80 a week. Skilled laborers are in Class 2. These men are maintenance men and moter equipment operators. In most cases Class 2 employes in the Public Works and Park departments receive less pay than a working foreman - laborer who comes from the Class 1 ranks.

Johnson anticipated that if a Civil Service ruling were not obtained there would be quite a hue-and-cry from the laboring (Class 1) ranks if Class 2 employes applied for the working foreman positions.

Finnegan settled this problem by ruling that Class 2 employes could apply for the foreman-laborer positions, Johnson said. But Finnegan stated that the working foreman-laborer must do the work of a laborer, Johnson said.

Finnegan also said that there was little that could be done about the Grade 14 pay scale—five grades above the unskilled laborers' top pay, Johnson said.

Johnson is sending the Council a letter outlining Wednesday's discussion.

Arlos Proposes New PHS Be Named for Kennedy

A rash of proposals, seeking to set up memorials to the slain President John F. Kennedy, are being made in all sections of the state.

Locally so far, there have been two. A. Edward Godek, former Adams selectman, suggested that the Veterans' Memorial Tower atop Mount Greylock be named for the deceased President. His proposal was endorsed by the Adams Selectmen. And today Peter G. Arlos, chairman of the Democratic City Committee, announced that he has set up a three-man committee to take the "proper and necessary" steps to recommend that a proposed new high school in Pittsfield be named in honor of John Fitzgerald Kennedy.

Mahar Objects

A World War I veteran of Adams, Herbert C. Mahar, already has voiced objection to the Greylock proposal. He argues that the memorial is to all veterans. The state incidentally will embark next spring on a $300,000 rehabilitation of the Greylock beacon tower which has deteriorated over the years for lack of attention and maintenance.

Ward 7 Councilman Thomas W. Coughlin will head the Arlos appointed committee. Other members are Charles Bunnell and Council President Joseph S. Scelsi.

"We can think of no more fitting and last memorial to a man whose love of learning and devotion to education were the hallmarks of his life and his administration," Arlos said. "It could not help but serve as an inspiration to future students to emulate his courageous example and serve his humane and enlightened ideals."

Arlos said the committee will also recommend that final plans for the high school be submitted to Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy for comments and recommendations, not only be cause of her "impeccable" taste in matters of art and architec ture, but because her suggestions will give the high school more of the personal touch and style by which President Kennedy was identified.

Sullivan Proposes Chapel

Governor's Councillor Raymond F. Sullivan is taking steps to "spearhead" a fund drive for an "interfaith" chapel to be erected in Springfield so that President Kennedy will be perpetuated in "our memory through constant prayer."

Cardinal Richard J. Cushing yesterday called for the erection of a shrine to President Kennedy in or near Boston.

And there have been other proposals in Boston, most notably one to name the new government center in that city for the famous native son.

Dr. Alan Lieberman, chief psychologist at the Berkshire Children's Psychiatric Clinic, is conducting for the first time a series of four meetings with staff members and volunteers who work with children and young people in agencies affiliated with the United Community Services. The second meeting was yesterday from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Berkshire Community College.

Dr. Lieberman opens the meetings with a lecture on the stages and characteristics of growth and development of youth. In this presentation, he identifies the emotional problems one is apt to come up against when dealing with children. Following the lecture a lunch is served, Dutch treat, by the Canteen Service and the sessions close with a discussion period.

More than 60 have been registered for the lecture series. All are connected with the RIG agencies of UCS (recreation, informal education and group work). It is still possible to sign up for the last two lectures by contacting Edmund G. Buckley at the UCS office. They will be held Feb. 6 and 13 at the college.

Housing Huddle Off for Friday, Set on Saturday

A meeting of the Pittsfield Housing Authority with Mayor Haughey and members of the City Council, scheduled for tomorrow night, will be held instead at 10:30 Saturday morning.

The session will be in the social room of the housing project at Wahconah Heights. Authority Chairman Ralph J. Froio said the Friday session conflicted with previous plans of too many members of the City Council.

"We want to sit down with our elected officials," Chairman Froio said, "and answer point-by-point all questions or objections that have been raised against our proposed site in the Allen Heights section."

The City Council recently rejected a change in the zoning ordinances which would have allowed the authority to proceed with the construction of the city's third housing project for the elderly.

Mr. Froio said the authority's architect and Public Works Commissioner John F. Daniels have been invited to the session, too.

Farmlands to Recreation, Freeman Suggests for N.E.

BOSTON (AP) —Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman suggested Tuesday many New England farmers might do well if they consider shifting to the field of recreation.

Freeman told a news conference the U. S. Department of Agriculture has embarked on a program of loans and grants to enable farmers to take their acreage out of production of suplus food products and convert it to public recreation areas.

Cites N.E. Area

"New England," he said, "is one area where the program can be applied most affectively. The conversion to recreation is part of the department's long range program.

"It is my conviction that we will never be able to meet the recreation needs of our urban population with our public lands alone."

Freeman told the Advertising Club of Boston:

"Had food prices at the farm increased as much as the cost of other goods and services during the past decade we would be paying $4 to $6 billion more a year for food.

We're Still Tops

"There may be arguments about which nation has the best missiles, and there are some who believe the Soviet educational system is achieving better results than ours, but there is no doubt anywhere that American agriculture, the family farm system, rates No. 1 and it continues to improve each year.

Recreation Bill Passes House

WASHINGTON — The House approved Monday an administration bill to promote the co-ordination and development of effective federal and state outdoor recreation programs.

The vote on the program, which began during the Eisenhower administration, was 183-18.

Costs for the program in the first year would be limited to $2.5 million under an amendment adopted just before passage.

GOP Change Defeated

A Republican attempt to take the direction of the project from the Department of the Interior and lodge it in an independent agency was defeated, 99-54.

However, a Republican demand that annual reports be made on the uses to which donated land and facilities are put was adopted by a recorded vote of 292-50.

The legislation now goes to the Senate, which has passed a similar measure. Chances for an early agreement between the two houses was regarded as good.

The legislation would give statute status to the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, which the President created by executive order, and would outline its functions and responsibilities. The bureau would:

Encourage interstate and regional cooperation in the planning and development of outdoor recreation resources.

Sponsor and assist in research relating to outdoor recreation, directly or by contract or cooperative agreements.

Disseminate information and cooperate with educational institutions and others in establishing programs.

Cooperate with and provide technical assistance to nearly a score of departments and agencies interested in recreational projects.

Accept and use donations of money, property, services or facilities for the programs.

Garden Club Gets Support For City Anti-Litter Drive

The Berkshire Garden Club yesterday launched a two-pronged municipal assault on littering and a beautification program. The drive was announced at a public meeting at the Berkshire Museum which featured a showing of the film, "Let's Keep America Beatiful," and brief comments from state and local officials concerned.

The effort was timed to precede the period, April 21-28, proclaimed "Keep Massachusetts Beautiful Week" by Gov. Endicott Peabody and "Keep Pittsfield Beautiful Week" by Mayor Raymond L. Haughey.

The meeting, chaired by the club's civic development head, Mrs. Thurlow H. Pelton, attracted some 60 to 70 citizens. Mrs. Pelton announced that the anti-litter film screened at the session would be shown as widely as possible in schools throughout the county. In addition, a volunteer group is being formed to spearhead the campaign in the city.

Million-Dollar Cleanup

Principal speaker at the meeting was Mrs. Cyrus Brewer of Boston, president of the Chestnut Hills Garden Club and state chairman for anti-litter activities of the Federated Garden Clubs. She spoke of her seven years' experience in the field, and pointed out that Massachusetts alone spent a quarter of a million dollars annually for highway clean-up.

Highways account for only a portion of the national expenditure for trash removal. The Let's Keep America Beautiful group estimates that the total national bill for such work reaches $500 million yearly.

Speaking for the Association of Business and Commerce, Albert R. Neill stressed that business and industry are generators of dirt, litter and unsightliness. Manufacturers, merchants and individuals, he suggested, should have as much pride in the community as they have in their homes.

Sgt. James F. Magner pointed out that public cooperation is vital to the Police Department's sanitation efforts. The staff, he said, must be informed of unsanitary practices before corrective can be taken.

Lt. Alexander D. Sturgeon, head of the Fire Department's fire prevention bureau, stressed the extent to which his department's task is impeded by littering. He indicated that most fires could be traced to some kind of litter situation.

Vincent J. Hebert, representing the Department of Public Works, Parks and Recreation Department and Kiwanis Club, spoke of the staggering cleanup duties of city agencies assigned to parkways, parks, playgrounds, beaches, public fields and other areas.

A letter from DPU head John Daniels announced that his department will service additional litter baskets placed on sidewalks by merchants.

Pointing to the frustrations of civic beautification attempts in the face of litter, Shade Tree Commission chairman Kingsley R. Fall stated he felt that only a private group such as a garden club could successfully lead an anti-litter campaign through education, publicity and "needling" muncipal departments into action.

Robert U. Johnson Lauds Portugal On Return From 3-Week Visit There

By ARTHUR DYERS

Portugal is a great place to visit, and he wouldn't mind living there, indicates Robert U. Johnson, Lenox man who has just returned from a trip to that country.

"I was not prepared for what I saw in Lisbon," Mr. Johnson says. "I was absolutely rocked. It was the cleanest, healthiest and safest city I have ever been in. My wife and I could and did walk all over Lisbon at night—you couldn't do it in Pittsfield—and never any danger.

"An official said, 'You can go into any section of the city at night and go into a workers' bar and order a drink, and I will stake the entire reputation of my country on the treatment you will receive."

Robert U. Johnson

Mrs. John on Longer Visit

Mrs. Johnson flew to Lisbon in February with Mrs. William B. Tichenor of Stockbridge. They stayed for about a month in a quinta—a large summer home—with Mr. and Mrs. A. Clinton Landsberg. Mrs. Landsberg is related to Henry D. Sedgwick of Stockbridge. Mr. Landsberg is well-known in Europe as an amateur landscape artist and restorer of palaces. On a three-week vacation from his Pittsfield City Hall duties as director of administrative services, Mr. Johnson flew to Lisbon to join his wife. He returned a few days ago. Mrs. Johnson is returning early in May.

Mr. Johnson says: "My wife and Mrs. Tichenor traveled alone by car all over Portugal. They ate the food, drank the water — never did they have any question of problems. A woman can travel alone in Portugal and is absolutely safe."

Later, the Johnsons stayed at the Hotel Borges in Lisbon. "It's a magnificent place," he says. "We had a room and bath and three meals a day for $65 a week, for two."

Lisbon is a beautiful city, he says. "The colors of the building are pastel. They are low, and everywhere you get an immediate impression of cleanliness. Everywhere are magnificent gardens, beautifully kept. They wash those streets every single night, so the city is spotlessly clean.

'Spotlessly Clean'

"No matter how poor a man is, he never walks on the street with dirty clothes. I never saw one Portuguese who wasn't spotlessly clean."

Mr. Johnson was reluctant to comment on the political situation, having been in the country only there three weeks. Portugal has long been a dictatorship under Dr. Antonio Salazar. But he did say, "I was impressed that of the many Portuguese people I met, officials in the government, businessmen, and workers — I went into the workers' section several times—I saw no evidence whatsoever of any harsh oppression, of any fear, or any evidence that the people were being treated brutally.

"On the contrary, I found that people were perfectly willing to talk openly of their differences of opinion regarding Salazar. I met various people who did not agree with his economic policies, and said so, but I found no one who was against him on the basis that he was a repressive dictator."

Another thing Mr. Johnson noted was a lack of juvenile delinquency.

"The Portuguese character is basically moderate," he says. "In their bullfights they won't allow the bull to be killed. In that land you are in a place where the industrial revolution hasn't hit yet, so the family unit is the controlling element. A young man told me, 'I never had the key to the house until my last year in college.'

"They just don't allow juveniles to go out and get into trouble. Yet within the family unit they are most affectionate, and are often accused of spoiling their children.

"I saw a lot more beautiful girls, from a natural point of view, than I do in America. And I appreciated the absence of the weird make-up the modern girl puts on."

Preparing Lectures

Mr. Johnson is preparing a series of lectured to be given locally, and also articles on a free-lance basis.

"An American could go to Portugal with his wife," he says, "and retire on $300 a month and live very well."

For those Americans just passing through, Mr. Johnson has a word:

"My advice to a tourist going to Portugal," he says, "is that there are only two things that you need — a smile and good manners — and that will carry you anywhere."

He noted a few of the other kind.

"I saw some American tourists who would do the damndest things. What amazed me was that the Portuguese would smile in a semi-Oriental way, and meet the boorishness with politeness."

Local Pilot Slightly Hurt In Airport's First Crash

Federal Aviation Agency inspectors were in Pittsfield yesterday to view the wreckage of a Piper Comanche aircraft which crashed Saturday afternoon on the Nache Kaminski farm on South Mountain Road.

Louis O. Conway of 110 Roselyn Drive, owner and pilot of the low-winged, single engine plane, suffered minor abrasions about the face in the crash. The aircraft was badly damaged.

Conway, a holder of a private pilot's license with more than 600 hours to his credit, said this morning he still wasn't certain what caused the power failure. He explained he was out Saturday afternoon cruising around trying out a new piece of equipment which had been installed in his plane recently. He started a rountine approach to the field at about 1,200 feet when his engine quit.

Aimed at Pasture

Conway said his first inclination was to try for the field, but when he lost too much altitude he aimed at a pasture on the Kaminski farm which is about a quarter of a mile from the Pittsfield Airport. He put his landing gear down and had full flaps coming into the field. However, he lost flying speed and headed for a clump of boulders in the middle of the field. In making a sharp right turn on the ground, the plane's engine dug into the ground and the plane spun around, damaging the ends of both wings. Conway's head struck the instrument panel and his glasses gouged the area around his left eye.

Nache Kaminski, owner of the farm and a private pilot himself, rushed out to the wrecked airplane only to find Conway outside surveying the wreckage. Conway was taken to St. Luke's Hospital where 30 stitches were used to close his cuts.

Some Salvage

More than $6,000 in communication and navigation equipment has been salvaged from the plane. However, Mr. Conway said this morning he thought there was little else in the plane that could be saved. He said he is already looking over a replacement aircraft for himself.

Mr. Conway is a member of the aviation subcommittee of the Association of Business and Commerce transportation committee. He observed this morning that if the city had constructed the often-proposed new runway, he would have had no trouble in landing.

John A. Heaton, manager of the Pittsfield Airport, said today that this is the first accident recorded at the field in his 17 years as manager.

Conway was treated at St. Luke's Hospital.

LaGrotteria Makes Reply To LaBlue

Atty. Francisco R. LaGrotteria, mayoral candidate, today fired back at criticism leveled yesterday by Arthur J. LaBlue, business agent of IUE Local 255, by saying that LaBlue's "deep concern for a (IUE-GE) contract" was in part responsible for "misinterpretation" of LaGrotteria's statements.

LaBlue rushed to Mayor Haughey's support yesterday after LaGrotteria had charged the mayor with making a Washington trip with IUE representatives because it was an election year. The mayor last week went to Washington to seek assurance that efforts would be made to secure more government contracts for GE here.

'Should Be Obvious'

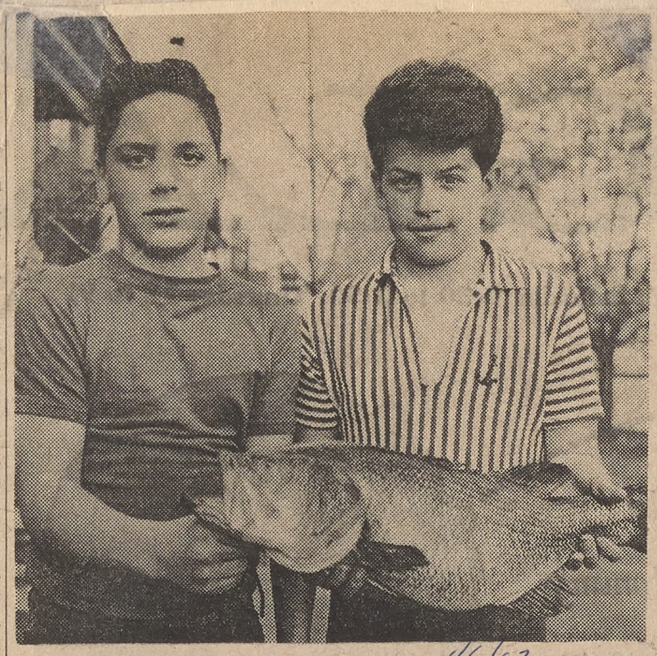

LaGrotteria's statement:

"Does Mr. LaBlue really believe that I criticized the mayor for going to Washington? If so, he wasn't reading Monday's Eagle. It should be obvious to anyone reading the paper that day that not only was it "welcome news" that he was going to Washington, but that efforts of a similar nature should have been exerted during all of his years in office, and not just before an election.

"We are all vitally interested in the important contract now being negotiated between the IUE and GE. I would prefer to believe that Mr. LaBlue's deep concern for such a contract was at least in part the reason for his misinterpretation of my statements.

"It should be obvious to everyone that a visit to our Washington representatives, who have long been well aware of Pittsfield's problems, is far from enough. It will tak a new and fresh approach on the part of a new mayor to heal the open wounds inflicted on Pittsfield's image by such acts as took place on City Hall steps last year.

"Our city desperately needs an efficient, wholesome government to begin turning back the downward trend Pittsfield has been taking over the last six years."

BCC Review Being Held Here Today

5/15/63

Full-Day Survey Is 'Dry Run' For Accreditation

Berkshire Community College is being given a full-day preliminary review for accreditation today by members of the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

The reviewers are Dr. Frederick C. Copeland, director of admissions at Williams College, who is also president of the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, and Director Harold Bentley of Northern Essex Community College, who has served on a number of reviewing teams for junior college accreditation.

Berkshire Community College cannot technically apply for accreditation until its first full graduating class, which went out from the college last June, has been out for two years. But a faculty committee on educational policy, chaired by Dean of Faculty, Joseph J. Walsh, has been at work this academic year on a "self-study" of the college looking to the preliminary and informal review on the part of Mr. Copeland and Director Bentley.

'Dry Run' Encouraged

"The NEACSS encourages this kind of early planning for accreditating review," Dean Walsh said, "and looks favorably on the kind of 'dry run' which Messrs. Copeland and Bentley will be giving us. They will help us discover what our weaknesses are and will we hope offer suggestions for our ensuring that we meet all accreditation standards at the time of the formal NEACSS review of BCC a year or so hence. We welcome their critical and tough-minded examination of all aspects of our college's operation."

Serving with Dean Walsh on the college's faculty committee on educational policy are: George Genzmer, librarian and faculty member in history; John Kuisti, electrical technology department head; Donald Lathrop, faculty member in physics; Dr. James T. Mehorter, dean of students and faculty member in psychology; Dean Grace Meyers, dean of women and faculty member in speech; Richard Rowe, business department head; Richard Turner, faculty member in English; and Mr. O'Connell, director of the college.

Lee, Lenox Lose Officials Due to Conflict of Interest

5/9/63

The town of Lee is losing a school committeeman and Lenox is losing a member from its Playground, Conservation and Cemetery commissions as a result of the new conflict-of-interest law.

Frank P. Consolati, a member of the Lee School Committee for seven years and active in other town committees and boards long before that, yesterday submitted his resignation to School Committee Chairman Dr. Edward J. Cerruti.

James H. Woodger, who was elected to the Lenox Playground and Cemetery Commissions and was appointed to the Lenox Conservation Commission, yesterday submitted his resignations to the Board of Selectmen in that town.

Cite Law as Reason

Both men cited the conflict-of-interest law as the reason for their resignations. They are the first elected officials in the county to cite the new law as the main reason for resigning. Earlier this week, Dr. John T. Cinella of Lee, who is also school physician in that town, submitted his resignation as a member of the Lee School Committee. He gave a lack of time as the main reason and the conflict-of-interest law as only a minor reason.

None of the three resignations have yet been accepted by the Boards of Selectmen in the towns involved. It is expected the Lee Selectmen will meet jointly with the five remaining members of the School Committee there to act on the resignations and appoint temporary school committeemen to serve until the annual election next March.

Lenox Meeting Tonight

The Lenox Selectmen have a meeting scheduled tonight with several town employes who have questions about the conflict-of-interest law. Town Counsel Charles R. Alberti Jr. also will attend.

Mr. Consolati operates an insurance and real estate business in Lee which sells insurance to the School Department. He is also co-owner of the Lee department store, which sells equipment to the School Department.

Mr. Woodger is a horticultural contractor. His resignation noted that in that capacity he often does business with the town.

U. of M. Netmen Want 7th Crown In Yankee League

AMHERST —The University of Massachusetts tennis team will seek its seventh Yankee Conference championship in the past nine years this weekend in the league tournament at Kingston, R.I.

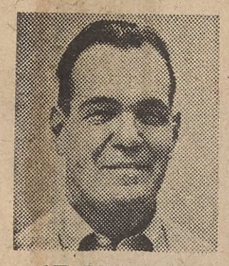

Coach Steve Kosakowski's netmen are defending champs and are pretourney favorites to defend their title. UMass won the crown in 1955, 1956, 1957, 1959, tied with Vermont and New Hampshire in 1960, and won in 1962. Vermont won in 1958 and the 1961 championships were rained out.

The Redmen's over-all record through last week's matches was 6-3. Victories have been over Fairfield, Brandeis, New Hampshire, A.I.C., Rhode Island and Connecticut. Losses were to Springfield, MIT, and Holy Cross.

Kosakowski pins his main hopes on junior Rodger Twitchell, defending Conference singles champion. Twitchell's two-year varsity singles record shows 15 wins against just one defeat.

Our Berkshires

Sportfishing Awar

By Theodore G

5/10/63

AT LEAST TWO Berkshire anglers — and there may be more — have caught fish since the season opened which meet the minimum weight requirements in the Massachusetts freshwater sportfishing award program announced earlier this week by Francis W. Sargent, state fisheries and game director. However, one of the fishermen gave his catch to a friend, not knowing that it had to be brought to an official checking station to be eligible for a prize.

Steve Florczyk of 101 Wahconah St., a silk stretcher for A. H. Rice Co., nailed a 26-inch brown trout while casting from shore south of the pumping station at Onota Lake. The scrapper weighted 5 pounds, 12 ounces on the scales at the Onota Lake Boat Livery. A "wildcat" wet fly ahead of a plastic bubble on the terminal end of a spinning outfit did the trick. But Steve hadn't heard of the state contest and gave the lunker to a friend.

Over the years Steve, who is 51 and has been fishing since he was 5 years old, has caught some splendid fish at Onota, including a 9½-pound largemouth bass and several in the seven to eight-pound bracket. He also has taken his share of outsize brownies and rainbows.

RICHARD OSTELLINO, 12, of 1083 Tyler St., fishing with a worm off Lakeway Drive near the Onota outlet, hoisted out a largemouth bass that scaled 7¾ pounds. His neighbor and fishing companion, Douglas Kennedy of 1005 Tyler St., assisted him. Richard kept his

5/31/63

The City Council has denied a new ordinance which would have tightened up the present law governing physical examinations for city employes.

At the tail end of Tuesday night's 3½-hour meeting, the Council turned down, by voice vote, the ordinance as presented by Administrative Services Director Robert U. Johnson.

But the Council did send to its Ordnance and Rules Committee a petition from Councilman Ernest G. St. Peter calling for two assistant city physicians to aid the present city physician. This would allow stricter enforcement of the sick leave and workmen's compensation laws now on the books.

Stricter Enforcement Urged

Stricter enforcement of existing ordinances was recommended by a number of city employes themselves. They had opposed the Johnson plan, feeling that it granted too much power to the personnel director.

The Johnson ordinance stated that an employe must have a physical examination before returning to work regardless of whether he was out for a day or a month. Civil Service regulations require a physical for a man out more than 30 days.

Johnson's idea was to cut down on sick leave and compensation payments made by the city. He felt that the jump in these payments since 1961 dictated a tightening of the law.

Johnson thought the new ordinance would weed out the chronic sick-leave users and prevent the city from unknowingly hiring or reinstating an injuried employe whose work might aggravate the injury thus making the city liable for disability payments.

Anthony Pastore, business agent for the city employes' union, told the Council that the employes felt the new ordinance would be unfair because one man could be singled out for physicals for the slightest cause and others could go free.

He suggested tightening the present laws.

Everyone agreed that a recent physical should be available to the city before a new person is hired. This pre-employment physical is expected to receive Council approval when a proper ordinance is submitted.

In other business, the Council sent to the Finance Committee petitions to increase the salary of the mayor, and to place recreation supervisors anl the park foreman in the Park Department on an hourly wage scale. This would mean that overtime compensation would be afforded people in these positions who do not now receive additional wages for more than 45 hours work a week.

The building inspector was asked by the Council to keep closer tabs on used car dealers storing old vehicles in lots contrary to city ordinances.

The Council asked the Public Works and Police departments to enforce city ordinances prohibiting the use of tree lines for display of merchandise.

And the mayor was asked to determine if it was possible to appropriate funds for a sanitary engineer to recommend ways of making Goodrich Pond a recreational area.

Central Berkshire Area Designated For Children-Youth Research Project

The Central Berkshire area has been asked to participate in a five-year research and demonstration project on services to children and youth.

This area will be one of two target areas in the state. The project has been undertaken by the Massachusetts Committee on Children and Youth, a permanent citizens' committee appointed by the governor of the Commonwealth in 1959 to study the needs of children and youth and to recommend lines of action to meet these needs.

Central Berkshire and the city of Somerville were selected by MCCY as the two possible project sites because of the widely contrasting picture they present in regard to needs and services for their young people.

Advisory Committee

A citizens' advisory committee has been organized here under the chairmanship of District Court Judge Frank W. Cimini of Pittsfield. The first meeting of the committee will be held at 7:45 Wednesday at the Jewish Community Center.

The MCCY announced today that the following Pittsfield residents have accepted invitations to serve on the advisory committee: Mrs. William I. Anderson, Miss Louise Bassett, Mrs. Gladys Brigham, Frederick S. Fahey, James D. Fenn, Thomas J. Geary, Mrs. Herbert R. Glodt, Mrs. Miriam P. Hart, Vincent J. Hebert, Theodore Herberg, Charles H. Hodecker, Dr. Arthur A. Maislen, Thomas L. McFalls, Dr. Gordon Northrup, L. George Reder, William F. Retallick, Mrs. Jay C. Rosenfeld, Rabbi Harold I. Salzmann, Dr. A. Eugene Schubert, the Rev. Edward D. Shea, Dr. Harold Stein and Laughran Vaber.

Other communities in this area will be represented on the committee by the following: Mrs. William I. Anderson and Thomas A. White of Dalton; Mrs. Milton Gordon, Lee; Donald T. Oakes and Mrs. Robert Hunter, Lenox; Benjamin H. Hermann, Lanesboro; Mrs. Albert Ris of Richmond; Dr. Eugene Talbot of Stockbridge; and Mrs. Ralph Peck of Windsor.

Representatives of the Massachusetts Committee on Children and Youth, including Dr. Martha M. Eliot, chairman, and Dr. Reginald Robinson, executive director, will be on hand to discuss with the local committee the objectives of the project and plans for conducting the study in this area. Dr. John E. Jacobi, project director, will introduce the members of his staff.

Federal Grant Given

In 1961 MCCY was given a grant by the U.S. Children's Bureau through the state Depatment of Public Health to be used for a local area research and demonstration project to define the needs of children and youth in local communities and to recommend methods of developing services to meet these needs.

Both the U.S. Children's Bureau and MCCY expect the project to provide guide lines for development of local services which can be used by a wide variety of communities throughout the nation. For this reason, MCCY felt that the target communities should present a broad range of varying characteristics.

Judge Frank W. Cimini
Chairman of project advisory committee

The Massachusetts committee asked the Central Berkshire area to participate because this region meets in a unique way a number of important criteria for the project.

According to Dr. Jacobi, "the Central Berkshire area constitutes a natural social and economic entity, entirely outside the Greater Boston orbit. This area has a population size that is ideal for the purposes of the project. The area's economic level is comparatively high, and, in general, there are well developed patterns of services for children and youth already in existence.

"Lastly," he said, "community awareness is high. People are keenly interested in the well-being of their children, and local leadership has shown interest in cooperating on the project."

Two-Phase Program

The five-year project will be carried out in two phases. The initial two-year research phase will concentrate on getting a full picture of the needs of children and youth and the range of services available. The second phase, a three-year demonstration program, will focus on working with the local communities in developing a well-rounded, integrated program designed to meet the needs revealed earlier. Among the services with which the project will be concerned are health, education, welfare, mental health, juvenile courts, employment, and housing.

Dr. Jacobi, project director, formerly was associate professor of sociology at Lehigh University. A graduate of Lehigh, he received his Ph.D. degree from New York University. Before joining the faculty of Lehigh in 1948, he taught sociology and economics in colleges and universities in six states.

Assisting Dr. Jacobi as staff consultant on social services and as case work analyst is Mrs. Rose Bernstein. Mrs. Bernstein came to MCCY from the division of research, child life studies branch, U.S. Children's Bureau, Washington, D.C.

Consultative assistants are Dr. Derek Robinson and William Ryan, Ph.D. Dr. Robinson is an instructor in maternal and child health at the Harvard School of Public Health. Dr. Ryan is director of psychological research, Massachusetts Department of Mental Health, and serves as research associate at the Harvard School of Public Health.

Mrs. Moore to Serve Full Time

Mrs. Margaret L. Moore of Lenox will serve as full-time staff assistant in the Central Berkshire project headquarters at the Jewish Community Center here.

The local project is one of a number of study and research programs now being undertaken by the Massachusetts Committee on Children and Youth. At present 119 leading citizens from throughout the state serve as active members of MCCY.

Park Board Would Like Victory Hill

If and when the Victory Hill housing project is abandoned, the Park Commission may have a use for it.

Parks Supt. Vincent J. Hebert recommended last night that steps be taken to look into the possibility of acquiring the property.

He and the commission agreed that the land would be an excellent and valuable addition to the long-range Springside development program.

The Housing project abuts Springside Park on its western and a portion of its southern boundaries. The commission plans to confer with the Pittsfield Housing Authority.

Other Business

In other business, the commission set dates for interviews for summer positions at playgrounds and beaches.

Applicants for playground positions will be interviewed April 8, 9, and at 11 at 7:30 at Springside House; those applying for aquatic posts April 15.

Mr. Hebert noted that playground applicants must be high school graduates and at least 17 years old. Lifeguards must hold a senior life-saving certificate and be capable of making deep-water rescues. Applications are available at the Park Department.

The Pittsfield Permanent Firemen's Association was granted permission to run its annual muster from June 28 to July 4 at Wahconah Park.

Mr. Hebert reported on the personnel survey being conducted by the Administrative Services Department.

$12 Million Budget To Be Given Council

The city's 1963 budget was unofficially set at $12 million today as Mayor Haughey finished cutting financial requests from 32 city departments.

This is about $600,000 more than was appropriated last year to run the city. The mayor will now officially tally the budget and send it to the City Council.

Tht Council will review and trim various budgets as it sees fit. Only cuts can be made by the Council. The mayor is the only one who may add to department requests, but this didn't happen this year.

Mayor Slashes $400,000

Mayor Haughey was successful in cutting the gross $12.4 million budget by almost $400,000. The largest single cut was in the Public Works Department where $151,504 was taken from the original $1.6 million request.

The School Department budget is, of course, the largest single budget. The department has set its needs at almost $5 million. But the use of $400,000 in federal funds as authorized by the mayor and School Committee, brings the impact on the tax rate to $4.6 million—some $375,000 more than last year.

At this point there is no way of knowing the actual increase in the tax rate for this year. But the $600,000 by itself represents an increase of $4.80. It is estimated, though, that state reimbursements may increase this year, which would lower the tax rate.

The City Council cut about $75,000 from the budget last year. This represented a 60-cent cut. Though there is no way of knowing what the Council will cut this year, it is known that there will be a cut.

Unclassified Budget Approved

Today the mayor scrutinized and approved the unclassified budget. This account, totaling $540,121, includes money needed for the Berkshire Athenaeum, $152,000; medical and other insurance premiums for city employes, $207,700; and the city's share of the contributory retirement fund, $135,400.

Other budgets approved by the mayor were the Planning Board, $22,749 (including $10,000 for a planning director); Civil Defense, $16,847; Veterans' Services, $178,154; welfare, $1,421,687; Signal Department, $47,237; plumbing inspector department, $10,191; tax collector, $37,245; assessors, $50,724; and administrative services, $64,122.

The Council will have 45 days (until about April 1) to act on the budget.

Today, the maximum increase over the 1962 tax rate of $63.60 per $1,000 assessed valuation is $4.80. But the actual figure should be somewhat less when this year's rate is officially set by the state Department of Corporations and Taxation sometime in April or May.

Civil Action Trial

FEB 21 1963

Dr. Furocolo Not Associated With Track, Dr. Kirvin Says

Dr. Robert J. Kirvin, Pittsfield dentist and clerk of the Hancock Raceway corporation, testified in Suffolk County Superior Court yesterday that Dr. Charles F. Furcolo of Springfield, father of the former governor, "never had anything to do with the Hancock Raceway."

He was on the witness stand all day as trial started in the civil action brought by former Sen. Joseph L. Murphy of Boston, a prime organizer of Hancock Raceway several years ago, against Dr. Furcolo. The Springfield physician, in turn, has brought a countercharge in which he alleges that 50 shares which he "entrusted" to Charles R. Carson of Springfield as "straw" found their way into the hands of the new president of the track corporation, Salvatore A. Rizzo of Scarsdale, N.Y.

Murphy is charging that he was forced to sell out to Dr. Furcolo for $37,500 his 50 shares in the Hancock track. He alleges that there was an agreement for Dr. Furcolo to hold some of the shares for Murphy's benefit.

Never Heard Name Mentioned

Dr. Kirvin, who is a member of the Pittsfield Park Commission, said that he never heard Dr. Furcolo's name mentioned at any meetings of officers and directors and never saw Dr. Furcolo at any meeting.

"To my knowledge," he said, "Dr. Furcolo never had anything to do with the track."

Dr. Kirvin said he was elected clerk of the track corporation at a meeting May 31, 1960, at the office of Judge John A. Barry in Pittsfield. Attending that meeting, he said, were Atty. Bernard A. Francis of Hartford, Conn., Raymond J. Volpi of Wellesley, D. Paul Sweeney of Pittsfield, Harris Osman of New London, Conn., and Mrs. Augusta Dee Whitman. He said he made notes of minutes of the corporation meetings and left them with Judge Barry's secretary to type them and place them in the corporate books. He said Judge Barry kept corporation records in his office.

The dentist said that Francis, who had been president of the corporation, resigned Aug. 3, 1962, and that at an Aug. 20 meeting, Salvatore A. Rizzo of Scarsdale was elected, first as a director and then as president. Sinatra was elected a vice president of the track Oct. 3, 1962, when the famous crooner's clan pal, Dean Martin, was also elected to the board.

At the mention of the two movie stars, under questioning by Rizzo's counsel, Atty. Joseph B. Abrams, Judge Frank E. Smith, who is presiding over the trial, quipped: "Now that we have had the commercial, let's get on with the case."

Dario Sold 62 Shares

Dr. Kirvin said that on the day Sinatra and Martin joined the board, B. A. Dario, operator of the Lincoln, R.I., Downs track, sold out his 62 shares and "got out of the track." He also said that when Rizzo moved in, he loaned the track $300,135 at 6 per cent for five years to meet corporate debts.

The Pittsfield dentist said the track corporation records showed that Carson was elected a director and comptroller of the track in August 1960. He admitted under questioning by Atty. Raymond F. Barrett, representing Dr. Furcolo, that the corporation records had been changed to show Carson's election as having taken place in August 1960, rather than October 1960. He said the corporation still shows Carson as holding 50 shares of stock, which are to be transferred to Rizzo as soon as the court permits.

Sports at the Jail

MAR 27 1963

FAIR OR FOUL

By Roger O'Gara

IN HIS RUN for the post of sheriff of Berkshire County last fall, John Courtney received plenty of exercise. Now he would like to provide a portion of the same for the men entrusted to his care. However, because of the nature of their residence at the jail on Second Street, their area of participation will be limited.

Seriously, though, Courtney has taken the first step toward setting up the rehabilitation program of which he talked frequently during the campaign. He feels that participation in athletics and regular workouts will be the greatest things that ever happened to the inmates. He foresees both morale and health benefits.

"I think we can do a lot with the young guys," he said. "I realize that the older men won't be interested."

Several residents are "with us most of the time," the sheriff said. These are victims of the bottle. They're discharged, stay on the outside for varying periods, and return for another semester.

o—o

THE SHERIFF realizes that neither these long term students nor the alumni will help, but is reasonably confident that he will receive substantial assistance from public-spirited individuals and organizations.

In short, he needs considerable equipment and building materials to bring his idea to fruition.

The reason he has to ask for it this way is that there isn't a dime in the county budget for this sort of thing.

o—o

TEN PRISONERS in their late 'teens and early and middle '20s already have enrolled in a weight-lifting class. Twenty-nine-year-old Ralph Packard, a guard for the past two and one-half years, is the instructor.

An upstairs room has been converted into a small gymnasium for the lifters. The day we visited, Packard was giving individual instructions to a small group. The men definitely were interested. One fellow was wearing a tight pair of pants. Packard cautioned him against over-doing, lest he break out of the pants. Breaking out is considered a breach of deportment over there.

Packard has been an enthusiastic lifter and judo specialist for years. In judo, he has worked his way up to the classification of wearer of the brown belt. Courtney refers to Packard as "my athletic officer."

o—o

PACKARD, like any other guard, works a straight eight-hour shift.

He instructs in lifting on a voluntary basis. This means he puts in overtime, not at double, one and one-half, or straight pay, but at no pay. Some cynics would question his facility for thinking, but he actually struck us as a man who thoroughly was enjoying what he was doing.

You meet the strangest people over at the jail. A new guard is former professional baseball umpire Neil Kent. He is one of the new staffers appointed by Courtney. Neil watched them in play-for-pay ranks for 12 years. Now he does a different kind of watching.

Neil also puts in considerable overtime as an all-around detail assistant in the formulation of the sheriff's program.

o—o

COURTNEY has requested that work be done in preparing small rooms for ping pong, tumbling, wrestling and boxing. He also believes that he may take a whack at volleyball, but he has reservations on indoor basketball.

"There just isn't enough room," he said. "And the ceilings aren't high enough."

Basketball was the well-built sheriff's big sport back in 1941, when he was a regular forward on the strong Monson Academy team that was rated among the best in its class in New England. He attended the preparatory school a year after graduating from Holyoke High. He was on the golf and track teams at Holyoke. He has retained an interest in golf, playing regularly at Wahconah Country Club in Dalton when he was a state trooper and at the Taconic Golf Club in Williamstown when he was chief of police in that community.

THE SHERIFF also has some plans for outdoor activities for the prisoners, but not too far away, of course. They've had horseshoes and outdoor basketball of sorts for some years, but he would like to broaden their outlook by setting up a softball field.

In order to do that, he will have to raze a wing of the jail building that housed a shoe shop many years ago, almost back to the days when capital offenders were hung over there. This wing last was used for shoe repairs in 1916. It has been condemned.

With this structure leveled, Courtney figures the area of the now-narrow exercise yard would be greatly increased.

"Some fill will be required to make a level field," he said, "but I think we can handle it."

o—o

THERE WAS considerable sawing, hammering and painting as we inspected the upstairs rooms, where preliminary preparation work is being done.

All of the labor is done by the prisoners. Here Courtney stressed an important point.

"The men may help, but they are not required to," he said.

Road uniforms will present no problem, but the sheriff would like to obtain some home gym suits. He also needs mats, ring equipment, boxing gloves, and any other spare recreational and sports equipment.

Several painting contractors "have been most generous," he said. He is hopeful that lumber men will be equally as kind, because he'll need a quantity of material for the installation of floors that will withstand the pressure of exercising men.

Shortly after he assumed office, he conducted a drive to re-stock the library. The response was excellent. As a tie-in with his drive for sports equipment, he would appreciate the donation of books on athletics, fictional and instructional.

"Exercise is the best rehabilitation program there is," the sheriff said. "And please remember to tell them that none of this will cost the county a penny."

right hand. Is it any wonder I'm all mixed up?

Pat Cioffi, restaurateur: I feel a person should eat in any manner that is comfortable. When I sit down, I'm there to enjoy it. My object is to join my chow. I don't mean you should put your head in a bowl of soup and slurp it up. But you are there to enjoy yourself.

VIN HEBERT, the superintendent of parks and recreation was there when they were discussing the advisability of playing the Belmont game.

Vin wasn't charitable in referring to the thinking processes of some. These were the people who proposed that he and his workers could make the field playable by pouring and lighting gasoline in the infield.

"We could have handled that," he continued, "but what would we have been able to do about the soggy outfield?

"It wouldn't have been worth risking injury to players who were all set to go into a state tournament."

Red felt the same way, but is sparing in speech except when big things are involved. His biggest decision in some time will be the choice of a starting pitcher for the South Deerfield series. The rest of us and Red himself would be surprised if he said anyone but Walger.

McGovern Named Pontoosuc Principal; School Board Approves 7 Retirements

Joseph P. McGovern, 132 Brown St., a veteran of 26 years in the Pittsfield school system, last night was appointed principal of Pontoosuc Elementary School, succeeding Miss Lucy M. Mangan.

Miss Mangan was one of seven veterans whose retirement was formally approved at last night's special session of the School Committee at Plunkett School.

Also last night the committee appointed Anthony E. Ross, 30, of counselor at North Junior High School. Ross, who has been a guidance counselor at South Junior High School, succeeds Jhon T. Reid, who was promoted earlier this year to principal of North Junior High School.

Mr. McGovern has been head of social studies at South Junior High School. 259 Years of Service

The seven veterans who were retired last night after "long and devoted service" represent 259 years of service to the Pittsfield school system. In addition to Miss Mangan, who started teaching in 1915 at the age of 19 after studies at Salem Normal School, there were the following retirees:

Mrs. Mary N. Beahan, sister of the late Dr. Thomas H. Nelligan, who has been a Pittsfield High School commercial teacher since 1936 but whose teaching record goes back to 1918 when, after graduating from Smith College, she taught in Dalton, Springfield, and Trenton, N.J., schools.

Raymond F. Carey, who has taught English at Pomeroy and PHS since 1928.

Most of the retirees have elected to take their pensions before the normal retirement age of 65 and the compulsory retirement age of 70.

Technically, about 64 new teaching assignments were approved, but actually many of them have had some prior service as substitutes. And some include former teachers who resigned but now want to go back to work.

Mrs. Paul Enters Contest For Councilman at Large

Mrs. Elizabeth K. Paul became the first woman to enter a citywide election contest in 14 years when she announced her candidacy today for an at-large spot on the City Council.

Calling politics a "duty," Mrs. Paul said she was as "interested in good city government as anyone, if not a bit more."

"We all want a clean city," the Democratic City Committee member said, "a city we can be proud of. This is my home and Pittsfield is my city."

Hits Bad Publicity

"Instead of bad publicity we have been getting in other parts of the state," Mrs. Paul said, referring to Boston newspaper stories several months ago about Pittsfield's Police Department, "I want good publicity. I want a good industrial environment for all of us to work in plus an atmosphere which will lure other industries to Pittsfield.

"Unfortunately, not enough people are involved or interested in politics," said the mother of a five-year-old daughter. She has been active for many years, "because politics has always been one of my favorite duties."

"As a woman, a mother, a wife and a worker, I share the same point of view as any good citizen on good city government and progressive city growth," she said.

"Yes, women belong in politics. We all belong in politics, so we can have that which belongs to us —a clean, well-run Pittsfield," Mrs. Paul said, explaining her at-large run.

She will make no political promises, because "it will take time to learn the job," she says candidly.

Lee High Graduate

Mrs. Paul is originally from Lee, where she graduated from Lee High School. She moved to Pittsfield seven years ago when she married Richard W. Paul. They live at 1647 East St. She is the former Elizabeth Regalbuti.

Mrs. Paul was recording secretary of IUE Local 254 from 1950 through 1955. She is now employed as a supervisor in General Electric's relations and utilities department of the transformer division.

She is Ward 3 representative on the Democratic committee.

Mrs. Leonora Goerlach, librarian and reporter for The Eagle, presently holds the distinction of having been the only female Council member. She served from 1946 to 1950 as an at-large representative.

Mrs. Elizabeth K. Paul

Council Grants 2 of 3 Requests By Mayor

In moves late Tuesday, Mayor Haughey asked the CityCouncil for meter maids, $2,500 for fencing Allen Heights playground, and to verride his veto of acceptance f Mohegan Street.

The Council Tuesday night granted the last two wishes, but decided o wait for a legal opinion from City Solicitor William R. Flynn on the meter maids request.

The mayor had sent the Council a request for two meter maids on May 28, which was referred to the Ordinance and Rules Committee where it remains. The committee later heard opinions from the Police Department that such maids were illegal and that if regular patrolmen status were granted them then why not hire men.

The committee then asked Flynn for a legal opinion.

Councilman Roy F. Brown, committee chairman, said last night that he has not received the opinion but would try to expedite matters.

The $2,500 fence money will be added to $1,000 previously approved in the Captial Outlay budget. Councilman Ernest G. St. Peter requested the money from the mayor, feeling that children's safety at the playground had been short-changed by the "small" $1,000 sum.

The Park Department had requested $7,000 to fence the ground St. Peter said today that the $3,500 will do half the job this year and hopes for the other half next year.

By a unanimous vote the Council overrode a mayoral veto on Mohegan Street acceptance. The mayor had halted further action on the street several months ago, but promised to find some $33,000 to build the street at a later date.

He found the money in the Capital Outlay budget and last night asked the Council to go ahead and accept the street.

Cafe Team Wins In Postseason Softball Series

Boulevard Cafe last night scored a 6-4 victory over the Springfield Cardinals at Clapp Park in the second game of a best - three post season series in the Western Massachusetts Class A Softball League.

The protested game will be replayed tonight at Ludlow.

George Bigelow was winning pitcher last night. He permitted five hits, fanned seven and walked six. Loser Gene Ratelle gave up 11 hits, fanned six and walked just one.

Hitting stars were Eddie DeAngelo, Tom Gagne, Frank DeAngelis and Mike Mancivalano with two safeties apiece.

September Coldest Here in 25 Years Of Weather Bureau

This area has experienced the coldest September in the 25-year history of the local U. S. Weather Bureau, weatherman George J. Bulgarelli said this morning.

This month tied or broke a number of existing records for minimum temperatures, he said, and the Sept. 24 low of 23 degrees broke the previous record of 24 degrees on Spt. 27, 1947. Pittsfield's temperature for September this year averaged 54.1 as against the norm of 58.1 or four degrees lower.

Precipitation was also below normal, with 2.73 inches of rain (most of it on Sept. 29) recorded for the month, 1.77 inches below the average.

Walsh Honored Again at Naval Academy

Midshipman David H. Walsh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond K. Walsh of 34 Noblehurst Ave., has again been named to the superintendent's list at the United States Naval Academy, according to Congressman Silvio O. Conte.

Appointed in September as one of two midshipmen to be regimental commanders for the fall term, Walsh has consistently achieved the superintendent's list since entering the academy in 1960. The superintendent's list is similar to the dean's list in civilian colleges, and is attained by only 15 per cent of the brigade of midshipmen during each of the four grading periods.

Walsh maintained a high average in his academic subjects, and also received commendable grades in aptitude evaluation, physical education and general deportment. As a reward for his achievement, he will receive various liberty privileges.

Boys' Club Rental Fees Remain Same

The same system of fees as last year was decided on for the rental of Boys' Club facilities by Pittsfield High School at a meeting last night of the School Committee's subcommitte on athletics and the Boys' Club community activities committee.

Present at the meeting were School Supt. James P. Reynolds, Business Manager of Athletics Cornelius J. McMahon, PHS Principal Harold Hennessy and School Committeeman Edward Harubin and James R. Clary.

Representing the Boys' Club were Committee Chairman Sidney M. Smith, who served as chairman for the meeting; Edward J. Dery, John D. Lynch, Thomas C. Nelson and Boy's Club Supt. Fred Fahey.

Fees Listed

The group agreed on a base rental of $100 for a basketball game with 500 spectators, and an added fee of five cents per head for every person over 500. Each school will be allowed one afternoon practice period before a home game.

A fee of $12 an hour was set for a hockey game, plus a percentage of the gate receipts.

After the meeting, the group visited the new dressing and storage rooms that were built this summer. The home teams will now have a place to store their equipment between games.

The new recreational facilities in the room underneath the gymnasium were inspected. The club plans to install archery ranges, weight-lifting facilities, a golf-driving range, horseshoe pits and a baseball pitching-practice area.

House on City Watershed Presents a Legal Problem

9/18/63

Public Works Commissioner John F. Daniels has written to several city officials to determine what should be done with the house on the Cleveland Reservoir watershed occupied by Gustav Goerlach, watershed watchman.

Daniels says he favors tearing the structure down because it no longer serves its purpose, plus the possibility that Hinsdale can assess the property.

The issue came up when the City Council's Ordinance and Rules Committee decided to ask Daniels to enforce the ordinance governing collection of rents from employes housed in city-owned dwellings.

Renting Question

The committee feels that Goerlach has not been paying the $40 a month required for the past 10 years. Daniels said he believes there was some arrangement made 10 years ago when Goerlach was "ordered up on the watershed."

Daniels said he is contacting the city solicitor to see if any such rent-free arrangement was made then.

He also said that now the Cleveland dam has been raised, the house is below the dam level, so is not useful in observing the water storage area.

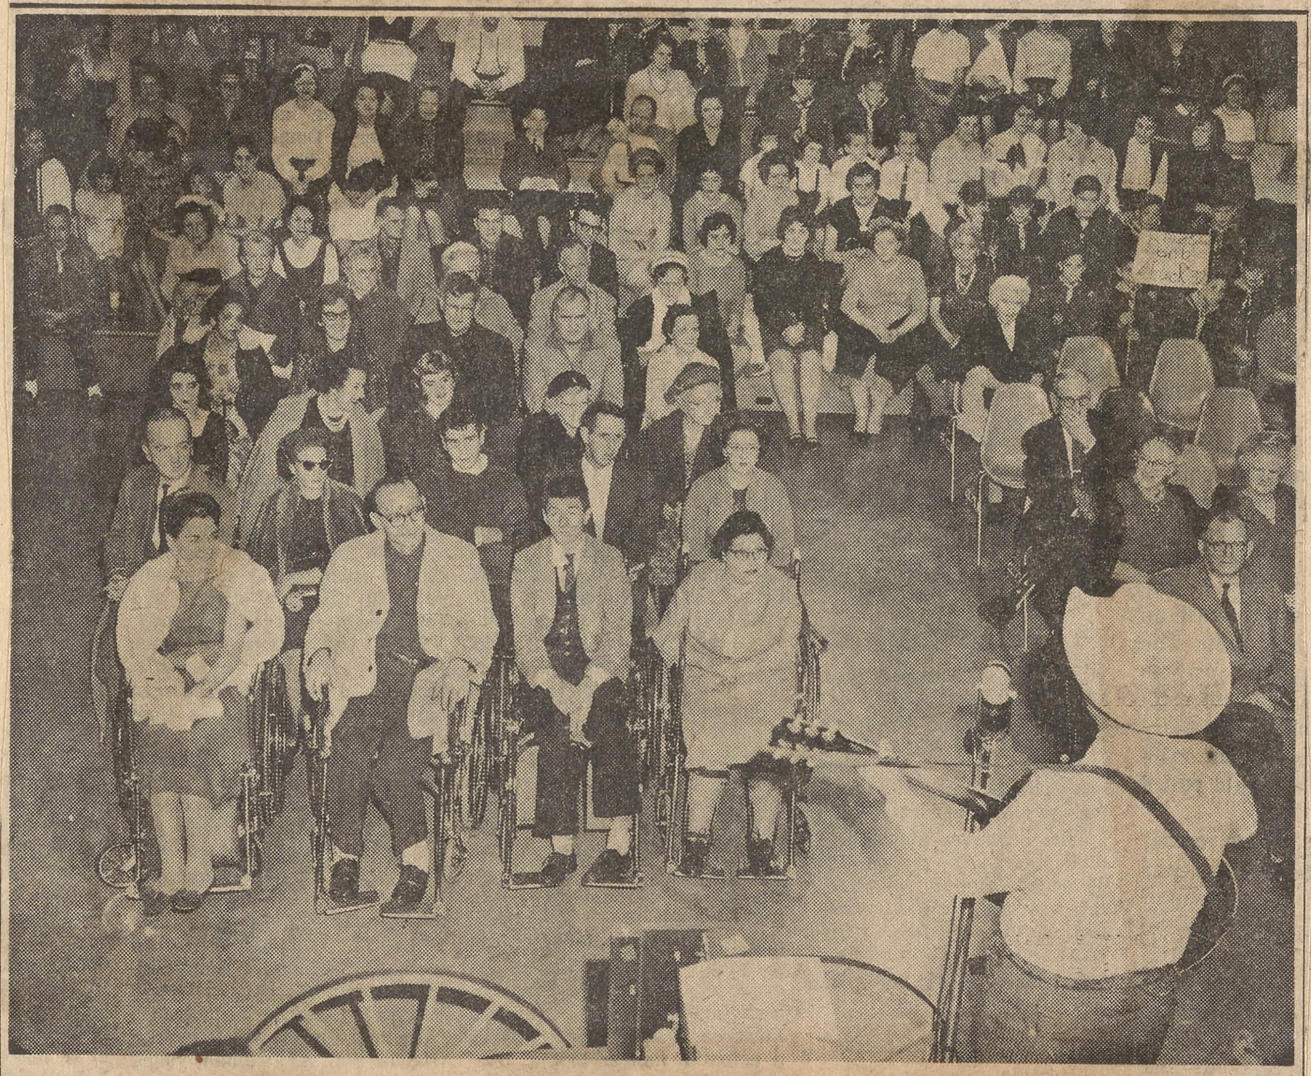

The Ordinances and Rules Committee in other business at Monday's meeting decided to ask the council for more time in determining the aspects of a land arrangement with N. L. Blake of 142 Williams St. Blake and the city have an easement, 50 feet wide, between his property and the South Junior High Schol land.

Half and Half

Plans now call for the city's taking 25 feet and Blake taking 25. But Councilman Roy F. Brown, committee chairman, said that his group lookes at the property and want more information about a fence along the property line.

The committee approved for ordainment ordinances calling for pay increases for election officials, school crossing guards and an effective increase for some supervisory personnel in the Parks and Public Works departments.

Pittsfield, Massachusetts, Tuesday, December 17, 1963

STARFISH HANDICAPPED GROUP recently visited the Pete Williams show at WRGB-TV. The group (whose members are shown in left foreground) was founded by Mike L. Rose of Great Barrington in November 1961 to encourage, organize, sustain and conduct for civic, recreational, vocational, educational and benevolent purposes such activities as will promote the best welfare of the physically handicapped and chronically ill.

Hover and Bateman Win Rifle-Shooting Trophies

George J. Hover, 9, and Charles Bateman Jr., 15, won the two trophies awarded last night at the conclusion of the Daisy air rifle program conducted by the Pittsfield Sporting Goods Co., 369 North St., during the winter and spring.

George, son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Hover III of 89 Cromwell Ave., was honored for being the best shooter of his age taking the course. Sheriff John D. Courtney Jr., who donated the trophy, made the presentation.

Bateman received the sportsmanship trophy contributed by Charles S. Levey, proprietor of Pittsfield Sporting Goods Co. He was voted the honor by the boys who took the course. The trophy was presented by Theodore Giddings, fish and game writer and columnist for The Eagle.

Sheriff Speaks

Sheriff Courtney addressed the boys, emphasizing safety and the importance of practice. He announced that a target range is being completed at the Berkshire County House of Correction and Jail and said he would arrange an evening for the youngsters to be his guests and witness a pistol shooting demonstration by Walter F. Brady, head of the Springfield office of the FBI. He said also he would give the boys a chance to use the range and to receive coaching from the deputy sheriffs.

Sheriff Courtney questioned the boys on their knowledge of the Daisy course and also answered questions.

Vincent J. Hebert, superintendent of the Parks and Recreation Department, spoke on the rules of safety and cautioned the boys not to use their air rifles on or in the vicinity of city parks and playgrounds.

Mr. Levey complimented the boys and expressed appreciation to all who had contributed to the success of the course, believed to be the first of its kind given in Berkshire County. He thanked especially Francis Butler who handled the instruction.

Numerous prizes were awarded in a balloon shooting contest on the range, and the evening concluded with the serving of refreshments.

State Parks and Forests Prepare for Record Use

BOSTON — Indications point to new attendance records being set at Massachusetts forests and parks this year.

That is the opinion of Commissioner of Natural Resources Charles H. W.Foster; who ascribes his optimism "to the tremendous and increasing interest in outdoor recreation."

Foster said that last year's attendance for day use and overnight camping at the state's 46 state forests, parks, and reservations totaled 1,424,317 persons — an increase of 146,545 over the previous season's total of 1,277,771.

Better Roads, Also

Foster attributes the steady growth in attendance to the increased automobile registration, plus easy access over good highways.

"A few years ago," the commissioner said, "most of the recreation seekers went to places close to home for day picnics and family outings — or else they traveled very great distances to outdoor attractions in other parts of the country or near-by states. Surveys now show that our areas in the Berkshires are attracting residents of the greater Boston area for day use, and conversely families in Western Massachusetts visit many of the state's facilities in the eastern half of the state. That is due almost entirely to the new highway system, which makes any part of Masssachusetts near to home."

Foster said that state facilities scattered from Cape Cod to the Berkshires "preserve endless scenes of natural beauty, enhanced for recreational purposes through years of careful planning."

Palmer Estate

"Whatever they want, whether it be rugged hillside or seashore they can find it in Massachusetts," Foster continued, "and most of them are within a short drive of any place in the state where one may live or visit."

Foster said one of the most attractive state parks in Eastern Massachusetts is the old Bradley W. Palmer estate, just off Route 1 in Topsfield, which totals 721 acres. It combines natural beauty with careful landscape architecture. Many of the trees and shrubs have been brought there from many parts of the world. The Ipswich River borders the area, which has become a picnic Mecca for thousands of greater Boston residents through the years.

Commissioner Foster also called attention to Skinner State Park atop Mt. Holyoke, just off Route 9 near Northampton. He said it offers one of the finest scenic views in the world. One of the features of this area is the historic Summit House, which was once the summer vacation spot of such celebrities as Jenny Lind, Abraham Lincoln, Charles Sumner, Nathaniel Hawthorne and Alexander Graham Bell. Old hotel registers containing priceless signatures and other memorabila are on view to visitors, plus ideal picnic facilities.

Berkshire Spots

He said that magnificent scenery on a grand scale can be seen by visiting either October Mountain State Forest in Lee, off Route 20, where 14,000 acres are available for camping and picnics, or the Pittsfield State Forest, where 4,000 acres have been set aside for public enjoyment. This area boasts the natural azalea fields during June, when visitors come from all parts of the country to see a mountain covered with wild azaleas, and Berry Pond, the highest body of water in Massachusetts.

There is also Burgoyne Trail, where 2,500 weary and defeated soldiers marched during the Revolutionary War on their way to Boston following Burgoyne's surrender at Saratoga. There are also caves, where the Tories lived during that period, which can be explored.

School Area Approved for Playground

The School Committee Tuesday night approved use of Williams School grounds as a playground this summer, as well as the use of toilet facilities in the school.

The committee also authorized the superintendent of schools to set up a policy with the superintendent of parks and recreation concerning the use of other school grounds as summer playgrounds. School Committee Chairman John J. Quinn said he understood several school grounds are already being used for this purpose, but that the policy would "put the matter down on paper."

The committee held a brief meeting Tuesday night in the School Department office in City Hall.

Bus Meeting July 26

It tentatively scheduled a meeting for July 26 to discuss and possibly vote on the school bus contract. Berkshire Street Railway on Monday entered a bid for the three-year contract that is almost $25,000 a year under the bid of the present holder, Yellow Cab.

The committee also asked the commissioner of public works for an estimate of the cost of extending a sidewalk to the entrance of Egremont School.

It asked the superintendent of buildings for specifications on creation of parking facilities at the High School so that bids can be asked.

The committee also asked the commissioner of public works for information on a drainage problem at Hibbard School, as it would affect a request for teachers' parking facilities there.

Playgrounders Invited by South Mountain

7/16

Mrs. Willem Willeke, director of the South Mountain Music Festival, has again this year made free tickets available to playground youngsters for concerts at South Mountain.

The first playground trip will be Wednesday afternoon when 50 young music fans will witness a concert by the American Folk Trio. Bus transportation will leave from Pittsfield High School at 2:15 p.m. The concert will be free for the youngsters but a small fee will be required for the bus.

Anyone interested in the concert should contact the leaders on their neighborhood playground. Maureen Hannigan is directing arrangements for the Department of Parks and Recreation.

The annual square dance festival of the Pittsfield Department of Parks and Recreation will be held at the Jewish Community Center Wednesday, beginning at 7:00 p.m. This is the major special event for the city-wide playgrounds.

Refreshments will be served at the affair and Dick Agar will be the caller. Youngsters of all ages are invited and there is no admission charge.

Also being featured this week is the arts and crafts exhibit, which will be in the Berkshire Gas Co., Bank Row, display window Thursday through Monday. All projects will be made by youngsters on the city playgrounds. Arts and Crafts Supervisor Mary Jane McGovern is in charge of the exhibit.

125 Children Register at New Playground

There were 125 children registered today as the new Williams playground opened for the first time.

It was so busy there at one point this morning that Bob Bowman of the Parks Department's work crew had to take charge of the supervised play area while children were being registered by the playground leaders.

A neighborhood council meeting will be held at the playground tonight at 7 for parents and neighbors. Summer program plans and the Mardi gras parade will be discussed. Williams hopes to enter a float in the parade Tuesday night.

Crowd of 12,000 Cheer Annual Mardi Gras Parade

By JAMES J. ARCHEY

A crowd estimated at 12,000 witnessed the 17th annual Mardi gras parade last night. With the parade theme "Fantasy Land" the 19 individual floats covered the subject of fantasy from comic strip characters to fables. The parade was led by the 1962 Mardi gras king and queen, James Hermanski and Susan Baxley of Coolidge Playground, sitting in their thrones on the Sugar Plum Fairies float.

Highland Playground's Mother Goose float, picturing four scenes from the famous children's stories, was awarded first prize as most beautiful in the parade. The float was done almost entirely in paper flowers. Second prize in the most-beautiful category was the Common with Alice in Wonderland. Wahconah's Cinderella placed third in the division.

The prize for most imaginative went to West Memorial Playground for King Midas and the Golden Touch. The float showed the court of the mythical king with all fixtures including a working water fountain done in gold. The delegation for the Coltsville playground following the float were also dressed in gold colored clothes.

Other Winners

Allen Heights' Peanuts was second in the imaginative category with Charlie Brown and company playing baseball; a sign on the back of the float stated "Good grief, it's Allen Heights." Third place was taken by Root Playground for the Wizard of Oz.

Dewey Playground, the city's second youngest play area, appearing in their second parade, won the prize as most descriptive with Rip van Winkle. The chief character of the float was peacefully sleeping with his fifty foot beard literally surrounding him. Allendale Playground with the Twelve Dancing Princesses was second, and Lakewood with Babes in Toyland placed third in this class.

Coolidge Playground used an estimated 10,000 paper flowers to make a huge shoe for their float, the Old Lady in a Shoe, which won first prize as most spectacular. Deming's Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs placed second and a forest scene of the Robin Hood clan by Pitt was third.

The most artistic float was Wilson's Sleeping Beauty. Osceola's Peter Pan was second and Clapp's Pied Piper was third.

Pontoosuc's protrayal of popular Fred and Wilma Flintstone was judged to be most humorous. Lebanon's Jellystone National Park was second.

Lil' Abner by Abby Lodge which featured a usual Dogpatch scene won the prize as most unusual. Crane with free candy from the Good Ship Lollipop was second in the unusual category.

Springside Has Trouble

After many weeks of hard work the Springside float, Princess on a Glass Hill, was not seen by the parade viewers. The float sat immobile on First Street near Mercer School, after the truck's electrical system failed. The judges were brought to the Springside float following the parade, and were favorably impressed by the very large playground project and asked if a special award could be given. Thus, Springside was granted a special award in the hard luck category.

The new Williams Playground which opened last Thursday did not have a float in the parade, but a marching group for the playground did take part in the parade.

Mrs. Mary Smith, Dr. Russell Knowles and William Nickum were judges for the parade.

Music for the North and Wahconah streets march was provided by six drum corps and two bands: the Imperials, Cavaliers, Skyhawks, Scarlet Raiders, Monarchs and Interstatesmen, along with the Eagles and VFW bands.

Three thousand marchers and spectators were present at the benefit drum corp exhibition at Wahconah Park following the parade where the winners were officially announced. Numerals and ribbons will be awarded the Mardi gras winners at awards day, the last day of the playground season.

Outdoor Practice For St. Joe's Team Postponed One Day

St. Joseph's High Coach Bill Murray postponed outdoor baseball practice one day, but hoped to be able to get his boys out this afternoon. Murray originally planned to take his freshman and sophomore candidates to Deming Field yesterday.

Park Department personnel were going to check the Deming diamond this morning and, if the field was dry enough and there were no showers today, the parochial hopefuls were going to get a chance to display their talents outdoors this afternoon.

The St. Joe's battery candidates reported last week for three practice sessions in the Armory. The infielders and outfielders came in Monda and yesterday.

Semipro Baseball Team May Be Organized Here

Pittsfield may have a semipro baseball team this summer.

That was the possibility raised today by Francis Chichetto, who said a decision will be made this weekend after drills at Deming Field. Practices have been scheduled for Saturday and Sunday afternoons from 1 to 5.

Chichetto, who managed the Pittsfield Indians until they folded in midsummer last year, said he has persuaded a sponsor that there will be sufficient interest in such a club. The backer will rent uniforms, Chichetto added, providing he decides to go along with the formation of the unit.

"If enough interested boys turn out, plans will be made more definite," Chichetto said.

Chichetto said the club will be open to all residents of Berkshire County. He plans to schedule between 20 and 25 games.

Schmoyer Homers For Statesville In First Week

Corky Schmoyer, former St. Joseph's High, Pittsfield Legion and University of Massachusetts baseball player, now in the Boston Red Sox chain, hit a home run in his first week of professional ball with Statesville, N.C., in the Western Carolina Class A League. He drove in two runs and had two other singles in 22 times at bat.

Schmoyer was signed by Red Sox scout Milt Bolling for a modest bonus following his graduation from Massachusetts this year.

10 Holdovers, 6 Newcomers On Pittsfield Legion Team

Ten holdovers and six new players will make up the Pittsfield American Legion baseball team this year, according to an announcement made by Coach George (Red) Pleau last night after he reduced the candidates to the 16-player limit.

Returning from last year's team are catcher Dan DeSantis, pitchers Armand Walger and Mike Reilly, second baseman Dick Premerlani, shortstop Fran Reardon, third baseman Carl Boteze, and outfielders Tom Tobin, Pete Rilla, Paul Procopio and Pete Ellsworth.

New players are catcher Matt Giardina, pitcher Joe Mooney, pitcher-outfielder Mike Massaconi, infielders Sam Russo and Jim Mahan and outfielder-infielder Dick Powers.

According to a Berkshire County American Legion League rule final cuts must be made by today. The rule was instituted this year to give boys cut an opportunity to go with other teams before submission of rosters Thursday and to give other league entries the opportunity to pick up players cut.

Bud Pellerin To Manage Semipro Club

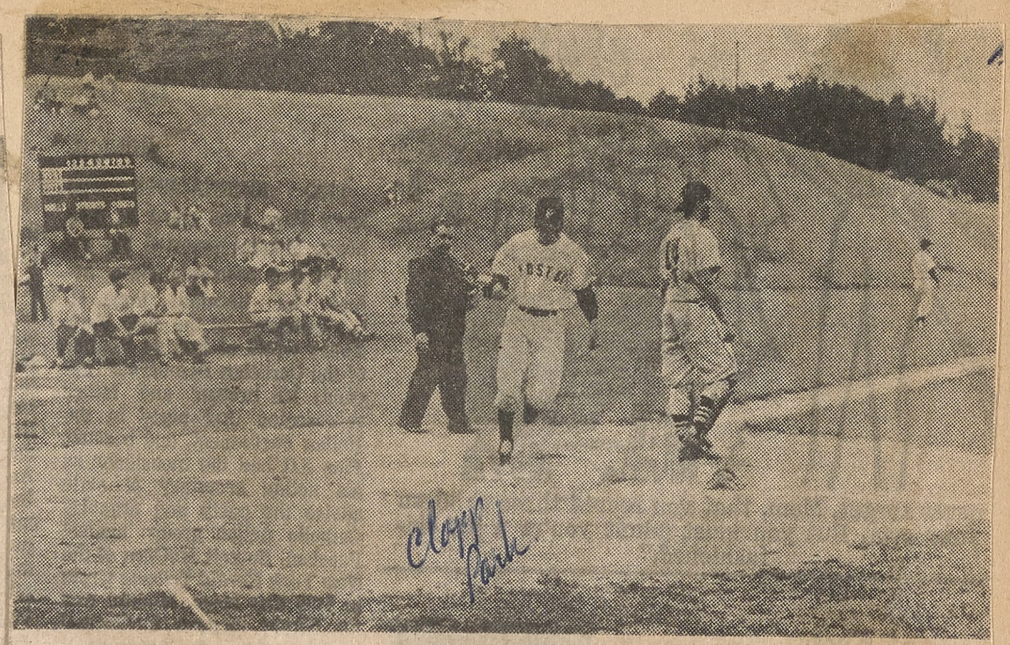

Chichetto, Saldo Resign Because Of Conflicts

George (Buddy) Pellerin has taken over as sole manager of the Pittsfield semipro baseball team and will handle the managerial reins off and on the field. He will assume the duties performed by former general manager Francis (Chick) Chichetto of Lenox and Ed Saldo of Cheshire.

Chichetto terminated his affiliation with the local club after being named coach of the Lee American Legion baseball team in the Berkshire County Legion League. Saldo was forced to resign his post because of a job transfer.

Pellerin is a former St. Joseph's High and North Adams State College athlete, graduating from the college in June 1962. He taught in New York State this past year, but has been appointed to the Pittsfield public school system for next year.

Chichetto organized and ran the semipro team last year under the name of the Pittsfield Indians. The club was affiliated with the now defunct Vermont-Massachusetts League.

Doctors' Care of Aged

To the Editor of THE EAGLE:—

Under the not well-known provisions of the Kerr-Mills hospitalization bill, an individual may own his own home (in which he lives) may have up to $1,500 a year net income, and may have $1,500 in assets (bank account, etc.). These figures are $2,100 for a man and his wife.

It is well for those who may need Kerr-Mills protection to get an application blank, make it out and submit it for acceptance even before the physical need arises. It is a simple blank, I am glad to say.

The provisions are generous. They are not yet well understood but they have been well thought out and are endorsed by almost every practicing physician and by the American Medical Association which attempts to speak for us.

For many years I have been saying that the practicing doctors of America know the most about medical care problems. These doctors give most unselfish and unpaid service to the sick and injured every day of their lives. They are dedicated to helping people.

If the public trusted them more, instead of putting their faith in less devoted high-salaried lay persons and in vote-getting promises from self - interested politicians, they would be better off.

There is no group of individuals, and no other professional group which gives as much free service without thought of financial return, and whom the public can trust more than the practicing physicians of America.

Everywhere in America today there have been, and still are physicians who gladly give of their service free to persons unable to pay, and who reduce charges to fit the patient's economic status.

I no longer practice but I know whereof I speak. The problem would be simple if the doctors ran the hospitals, but the doctors in private practice in most instances do not. Most hospitals are run by businessmen. Doctors, at least those in my age group who belong to the old school, put the patients' interests first always.

If the people would leave to doctors the problem of medical care of the aged and of everybody else, nobody would have to go without adequate medical care.

Builders Finding Prospects In Today's Senior Citizens

Yesteryear's standards no longer meet the needs of yesteryear's youth.

In grandfather's day, retirement of a senior citizen generally centered around a rocking chair on the front porch of his son's home.

But today's senior citizens are much more independent as they enter the relaxation of retirement. As a result of their careful planning the annual income of the nation's senior citizens is now more than $25 billion. Ths is an increase of about $9 billion in the last half-dozen years.

Seinor citizens—65 years plus—will be prominent among the 1.3 million new home - owners this year, reports Sheldon Gady housing authority for Allied Chemical's Barrett division, "and homes that are suited to their needs must be included in all long-range building plans," he says.

Want Smaller House

Generally a senior citizen and his wife desire a smaller home than the one in which they raised their family. They also want a home that is compact, only one story high and one that requires a minimum of laborious maintenance.

"Many safety features are being built in homes especially designed for senior citizens," Cady continues "and they include such things as hand-bars ov the bath tub, non-skid floor coverings elimination of thresholds and lower-handing cabinets which reduce reaching.

'New homes of this type also feature exterior safety features such as fire retardant asphalt and gypsum wallboard. Location should be on a level site — with few or no steps in the front walk and without any sharply pitched slopes."

Income Is Up

Cady estimates that the average income for the nation's estimated 1,250,000 senior citizens is between $2,500 and $3,000. Most senior citizens who are buying new homes are interested in price ranges that center around $10,000. "About two of every three dollars of a senior citizens' income is from carefully planned pension funds or annuities that have matured, and they invest wisely.

"This is probably true because they have owned other homes in the past, and know their particular needs better than, say, a younger couple interested in buying their first home" Cady says.

"I urge all citizens to show their awareness of the special problems conforting older persons," the mayor wrote, "in our ever-changing society by appropriate planning to insure the well-being of our senior citizens. I also urge all employers to make every effort to provide job opportunities to citizens over 65."

Carl E. Cozzio

Carl Cozzio Dies Suddenly At His Home

Carl E. Cozzio, 77, a retired General Electric executive who devoted long service to civic and business activities and social service agencies, died suddenly at 11:30 last night at his 64 Concord Parkway residence.

Retired since early 1951, Mr. Cozzio, a native of Austria, joined GE in 1908 and saw the local works expand from its relatively modest operation to one of the biggest transformer manufactories in the world.

A graduate of Bliss Business College, the forerunner here of Berkshire Business College, he was assigned for the first 22 years of his service here to the plant superintendent's office. In 1930, he moved into personnel, and at the time of retirement was supervisor of personnel. Up to the time of his retirement, he was the only secretary the local GE Foremen's Club ever had. He was a founder of that organization. He also was chairman of GE's Mutual Benefit Association from 1930 to the time of his retirement. His whole service with GE was in Pittsfield except for about a year during World War 11 when he was loaned to a newly-acquired GE defense plant in Fitchburg.

Director of Two Banks

At the time of his death he was a director of the local Goodwill Industries project, a director of both the Pittsfield Co-operative Bank and the City Savings Bank. He also had retained his affiliation with the GE Foremen's Club and he represented the city on the steering committee of the Golden Age Club.

In his more active days he devoted much time to social services agencies, participating in the annual Community Chest campaigns, serving as chairman of the Social Service Index, and on the Council of Social Agencies. He also had serious interest in amateur theatrics and directed productions of the Women's Club Little Theater Group, the Town Players, and the Pittsfield Players' Guild.

Mrs. Cozzio, the former Hazel M. Holderness, died in 1955. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. George B. Thompkins of Dalton and Mrs. Edward J. Werth, with whom he made his home. There are three grandchildren.

Calling hours at the Newton & Barnfather Funeral Home will be tonight from 7 to 9 and tomorrow from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9.

Keynoter Urges New Goals In Working for the Aged

A call to formulate new goals in thinking and acting about older Americans was sounded this morning by a national leader in the field as a four-state regional conference on aging opened at Berkshire Community College.

The keynote address was delivered by William C. Fitch of Washington, executive director of twin organizations, the National Association of Retired Teachers and the American Association of Retired Persons. In the audience were most of the 150 persons registered for the conference, sponsored by the Pittsfield-Berkshire County Council on Aging as first of an annual series.

Represented were private and public agencies working in recreation, welfare, medical aid and social service in Massachusetts, Vermont, Connecticut and New York.

Mr. Fitch presented 10 points for consideration as goals, suggesting that his final one, acceptance of the aging person as an individual rather than as a statistic, wraps around all the others. He warner, as he had several other times in his address, that various programs and approaches were tending to develop segregation of the aging.

Criticizes 1961 Goals

New goals should be defined beyond the many recommendations of the 1961 White House Conference on the Aging, Mr. Fitch said. He was critical of some of the 1961 points, saying that they placed "a great responsibility on the older person himself, which isn't possible except with the cooperation of others."

The 1961 conference he said, "failed to agree" on who was to have the responsibility for action. But, he said, "A very interesting and thrilling thing is happening. The older person has finally taken the bit in his teeth," and is working toward new goals himself.

First of the new goals he suggested was "a more accurate image" of older pesons. He saw, disadvantages in such phrases as "senior citizen" and "golden agers." They become clichés, he said, and in one case a newspaper, the Wall Street Journal, editorialized about programs that were "almost segregation."

"Freedom from exploitation," from medical quackery and from "devices and drugs that have taken millions of dollars from the pockets" of older persons, were listed in Mr. Fitch's second point. He also cited "housing schemes" and nursing homes that give inadequate care and he warned that "political exploitation" can grow.

Points three and four concerned employment. In spite of much talk, jobs based on skill aren't being opened. The income limitations in Social Security regulations should be removed, Mr. Fitch asserted.

Community Service Corps?

"Why can't we have a community service corps?" that would utilize the same talents as the Peace Corps does and do the same jobs as the proposed National Service Corps but be designed for older workers and volunteers, Mr. Fitch asked as a fifth point.

Sixth, he said, should be "realistically priced housing." He noted that the old goal was "decent housing," and this has wound up with a situation where except for publicly subsidized projects good housing "is now beyond the price most older persons can afford."

In successive points, he urged that service centers offering "more than recreation" be developed in each community, to deal with employment opportunities among other things; that governmental councils and commissions dealing with the aging include older persons in their memberships; that there be "continued education opportunities with a curriculum paced for the aging."

After Mr. Fitch's 45-minute address, comment and criticism on his ideas were developed by a four-member panel with a member from each of the four states represented.

Conference chairman is the Rev. Walter S. Ryan, minister of education at First Methodist Church here. After a welcome from him, greetings were given by Thomas E. O'Connell, director of the Community College, and Vincent J. Hebert, superintendent of the Pittsfield Parks and Recreation Department, substituting for Mayor Haughey, who was reported ill.

After eight workshop sessions and a plenary session following lunch, the conference is to conclude with dinner tonight at the Stanley Club. Dr. Marvin Taves, head of the Office on Aging of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, will speak on "Developing Independence Among the Elderly."

Purnell To Run for Mayor If Support Is Sufficient

Councilman-at-Large George A. Purnell Jr. is looking around for enough support to encourage him to run for mayor.

Purnell said today that, if he receives enough support—both financial and electoral pledges— he would give the mayoral race a whirl. But if this support is not available, he says he will definitely run for re-election to his at-large post.

Meanwhile, two Ward 7 candidates had comments today about their ward, while Anthony M. Pastore obtained nomination papers for an at-large run and Councilman-at-Large Daniel Casey is circulting at-large forms.

William A. Bunt, Ward 7 candidate, sounded off about what he called "bickering candidates" who were using the ward as a stepping stone to higher political office.

Buksa Still In

Walter Buksa, also a Ward 7 nominee, said that Councilman Thomas W. Coughlin's decision to run for re-election does not affect his candidacy at all. "We have done the groundwork," Buksa said, "and we will continue to work." Buksa was a campaign worker for Coughlin in the 1961 elections.

Coughlin obtained papers yesterday after saying last June that he would not be a candidate.

Pastore is not a newcomer to city politics. In 1959 he made an unsuccessful try for mayor. He was formerly employed in the Public Works Department and now operates a service station opposite the City Yard on West Housatonic Street. He is still business agent for Local 861 of the City Employes Union, a position he held while in the city employ.

Buksa, in a statement this morning, said that, "as in previous years, Ward 7 is being used as a political football field, with bickering candidates being the only winners."

Charges Neglect

"We are all aware of the individuals," Buksa said, "who were once interested in being ward representatives but subsequently tried to further their political careers while neglecting their primary concern — the people of Ward 7."

Buksa said he did not believe the people wanted the ward to be neglected "as in the past." He said he was not interested "in a future in the political field, but only in adequate representation for our ward."

Buksa said that the "voters of Ward 7 require a candidate not obligated to any individual or group. As such, I feel privileged to be considered as a nominee from Ward 7."

Union Seeks Raises for All City Employes

Representatives of Local 65 o the Pittsfield Employes Associa tion have filed a petition asking for an across - the - board sal ary raise for all city employes.

The association is asking tha each employe be granted a four step pay increase.

The group is also asking the motor equipment repairmen be changed from Grade 13 to Grade 15.

Mayor Haughey granted a two-grade pay increase to employes just before the 1961 elections. There are five steps in each pa grade.

Council Revokes Permit for Parking Lot

Mrs. Olga Dragone is without a licensed open-air parking lot today because the City Council last night revoked her permit.

The action was taken at the request of Fire Lt. Alexander Sturgeon of the Fire Department's inspection bureau. Sturgeon told the Council that the 48-car lot on Plastics Avenue had not been brought into line with city ordinances.

"No action has been taken at the lot since Joseph Dragone promised to comply with the ordinance when the Council granted the license several months ago," Sturgeon said. Sturgeon said that Dragone has promised to fence the area, designate parking spaces and provide supervision.

Loss of the license prevents Mrs. Dragone from collecting fees for parking privileges. This aspect now falls in the Police Department's jurisdiction and is out of the Fire Department's hands.

Council Favors Salary Raise For Mayor

The City Council has taken the first step which may eventually lead to a public decision this fall on a $15,000-a-year salary for the office of mayor.

Last night, the Council passed for the first of two required readings an ordinance calling for a salary increase from $9,000 to $15,000.

The Council must schedule a special meeting before Sept. 5 to act on the second reading if the item is to appear on the Nov. 5 ballot. The ordinance must also be signed by the mayor.

A salary increase in this case is a matter of changing an ordinance with the public's approval. If the ordinance is passed and signed more than 60 days before the city election, it will appear on the ballot. If not, the issue is dead.

Councilmen Purnell, Casey and DelGallo cast the only negative votes last night. These three oppose the $6,000 increase, though some favor a lesser jump.

Dillon Confirms He Will Run For Mayor

Robert B. Dillon Sr. today confirmed reports that he has decided to run for mayor. The mayoral candidate said he will issue an official statement on Monday.

Dillon served as the Ward 2 councilman for two terms — 1948 through 1951. He was appointed to the Board of Registrars of Voters in 1952 by Mayor Capeless, serving until 1961.

A 53-year resident of Pittsfield, Dillon, who is 61, graduated from St. Joseph Grammar School and Pittsfield High School. He is a specialist in production and requisition services in GE's power transformer department.

LaGrotteria Hits Haughey On Public Schools Issues

Mayoral candidate Francisco R. LaGrotteria said today that the educational rights of school children have been "grossly violated" by Mayor Haughey.

LaGrotteria attacked the mayor for doing "next to nothing" on the overcrowded high school problem "forecast as early as 1948." The candidate stated that "the cause of education" was the main reason he was running for mayor.

LaGrotteria touched on Haughey's stand during the school superintendent controversy last year in a statement which follows:

Issues Long Existent

"One does not have to look far to find issues in this campaign. Many of these issues either existed before the present administration and were so neglected or ignored by it that they have become acute.

"For example, the problem of our overcrowded high school was forecast as early as 1948. Yet, in the last six years, during the present administration, next to nothing has been done.

"The problem of the mayor's control over certain members of the school committee, and his vote which caused a stalemate on the superintendency issue last year, are too well known to dwell on.

"It is, incidentally, my hope that so long as any mayor has a legal right to vote on the school committee that that right will continue if I take office. My vote on such a committee will obviously not be controlled by a political expediency, but will be cast only for what is best for the cause of education of our children.

"It was for them that I plunged into the school superintendency issue last year, and it is mainly for them that I am now running for mayor this year.

Hits 'Shenanangans'

"Our children's right to have proper schooling facilities, such as a much needed new high school in addition to the present one; their right to have a classroom with a limited number of students so that their education will not be watered down; their right to have the best in school executives, and their right to have a school committee free of those political shenanigans performed by the mayor last year, have all been grossly violated.

"In voting at this fall's mayoral election, vote for all children — and most especially yours."

Girls Club Launches New Program

Twenty Register for Experimental Course In Community Service

The Girls Club has started an experimental summer program for girls in Grades 8 and 9, Miss Martha May Newsom, executive director, announced today.

Miss Janet Wade, Summer Club director, is in charge of the program. She is assisted by Miss Rosemary Dooley, swimming director of Summer Club; and Ann Potter and Charlene Simo of the Summer Club staff.

Twenty girls are registered in the program, which has as its primary function to teach girls to know the community and to give community service. Mrs. John Taylor, of the Girls Club staff, has spoken to the girls on the importance of volunteering. During the five-week course, the group will visit the United Community Services, Red Cross, Park Department and Mentally Retarded playground.

The group meets each Friday for an all-day session, which also includes lunch and a swim in the Girls Club pool. They are also planning a day of fun at Camp Stevenson, the club's day camp at Onota Lake.

If the program is successful, it will be continued next year on a larger scale.

Senior Citizens Prominent In Today's Home Market

SEP 17 1963

Yesterday's standards no longer meet the needs of yesteryear's youth.

In grandfather's day, retirement of a senior citizen generally centered around a rocking chair on the front porch of his son's home.

But today's senior citizens are much more independent as they enter the relaxation of retirement. Annual income of the nation's senior citizens is now more than $25 billion. This is an increase of about $9 billion in the last half dozen years.

Prominent Buyers

Senior citizens—65 years plus—will be prominent among the 1.3 million new homeowners this year and homes suited to their needs must be included in all long-range building plans.

Generally, a senior citizen and his wife desire a smaller home than the one in which they raised their family. They also want a home that is compact, only one story high and one that requires a minimum of laborious maintenance.

Many safety features are being built in homes especially designed for senior citizens. They include such things as handbars over the bath tub, nonskid floor coverings, elimination of thresholds and lower-hanging cabinets which reduce reaching.

Many Safety Features

New homes of this type also feature exterior safety features such as fire retardant asphalt and gypsum wallboard. Location should be on a level site—with few or no steps in the front walk—and without any sharply pitched slopes.

The average income for the senior citizens is between $2500 and $3000. Most senior citizens who are buying new homes are interested in price ranges that center around $10,000.

About two of every three dollars of a senior citizen's income is from carefully planned pension funds or annuities that have matured, and they invest wisely.

Senior Citizens Invited to Peabody Party

SEP 9 1963

Eugene O. Sullivan, chairman of he Ward 4 Democratic Committee, will be in charge of arrangements for senior citizens who want o attend a reception Sunday being given Gov. and Mrs. Peabody by the Democratic City Committee.

The party will be held at the Hotel Wendell-Sherwood between 4 and 6.

Mr. Sullivan, a retired General Electric office worker, who is also active at the Senior Citizens' Center, said that making special arrangements for the elderly is in keeping with the city committee's policy of promoting more citizen participation in public affairs.

Nicholas Speranzo, cochairman of the reception committee, again put out a reminder that tomorrow is deadline for returns on tickets. They are to be made to the Democratic City Committee, 3 Glenwood Ave.

Special Events Set for Senior Citizens' Week

SEP 14 1963

Pittsfield's Senior Citizens will be honored during Senior Citizens' Week with a program of events at the center, Mrs. Dorothy Diamond, director, announced today. Governor Endicott Peabody has proclaimed Sunday as Senior Citizens' Day.

Mrs. Diamond and Mrs. Virginia Halford, recreation leader, will be assisted in the week-long observance by members of the Center.

An exhibit of handcrafts and hobbies will be set up in the lounge on Monday, and the display will continue for the week.

Members will gather at the center on Tuesday, after the Golden Age meeting, for a community song fest.

Miss Margaret Heffron is chairman of a card party Wednesday afternoon at 2 at the center. The public is invited. Refreshments will be served and table prizes presented.

On Thursday, the Senior Citizens will travel to the Eastern States Exposition in Springfield. Members will be honored at the Exposition grounds as part of the state-wide activities planned for the week.

Mrs. Maude Green will be chairman of an open house program on Friday, when members will entertain. Anyone interested is welcome to drop into the Center anytime during the week.

Program for the Aged

SEP 24 1963

To the Editor of THE EAGLE:—

Senior Citizens Week has come and gone, and many towns and communities have enjoyed a program of civic events that have given emphasis to services and role of the older adults.

I regret that our Pittsfield and Berkshire County Council on Aging got going rather late on this program and that we do not have an active City Council of Aging under the sponsorship of our city leaders with resources, finances and leadership to do justice to an emphasis of this kind. The scope of the program as suggested by the Governor's Advisory Committee goes far beyond what our volunteer council could do. Funds are available for a well organized City Council on Aging that meets the standards set up by the state committee. As we move toward newly elected city leadership, or re-elected city leadership, assurances should be given for full attention by such leaders, to developing a strong, well financed and active City Council on Aging. Then we could start planning a year in advance for this and other excellent community programs, backed by appointed officials.

We hear a great deal about housing for the elderly. Vital and necessary as this is, it is only one of 10 concerns that are a part of an active City Council on Aging's work.

Our recent conference on aging was again only one aspect of a program. As chairman of the informal Council on Aging in our community I have tried to give some impetus to this work. With no funds available, and only the help of some truly great spirited persons, we have started the ball rolling. But it is only a little ball. Our councilmen and mayor can make this bigger and better if they wish, and join forces with the many professional persons in our community who work with the aging.

There is nothing to stop civic-minded persons right now from going ahead with new and permanent programs for the aged. For example: (1) a permanent shoppers' service for older people for big stores; (2) low price movie tickets on certain days; (3) reduced transportation costs on buses; (4) special lunches for older people at restaurants on certain days; (5) meals on wheels for the sick and shut-ins.

It all depends on how anxious our citizens are to be of service to each other. Let's hear more about this in the future.

Chairman, Pittsfield and Berkshire Council on Aging.

Arthur L. Bartram 100 Years Old Today

Versatile Musician Will Be Honored at Senior Citizens Center

A charter member of the Senior Citizens' Center, Arthur L. Bartram, will be honored on his 100th birthday at a party this afternoon at the center. And no doubt he'll take part in the entertainment.

The centenarian, thought to be Pittsfield's oldest resident, is a versatile musician who "can play 'most every instrument." He entertains almost daily on the guitar at Springside Nursing Home, where he has lived for the past four years. He also played the piano, organ and violin, until recently, when he got "a sick finger." Mr. Bartram likes "home songs, comic songs and sacred music, too."

Worked Until 96

Mr. Bartram stopped working only about four years ago when his eyesight became impaired. Before that, he repaired musical instruments for Wood Brothers and Sammy Vincent's. Extremely alert, he is spry and in good health.

Born in Redding, Conn., on Sept. 9, 1863, Mr. Bartram calls himself "a Connecticut Yankee," although he moved to Pittsfield in 1886 after attending Hill Academy and learning his trade of model and pattern making in Meridan, Conn. He later lived in Lee, where he made bicycles and operated a bicycle repair shop for 40 years. "I repaired anything that could be brought to the shop," he recalled. He then was a fine precision machinist and toolmaker at GE until his retirement in 1928. He subsequently lived with his daughter, Mrs. Warren L. Cooke for 10 years, and, for 19 years, his grandson-in-law and granddaughter, Mr. and Mrs. F. Charles Lasher, in Berkshire, where he was a cabinetmaker and carpenter and repaired musical instruments.

Longevity Inherited

Mr. Bartram attributes his longevity to inheritance. His mother, Mrs. Lucy M. Bartram of Torrington, Conn., lived three months past 100 years, and his father's sister, Adeline Bartram Clapp, to be 104. But his father, a hard worker, "passed on when he was about 74 or 75." "My father gave me a short and impressive speech," Mr. Bartram added. "He said, 'Art, take care of your health,' and I did."

Librizzi

Arthur L. Bartram, who is observing his 100th birthday today, with his guitar on the lawn at Springside Nursing Home, where he has lived for past four years.

A charter member of the Golden Age Club and a former president, Mr. Bartram has taken part in many comedy skits and musical entertainments for the organization. He still goes to meetings "on state occasions," but is reluctant to climb the stairs of the YMCA, where the meetings take place, these days. "It's easier to get to the Senior Citizens Center," he noted.

Mr. Bartram is visited frequently by his "lady friend," Mrs. Sara Eddy, who has been "a bright spot" in his life since they met 14 years ago when the Golden Age Club was organized. Mrs. Eddy, who is "almost 82" says they are still thinking about getting married because she's "afraid to leave just a twinkle in his eye."

Great-Great Grandfather

In addition to his daughter, and granddaughter, Mr. Bartram has another granddaughter, Mrs. Ellis H. Wright of 90 Tanner Ave.; six great-grandchildren; and eight great - great - grandchildren. His wife, the former Jessie Porter, of this city, whom he married when he was 22 years old, died 25 years ago.

Mr. Bartram's advice is "to try to walk the straight and narrow, don't worry and don't hurry." He quoted from St. Paul: "Be ye temperate in all things."

Medical Self-Help Program Explained to Area Officials

MAR 16 1963

A massive program for educating those in public service as to what medical self-help steps should be taken in case of a disaster, either natural or man-made, opened last night at Pittsfield General Hospital. The general public is also asked to participate.

Sixty city, town and hospital officials from Berkshire County met to organize an eight-week project for instructing an estimated 10,000 persons. This program is sponsored by the Berkshire District Medical Society, with materials and aid coming from the federal government and state and local civil defense units.

CD Official Explains

The plan is to instruct people in basic survival in case of a bomb attack or natural chaos like the tornado which struck Worcester in 1956. The program is premised on the idea that in event of a disaster there would be no medical facilities, no doctors, no hospitals and no sanitation protection.

"Families may have to take care of themselves for two to three weeks in case of an emergency (man-made)," said Robert Boulay of Leeds, civil defense director for District 4, which includes the four western counties in Massachusetts. He indicated that this was a personal matter and that at least one member of each family should have medical self-help knowledge.

The all-inclusive instruction will cover radioactive fallout, shelter building, hygiene, sanitation, how to tell whether food and water are safe, artificial respiration, and first aid, including childbirth.

Last night's session was designed to get public officials to interest their employes in the course. The instruction will be given one two-hour session a week for eight weeks.

Dr. Herbert Sandick, chairman of the BDMS's disaster committee, said that the meeting was gratifying, because those attending were optimistic about setting up such a program.

Mayor Attends

Mayor Haughey and numerous city department heads attended the meeting, together with hospital representatives and members of the Boy Scout Council. Civil defense personnel were also present, as were employes of various school departments throughout the county.

The general public interested in receiving instruction in medical self-help may make arrangements by contacting the BDMS office at 442-9900 during the morning and 442-6069 in the afternoon.
